A BILL FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.

We acknowledge receipt of a circular letter from the Chicago Record relative to postal savings banks, also a copy of the bill which that paper proposes to have introduced at the next session of congress. As readers of this paper well know, we have always been in favor of postal savings banks, and it is gratifying to note that Victor F. Lawson, the able Chicago publisher, is in line with us. The letter says in part: "During the last few years all classes of citizens—the poor, the well-to-do, even the rich—have been brought to recognize the necessity for the establishment of an absolutely secure depository for small savings. Thousands of thrifty persons, whose earning power is restricted, have experienced the bitterness coming from loss of their hard-earned savings through the failure of savings banks, building and loan associations and other institutions which were supposed to give safety to the sums entrusted to them. The suffering and despair which have resulted from such failures have been felt in every community. Hopelessness and doubt have been sown broadcast by these calamities, and the harvest of imprudence which is growing up will render this nation poor indeed unless that growth can be checked. Postmaster-General Gary, like a number of his predecessors—notably Postmaster-General Cresswell and Postmaster-General Wannamaker—is a sincere and earnest advocate of postal savings banks."

The Madison Journal says: "A Dutch cripple is to start for Klondike on crutches. He may be a little lonesome on his way there, but he will have plenty of company coming home."

The people of New Orleans seem to be having a streak of ill luck. They had scarcely recovered from the damaging effects of floods when now comes the report that yellow fever has broken out in the Crescent City.

The return of Jack Haverly to minstrelsy is worthy of mention because he has finally become convinced that it is his vocation. Jack was not cut out to shine as a mine operator or a Wall street broker, but he was a star of the first magnitude in the show business and everybody should be pleased to hear of his return thereto.

The Labor day orator at Milwaukee, Roy Goodwin, seemed to think that when labor marches the balance of the world should stand still. However, the organized laborers of the Cream City were evidently mindful of the fact that this is a free country, as they made way for street cars, even though it was necessary to momentarily part their ranks in order to do so.

It is reported that wild horses now roam about Arizona in herds, like buffalo upon Texas prairies years ago—so much so, in fact, that Attorney-General Frazier has been asked for permission to slaughter the animals. The request will likely be granted, as the horse has declined in value with the progress of electricity and the bicycle until a steed can now often be had for the keeping.

At the recent convention of factory inspectors, which was held in Detroit, Mich., Inspector Mayo of Minneapolis, Minn., said: "Not a single factory inspector in the United States prepares his statements so as to tell the truth." This reminds us that the last report of the factory inspector of this state read more like a buncombe document than anything else. It seemed to have been prepared with a view of showing that there was little or no child labor employed in Wisconsin, rather than that the inspector had hunted up and righted many wrongs in factories.

The questions asked at a recent examination of applicants for health officer positions in Milwaukee were rather calculated to puzzle anyone but a creameryman. The victims of the examination in question are in a position to sympathize with the Pennsylvania fellows who were recently refused naturalization papers because they could not prepare an Australian ballot properly. However, the former will simply wonder whether Dr. Kempster understood the composition of cream, butter, etc., when he first assumed control of the Cream City board of health, while the Keystone state fellows may wonder how long it is since Chauncey Depew was puzzled over preparing an Australian ballot properly.

The recently appointed U. S. district judge for Alaska, Charles S. Johnson, voted in both national conventions last year. The New York Tribune says that Johnson was a delegate from Alaska to the St. Louis convention and voted for the nomination of McKinley, after which he went to the Chicago convention and fell in with the Alaskan Democratic delegation. It happened that one of the latter was unable to take part in the convention, so Johnson got his badge, went into the convention with the delegation and voted for W. J. Bryan. If this man Johnson is really guilty of double-dealing in a matter of such great importance, it merely proves that he was ready and willing to serve whatever party would give him a job. If the nine owners of Alaska ever want any "government by injunction" they will find a "peach" in Judge Johnson.

In his Labor day speech at St. Louis William J. Bryan spoke as follows in regard to "government by injunction": "The extent to which the writ of injunction has been abused within recent years has aroused a hostility which is almost universal. It is only a question of time when government by injunction will be cured by legislation. The main purpose of the writ of injunction is to avoid trial by jury. Trial by jury is more important to the American people today than it ever was before in American history. It was originally intended as protection against the royalty, and it is today the main protection of the people against plutocracy, which is to this country what royalty is under a monarchical form of government."

Now that Judge Wallber has decided to call a grand jury to investigate the Common council of Milwaukee, some very offensive garbage may be stirred up in that city soon.

M. Weyer & Co., general merchants at Port Washington, made an assignment last Tuesday to John Bartol. The assets are placed at $10,000, while the liabilities exceed that amount.

Waupaca is the greatest potato producing county in the state, therefore it is worthy of note that buyers there are paying 35 and 40 cents for the tubers, and the Post states that the sales in the city of Waupaca averages about 1200 bushels per day, which will be increased as soon as the stock is fully ripe and dealers know just how the crop is going to turn out.

A report from Glenwood, Saint Croix county, says that an area of vandalism is prevalent in that vicinity. A heifer belonging to George Femo was found with its tongue cut out and a cow belonging to a Mr. Verheyen was injured. An attempt was made to steal a horse belonging to a Menomonie party and was only prevented by a timely alarm given by Mrs. Rolland.

Japan's bill, adopting the gold standard as the unit of value, signed by the emperor on the 26th of last March, is to go into operation Oct. 1st. The bill establishes a new ratio of silver to gold at 32 to 1. The unit of coinage is the yen. It is to weigh two fun of pure gold, equal to 11.574 grains. It is exactly one-half the weight of the present coin, though worth as much.

A Strange Freak. At a colored camp-meeting, near Mt. Pulaski, Ill., a hollow tree 16 feet around and 80 feet long, broke off and fell lengthwise on the centre of a wagon, leaving the two front wheels untouched but jerking the spokes all out of the hind wheels. It struck one horse across the back, killing it almost instantly, leaving the other horse uninjured. A baby sleeping in the wagon was taken out just a minute or two before the tree fell. A peculiar feature was that there was no wind at the time. After the meeting had closed and the large crowd had left, two large trees broke and fell into the road, where only a short time before dozen of teams were passing and many people stood around.—X.

DUNDEE DOINGS. P. W. Gallagher made a business trip to Plymouth last Wednesday. Thomas Jordan of Rockfield spent Sunday at the home of A. McDougal. Mrs. Mary McGinty has purchased a nice monument for $350, and it will be erected at the graves of her two brothers, James and Anthony Brown, in the Mitchell cemetery.

The law suit between E. F. Calvy (plaintiff) and Albert Siebel (defendant) was called before Justice Herrity in the town of Mitchell last Monday at 10 a. m., Attorney Putnam of Greenbush appearing for Siebel and Louis T. Not On the Free List. It was a South Dakota editor who wrote as follows: "The price of this paper is not increased by the Dingley bill, but we wish to correct the misapprehension of some subscribers who appear to think it was placed on the free list."

It Has Cost Millions. The most expensive book ever published in the world is the official history of the War of the Rebellion, which is now being issued by the United States government at a cost, up to date, of $2,300,000. Of this amount nearly one-half has been paid for printing and binding, the remainder to be accounted for in salaries, rent, stationery and miscellaneous expenses, including the purchase of records from private individuals. In all probability it will take three years to complete the work, and an appropriation of $500,000 has been asked for, making a total cost of nearly $3,000,000. The work will consist of 112 volumes.—X.

A FRAUDULENT CURE.—A miserable impostor is working his game on some of the cities of the state, selling from house to house a salve which he guarantees to cure warts. All sensible people know that the only way to remove a wart is to rub it with half a potato, which is afterward to be buried by a cross-eyed negro, in the north-west corner of a graveyard, at midnight, during the dark of the moon. As the potato decays the wart will disappear. The salve in tin-boxes is a delusion and a snare.—X.

To the Arctic Region. On the 11th day of last July, Prof. Andree and two companions started for the arctic region in an immense balloon, which stood 100 feet high when filled. They left the island of Spitzbergen, and the wind bore the air-ship off towards the Pole at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The professor had a number of trained carrier pigeons with him, and the next day he turned one of them loose with a message, which indicated that he made nearly 200 miles and was still going towards the Pole. Two days more of such progress it is said, would place the party directly over the region never seen by human eye. Since that time the Professor has not been heard from; and, as the balloon is said to have been capable of remaining in the air only thirty days, King Oscar of Sweden is considering the advisability of sending a balloon to the rescue of Andree who, it is thought, must have landed near the Pole or else he would have been heard of ere this.
