DASH FOR OPEN SEA

Believed at St. Petersburg That Most Warships Escaped and Are on Way to Vladivostek.

London, Aug. 11 .- A dispatch to a news agency from Tokio anounces definews agency from Tokio anounces definitely that Admiral Togo has frustrated the attempt of the Port Arthur squadron to escape and adds that the Port Arthur forts participated with the warships in the engagement, indicating, if true, that the fighting occurred close to the port.

Only One Ship Escaped.

The afternoon papers here today, while admitting that the result of the engagement off Port Arthur is not clear, generally interpret the conflicting reports from Tokio and Chefoo as meaning that the bulk of the Russian squadron at Port Arthur made a sortie in the hope of escaping, but that only the torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshitelni, which reached Chefoo, succeeded in getting away and that the commander of the Ryeshitelni, believes, that the rest of the squadron would be equally successful.

Capt. Rostchavoski of the Russian torpedo destroyer Ritsitetini, which emerged from Port Arthur with the fleet Wednesday morning and which arrived here early this morning, states that his engines broke down when he was midway between Chefoo and Port Arthur. He proceeded at a speed of twelve knots to this port. He says he saw no Japanese vessels.

"Fight Lasts All Day.

The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram, dated Tokio, today:

"Various reports from Talien bay say that the Russian squadron emerged from Port Arthur on the morning of August 10. A severe battle ensued continuing until sunset. In the night our torpedo flotilla seemed to have attacked the enemy's squadron, for at dawn on August 11 the Retvizan and another battleship

The large Russian warships had left Port Arthur, but refused to say directly that the fleet had gone on an extended cruise, but left the inference, in the course of a long interview, that the warships expect to join the Vladivostok squadron, which, he said, had been recruited by the purchase of ships from the Argentine republic.

Capt. Rostchavoski said further that the Russian torpedo boats, gunboats and small craft generally remained at Port Arthur. Some came out to perform their usual duties in the vicinity, but they did not follow the big ships.

Japanese Waste Life.

Capt. Rostchavoski stated that the re-Il the Retvizan and another battleship of the Pobieda type appeared to be tak-ing flight toward Port Arthur."

PRINCE HENRY COMING SOON? Rumored to Be Prospective Vanderbilt

Newport, R. I., Aug. 11.—There is a rumor that Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vauderbilt are to have some titled German visitors before the end of this month, and it is also whispered that the guests will include Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia, who are said to be on their way to visit the world's fair at St. Louis. It is expected that these distinguished repeople will travel incognito and that no official entertainments will be given for affecting the world's fair at St. Louis. Ordered to Leave. Togo Deals Crushing Blow to Port Chefoo, Aug. 11.—The Russian squadron left Port Arthur in response to imperative orders from Vice Admiral Skrydioff. A semi-official telegram reports that the Russian battleships Pobieda and Ret-vizan have returned, damaged, to Port Arthur.

Wait for Ryeshitelni. Three Japanese torpedo boat destroyers are now outside this harbor watching the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshitely ni, which still flies the Russian flag. She has been dismantled by the removal of the breeches of her guns.

The Russian ships before leaving Port Arthur took on board heavy stores, machinery and materials for ship repairing.

Viceroy Alexieff Reports.

Chefoo, succeeded in getting away and that the commander of the Ryeshiteini, believes, that the rest of the squadron would be equally successful.

Driven from Port Arthur.

Tokio, Aug. 11.—11 a. m.—Evidently driven to sea by the fire of the Japanese land batteries, the Russian fleet emerged from Port Arthur yesterday morning.

Admiral Togo immediately closed in and opened a severe engagement, which lasted until nightfall. Afterwards the Japanese destroyers and torpedo flotillas delivered a series of attacks. Established Eight-Hour Day.

In the way of labor legislation the most conspicuous measures of Waldeck-Rousseau's premiership were the establishment of an eight-hour day for workers in the mines and of a pension fund for aged workmen, supported by contributions from masters and men.

Waldeck-Rousseau presented his resignation to President Loubet in June, 1902, and was succeeded by the Combes ministry, which has in most respects carried out his policies, with a harsher spirit than he evinced.

Large and Varied Assortment of Eligible Bachelors – Valuable Pointers for the Bene-tit of Kewaskum's Marriageable Ladies. come and gone and many a maiden with heart come and gone and many a maiden with heart all in a flutter for the expected which never happened has had to wait until the year 1904 for her opportunity. The list is quite long and varied, but girls, we advise you to get busy before the assortment runs low and the remnants only are left. We might add that most of us are very modest young men and nobody authorized us to advertise our merits, but we believe in advertising, and firm'y expect a speedy boom in the matrimonial market as a result of the following mention of some of Kewaskum's Eligibles:

Joe SCHLOSSER—Modest and un «ssuming in manner, this young business man has without doubt, many eyes trained upon him. He may be somewhat hard to land but he is worth the effort and the young lady who is successful wins a prize.

effort and the young lady who is successful wins a prize.

ED. MILLER—This compounder of doctor's perscriptions is a promising young man worth cultivating, clean and reliable in overy way.

CHAS. TERLINDEN—His expansive smile and proverbial good nature would insure perpetual sunshine. Is looking for a proposition.

JOHN WITZIG—Seemingly hopeless, but still a possibility. Too busy with the wees of others to take chances of his own. Believed to be mellowing toward matrimony. An ideal helpmate for the right applicant. Fastidious perhaps, but not fussy. Too desirable to be permitted to postpone the evitable.

CHARLEY GRITTNER—Rather young, but if properly "caught" and attentively cultivated he would in the end prove a real good man to have about the house.

ABE OPECNORTH—A good looking fellow to choose, gentle as a lamb or bold as a lion according to necessity. Great eye for beauty; hearts always trump with him; happy when making to there happy.

OSCAR KOERRLE—A young man of good habits always trump with him; happy when maxing others happy.

Oscar Korrble—A young man of good habits and an all around hustler; he is young but he will outgrow that.

Carl Hausmann—Another young man of good habits; cheeks pink as a high school maid's and heart as free; needs someone to spend his money, Andrew Strachotta—Here's a splendid young man; is quiet but has a faculty of making himself enjoyed and appreciated by all who know him.

ED. BACKHAUS—Ed. is now nursing a sprained nkle, and a helpmate at this time would be ap-reciated to the fullest extent. ABTHUE KOCK—Good looker, high stepper and got one; fond of home and a great reader, ook him up.

JOHN SCHAEFER—John is Kewaskum property and comes well nigh being a model young man; a is young, industrious and has no bad habits. BYRON ROSENHEIMER—There isn't a better atch in town, for he is one of the most promising of the younger men and if you get him you on't have to live till you are gray haired before you are known in society as Mrs. Byron Romeimer. He is as keen and bright as a new forld's fair dollar and a most lovable and comanionable fellow; has a weakness for the fair xx and if handled carefully can be gathered in efore leap year is over.

JOE MAYER—Yes, good-natured Joe—he is better this leap year than next; why not be sure of him; approach him carefully and maybe he is ADOLPH BICKHAUS-He is young and will be t home after you get him; at present no one nows his true nature, but it is said he can see girl a mile off.

knows his true nature, but it is said he can see a girl a mile off.

OSCAR GROESCHEL—A great favorite with the ladies and should have been taken care of several months ago; is by no means a hopeless case but this year should not allow him to escape.

EMIL SIEGEL—Here is a g-re-a-t b-ig whole-souled fellow who has been allowed to escape these many years. Now Emil would be a first-rate provider and ought to be making some woman happy. Get right after Emil.

DE. KLUMB—Without doubt Doc. will be one of the early victims of the year—and why not? With a fine practice and a charming personality he certainly owes it to the community to be presiding genius of a happy household.

JOHN MARX—John is among the eligibles that won't keep many years longer. He will never grow younger and now is your chance before it is too late: he is deserving of due consideration.

CARL MEIHLAN—Too bad, girls, you are too late; this young man would not consider any matrimonial proposition, he is already promised and will soon embark upon the sea of matrimony.

Louis Schaffe—Slender and delicate: has with those kindly eyes—well, we believe he's spoken for anyway.

WILLE KUEHN—Although not here at the present time, he is Kewaskum property. Many a girl has cast longing eyes in his direction, but he has escaped at a rapid clip; he is bred right to make a model husband and has reached the age when he should be shoving his feet under the table with a better-half on the other side; is a bit bashful and it may require a few advances on your part, but its worth the trying.

DON HARBECK—Manly, honest John, he has friends without number, and—well, if we mistake not his days of singleness are numbered. HERMAN BACKHAUS—Girls, here's a good one, a genuine prize package, wary as a fox but will yet be caught napping; has the form of an Apollo, the taste of a Beau Brummel, the tact of a diplomat, the nerve of a Vanderbuilt and stands erect like a major-general. He should be shown no mercy.

hances across the table from those souther eyes hat would banish every cloud.

Joe Schmidt-Now, girls, how does Joe strike our fancy, he is young, industrious and will make a mark in this world; the girl who over ooks him don't know her business.

n audience with him. Arrhur Stark—This young man is somewh sahful but if given a little encouragement ould undoubtedly seriously consider a mat onial burgain.

And the is a wily one, you may think you have aim when lo, he is gone. He may leave for Chicago any day, so girls remember the proverb of he early bird.
FRANK ZWASCHKA—A taking blonde, one that lluminates the streets on a dark night; jolly and good natured; can hold anyone of 200 on his ap and not mind it; he is a sugar plum. Bui ion't hurry girls, leap year will be here again

John Remmel.—Here is a courageous young engineer and all girls admire courage. Keep a steady eye on John.
WILLIE BACKHAUS—Here's a peach, sweet and juicy; has been told so; bite him and see, he'll stand for it; next to his job he loves women; his eyes are open: he is a sure one if you only "pop."
HEEMAN WESENBERG—How Herman has escaped these many vary is a mystery; but it isn't been want wars is a mystery; but it isn't been many vary is a mystery; but it isn't been many vary is a mystery; but it isn't been many vary is a mystery; but it isn't been many vary is a mystery; but it isn't been many vary is a mystery.

A few days ago it shipped the first installment of a huge Egyptian order for 10,000,000 piasters. The consignment weighed five tons, was conveyed in sixty cases and valued at $15,000,000. For well over a century Birmingham has taken the lead in this literal kind of money making. As far back as 1797 one firm coined under contract for the British government 4000 tons of copper coin, valued at about $4,000,000. Among the countries and governments which have gone tries and governments which we consider the constant of the

The French Sardine Crop.

The French Sardine Crop.

During the years 1902 and 1903 there was an almost complete failure of the French sardine catch, an industry of which the center of trade is Nantes.

This year the indications point to a fine catch, and the packers and exporters are hopeful for the first time since 1901. Already small sardines have appeared in great abundance in the well-known fishing grounds at Les Sables d'Olonne, on the western coast of France.

It now seems certain that the absence of sardines last year and the year before was due solely to the cold and boisterous spring. This spring, which has been a neormal one up to date, finds the smaller variety of the famous little fish already on hand in abundance, and the packers look forward to an excellent catch. This information will doubtless be of Interest to American importers, who were compelled last year to place many orders for sardines in Spain and Portugal, from which countries they received a product much inferior to the sardines of France.

Country Shippers.

"I addressed a boys' school last month," the missionary said. "I told the boys everything interesting and uplifting that I could think of about the Burmese. They were appreciative and attentive.

"Perhaps,' I said at the end, 'there are some things I have not made clear. Are there any questions you would like to ask?"

"No one interrogated me, but after the meeting was over an intelligent looking boy approached timidly as I was leaving the platform.

"I—I would like"— he began, and then hesitated.

RED ANTS' FAITHFUL SERVICE. What They Did When the Big Black Ones Were Imprisoned.

On the stone steps of a house on the 'Hill" are two wooden pillars, a foot and a half apart, among the supports of the porch. Recently big black ants have been so abundant and aggressive about one of these posts, in which they made their heme, that all its cracks and crev-ices were puttied up and it was deluged with an ant-killing fluid.

Four days ago a tiny snake-like line was noticed between the two pillars. It crooked and curved and looked as if some crooked and curved and looked as if some thing had crawled through a light coating of dust, leaving its trail there. On close examination it proved to be a line of life. It was made up of countless minute red ants, rushing madly, some in one direction and as many in the other, some turning to the right and others to the left, but all of them all the time holding close to the circulture route from olding close to the circuitous route from one post to the other and making the snake line or worm line on the stone step. She had refused and scorned him, but this man, this stranger who had come among them, should not have her—he had sworn it. All day he pondered on it, and wondered what Smythe had meant. How long would it be ere the duke was thrown out of Estercourt and disgraced before the world? Well, he could afford to wait a little while, and meantime—he withed at the thought—he would have to congratulate Cecil. The hour was Estercourt's, but it would be a brief hour, and then—the day was his!

But dinner arrived, and Estercourt had not returned. Lord Berys read out a long telegram—he had arranged so that it came during the meal—to the effect it came during the meal—to the effect of the result from that terrible grip and the conditions with a land that the twint him to madness. An inarticulate cry broke from her.

Sister of Her Son.

People often smile at the queer relationships brought about by the-law, but the law itself regards them with solemn gravity. "Poor Estercourt! What hard lines!"

"I love you!" he cried, hercely. To be cannot escape me! No power on earth can take you from me, for I have sworn that you shall be mine, whatever the cost—at even the price of blood."

His eyes reamed over her exquisite young form in its graceful, clinging, low-cut gown, and rested hungrily on the bare, white neck that shone like satin in the light of the moon. The wine he had drunk coursed madly through his veins; he forgot everything save his wild passion and his vow to win this icemaiden for his own.

Big Yield of Opium.

Estimates received from froducing sources in Smyrna are to the effect that the crop of opium will be between 10,000 and 12,000 cases, which is about 100 per cent. greater than the average yield. The prices have declined in consequence, and are now upon the lowest basis for several years—from $2.62½ to $2.65 a case. The yield during 1903 was very small, amounting to 3200 cases, so that the large crop can be taken care of by the trade.—New York Tribune. Real Estate Transfers.

retain the love and admiration of her husband should be a woman's constant study. If she would be all that she may, she must guard well against the signs of ill health. Mrs. Brown tells her story for the benefit of all wives and mothers.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound vill make every mother well, strong, healthy and happy. I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and weariness. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was; and the wonderful results she had had from your Vege-table Compound, and decided to try what it would do for me, and used it for three months. At the end of that time, I was a different woman, the neighbors remarked it, and my hus-band fell in love with me all over again. It seemed like a new existence. I had been suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, but your medicine cured that, and built up my entire system, till I was indeed like a new woman.—Sincerely yours, Mrs. Chas. F. Brown, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., Vice President Mothers Club.—$5000 forfelt if original of above letter proving genuinaness cannot be produced.
