During the administration of President Cleveland, Judge Long became noted throughout the country by reason of his fight for restitution of the pension. Judge Lochern, then commissioner of pensions, ruled that a soldier who was able to earn his own living was not entitled to the full amount of pension allowed. Judge Long was then receiving a pension of $72 per month, and was also a judge of the Supreme court. After the commissioner's ruling the pension was reduced to a very small amount. Judge Long took the matter into the courts, carrying it to the United States Supreme court. The result was that his pension was restored to its original amount. It was one of the most celebrated pension cases ever tried.

THE MANAVI HAMMOCK.

May Yet Become as Popular as the Panama Hat. The recent heavy demand in the United States for the jipa-japa, or manavi hat, better known, maybe, as the "Pana-ma," will probably tend to similarly pop-ularize the manavi hammock of Ecua-dor, which ranks with the hat in dura-bility artistic workmanshin comfort dor, which ranks with the hat in durability, artistic workmanship, comfort and general superiority. At least that is the opinion of United States Consul General De Leon of Guayaquil. In a recent report to the state department he gave some interesting information regarding the manavi hammock. Travelers in Ecuador rarely fail to take one or more with them, when returning to the United States. In Ecuador the hammock is an indispensable household adjunct, being used as a hammock by day and as a bed by night. The raw material is derived from the leaves and shoots of a palm found in some of the coast provinces of Ecuador and her constructions.

palm found in some of the coast provinces of Ecuador and known as the "Me cora."

The use of this material for hammock The use of this material for hammocks has an unknown antiquity, doubtless antedating the Spanish conquest: the Inca Indians everywhere weave curious articles out of the fibrous materials afforded by nature; even the savages in the eastern part of Ecaudor, who as yet have not been brought in contact with civilization, wenter hammocks as fine as sillzation, weave hammocks as fine as sill out of the "Pita" palm. The manavi hammock, so far known, was first manufactured in the district of Pajan, Manavi, and is use in every part of the republic. A stoo of hammocks is always on hand Guayaquil, but, as is the case with the jipa-japa hat, three or four months' tim is required to fill large or special orders

Fees of United States Patent Office.

A few years ago the bane of the South Dakota farmers was the Russian thistle, which in a remarkably brief period grew thickly in all parts of the agricultural portion of the state and for a time threatened to run out and utterly destroy all vegetation.

Last fall some stockmen living in the vicinity of Okobojo conceived the idea that the thistles could be utilized for feed for cattle. They cut and put up great quantities, notwithstanding doleful predictions of doubting persons.

During the past few weeks a thorough test of the nutritive qualities of the Russian thistle has been made and those who have used them exclusively for stock feeding parposes are unanimous in Fees of United States Patent Office.

Patent office fees must be paid in advance and are as follows: On filing each original application for a patent, $15; on issuing each original patent, $20; in design cases, for three years and six months, $10; for seven years, $15: for fourteen years, $30; on filing each caveat, $10; on every application for the reissue of a patent, $30; on filing each disclaimer, $10; for certified copies of patents and other papers in manuscript, 10 cents per each hundred words; for certified copies of printed patents, $5 cents: for

CHILD

Does your horse "feel his oats"? What a difference be tween the grain-fed and the grass-fed horse! The first strong and full of ginger, the second flabby, weak and tired out before he begins. The a26 feeding makes the difference.

Children are not alike either. One is rosy, bright-eyed, ful of life and laughter, another is pale, weak and dull. The feeding again is responsible.

Sickly children need special feeding. They don't "feel their oats". Scott's Emulsion adds ust the right richness to their diet. It is like grain to th horse. The child gets new Scott's Emulsion is more than food. It is a strong medicine. It rouses up dul children, puts new flesh on thin ones and red blood into pale ones. It makes children grow Scott's Emulsion makes ordiduty. This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle Send for free sample.

migrants on Kronprinz Show It. "To my mind, the shrewdest, most practical thing Prince Henry did," said the woman, "was to interview the German immigrants on board the Krouprinz and ask them why they left the Father-land. No discovery of what makes Un-cle Sam's domains so alluring, no approprintion of colonial possessions calculated to make the young or dissatisfied Teuton stay at home, could be quite so to the point as the cause for that dissatisfaction and the reason for leaving Germany. Prince Henry is said to have gone from one immigrant to another, on his boat, putting this question point blank. Let us hope he received satisfactory replies—or replies which, if not exactly satisfying, gave the key to the situation.

"The fact that whole villages of immigrants land weekly in the port of New York alone is enough to set any nation a-thinking. The Germans, whose present ruler has shown extra anxiety to a-thinking. The Germans, whose present ruler has shown extra anxiety to give his subjects a chance on their native heath, does well in punctuating that thinking with an interrogation point. I wonder if any immigrant confessed to the prince that his reason for coming to America was the desire to get away from the pomp and circumstance of an imperial form of government and feel free to mount a mudscow, as I am told many of our citizens did last Sunday, and hail his royal highness upon his return from a visit to the navy-yard with a 'Hello, Hen.' TO THE PUBLIC: The worth of The Alta Mines Company's properties having been fully demonstrated by numerous carload shipments from ore bodies already blocked out in its mine, we feel that we are fully justified in submitting its proposition to the most conservative investors-investors who will skeptically investigate the statements and claims set forth in our pros pectus, a copy of which will be sent to any address upon request.

The known sterling integrity of the gentlemen at the head of this enterprise should, in itself, be an incentive for careful perusal of the prospectus. We deem their proposition worthy of your earnest attention.
