ANGER IS NOW OVER.

No More Loss of Life Probable at East St. Louis, Ill.

DIKES HOLD THE WATER

Chief of Police Says That the Rest of the City Is Safe—Refugees Suffer with Cold.

East St. Louis, Ill., June 11.—"Not one person has been drowned by the inundation of this city," said Chief of Police Purdy today.

"Several persons have fallen from roofs and from overturned boats and been drowned by accident, but not a life has been lost by the inundation," he said.

"All the dikes surrounding East St. Louis were broken at one place, but there was no loss of life and the city was not flooded in the residential district."

"While there would be more than two feet of water in the business portion."

"People have been so thoroughly warned that they would escape from the most dangerous places at the first moment of danger and even if the water came in it could not be an overwhelming flood."

"The levee is not measuring, but sufficient to protect the city from damage and the crisis is over. The inundation is now a matter of fact and has been proclaimed. I want to assert that martial law has not been proclaimed and will not be proclaimed."

"The police will be in the ordinary police manner and although there are some persons who are not obeying my direct orders and are simply doing police duty."

Gaining Normal Conditions.

East St. Louis, which has for a week been thrown into a turmoil, is rapidly gaining normal conditions in the business portion of the city.

The water is not under way, and the flood is offset. Water is still seeping through Broadway, but the amount of water which is made ground still holds and it is believed will not break.

Homeless People Suffer.

St. Louis, Mo., June 11.—The situation in East St. Louis remains the same. The flood on the south is still being held back at Missouri avenue, where the levee is not measuring, but sufficient to protect the city from damage and the crisis is over.

ing received a good education in the private schools of her native country, she emigrated to America in 1847, and at Albany, N. Y., she was united in marriage with Capt. R. A. Long, well known to old settlers as the master of vessels sailing for A. P. Lyman and Christian Raab. Their happy union was blessed with seven children all of whom were reared in Farmington, Washington county, but since the death of her husband Mrs. Long has resided with her children of whom but four survive her viz: Abbie, (Mrs. M. A. Delavan) of Sheboygan Falls; William, of Edgely, North Dakota; Agnes, (Mrs. J. J. Strong) of Chilton; Annie, (Mrs. A. E. Callahan) of Sheboygan. She also leaves to mourn her demise, 21 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren, besides three sisters viz: Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Brownlee, of Sheboygan, and Mrs. Mooney, of Oakland, California. Mrs. Long's well-stored mind was active and vigorous to the last, notwithstanding her long sickness which slowly sapped her bodily strength and caused intense sufferings which she patiently bore, praying however for the end. Deceased was a good Christian, beloved and respected by all who knew her, and to the surviving relatives we extend our deepest sympathy in their bereavement. On Thursday of last week occurred the funeral services at St. John's church of which she was in former years a faithful member. The remains were interred in the adjoining cemetery; Rev. Muenzer officiating.
