Fond du Lac, Wis., June 19.—[Special.]—The North-Western surveying and engineering crews arrived in Fond du Lac today in charge of Acting Engineer Goetzman, to commence the survey for the railroad yards and the buildings to be erected in this city. The crew will be in charge of I. E. Amsden and will be here all summer.

The building of North-Western supplementary repair shops, roundhouse, the re-establishment of division headquarters and the large yards which will be provided in this city, means much to Fond du Lac. An effort was made today to get information as to the number of men the new interests would bring to Fond du Lac. Capture of the Real Culprit-Sheriff Kept Quiet. New Orleans, La., June 20 .- Two ne groes arrested in connection with the murder of John Gray Foster, the planter -"Prophet" Smith and F. D. McLand-North-Western Land Agent William McDermott, who is busy in taking up the options on the land recently secured for the company, stated that he had no definite information as to the number of men to be employed permanently. One of the best-posted men on the road gives an estimate that it will bring as many if not more men than the Central interests will have here after the transfer of the Stevens Point shops has been made. He gives 700 men as his figures, 500 trainmen and enginemen and 200 employes in the yards, shops and roundhouse. He figures it that when the buildings and yards will be completed here, trains will be operated through from Chicago to Fond du Lac, making this city instead of Milwaukee the division terminal.

the parish. As it became the general belief that Prince Edwards, the negre accused of killing Foster, will never be captured, the mob determined to act without further delay.

Smith confessed just before he was lynched that he loaded the gun with which Foster was killed.

Many letters of incendiary tenor written by Smith and his fellows were found. Indications of conspiracies against Chief Lake of the Shreveport police, Foster and others, ran through the missives and, in connection with the minutes of a meeting of the "Church of the Living God," of which Smith was the head, precipitated the lynching.

Sheriff Kept Quiet. At a meeting of the board of park commissioners last evening it was decided to improve Lakeside park by filling in the west end and by the construction of a breakwater. The common council will be asked to authorize a contribution of $15 for each concert by the military band at the park this season, this being the park board's share of the expense.

The contract for the brickwork on the Gurney Refrigerator company's new factory has been awarded to Contractor Henry Schmitz of Milwaukee. The contract provides for the completion of the work August 1. The Milwaukee contractor was also the successful bidder for the construction of the street railway company's office building and barn.

Barker also went on the stand, and told his version of the shooting. He said he met Keller, and that Keller spoke to him. This was in direct contradiction of Keller's testimony on the stand, as he claimed not to have met anyone. Barker said he responded to Keller's greeting by calling Keller a villain, charging him with outraging Mrs. Barker; he then, he said, began firing.

The purpose of Barker's testimony was to show that, after having brooded for a period over what his wife had told him, he was in a morbid state of mind, and when he came face to face with the minister, he was carried away by feeling and began firing; that it was sudden, violent

Mr. Keller was not permitted to answer a direct question as to whether he committed the alleged crime.

Conservative papers in their issues yes terday openly invited citizens to breat up the meeting.

The anti-Boer crowds began collecting in front of the hall two hours before the time for the meeting to begin. Before the doors of Queen's hall were closed there was a mad rush. The doors were thrown back violently and the glass panels smashed. Many persons suffered from contusions from kicks and blows and some needed surgical assistance. Several women fainted and were rescued with difficulty. Many people who were opposed to the objects of the meeting thus gained access to the hall and caused an uproar.

Show Sorrow in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., March 19.—The downtown streets were well crowded last evening when extra editions of the papers announced the death of ex-Gov. Hazen S. Pingree in London. On every side was heard just one expression, "Well, the old man is dead," followed by some words of simple eulogy. He was always considered as one of the people and the familiar title was used by everyone in speaking of him.

The speakers were constantly and nois ily interrupted. There were frequence, gradually thinned the opponents of the meeting out.

Many messages of condolence were sent by friends and political associates to the widow and daughter, who are in New York, and to "Joe" Plugree, who has watched by his fatner's bedside since the latter's illness began. A cablegram from the dead man's son this evening said he would start for home with the remains at once.

As Mr. Pingree's brother, widow and daughter are in New York nothing is known of the funeral arrangements. It is expected the members of the family will remain in New York to await the arrival of the remains.

Mr. Balfour said that naturally it was the desire of everybody that these people should possess every comfort, but it was an absolute military necessity to clear certain parts of the country. This could only be done by removing provisions and stock from farms and leaving the women and children to starve or taking them to camps where they could be provided with food and shelter.

Mayor Maybury is in New York and, it is understood, will convey the city's sympathy to the family. It is also thought likely that the council will appoint a committee to go to New York and accompany the remains to the governor's home city. She covered 3082 miles in 5 days, 11 hours and 54 minutes, at an average speed of state railroad and warehouse commission, for the year ending November 30, 1300, contains some interesting information regarding the two principal iron ore roads in this county, the Duluth & Iron Range road and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern. For instance, the continued mileage of the two roads, including all spurs, is only 351.18, and the earnings, after deducting the operating expenses, were $4,424.709.58 for the year, or $12.500 per mile of road.

So it is small wonder that the Duluth & Iron Range last year was able to declare dividends amounting to $3,000,000, or 100 per cent. on the stock that is outstanding. This was just before the road sold out to the United States Steel corporation, and it is a little significant that the first dividend in the history of the road should have been declared at that juncture. The dividend was not announced at the time it was made, and very few people knew that it had been declared until it was reported to the state.

Ill, is this poem:

Beneath this stone a miller lies,
Who left the world before the rise
Of modern ways of making flour,
And hence passed many a happy hour.
He was not forced to speculate.
Nor on Chicago movement wait;
He did not care for foreign trade,
But sold his neighbors all he made.
Cables and telegrams were rare—
The markets did not make him swear.
Small was his mill, his profits round:
Clear was his head, his slumbers sound;
He euvied none, he was envied not,
And died contented with his lot.

The case was brought to the attention of the Royal Humane society and it was resolved to award the medal to Allen, as "the bravest man of the year" among those whose gallantry in saving life had been brought before the society in 1900. Allen is said to be a typical seaman—quiet, modest and of excellent character.—Leslie's Weekly.

One day it occurred to him that by tapping a spring in the hi'lside and digging a ditch he might irrigate about an acre of ground, and that it would be a good when he mentioned his plan he was scorned. He was told potatoes would not grow in New Mexico, and was reminded that there was no seed. There was not a potato short of "the States."

But he was determined to try; so he sent for two bushels. They were sent "by the pound," and when they arrived "by the pound," and when they arrived the bill for them was $36. He cut them up carefully himself and assisted in putting the eyes into the ground. Then he superintended their cultivation and when digging time finally arrived there was joy in the camp.

"We sent them all around to the officers and men," the general relates, "and there never were potatoes like them. I have eaten potatoes before and since. I have eaten fine dinners and sat through have eaten fine dinners and sat through elaborate banquets in later years; but nothing has tasted or will ever taste as did those potatoes. The fame of the went abroad, and the seed from my pate started the potato industry in the South

Mrs. Valentine Tells of Happy Results Accomplished by

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM :- It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to your list, hoping it may induce others to avail themselves of the benefit of your valuable remedy. Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I felt very bad, was terribly nervous and tired, had sick headaches, no appetite, gnawing pain in stomach, pain in my back and right side, and so weak I could scarcely stand. I was not able to do anything. Had sharp pains all through my body. Before I had taken half a bottle of your medicine, I found myself improving. I continued its use until I had taken four bottles, and felt so well that I did not need to take any more. I am like a new person, and your dicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W

Dyspepsia Most people eat more than is good for them. The stomach tries to digest all that's put into it, but if repeatedly overloaded, it goes on a strike. That's indigestion. Rich, over-sweet, indigestible food weakens the stomach and makes it unable to take care of the material put into it. More food taken into a weakened stomach than the stomach can digest, stays there, forms gases and rots, bringing on all the horrors of food sparingly, and give the stomach a chance to rest up and get strong again. Be sure you get the genuine CARCARETS! when he is pr. sosing to a heiress, do you? of to Indianapolis sournal.
