Catarth of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarth of the stomach. For years I suffered with Catarth of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. —J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by all druggists.

It All Came Back to Him.

An exchange of recent date tells of a boy entering the car and leaving the door open behind him, when an old man sitting near thunders: "Was you brought up in a barn? Shut the door!" The boy did as he was bid, but the tears were seen to trickle down his cheeks. "There, there, never mind lad, of course you wasn't brought up in a barn," "That's just it," blubbered the boy. "I was, and every time I see a jackass it brings it all back to me."

Have You Heard of the Lion's Mouth?

The Old Venetian Idea is Adapted by a Progressive American Newspaper to Meet Modern Requirements.
COLLIER'S WEEKLY is conducting a very novel and interesting competition for its readers each month. To enter the contest all one has to do is to review the issues of COLLIER'S for the current month and answer the two or three questions which are printed in each issue, giving such opinion and such suggestions as will aid in improving the paper. COLLIER'S aims in this way to secure the assistance of every one of its readers in making the paper more to their liking. Every reader, in fact, becomes one of the editors and has his voice in building the greatest illustrated journal of the age.
The first prize each month, awarded for the most helpful suggestion, is $50 in cash, with a second prize of $25 in cash, and eighteen other prizes of sets of books, ranging in value from $32 down to $5, making in all $329 of value given in prizes each month. There are, in addition, cumulative cash prizes for those who win prizes in successive months, and a big cash prize of $1,000 for the most valuable suggestions during 1903.
For the convenience of intending contestants who can not be promptly supplied by newsdealers, all the copies of COLLIER'S for the current month will be sent postpaid, together with a handsome proof of a drawing by Charles Dana Gibson, upon receipt of 40 cents in stamps addressed to The Lion's Mouth, COLLIER'S WEEKLY, 438 West 13th Street, New York.

Barber's License Fee $1.

One dollar per year is the amount assessed against every barber in Wisconsin who desires to continue in business. With the first of the month the new law regulating the barber business went into force and the commission which was recently appointed by the governor will soon begin its work. The commission organized Tuesday at Madison and each member of the board secured an office, the election resulting as follows: Alex. Doulin, of Superior, president; M. H. Whittaker, of Janesville, secretary; Henry Heine, of Reedsburg, treasurer. All barbers who were practicing in the state before July 1 must be registered. Blanks can be secured of the secretary. None of the barbers in business now will be required to undergo an examination, but will have to pay a license fee of $1 to secure a card allowing them to continue in the profession. In the future applicants will have to pay the fee and submit to an examination as to eligibility. The commission gets fees of $3 per day and expenses while on duty.
The bill is intended, so its supporters declare, to elevate the standard of the barber shops of the state, and thereby to do away with all contagious diseases which result from unsanitary conditions. Every barber is required not only to keep his shop clean, to understand the use of the scissors and razor and how to keep them in condition, but must have a practical knowledge of all the diseases of the skin and face.
The law will insure better conditions of workmanship and sanitary arrangements of barber shops, and is of general benefit to every patron of barber shops. It was passed at the instance of the barbers themselves.

Long Hair

"About a year ago my hair was coming out very fast, so I bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stopped the falling and made my hair grow very rapidly, until now it is 4.5 inches in length."—Mrs. A. Boydston, Atchison, Kans.
There's another hunger than that of the stomach. Hungry hair needs food, needs hair vigor—Ayer's. This is why we say that Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color, and makes the hair grow long and heavy. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.
If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.
