CZAR WILLING TO WAIT. A SECOND SPY IN

St. Petersburg Learns That Japs Are About to Land in Neutral Chinese Territory

ADMIRAL TOGO MAKES REPORT.

St. Petersburg, March 24.-When Kuropatking reaches Mukden it is understood that the Emperor's force at the theater of war will be divided into three armies—one on the peninsula including the Port Arthur garrison under Gen. Stoessel, military commander at Port Arthur; a central army under Gen. Linevitch and a northern army under Gen. Baron Stackelburg. Any idea that Gen. Baron Stackelburg. Any idea that theater of war will be divided into three Gen. Baron Stackelburg. Any idea that Gen. Kuropatkin's arrival will be signalized by aggressive tactics is discouraged in the highest military circles, where attention is called to the general's repeated injunctions-patience, patience, patience.

Can Afford to Wait. "We can afford to wait, whether or not the Japanese can," is the sentiment ameng the believers in Gen. Kuropatkin. He expects to force the Japanese to fight him on grounds of his own choosing. There will be no forward movement into Korea. On the contrary, the Russians at the Yalu are now screening their concentration to the westward and they centration to the westward and they probably will retire against Japanese advance in force harrassing and retarding them as much as possible until the proper time to uncover the main Russian army.

Japanese to Be Trapped. The continued landing of Japanese troops in Korea is exactly to the liking of the Russian strategists. The bigger the army disembarked there the better they will be suited, being convinced that once Korea is filled with the Japanese soldiers by pressure of numbers and clamor of public opinion, Japan will be driven public opinion, Japan will be driven forward into the arms of the Russians. Nothing but a complete change of plan in the Japanese campaign, as developed up to date, will compel the Russians to depart from their determination to play a consistant waiting game, being persuaded that all the advantages of such a policy lie on their side.

Can Hold Port Arthur. The Russians also express much more satisfaction at the present situation at Liao Tung. The forces on the peninsula have been reinforced to an extent which will render a Japanese landing there difficult, if not impossible, and the garrison at Port Arthur has been amply provisioned to withstand a siege. So far as the peninsula is concerned, the preparations there may now be regarded as complete.

London, March 24.—News begins to come through regarding the activity of the Japanese in Korea and the preparations for actual fighting in the vicinity of Ping Yang and Anju, but absolute silence reigns regarding the naval situation both at Port Arthur and Vladivostok.

Outpost skirmishes in Korea are reported, but none of them of a really serious character, but they serve to indicate that the Japanese and Russian armies are drawing nearer to each other.

The Vladivostok fleet is said to be in the harbor there and not out looking for a fight as has been rupored.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful, I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. BIGGEST WINDOWLESS BUILDING. Belgium's World's Fair Pavilion Is Lighted Only from the Top.

The Belgian national pavilion at the coming world's fair in St. Louis is, perhaps, the largest building in the world without a window. The absence of windows was deliberately planned by Gus tave Chartrain, the architect, to secure an even distribution of softened sunlight. "Windows let in a blinding blaze of "Windows let in a blinding blaze of light, and the intervals between them are dark," says Mr. Chartrain. "We have avoided this by omitting the windows and constructing the central section of the arched roof, extending the entire length of the building, of stained cathedral glass, which will let in abundant light."

The pavilion is 267 feet long and 191 feet wide. It is 55 feet high in the center of the great arched roof and the great dome in the center is 100 feet high. The glass section in the top of the roof is 20 feet wide. It is a yellowish brown, and the soft light cast through the interior increases the beauty of the furnishings and reases the beauty of the furnishings and lecorations.

Great arched entrances on all sides make up for the absence of windows in the exterior appearance.—New York Sun. For Growing Girls. West Pembroke, Me., March 21st.— Mrs. A. L. Smith, of this place, says that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for growing girls. Mrs. Smith ollowing experience: "My daughter was thirteen years old last November and it is now two years since she was first taken with Crazy Spells that would last a week and would then pass off. In a month she would have the spells again. At these times she would eat very little and was very yellow, even the whites of her eyes would be yellow.

The doctors gave us no encouragement; they all said they could not help After taking one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she has not had one bad spell. Of course, we continued the treatment until she had used in all about a dozen boxes, and we still give them to her occasionally, when she is not feeling well. Dodd's Kidney Pills are certainly the best medicine for growing girls."

Mothers should heed the advice of Mrs. Smith, for by so doing they may save their daughters much pain and sickness and ensure a healthy, happy uture for them.

The winter has been a severe one for quail as well as for other game, and many flocks of quail have been found dead in different parts of the state. In order to overcome the loss, Clapp & Treat of this city will purchase quail in the Indian territory, with no expense beyond the actual cost to those who care to order. The birds will be liberated here in sections when the purchasers prefer, being turned over the several physician and trying to find the village of Wilna, Russia, and separated for three years, neither knowing whether that he can use to benefit others. HIS SHORT LEGS WORTH $10,000. Were the Means of Getting a Pension for Ebenezer Kilgore.

Ebenezer Kilgore's short legs hav proved to be worth $10,000 to the Fulon Insane asylum, at Macon, Mo., where Kilgore served in the Union army dur-ing the war. After he became insane government would allow the pension if it was shown that the patient was really Ebenezer Kilgore.

Ed Q. Blankenship and Willitm Shain of Macon, who enlisted with Kilgore, undertook to identify him. Neither had seen the insane man since they bade him good-bye in St. Louis on being mustered out nearly forty years ago.

To test the value of the identification the pension examiner got the superinevery man in the institution of his size, age and build. The old comrades from Macon laid their hands on Kilgore the instant their eyes struck him. Thirty-nine long years had wrought a great change in him in every respect but one. "I'd never forget those short, bandy legs of his in a thousand years," said Blankenship today. "He's all body and no legs. In the army he was a famous wrestler.
