Drives Into the River.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Nov. 26 .-] Special.]-A man by the name of Lyons, residing west of the city, had an excitresiding west of the city, had an excit-ing experience last evening. He was on his way home with his horse and buggy and had evidently intended to drive out Forest avenue. He made a mistake in the street, however, and drove out West Second street. On that street there is Second street. On that street there is no bridge crossing the west branch of the river, but the farmer did not know this. At the end of the street on the river's bank there is a platform erected a number of years ago for fire engines at the time of conflagrations. Lyons took this for the bridge and drove over it into the river. The stream is not very deep at this point and with the assistance of some people on shore the man, horse of some people on shore the man, horse and rig were pulled out.

BIG WHALE ON THE BEACH. A Finback with a Lance in Its Side Cast Up by the Sea on Cape Cod.

A mammoth finback whale with a bomb lance fastened in its side was found on the beach at Ellisville, Mass. The whale was driven ashore by the gaie. From appearances it had been dead only a short time. The fishermen say that it came from the whaling ground near the gulf stream. The whale was driven well up on the beach, the tide running high, owing to the gale. The fishermen who found the whale experienced little trouble in securing it, so that the outgoing tide would not carry it out to sea. The whale is nearly 70 feet long. While whale is nearly 70 feet long. A mammoth finback whale with

Mrs. Hildebrandt's Discovery. Lake Sarah, Minn., Nov. 24.-Mrs. Hildebrandt of this place claims to have discovered a complete cure for Rheumatism and numerous people can testify that as Mrs. Hildebrandt had the terrible affliction and is now a well woman, she appears to have woman, she appears to have good grounds for her claim. Mrs. Hilde-brandt speaks of her cure as follows:

"I had the Rheumatism in my arms
so bad that I could not sleep at night.
I was induced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and before I had taken two boxes I was much better. When I had taken four boxes I was completely cured." It is only fair to state that others have made the same discovery as Mrs. Hildebrandt, and that for Rheumatism and other diseases arising from the Kidneys, Dodd's Kidney Pills are recognized as the one sure and permanent Yankee Care for Teeth.

A prominent dentist of New York declares that nearly every patient with a mouthful of decayed teeth is a foreigner. "They let things drift," he says, "and come only when pain drives them here. Americans, and especially Southerners, hasten to their dentist as soon as they detect even the slightest signs of coming trouble, and the result is that there are by far more 'saved' teeth in this country than in any other. Englishmen are remarkably apathetic about their molars, and will go about for years with hopelessly decayed teeth."

The Blood.

The blood is life. We derive from the blood life, power, beauty, and reason, as the doctors have been saying from time immemorial. A healthy body, a fresh appearance, and generally all the abilities we possess depend on that source of life. It is therefore the duty of every sensible man to keep the blood as pure and normal as possible. Nature, in its infinite wisdom, has given us a thermometer indicating the state of the blood, which appeals to our reason by giving notice of its impurity. Small eruptions of the skin, to which we scarcely pay any attention, headache, ringing noises in the ears, lassitude, sleeplessness, are generally a sign that the blood is not in its normal state, but is filled with noxious substances. These symptoms deserve our full attention. If more attention were paid to those symptoms, and steps taken to remove them, then many illnesses from which we suffer would become unknown, and the human body would become The Blood.

and the human bedy would become stronger and healthier. Attention therefore should be paid to those warning signs, and the blood can be purified and poisonous substances removed from it has poisonous substances removed from it by the use of Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Drops, discovered more than sixty years Rich and Rare. Rich and rare were the gems she wore, Making her rivals with envy sore; Every stone in her necklace bright Formed of a priceless anthracite. —The Prophet, in Town Topics.

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing a child involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly. She cannot help it, as her condition is due to suffering and shattered nerves caused by some derangement of the uterine system with backache, headache, and all kinds of pain, and she is on the verge of nervous prostration.

When a mother finds that she cannot be calm and quiet with her children, she may be sure that her condition needs attention, and she cannot do better than to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This medicine will build up her system, strengthen her nerves, and enable her to calmly handle a disobedient child without a scene. The children will soon realize the difference, and seeing their mother quiet, will themselves become quiet.

Mrs. May Brown, of Chicago, Ill., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM : - 'Honor to whom honor is due,' and you deserve both the thanks and honor of the mothers of America whom you have so blessedly helped and benefited. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I would feel run-down, nervous and irritable, or have any of the aches and pains which but few women escape, and I have found that it relieved me at once and gave me new strength. Several ladies, members of our Literary Union, speak in the highest praise of your Vegetable Compound, as they have been cured from serious female troubles. One lady, who thought she must submit to an opera-tion, was cured without using anything in the world but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. You have hosts of friends in Chicago, and if you came to visit our city we would delight to do you honor. Gratefully yours,—Mrs. May Brown, 57 Grant Place, Chicago, Ill.

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Mrs. McKinny.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - I feel it my duty to write and let you know the good you and your Vegetable Compound are doing. I had been sick ever since my first baby was born, and at the birth of my second, my doctor, as well as myself thought I should never live through it. After that menstruation never came regular, and when it came I suffered terribly. I also had womb and ovarian trouble. A friend of my husband's advised him to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. At first I had no faith in it, but now nothing could induce me to be without it. Menstruation has become regular, and I feel like a new woman. Your medicine is a God-send to suffering women. I hope this letter will lead others to try Lydia E. Pinkhan's Vegetable Compound. Yours truly, Mrs. MILDRED MCKINNY, 28 Pearl St., San Francisco, Cal." Ararat.

Mount Ararat, on which sight mountaineers have just had a narrow escape from death, attracted the attention of explorers at an early date. Sir John Mandeville estimated that it was seven miles high. Tournefort, the French botanist, attempted the ascent early in the Eighteenth century, failed, and de-scribed the mountain as "one of the most dismal and disagreeable sights on the face of the earth." A little later a Persian Shah offered a large reward to anysian Shah offered a large reward to anyone who should get up, but no one claimed it. Ultimately, the first ascent was accomplished by a climber who gave his name to the Parrot Spitze of Monte Rosa. The second ascent was made by one Sparsky Aflonomof in 1834, and the third by one Herr Abich, in 1845. The first English ascent was made by Mr. Bryce, in 1876, and since that date ascents have been tolerably frequent.—Westminster Gazette.

"Have you quite finished?" Ralph's voice was steady, but his face was white and drawn. "Then listen to me-nay you shali!" Maimie had opened the gate to go, but, forgetting his usual gentle-ness in his passionate pain, he caught her hands in a grip of steel, compelling her to look at him. "I was a blundering fool, but I thought you would understand. Didn't I say I loved you? I thought the whole world could see it. Edith Musgrave noticed that some hing was amiss, but, being a person of liscretion, she made no remark, and held ner father's and mother's attention until hey reached the hotel, when Maimie, under plea of a headache, retired to her

About an hour afterwards Edith knocked at the door, and, entering, found er friend, still in her outdoor things, sitting on the edge of the bed and starng vacantly before her. "Not in bed yet?" Edith exclaimed.

'How is your head?" "My head? Oh, it's all right-I mean, ts better," and Maimie got up and bean to take off her hat.

Her fingers trembled, and there were arsh, bitter lines round her mouth. Miss Musgrave looked at her with anxifriendship between Maimie and Capt. will cost you dear." Scrope with hopeful interest, for she was very fond of her cousin Ralph, and adored her old schoolfellow with all a girl's enthusiasm.

Nothing would have pleased her morthan a marriage between the two, for this would bring her friend to live within five miles of herself. Something had evidently gone wrong on the way back from the Kursaal, and she was rather afraid that the quarrel was serious. However, she did not mean to let them drift apart without an effort to clear

"Now, Maimie Winkinson," she said, aving her hands on her friend's shoul-"I want to know the meaning of this! No; it's no use wriggling! I mean to have an answer."

"The meaning of what?" "You little humbug! As if you didn't know. What is the matter with Ralph What have you been doing to him?" "Am I your cousin's keeper? What should I have been doing to him?" "That is what you must tell me. I've ever seen him look as he does tonight ince his mother died; and why has he gone off by the midnight mail, instead of staying till next week?"

"Gone?" said Maimie, with a gasp. "Yes. Nothing would induce him to wait till tomorrow. I can't understand t at all. Did anything happen this evenng? Were you nasty to him?"
"Why should I be 'nasty,' as you call t, to Capt. Scrope?" "Because you are such a whimsical little mortal, one never knows how to take you, and poor old Ralph is rather a blunierer. Did he ask you to marry him?" "How could you know?" Main ie tared in surprise.

Edith laughed. "It didn't require an eagle eye to see that the dear old fellow was desperately n love with you, though he tried to coneal it. I certainly thought be would propose before he went away, but hardy believed the crisis would come so soon, for he could searcely expect that you also had fallen a victim at first sight.'

"Edie, do you mean that you think he truly cared for me?" doubtingly. "My dear, I do not think-I am sure that he cares more for your little finger than for all the world; and when you know more of each other I hope you will return his love, for he is worth it." "No, no! It can never be!" Maimie ried passionately "You surely didn't refuse him?" said Edith, aghast.

"Yes, I did." "Oh, Maimie, how could you? You lon't love anyone else, do you?"

"Then why couldn't you give him hance? Ot course, it was silly of him o ask you so soon, but I suppose he was jealous of that little Russian horror. You surely don't think of marrying that wretch just to be a princess? Maimie, could not have believed it of you." "No: I hate him."

Maimie, left alone, began wandering aimlessly up and down, with a set, frozen look on her face, restlessly twisting her hands one within the other.

Every now and then she whispered, "How cold it is—how cold!" though there was not a breath of air stirring.

Once she stepped out on to the balcony, but the scent of iliac and syringa, and the nightingale's warble smote her with a thrill of pain, and she resumed her pacing to and fro.

Recent investigations in the department of agriculture disclosed the fact that what is known as foot and mouth disease exists to an alarming extent in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont. The expert of the department, Dr. Mohler; Dr. Leonard Pearson of the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Charles Law of Cornell investigated the infected districts and united in a recommendation that in order to prevent the spread of the disease, a quarantine should immediately be established.

Secretary Wilson said today that this is the most serious matter the department has had to handle for some time, but that all the resources of the department would be employed in stamping out the disease. He declared that if it should spread west of the Hudson river it would be nothing short of a national calamity.

The orders which are dated today and numbered 99 and 100 respectively, are as follows:

To the Managers and Agents of Rallroads and Transportation companies of the United States, Stockmen and others:

In accordance with Section 7 of the act of Congress, approved May 29, 1884, en titled "An Act For the Establishment of a Bureau of Animal Industry, to prevent the standard in the place of torches that cast uncanny shadows along the massive walls.

From the darkness comes the sound of rushing water, which is found to be a stream that runs from 8 to 30 feet in depth. Men have waded in the stream until the water reached their chins, and then have gone in a boat to points where they were unable to touch bottom. A farmer carried his boat into the cave several years ago, but never had the courage to follow the stream to its end. At a depth estimated to be 200 feet below the surface of the grown

A PASTOR WHO WAS BEFRIENDED BY AN EMPE SAVED BY PE-RU-NA

Rev. H. Stubenvoll, of Elkhorn, Wis., is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church of that place. Rev. Stubenvoll is the possessor of two Bibles presented to him by Emperor William of Germany. Upon the fly leaf of one of the Bibles the Emperor has written in his own handwriting a text.

This honored pastor, in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, says concerning their famous catarrh remedy, Peruna:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen:-"I had hemorrhages of the lungs for a long time, and all despaired of me. I took Peruna and was cured. It gave me strength and courage, and made healthy, pure blood. It increased my weight, gave me a healthy color, and I feel well. It is the best medicine in the world. If everyone kept Peruna in the house it would save many from death every year."-H. STUBENVOLL.

Thousands of people have catarrh who would be surprised to know it, because it has been called some other name than catarrh. The fact is catarrh is catarrh wherever located; and another fact which is of equally great importance is that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

TELL CITY, IND .- I received the free splendid. I had an awful pain in my back; on taking the pills the pain left me right away and I feel like a new man. - Stephen Mrs. Addie Andrews, R. F. D. No. 1

BRODHEAD, Wis., writes: I received the free trial of Doan's Kidney Pills with much benefit. My little nephew was suffering terribly with kidney trouble from scarlet fever. Two doctors failed to help him and he finally went into spasms. His father gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and from the second dose the pain was less. He began to gain and is to-day a well boy, his life saved by Doan's Kidney Pills.

GREATEST KIDNEY MEDICINE. Aching backs are eased. Hip, back, and loin pains overcome. Swelling of the limbs and dropsy signs vanish.

They correct urine with brick dust sediget up often during night. Now I sleep well in pack of bladder in pack of bladder in pack of bladder in pack of bladder in pack.
