ALL THE LIARS ARE NOT DEAD.

An exchange tells of an artist who painted a dog so natural that the animal had hydrophobia during the hot weather. He's the same fellow who painted a copy of a bottle of beer so skillfully that the cork flew out just as he was finishing it. After he was married he painted a picture so lifelike that it cried, and his wife spanked it before she discovered her mistake.—X.

A Fort Scott, Kas., paper tells of a man who recently came into town with a big oil can in his wagon and a disconcerted look upon his face. When asked how his corn crop was getting along, he said: "Oh, there will be a big crop, I reckon, but it's mighty doubtful whether there will be any clear money made on it." "Whiv, how's that?" "Oh, we have to spend so blamed much to keep it oiled up." "What's the matter with it?" "Well, you see, the darned corn is growing so fast that I have to go through the fields and oil the joints to keep the stalks from getting hot boxes."—X.

A Recipe for Universal Peace.

"You ran at the first fire, did you?" said the colonel of a colored regiment. "Yes, sah," was the unblinking reply, "an' I would have run soomah if I had knowned it was comin'."

"But have you no regard for your reputation, Sam?"

"Reputation is nuffin to me, sah, by the side of life."

"Well, if you lost your life you would have the satisfaction of knowing that you died for your country."

"But what satisfaction would dat be to me, sah, when de power of feelin' was gone?"

"Then patriotism is nothing to you, Sam?"

"Nuffin whatever, sah."

"If our soldiers were like you, traitors might have broken up the government without resistance."

"Yes, sah, dat's so; dere would have been no help for it. I wouldn't put my life into de scales 'gainst any government that eber existed, for it could not replace de loss to me. I spect, though, dat de government would be safe 'nuff if all de soldiers were like me, as den dere couldn't be no fitin'."—Exchange.

From the Times, Hillsville, Va. I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. MOORE. Sold by L. Rosenheimer.

Frozen in Hot Water.

Large sun spots, astronomers say, caused the extreme heat this summer, and doctors declare nearly all the prostrations were induced by disorders of the stomach. Good health follows good digestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. If you have indigestion or dyspepsia it will quickly relieve and permanently cure you. All druggists.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says that while the torrid temperature is causing sunstrokes, prostrations and general discomfort, Allegheny has furnished the remarkable case of a man being almost frozen to death. The victim is Anton Klozen, an engineer living at 103 Greenwood street, who has been employed as an engineer at the candy factory of James McClurg & Co. on Martz street.

Klozen discovered a leak in a valve attached to a large ammonia tank, which is used in freezing candies. He attempted to stop the leak and was repairing the broken valve when a competing tube burst, and he was struck by a heavy stream of the engine. The effect was the same as the temperature taking an instant drop of 100 degrees.

The ammonia deluged Klozen from head to foot, freezing his clothes and body into a solid mass. Klozen was rapidly freezing to death when the employees of the factory went to his rescue. He was dragged in front of a hot furnace and the frozen liquid torn in pieces from his face and body. His clothes were taken off and were stiff enough to be stood upright against the wall.

Klozen is in a critical condition from the effects of the accident. His eyes are both destroyed by the acid, and he is also suffering intense pain from having inhaled the fumes of the ammonia.

The great success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the treatment of bowel complaints has made it standard over the greater part of the civilized world. For sale by L. Rosenheimer.

Court (to prosecutor)—Then you recognize this handkerchief as the one that was stolen from you? Prosecutor—Yes, your Honor. Court—And yet it isn't suffering intense pain from having inhaled the fumes of the ammonia.

Wise and Otherwise.

As a man grows older he swaps his ideals for ideas.

If you want advice consult a disinterested party.

The less we have the easier it is to share it with others.

A true man would as soon be knocked down as pitted.

Better retrace a wrong step than pursue a wrong course.

A man is compelled to keep his word when no one will take it.

If there were no fools in the world wisdom would be at a discount.

It takes a smart man to conceal from others things he doesn't know.

If you want to hear a hard luck story just ask a man for money he owes you.

The trouble with imaginary dangers is that they often lead us into real ones.

Money may not bring happiness but no man is willing to take your word for it.—X.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF COD-LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

FIRST—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

SECOND—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

THIRD—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

FOURTH—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it. It can be taken in summer as well as in winter.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's Best.

The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not show large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $1.75 a pound, and another costs $2.00 a gallon, while a large share of the so-called cements and liquid glue upon the market are nothing more than glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials.

Major's cement retails at 1c and 2c a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make larger profits.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising, which now amounts to over $300 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1857.
