RUSSIAN BOAT BLOWN UP.

While Entering Port Arthur Torpedo Boat Runs on Mine. ONLY FOUR MEN ESCAPE.

The vessel struck an unplaced mine at Harbor's Entrance and in a few moments was blown up.

Cherof, Thursday, March 17.—While entering Port Arthur, yesterday, the 16th inst., the Russian torpedo boat torpedoed Skorri struck upon an unplaced mine and was blown up. Four of the crew were saved.

Victory Alexief gives a report confirming our account of the damage done to Port Arthur during the bombardment of the 10th. He says the story of a fire there is a base fabrication.

Russians Lay Mines. Warnings have been received here confirming previous reports to the effect that the Russians have been laying mines in the Liao Tung peninsula and that neutral vessels are obliged to show their colors to the kilometers off shore and await a Russian pilot.

United States Cruiser Arrives. The United States cruiser Cincinnati, just arrived from Chemulpo, reports everything quiet with no news from the front. At the request of Minister Allen, the cruiser brought two former Korean officers, who had been in the consequence of their friendship for Russia.

China Is Japan's Only Hope. St. Petersburg, March 17.—The news that the Russians have no hope of aid from America is one and the same looks only to China. With the latter's hatred of the Japanese, it is a trying prospect to effect an alliance. The Gazette predicts that Chinese neutrality will soon be broken by Japan.

Troops Concentrating. Liao Yang, Manchuria, March 17.—Troops are still concentrating here and are forming quick detachments. Prices have risen quite at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, March 17.—All is quiet here. Military bands play a waltz in the public square.

Rushing Men to the Front. Omak, Siberia, March 17.—The troops passing through this town are well supplied with warm clothing, partly supplied by the government, partly by the donors. The Siberian Cossacks equipped themselves for the campaign at their own expense.

Japs Kick on Taxes. Shanghai, March 17.—According to information received by the Russians here the opposition party in Japan is organizing against the imposition of new taxation on the population, which is already suffering under the burden of the Japanese troops.

Tien Tsin, March 17.—Lloyd's agent at New Chwang wires as follows: A number of Japanese steamships, 25 and 30 and steamers have been chartered for spring shipments. The reports that New Chwang will be attacked are untrue and there is no truth in the statement that the Russians are trying to get away from the coast.

British General with Japs. Tokio, March 17.—Gen. S. P. Hamilton of the British army in India arrived here today. He will accompany the Japanese forces as a military observer.

Naval Situation in Far East Is an Absolute Mystery. London, March 17.—Where are the Russian warships and what are the Japanese doing? Are the probabilities that the Japanese fleet is pursuing to come direct from there, say all in all is a matter of mere conjecture.

Shouf sends dispatches, but no mention about the fleet. Seoul and Chemulpo dispatches have much to say about what the Emperor's Korea means to do and what the Japanese are doing at other places, but no word about the ships.

Viadovostok Is Silent. The viadovostok has been silent for several days and the news from St. Petersburg is accordingly avoided. It is believed that the ships, General details are issued but nothing specific is told.

OLD MEN PENSIONED WHEN 62 YEARS OLD.

Civil War Veterans Placed on Footing with Those Who Fought Mexico.

Under New Rules, Claimants Are entitled to $6 Per Month After 62 Is Reached.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—The disability age of claimants for pension under the general act of June 27, 1890, is reduced from 65 years to 62 years by an order issued today by Commissioner of Pensions, James T. Hoge, who has signed Secretary Hitchcock. The order becomes effective April 13 and is not retroactive.

The act of Congress passed in 1887 and approved by President Cleveland put all the Mexican war veterans who were over 62 years of age on the pension roll exactly thirty-nine years after the end of the Mexican war.

It would seem that if thirty-nine years after the end of the Mexican war a soldier was entitled to a pension at 62 years of age, it is only fair that a soldier who served in the Mexican war should be entitled to a pension at 62 years of age.

HENRY BERESFORD'S WILL.

Author of "Her Brother's Sin," "As the Whirlwind Passeth," etc.

CHAPTER II.—Continued.) The thought of the girl's beauty began to haunt him persistently. He felt he could never again be so fascinated by the mystery of Fieldholme park, as he had been.

Today he abandoned the walk he generally took between the hours of tea and supper, and sitting down in the garden, tried to think the problem out.

A few minutes later he was roused from his reverie by the sound of a galloping horse, mingled with the screams of a frightened woman, and as he started to his feet, a pair of horses came tearing down the road dragging behind them a rattling vehicle, in which sat a lady clutching the sides in terror.

He recognized the turn-out instantly as the carriage of his own people, and he saw that the lady was his own mother. He was alone in the park half an hour ago, and it was evident that the coachman had lost control over the coach, and that it was a question of only a few minutes before a terrible accident would occur.

Rushing through the gate, Ambrose leaped across the stream on to the road. Waiting until the horses had stopped, he raced for their heads. He now seized the reins close up to the off horse's bit, and bracing his muscles, turned himself around in an attempt to check their headlong career.

For a few yards his weight seemed to have no effect, but slowly he began to sway the horses, and in a few moments they were under his control.

"You have saved my life," she gasped, "how can I thank you?" "I am glad I was in time," Ambrose murmured, "but very near thing."

"Then, if I may," she said, "I will call and thank you properly tomorrow. Good-bye, drive on, Masters."

Brown, president of the First National Bank of Storm Lake, and owner of the Farmers and Merchants' bank at Lynn Grove, the Farmers and Merchants' at Sioux Rapids and the Bank of Royal, all failed to appear for trial on a charge of receiving deposits from a failed concern.

NEWEST FASHIONABLE PET.

London Strategy Finds It in the Devil Fish From Mexico. Strange are the pets that London "fashions" compels its followers to keep, and various are the ways in which they are kept.

That evening Mrs. Pryne was considerably astonished and not a little upset when her distinguished lodger informed her that he had been engaged and was to begin work next morning. It did not seem to her that she had ever seen him before.

"I suppose, sir, you'll be marrying the young lady you've just mentioned," she said admiringly, and Ambrose smiled.

"I'm a devoted bachelor," he answered lightly, "but still one never knows what will happen in this world! Anyhow, I don't see how I can get on with you, and from this moment I'm a bachelor and from this moment I'm a bachelor."

CHAPTER IV.—THE BETROTHAL. Jonas Jellifer had been at Fieldholme two days. It was now Sunday, and on the morrow he was to return to London with his hostess.

It could not be truthfully said that he was enjoying his visit to his client's house. He was, in fact, bored to death, and he found it difficult to find any length of conversation with either of them.

"I am less busy," he answered, "when I am less busy, I will take you myself, and you must be patient and wait."

It's no key to keep up when coffee has so ruined the stomach that food won't digest. A M. woman says: "I had been in trouble for two years from stomach trouble caused by coffee, got so bad I could not digest food and for quite a while I lived on milk and lime water until I managed to live, but of course did not gain."

"I would not go back to coffee for anything but the lime water and milk. I had been in trouble for two years from stomach trouble caused by coffee, got so bad I could not digest food and for quite a while I lived on milk and lime water until I managed to live, but of course did not gain."

Cardiff exports 12,000,000 tons of coal a year. Newcastle and Southampton ship about 2,500,000 tons a year. The United States is not the only government that is feeling a little nervous about the big guns on its warships.

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg. A 10 days' trial of Postum in place of coffee works wonders. There's a reason. Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.
