TO TRY CHIEF OF POLICE
Charges Made Against Head of Racine Department.

SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS.

Chief Pfister Says He will be Ready with His Defense—Makes General Denial.

Racine, Wis., April 2.—[Special.]—David Evans, chairman of the police committee of the city council, has preferred charges against Chief of Police Pfister, which have been referred to the police and fire commission. The board will take up the charges a week from tonight.

It is alleged that the chief has been guilty of misconduct in office and failing to raise a certain notorious resort when instructed to do so by the council. It is further charged that during the summer of 1902 he struck certain persons and beat and bruised him and damaged considerable property during the scuffle.

Says He Neglected His Duty.
Al Evans alleged that in September, 1902, the chief neglected to arrest a man named Collins charged with felony, and failed to make other arrests when he held warrants for certain persons. The charges state the chief punished certain members of the force by reducing them, not for the good of the service, but through malice and vengeance. It is stated that he kept at the station the driver of the patrol wagon, his assistant, a clerk, a desk sergeant, when he only had two men patrolling the city. He is also charged with protecting keepers of houses of ill-fame.

Chief Ready with Defense.
Chief of Police Pfister said this morning he was glad the charges had at last been preferred and that he would be ready to meet them. He said he followed the instructions of the council and that during his absence the people who conducted the resort heard that he was out of town and returned to the city before he came back the place was raided by subordinate policemen without any orders, and that the result was that he was punished for the good of the service and not for malice or vengeance.

He said that it was necessary for four men to be at the station in order to handle the patrol wagon and the ambulance. He says that Weisberg was wanted by the Milwaukee police on the charge of grand larceny, but had made trouble for him continually since he had been released. He denies that he is guilty of the other charges and says he will be ready with his defense on Thursday when the police and fire commissions hear the charges.

RAILROAD MEN CAN STRIKE.

Injunction Granted at St. Louis Against Wabash Railway Employees is Dissolved.

RULING BY JUDGE ADAMS. Sweep and was Designed to Prevent Walkout.

St. Louis, Mo., April 3.—In the United States district court Judge J. Edgar Miller by Adams dissolved the injunction against the Wabash Railway employees which was granted March 3, restraining officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Railroad Employees and other labor leaders from inducing any way of leading the men employed on the Wabash system to strike. The temporary injunction had been granted by Judge Adams on the basis of affidavits made by officials of the Wabash system that the defendants were conspiring to induce a strike by the men employed on the Wabash system.

The decision dissolving the injunction was rendered by Judge Adams after a hearing on the matter. The decision was based on the fact that the defendants had shown that they were not conspiring to induce a strike.

"PEARL."

"What a quarter to 10!" This time it was Pansy who was alarmed. "I begin to think, with you, that something must be wrong," she said. Oh, how thankful she was that she had not given to her angry feelings! "I'll put on my jacket and go down to the office this minute," she continued; and seizing her hat and jacket, she hastily donned them, and before Patience could find it in her heart to remonstrate, she had opened and shut the door, and was gone, leaving Patience alone with a foreboding of evil.

Then she sat, conjuring up all sorts of imaginary misfortune, poor child, little thinking how wrong she was in her apprehensions, and how far from guessing the truth.

It was a full two miles' walk to the office, but Pansy went at such a smart pace, even running when

The bereaved relatives have our sympathy.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong. And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak. Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed. Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength. Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

KOHLSVILLE CORRESPONDENCE.

Tired Out

"I was very poorly and could hardly get about the house. I was tired out all the time. Then I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it only took two bottles to make me feel perfectly well."—Mrs. N. S. Swinney, Princeton, Mo.

Tired when you go to bed, tired when you get up, tired all the time. Why? Your blood is impure, that's the reason. You are living on the border line of nerve exhaustion. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and be quickly cured.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows all about this grand purifying medicine. Follow his advice and you will be satisfied. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

JUDGE ROBERT G. SIEBECKER.

Robert G. Siebecker, judge of the Ninth Judicial circuit of Wisconsin, was born in Sauk county, this state, on the 17th day of October, 1854...

His appointment as judge of the circuit was made under circumstances somewhat peculiar, and was therefore looked upon with question by some of the lawyers...

He is remarkable also in fact, almost unique, that before graduating from the law school, while in the midst of his legal course, he was admitted to practice in the circuit court (September, 1879)...

He has since been elected to the office of judge of the circuit, and has served the public as city attorney for several years.

He is a member of the Wisconsin bar, and has been elected to the office of judge of the circuit, and has served the public as city attorney for several years.

HICCOUGH REMEDIES.

Home Methods Showed Upon a Philadelphia Sufferer.

"How to Cure Hiccoughs" is the subject of more than a hundred letters written within a week by persons who think they know just what will relieve the sufferings of Miss Martha Norris of 246 South Twelfth street...

Miss Norris' malady is peculiar. Until last week it baffled many doctors. It is not a case of ordinary hiccoughs. It is an spasmodic hiccough, in what the doctors call it. The patient uttered a hoarse sound with every convulsion, hiccoughing even in her sleep for five weeks, until her life was despaired of.

When Miss Norris was taken to the Jefferson Hospital it was found that her disease was a form of hysteria. The story of her plight was noised about, and as a result "home-made" cures were showered upon the girl's mother and the father at the Jefferson Hospital.

Here are some of the suggestions: Yawning treatment. Strapping the chest. Vinegar. Red pepper snuff. Hot water. Hot steam room. Hot shower.

Details as to how all these prescriptions should be given were supplied plentifully by the advisers.

The "yawning" cure was suggested as an old-fashioned cure for hiccoughs. The doctors were advised to arrange for a number of the patient's friends to visit her. The visitors, according to the prescription, should arrange themselves on the bedside. First one should yawn, then another, and so on, until there would be a regular concert of "yawns." Care should be taken to make the patient believe that the yawning is not done according to a prearranged plan.

The success of this prescription depends upon the influence of the yawns upon the patient's mind. It is not the yawn, but the suggestion of it, the anaesthetic physician says the patient would yawn.—New York Times.

Cure for Facial Neuralgia. A French specialist, M. Dubois de Saugon, has described in a report to the Academy of Medicine a new method of treating the tic-douloureux, or facial neuralgia, by continued electric currents.

The case is brought forward by M. De Saugon, and the method is described in detail. It is a case of facial neuralgia, which had been treated by various methods without success.

DAN GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Pe-ru-na is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy--I am as Well as Ever."

"I can conscientiously recommend around good medicine those who are in need of a catarrh remedy. It has been commended to me by people who have used it, as a remedy particularly effective in the cure of catarrh. For those who need a good catarrh medicine I know of nothing better."—W. E. Griffith.

"I suffered with chronic catarrh for many years. I took Peruna and it completely cured me. I think Peruna is the best medicine in the world for catarrh. My general health is much improved by its use, as I am much stronger than I have been for years."—W. E. Griffith.

"I can cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy, Peruna, to any one who is suffering with catarrh, and who is in need of a permanent and effective cure."—H. Bowen.

"I am fully convinced that your remedy is an excellent tonic. Peruna of my friends have used it with the most beneficial results for coughs, colds and catarrhal troubles."—J. H. Abbott.

"Mrs. Elmer Fleming, order of Reservoir Council No. 168, Northwesters League of Honor, Minneapolis, Minn., writes from 2555 Polk street, N.E.:

"I have been troubled all my life with catarrh of the bladder. I took Peruna for about a year, and now I am cured. I believe that for all its forms Peruna is the best medicine in the world for catarrh. It cures when all other remedies fail."—Mrs. Elmer Fleming.

"Treat Catarrh in Spring. The spring is the time to treat catarrh. Cold, wet winter weather often retards a cure of catarrh. If a course of Peruna is taken during the early spring months, the cure will be prompt and permanent. There can be no failures if Peruna is taken at this time, during the favorable season of spring."

"As a systemic catarrh remedy Peruna acts directly on the system wherever it may be located. It cures catarrh of the stomach or bowels with the same certainty as catarrh of the bladder. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis."

"Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio."

"As a remedy for catarrh I can cheerfully recommend Peruna. I know what it is to suffer from that terrible disease, and I feel that it is my duty to speak in its praise."—John Williams.

"Hon. John Williams, County Commissioner of 517 West Second street, Duluth, Minn., says the following in regard to Peruna:

"As a remedy for catarrh I can cheerfully recommend Peruna. I know what it is to suffer from that terrible disease, and I feel that it is my duty to speak in its praise."—John Williams.

"I consider Peruna really more meritorious than I did when I wrote you last. I receive numerous letters from acquaintances all over the country asking me if my certificate is genuine. I invariably answer, 'Yes.'—Dan A. Grosvenor.
