Indian Troops Parade. The review of the East Indian troops was largely a repetition of yester-function, but the varied coloring of the uniforms of representative corps from all parts of Hindustan formed an altogether more picturesque spectacle. Queen Alexandra was again the central figure of the proceedings and the public figure of the proceedings and the public welcomed the opertunity to testify once more its sympathy with her on account of her recent anxiety and its congratulations at the continued good news regarding King Edward's condition. The review proceedure of yesterday was followed. Almost 1300 dark-skinned troops headed by a detachment of the bodyguard of the Viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, reached the horse guards' parade to the strains of Sousa's "Hands Across the Sea." The members guards' parade to the strains of Sousa's "Hands Across the Sea." The members of the royal family who reviewed the colonials yesterday traversed the lines of the soldiers of the Indian empire. The Prince of Wales, representing the King, standing by the side of his mother's carriage, took the salute, and the proceedings ended like those of yesterday with cheers for the King, led by the Duke of Connaught, the Indians drawing their swords and waving them wildly as they joined in the cheering.

WILL BE MISSED BY MANY. Mrs. Caroline Bell Doolittle, Who Passed

Away at Delavan. Delavan, Wis., June 28 .- [Special.]-The funeral of Mrs. Caroline Bell Doolittle, who passed away Wednesday after a number of years of constant suffering, borne with remarkable patience, will be borne with remarkable patience, was held yesterday afternoon at 3:20 o'clock.
Caroline Bell was married to James B. Doolittle in the early '50s in the stone mansion built by her grandfather, Bell, at Windham, Greene county, N. Y. Her grandfather was an English Quaker being opposed to war, came to the United States rather than be pressed into the manufacturing of implements of war, he having a factory for the manufacture of steel instruments, for the use of surgeons. He thought American methods of building altogether too flimsy and for the stone mansion which became a landmark in Central New York he had the heavy material carried over the Catskill mountains to Windham.

There he lived and died.
Mrs. Doolittle was a favorite with all who made her acquaintance and to the when that organization was at its best in Wisconsin. No children blessed Mr. and Mrs. Doolittle's union, but all children, especially numerous nieces and nephews, considered her home a haven From the time of his graduation to 1880 he was principal of the Eau Claire high school, and in the last year of his principalship he received the master's to go to my Aunt 'Line's;' she just follows, considered her home a haven of good cheer. And the description of the good woman, given by a little daughter of S. R. Bell, who said: "You ought the principalship he received the master's to go to my Aunt 'Line's;' she just follows, considered her home a haven of good cheer. And the description of the good woman, given by a little daughter of the good woman principalship he received the master's degree from the state university. Having studied law during his spare hours while teaching, he was admitted to the all little folk and many of a larger

Sparta, Wis., June 28 .- [Special.]-This week will about end the strawberry season in this vicinity. It has been a very profitable year for growers, the weather being very favorable for the crop, also for shipping. It is estimated that over one hundred car loads of strawberries have already been shipped. Prices have been good, averaging about $1.50 per sixteen quart case. The blueberry crop will be short in this locality. Raspers

...hen Cuba shall become a part of the American union and the isthmian canal shall be completed, which is now assured, Porto Rico, Cuba, Hawaii and the Philippines will be the outposts of the great republic, standing guard over American in terests in the track of the world's commerce in its trimuphal march around the globs. There is a tendency in all human affairs in government, trade and commerce to concentration and combination. Meteors go to the sun; small nations are becoming parts of great nations and Cuba in her present environment, situated as she is, cannot be expected to resist this tendency.

Embarrasses Healthy Progress. The effect of the Platt amendments wil The effect of the Platt amendments will be to help bring about annexation. A na-tion cannot long remain half free and half dependent; such a condition embarrasses healthy progress in national life, and leaves but little room for the exercises of the genius and intelligence of a people in the affairs of government, especially when un-der such restrictions as these amendments impose.

The question of annexation forces itself to the front and will claim from now on the attention of the people of both countries. Reciprocity with Cuba affords no adequate remedy for what threatens her interests. A 20 per cent, reduction in her tariff and ours will do Cuba as a people or a government little or no good while it will work "reat harm to the interests of the United States.

There was long discussion and flerce opposition to the annexation of Texas—much more, I think, than there will be to annexation of Cuba—but it came at last as surely as the annexation of Cuba will come. There is not a loval and true American to be found within the confines of the repu—who would give up Texas and within a few years after Cuba becomes a state in our union, not an American will be found willing to part with the island.

What About Your School Houses?

You may not this season be able to build a new one, or make the radical changes in the old one that you had in contemplation, but there is no school district in the United States that cannot afford to tint with Alabastine the interior of their buildings, thus mak ing them more attractive, getting colors made with special reference to their effects on the eyes of the pupils, getting a sanitary and rock base cement coating that will not harbor disease germs.

The closely crowded school rooms need all the safeguards to the health of the pupil that intelligent officials can surround them with, and all sauitarians unite in saying that Alabastine is the only proper material to be used on such walls. -The United States department of ag-
