Depew Tells a Story.

Senator Depew paid his compliments to the coming Democratic convention. That party was one of "opportunities." It was waiting for bankruptcy and panic. It reminded him of a story. The convention applauded in anticipation. An old farmer on the New England coast, said the senator, owned a farm. On it was a rocky point projecting into the ocean, where ships were often driven ashore, from which the farmer reaped a harvest. The farmer made his will. He divided his lands equally among his children.

"But," the will stipulated, "Hurricane point shall remain to all of you forever, for, as long as the winds blow and the waves roll, the Lord will provide."

He concluded with a second to the nomination of Senator Fairbanks, saying not enough importance had been given the vice presidential question. The position of the laborer in Egypt is not an enviable one, according to a report recently received at the department of state. There are about 8,000,000 people in Egypt. The greater part are devoted to agriculture, only a few being engaged in commerce and industry. The labor supply is large and wages are low. In upper Egypt wages are from 0 to 11 cents per dlem; in lower Egypt, 13 to 18 cents. Board is never furnished. In addition to wages by the day or the month (the latter for overseers), payments may be made according to the work—for example, to plow 1½ acres, 94 payments may be made according to the work—for example, to plow 1½ acres, 94 cents; to irrigate it, 70 cents. The fellaheen prefer to receive their wages in natural products, particularly shares of the crops—as, for sowing and reaping, 5 per cent. of the grain; for threshing, 1 per cent. of the grain and 1 per cent. of the straw. In growing cotton on bad ground they receive one-third to one-half the crop; on good ground, about one-fifth of the crop and the refuse parts of the cotton plant, to be used as firewood. In the case of corn the laborer gets one-half the crop; in rice, which requires irrigation, three-fifths. The fellaheen do not like to work where it is necessary to use the sakieh or shadoof (mechanism to draw water by animals or by hand respectively).

Change in Style of Neglige Shirts.

"There is an exact reversal of style in neglige shirts this year, so far as patterns and color effects are concerned," said a Chestnut street haberdasher who caters to the most fashionable clientele.

"Last year the white shirt with a woven design, absolutely devoid of color, was very popular, and when color was desired it did not predominate, being merely a suggestion of a pin stripe, or a faintly outlined design of pale blue or pink against a snowy background. But this year it is just the other way. The most approved patterns are heavily shaded, the white being almost lost against the darker backgrounds. The effect is not nearly so dainty as the styles of last year, but the new patterns seem to have caught on."—Philadelphia Recoord. Change in Style of Neglige Shirts.

One on Her.

For years there had been a feeling of good fellowship between them, and the fact that they were distantly related led him to consider himself privileged where she was concerned. Still, on opening his box Christmas morning she was somewhat surprised to see two shining silver buckles smiling at her. There was no mistaking what manner of gift it was, for the buckles were interlaced with handsome black satin ribbon, and the pair laid side by side. That was not the sort of gift she liked from a man, and, besides, she did not wear that kind, so she laid them aside, thinking: "I'll give them to someone else sometime," and she wrote her note of thanks, saying that modesty prevented her from calling them by their proper name, but they were very handsome and she most grateful. The return mail brought this brief note from Wilhelmina a Farmer Oueen. Wilhelmina a Farmer Queen.

The Queen of Holland is an enthusiastic farmer. A dairy has been established in connection with the royal castle at Loo, and it is run on quite businesslike lines by its owner, large quantities of butter and milk being sold regularly from the dairy, which is now self-supporting and profitable. Another hobby of the young Queen is photography, and, like Queen Alexandra and other distinguished amateurs, she is quite an expert with the camera. A pretty other distinguished amateurs, she is quite an expert with the camera. A pretty story is told of the Queen's fondness for the accomplishment. "I'll go to her, and prepare her to see you," said Auriol; and although her heart bled for the sorrows of the desosafety than of the play, sprang forward. Her own foot caught in the woodwork. She tried to save herself, and fell between the back cloth and the built-up scenery on to the stage below.

Two severe cases of Ovarian Trouble and two terrible operations avoided. Mrs. Emmons and Mrs. Coleman each tell how they were saved by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: —I am so pleased with the results obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it.

"I suffered for more than five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks - and saved me from an operation all my troubles had disappeared, and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true, grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—Mrs. Laura Emmons, Walker-

Another Case of Ovarian Trouble Cured Without an Operation.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: — For several years I was troubled with ovarian trouble and a painful and inflamed condition, which kept me in bed part of the time. I did so dread a surgical operation.
"I tried different remedies hoping to get better, but nothing seemed to bring relief until a friend who had been cured of ovarian trouble, through the use of your compound, induced me to try it. I took it faithfully for three months, and at the end of that time was glad to find that I was a well woman. Health is nature's best gift to woman, and if you lose it and can have it restored through Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound I feel that all suffering women should know of this." - MRS. LAURA BELLE COLE-MAN, Commercial Hotel, Nashville, Tenn.
