SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409-415 Pearl Street, New York. 50c and $1.00; all druggists.

Wisconsin to Win in Cheese War in New York.

Wisconsin and other Western cheese-makers are to benefit to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars by reason of the fight that is on between the New York Liquor Dealer's Association and the farmers in New York State. The immediate issue of the fight is the boycotting of New York cheese producers and the buying exclusively from Western dealers, chiefly in Wisconsin. H. Fried, importer and exporter of cheese, says: "Wisconsin cheese sells in New York City from 13 to 14 1/2 cents per pound, which is no more than the cost of the same article produced in New York State. The farmers of Wisconsin have better facilities for the production of cheese than our farmers, and can sell so cheaply that, even with the addition of the cost of freight, Wisconsin has always been able to compete with New York for this trade. If the Liquor Dealer's Association means to put up a hard fight it will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to Wisconsin cheese producers."

The Glove Habit.

The wearing of gloves is a more ancient custom than it is generally thought to be. Homer speaks of gloves and tells of one who wore them to protect his hands while working in his garden. The use of some coverings for the hands was known to the ancient Persians, and Old Testament writers also mention them. They were in such common use among the Romans that they were worn even in the wild country by the Britons. St. Anne, the mother of the Virgin Mary, was, it has been said, a knitter and manufacturer of gloves, for which reason the glove-makers of France long ago made her their patron saint. At one time gloves had a certain meaning attached to them and were chosen to show the character or occupation of the wearer. There are records of gloves being ordered for "grave and spiritual men."

The Missing Word.

"Why does that dog look so musical?" a swell was asked.

"Why, because it wears a brass band around its neck."

The swell went away chuckling, and when he met some of his friends he asked them the same riddle.

"Why," he said, "because it wears a brass collar around its neck," and he laughed uproariously.

His friends asked him where the point was, and he answered, ruefully: "Well, I don't know how it is, you fellows, but it was a funny story when I heard it."

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodd's Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

Mrs. Mary S. Crik, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodd I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodd digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. All druggists.

Women the Best Conversers.

Of one thing there can be very little doubt, and that is the greater readiness in conversation of women than men. A woman can create conversation, which is a very useful thing and is frequently found a great social difficulty. If we give a man a subject on which he knows anything at all, unless he be a fool or morbidly reticent, he can talk about it so as to make himself fairly intelligible, and perhaps interesting, to those for whom the subject has any interest at all.

Men, when their feeling of enthusiasm is excited, throw off the sloveness and hesitation which frequently cramp their power in society, just as they throw off the physical infirmity of stuttering under the influence of some awakening theme or some strong sympathy.

But the power of conversation in some women, and not always those of remarkable ability, is the very art of making bricks without straw. They will talk to one by the hour about nothing—that is, on no particular subject and with no particular object—and talk coherently and not foolishly and withal very pleasantly all the time. It would, we are free to confess, be rather difficult for the listener to carry away with him any mental notes of what has been said. He may not be conscious of having gained any new ideas or of having had his old ones much enlarged, but he will rise and go his way, as one does after a light and wholesome meal, sensibly cheered and refreshed, but retaining no troublesome memories of the ingredients which have composed it—New York Ledger.
