ATTACK ON KITCHENER.

Miners Hope that President will Undertake Task.
Roosevelt may Act.
Train Containing Nonunion Men is Wrecked but None Injured—Serious Trouble Feared.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 5.—The eyes of the striking miners today were turned toward the White House at Washington. A new hope has arisen in the breasts of the men that the President of the United States, at the suggestion of the New York board of trade, may take up the issue of the breach of the contract and strong belief here that President Roosevelt will take up the matter and try to work out a solution of the problem. Mine workers throughout the anthracite fields feel that the great coal companies cannot turn a deaf ear to the chief magistrate and that if he can be prevailed upon to step into the breach, the miners will take up the matter and try to work out a solution of the problem.

President Mitchell had nothing to say when approached by news men who have the President take a hand in the settlement of the strike.
Pensioners Continue to Quit.
The coal companies continue to lose engineers, firemen and pumpmen. Many of the men who are now quitting are doing so through financial distress. Reports come into Wilkesbarre almost hourly of men on their way out from the mines being attacked. The attacking parties in most cases are boys and young men who are not afraid of throwing stones. Several men have been hurt but as yet no serious injuries have been reported.

John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, led the opposition in behalf of the strikers. Mr. Dillon said he and his friends also were opposed to the vote, because they were opposed to the burning of the vestment of the church and the burning of the vestment of the church and the burning of the vestment of the church.

A good form of reciprocity might be to give a statue of Washington to Germany, for the American leader typifies republicanism and the principles of freedom and equal rights which he did so much to promote.

The strict rules against spiritualism in Germany and other parts of the European continent have resulted in the imposition of a fine of $40 on any one found guilty of attending a spiritualistic seance in Bohemia.

The scarcity of platinum is being more and more felt, the annual output of the metal being less than five tons a year, most of which comes from Russia. It is worth $300 an ounce. Formerly it was mistaken for silver and got into Russian coinage so that many of the old coins are being remelted to recover the platinum.

PROFESSOR MASARYK, of the university of Prague and member of the Austrian reichsrath, says that America's greatest peril lies in the teeming children of her immigrants, who outnumber Americans in the cities and who grow up in ignorance. He says the remedy is to provide for their education and moral uplifting.

The chief of the fire department of Chicago sees the end of the fire engine in the adoption of high pressure water mains for fire use with a great pump at a central station. Is the continental countries of Europe typewriting is generally known as "dactylography" which means finger writing. The city of St. Pierre, Martinique, was named in honor of St. Peter and not after Bernardin de St. Pierre, the author of "Paul and Virginia," as some suppose, although the writer lived there for some years and got the "local color" for his story from that island.

A BROOKLYN minister sent a series of questions over the United States to find out the qualifications of the "Ideal Young Woman" as she exists in the minds of the young men of the country. All said that she must be a Christian, 18 per cent. said she might use slang, all said she should not use profanity nor drink wine, 12 per cent. said she might dance and play cards and all agreed that a knowledge of housekeeping was a desirable quality. On the question of coeducation 70 per cent. said she should be educated in a mixed school.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

The commencement exercises of the 1902 class of our public school was held in the South Side Park hall last Thursday evening. The large hall was well filled with people who listened attentively throughout the evening's program. The stage was very tastefully decorated with greens and plants and was occupied by the graduates, school board, principal W. J. Green and the speaker Prof. W. C. Hewitt. All the selections given by the graduates were well rendered, reflecting great credit upon them. The songs by the Primary department and by the male quartette, also the Hoop Drill by the Intermediate department were all very good. The commencement address by Prof. W. C. Hewitt was very interesting and instructive. Following the address by Prof. Hewitt, Principal Green presented the diplomas to the class with a few words of advice and farewell. BICYCLE CHAIRS LATEST.

Newest Form of Traveling by Invalids in the Metropolis. There is a new fashion in city transit. A little vehicle, is attracting a great deal of attention in Central park. Shaped like the chairs one sees on the boardwalk at Atlantic City, but with the seat and seat in the rear, like a bicycle, the chair-carriage moves rapidly and can go anywhere that ordinary carriages do.

The new vehicle has not yet caused any rowdiness. Horses pick up their ears in mild surprise and seeming wonder as to what is to come next. Persons stop and stare as they did when women first appeared in the streets on bicycles.

The carriage is a dainty thing, with its bright wickerwork, the springs and metal work painted a bright green and the man propelling the carriage wearing a neat blue uniform. His sturdy legs are clad in knickerbockers. The attendants are bright-looking young colored men, who were doubtless chosen partly because of the size of their calves.

The bicycle chairs first appeared on the sidewalk in front of the Hotel Majestic a few days ago. The charge is 75 cents an hour.—New York Times.

A Cure for Dropsy. Ashby, North Dakota, June 24.—J. H. Hanson of this place has found a cure for Dropsy.

For years Mr. Hanson himself has suffered with rheumatism of the heart and dropsy, and of late has been so bad that he could not get out of bed. He has tried many remedies, but nothing he could get helped him in the least, and he was growing worse and worse.

Finally he began a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to his great delight he soon found that the Dropsical Swelling gradually going down and that the rheumatism of the heart was also disappearing. He says: "I have taken seven boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am feeling better than I have for five years."

"I am able to work again, and if the Dropsy or Heart Trouble ever comes back I will use Dodd's Kidney Pills again."

Next Summer Drinks. "Beware of the colored summer drink," is the advice given by a chemist, and the thing would do well to heed. This scientific person declares that all colored drinks contain drugs that are injurious to the system.

Out of twenty-nine samples which he examined, nineteen contained toxicology. Now, the great popularity of summer drinks lies largely in the fact that they are attractively colored and that they are advertised by young persons, who seek not only a thirst quencher, but an attractive-looking beverage.

"I am able to work again, and if the Dropsy or Heart Trouble ever comes back I will use Dodd's Kidney Pills again."

TO MOTHERS Mrs. J. H. Haskins, of Chicago, Ill., President Chicago Arcade Club, Addresses Comforting Words to Women Regarding Childbirth.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM.—Mothers need not dread childbearing after they know the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. While I loved childbearing, I desired an ordeal, for it left me weak and sick for months after, and at the time I thought death was a welcome relief, but before my last child was born a good neighbor advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I used that, together with your Pills and Sanative Wash for four months before the child's birth. It brought me wonderful relief, and I had no ache or pain, and when the child was ten days old I left my bed strong in health. Every spring and fall I now take a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it keeps me in continual excellent health."

Care and careful counsel is what the expectant and would-be mother needs, and this counsel she can secure without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

THE RANGING GRAY BY—H.S. CANFIELD.

Pepton, the Hon. R. William Fontaine, the Hon. Russell Maude and Mr. Royal Devereaux. All live near the rancho house and try to make things pleasant.

"This was getting to be interesting, Maine," thought she, and she asked: "What do you do?" "Oh, we help to work the cattle and boss the Mexican hands and hunt wild game and play polo and we well have a little music when Mrs. Glynn has time to assist us. Some of us play the banjo and others lute. We have here three brass bands and a well equipped orchestra."

"I'm sure I shall," was the cordial reply. "You are drawing a pleasant life for me. After my life in Maine I know that I shall not find the rancho dull. Tell me now about the children, my dear."

Ally smiled broadly. "Speaking of the children," he replied, "you will not find it dull. Nobody finds it dull here. They are all well and happy. The youngest is a boy named Tom, and he is a fine fellow. He is now in the school and is doing well."

"The second hopeful," he proceeded, "with a somewhat stronger note of admiration in his voice, 'is Charles Beauchamp. He is a fine fellow, and he is a very good horseman. He is now in the school and is doing well."

"The young Englishman hesitated a moment and then his tones were heard. 'I like the life here very much. It is a very pleasant life, and I am sure you will like it very much. I am sure you will like it very much.'

"In that instant these two, only a day before the marriage, were apart, because they were again to be separated. He was one; always to bear each for each the same loyal friendship; always to find each in that sympathy in need which a stay in the rancho would bring."

CHAPTER III. Balcones ranched faced to the east. In front of it ran the Rio Grande, a stream, shallow for the most part, but having deep, dark pools in places. Its banks were thickly grown with willows, cottonwoods, live-oaks and pecan trees.

"Who are all the rest of us?" Lois asked. "Oh, the other fellows, you know—the other white men on the rancho. There's a lot of them—very good chaps, taking them by and large. Some are older than I and some younger, but we get along swimmingly. There's the Hon. Henry Lascelles, whom we call 'Harry,' and the Hon. C. Clayburgh, the Hon. I. Louis Gelsky, the Hon. George Balb...

Mr. J. Verdyer, a prominent real estate agent of Augusta, Ga., writes: 'I have been a great sufferer from catarrh of the stomach. I tried many physicians, visited good many springs, but I believe Pe-ru-na has done more for me than all of the above put together. I feel like a new person.'

Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O., writes: 'The most common form of summer catarrh is of the stomach. This is generally known as dyspepsia. Pe-ru-na cures these cases like magic.'

MADE RICH BY GOATS. Rancher of Angoras Settles Down to Spend His Income.

Charles S. Onderdonk of Lamy, N. M., has settled in Denver in a beautiful new home, to enjoy his annual income of many thousands. His income is derived from goats.

There is no time in the year when he has not on his immense ranch at least 10,000 goats. Often, prior to the period of shipment, there are as many as 20,000. There are 28,000 acres of ground for them to graze over, and they are such frugal little beasts that they can keep up living where other animals would starve. They eat the foliage of low trees when the grass is scanty, and will strip off the bark of some trees and fatten on such food.

The ranch is just the sort that the young goat intuitively longs for. It covers a large part of the mountain, green with the most luxuriant grass. It also contains a peach canon, with its crisp and juicy peaches, along with the fat and juicy quail and the club in breakfast fashion, and it is great fun for them, for nothing tickles a goat so much as a peach. And on the Onderdonk farm he can take chances every hour in the day.

Mr. Onderdonk raises two kinds of goats—Angoras, for their hair, and 'Coarctates,' for their skins. The hair which is so luxuriant on the Angoras, is used in many ways; especially it is valuable in the manufacture of fine goods. The most of the goat is little used by Americans, but the Mexicans, who inhabit the country around the coast of the Gulf of California, use nearly all of it sold to them or exchanged for labor on the ranch.

Sparrows Must Vacate. Philadelphia's sparrows may soon have to go home. The most of the city is to be transferred to the old Lippincott property, through the death of the late owner and his son. A certain cure for the sparrows is to force them to vacate their present quarters in the branches of the old tree on the grounds at Broad and Front streets. This will be the second time the great family of birds has been ousted from the grounds at Broad and Front streets, and it is a great pity for them, for they have been there for many years.

Millions of People Use CUTICURA SOAP, to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle. CUTICURA OINTMENT to instantly allay itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT PILLS, to cool and cleanse the blood. A SINGLE SET of these great skin curatives is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disgusting, itching, burning, bleeding, crusted, scaly, and pimply skin, scalp, and blood humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.
