FIRE IN DRUG STORE. Fond du Lac, Wis., Feb. 27.- [Special. Fire broke out at about 6:30 o'clock this morning in the basement of the store building occupied by the Remington Drug company. It was discovered before it had gained any considerable beadway and an alarm was turned in. The fire department arrived early and the blaze was extinguished with the chemical engine. A very small quantity of water was poured upon the flames. Mr. Hochrein, one of the clerks in the store, stated that the origin of the fire is unknown, but it may have started from the furnace, which is located in the base-ment. The upper floors which contain the drug stock of the Remington Drug company, the agency headquarters of the Evening Wisconsin and the offices of Drs. Connell & Twohig, were not reached by the fire, but were penetrated slightly by the smoke. The damage is

FAVOR NEW SCHOOL

The common council committee ou schools has reported in favor of authorizing the board of education to build a four-room addition to the Jefferson school building and a new eight-room building in the Fifth ward at a cost no to exceed $30,000. It has been suggested that the plans for the Jefferson building might be used in the construction of the new building, thus reducing the cost several hundred dollars.

Not a word came to us of a rising or that there he a perrunnier's and a sunft Not a word came to us of a rising or movement in our favor in any part of England. Everywhere the Dissenters were cast into prison and the church dominant. From north and east and west the militia of the counties was on its march against us. In London six regiments of Dutch troops had arrived as a loan from the Prince of Orange. Others were said to be on their way. The city had enrolled 10,000 men. Everywhere there was mustering and rywhere there was mustering and marching to succor the flower of the English army, which was already in Somersetshire. English army, which was already in Somersetshire. And all for the purpose of crushing some five or six thousand and penniless, who were ready to throw their lives away for a man and for an idea.

But this idea, my dear children, was a noble one, and one which a man might very well sacrifice all for, and yet feel that all was well spent. For though these poor peasants, in their dumb blundering fashion, would have found it hard to give all their reason in words, yet in the inmost heart of them they knew and felt that it was England's cause which they were fighting for, and that they were upholding their country's true self against those who would after the old systems under which she had led the nations. Three more years made all this very plain, and showed that our simple, unlettered followers are, to my thinking, stages of human progress for which the Church of Rome is admirably suited. Where the mind of a nation is young, it may be best that it should not concern itself with spiritual affairs, but should lean upon the old staff of custom and authority. But England had cast off her swadding clothes, and was a nursery of strong, thinking men, who would how to no authority save that which their reason and conscience approved. It was hopeless, useless, foolish, to try to drive such men back into a creed which they reason and conscience approved. EXERCISE YOUR MEMORY.

It Never Fails but Simply Becom Languid from Non-Use.

Memory does not "fail" (except in loss f all the faculties); it simply gets weak and languid for want of use-just as the physical organs do. People often say 'My memory is failing" when it is really as good as ever, if they would give it chance. A word, a date, a name, an incident, comes up, or rather fails to come up when you want it. These seems to be no possible way of remembering it. You make two or three efforts, give up, and say: "There's no use; it's gone

Look over your memory, see where you are most deficient, and exercise it in that respect. You can do it it any old time; while you are walking, riding, resting after a day's work, or istening perforce to a dull speaker. Don't let a few failures discourage you; the long corridors of recollection, lined apon both sides with valuable material, will be open for you because of your imill be open for you because of your im-ortunity, if you use it.—Everywhere.

Another Man Altogether. Valley, Mo., Feb. 24.-There is a man in this town who has undergone a most remarkable physical change in the last few months. His name is Perry Nelson and those who knew him but a short time ago are amazed at his present condition. He had not been feeling well for some time and suspecting that the trouble came from his kidneys, which he knew were not any too strong, he determined to try a kidney medicine. Dodd's Kidney Pills were highly recommended and Mr. Nelson began a treatment of them. He was awarded by a complete restoration to vigorous good health. He says:

"I used six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they have helped me a great deal. I feel like another man and can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills very Medicine Bottles as Gods. A lady missionary in Burmah gives the following account of how she was the innocent cause of the worshop of medicine bottles having been instituted. In one of her tours she came upon a village where cholera was raging. Having with her a quantity of pain killer, she went from house to house administering the remedy to those attacked, and left a number of bottles to be used afer she had gone. Returning to the village some months subsequently, she was met by the head man of the community, who cheered and delighted her by this intelligence: "Teacher, we have come over to your side; the medicine did us so much your side; the medicine did us so much good that we have accepted your god." Overjoyed at this news, she was conducted to the house of her informant, who, opening a room, showed her the pain-killer bottles solemnly arranged in a row upon the shelf, and before them the whole company immediately prostrated themselves in worship.—Stray Stories.

Prince Henry Attends McKinley Memorial.

VISITS MOUNT VERNON.

The Lunch at Sherry's, Reception by German Societies and Dinner to the Editors.

washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—The final chapter in the national capital's welcome to Prince Henry of Prussia began today. Arriving at 9 o'clock this morning he and his suite at noon attended the McKinley memorial services at the capitol, and at their conclusion made a flying trip to pay tribute to the memory of the father of his country at Mount Vernon. He will be the guest of President Roosevelt at a dinner at the white house tonight. The weather this forenoon was delightful.

The train carrying Prince Henry of Prussia, his suite and the American escort made its second trip from New York to Washington on schedule time. It left Jersey City at 1:30 o'clock this morning and at 9 o'clock rolled into the Penasylvania depot here. There was no delay in the flooded districts of New Jersey, but the train was slowed down whenever there was a possibility of dan-

His majesty the emperor has minutely studied the recent and rapid development of the United States, and his majesty is well aware of the fact that yours is a fast moving nation. His sending me to this country may therefore be looked upon as an act of friendship and courtesy with the one desire of promoting friendlier relations between Germany and the United States. There was a felicitous exchange of greetings between Prince Henry and the men who spoke for the fournalistic craft, and the affair claims rank as one of the notable incidents of the American tour of the German prince.

The dinner was given in the handsome ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, but that immense apartment was not large enough to accommodate the newspaper guests, and the Astor gallery was also used.

The two rooms were splendidly decorated. Mr. Ridder and the special guests sat at an elevated table, above which were the American and German flags. The staves were crossed and the banner, draped fan-like, reached out like the wings of a luge butterfly. Above them was the Prussian caple done in incandescent lights. From the boxes hung clinging vines and set in on the ledges were hundreds of palms. Each table carried bonquets of American Beauty roses, round which were candelabra shaded in red. There was a great cheer as the prince appeared and another when he took his place at the side of Mr. Ridder at the special table.
