Eye Disease of Cattle.
So-called "pink-eye," properly termed "contagious ophthalmia," has appeared among cattle in this and other states and presents the following effects:
SYMPTOMS.—Adult, young cattle and calves first show swelling of the eyelids accompanied by weeping. Redness of membranes of eyelids and "haw" becomes apparent, creamy discharge follows and in three or four days a clouded spot shows in center of eye and gradually spreads until "sight" of eye becomes milk-colored. Changing from milk-color to pearl tint eye may become yellow, bulge, show blood-shot streaks, form an abscess and before leaving a ragged ulcer, or continue to clear up and finally recover. Slight ulcers may heal by granulation but extensive ruptures and ulcers often lead to loss of sight. Fever and some loss of appetite is present, especially in young cattle, for a week or more from time of first attack and dairy cows may shrink seriously in milk production.
TREATMENT.—The disease being "catching" and doubtless due to germ which leads to its spread from one animal to another, affected cattle should be separated from unaffected; eyes of latter should be washed once or twice a week with a solution of two drachms of boric acid in a pint of water as a possible preventive, and pastures bordering on rivers, ponds and sloughs should be abandoned as they disseminate most liable to attack cattle grazing on such low, wet ground. Place affected cattle in a darkened shed or stable. Give each adult animal a one pound dose of epsom salts with one ounce of saltpeter and two quarts of ground ginger root in two quarts of warm water as one dose and follow with a tablespoonful of saltpeter twice daily in drinking water or soft food. Younger cattle should have the same medicine in smaller doses according to age and size. While under treatment do not feed grain, but give soft and green food; all the cold water animals will take. At the commencement of an attack puff between eyelids by means of a clean, insect powder between eyes of equal parts of finely powdered calomel and boric acid; or cover eyes with soft cloth to be kept wet with a 1-2000 solution of bichloride of mercury (corrosive sublimate). This treatment may prove sufficient in a majority of cases, but should the disease persist and aggravate, substitute for above lotion one, consisting of a drachm each of sulphate of zinc and fluid extract of belladonna leaves with 20 drops of carbolic acid in a quart of clean, soft water with which to keep cloth over eyes continually wet. When inflammation subsides should eye remain milky-appearing point eye daily with 1-1000 solution of bichloride of mercury of 3 per cent. solution of boric acid. In bad cases which are tardy in responding to treatment give—except to pregnant cows—one drachm of iodide of potash daily for adult animal and from ten to twenty grains for calves and yearlings, continuing its use for one week. Ragged ulcers may be well benefited by painting with a solution of three grains of nitrate of silver in an ounce of distilled water two or three times a week. Lastly, quarantine animals bought at stock yards shipped in from infected herds.

Potent Pill Pleasure.
The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than cod-liver oil, castor or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by all druggists.

My Hair
"I had a very severe sickness that took off all my hair. I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor and it brought all my hair back again."
W. D. Quinn, Marseilles, Ill.
One thing is certain, Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. This is because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair and the hair grows, that's all there is to it. It stops falling of the hair, too, and always restores color to gray hair.
$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.
If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express a bottle to you. Address, J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Save the Children.
Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by all druggists.
