Tokio, Aug. 18.—Noon.—Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, in command at Port Arthur, has refused to surrender and has declined the offer made by the Japanese of the removal of non-combatants there. Reasons for this latter action are not given, but is is probable that the non-combatants are unwilling to accept a favor at the hands of the Japanese. They confess, however, that necessity for their removal exists. It is expected that the Japanese attack will be resumed immediately. It now enters upon its final stage.

London, Aug. 18.—A dispatch to the Japanese legation from Tokio announces that a reply was received from the commander of the Russian forces at Port Arthur yesterday, refusing either to surrender to the besieging force of Japanese or to send out the non-combatants.

Stoessel Still Confident. Gen. Stoessel's refusal to surrender the stronghold causes no surprise. His refusal to send non-combatants to a place of safety indicates a confidence in his ability to hold out that is not shared elsewhere.

General Assault Expected. It is expected that the Japanese will begin a general assault at once in an effort to take the place by storm.

Reports brought by Chinese refugees who arrived at Chefoo yesterday declare that the Japanese have advanced their lines to within two miles of Port Arthur. Fires Rage in Port Arthur.

According to the correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at Chefoo refugees arriving there say that Japanese shells have ignited lighters in the docks which contained supplies of coal, resulting in a terrible conflagration. Many of the buildings have been demolished by shells, and the hospitals are crowded. the hospitals are crowded.

At St. Petersburg all hopes of Port Arthur holding out have been abandoned. All day yesterday the Russian capital was filled with rumors that the stronghold already had surrendered.

The correspondent of the Standard at Tien Tsin says that Lieut. Newton A. McCully of the United States navy, and Lieut. De Cuverville-of the French navy, the only two naval attaches at Port Arthur, have left that port.

Stoessel Expected to Fight. St. Petersburg, Aug. 18.—12:20 p. m.—
The report that Gen. Stoessel, the Russian commander at Port Arthur, declined to capitulate in response to the Japanese summons, creates no surprise. The war office would have been amazed if he had yielded.

This is the condition in this section. It is not a race war, for the violence comes all from one side. It is a determined effort on the part of a large class of citizens to rid the community of a class of blacks that is said to have made life unsafe here.

Bad Blacks Must Go.

Men of property and family make no secret of their intentions of their approval of such plans. If the lash will not quell the undesirable population or cause them to leave sterner measures will follow, say the leaders. This will continue until the section is purged.

A calmer review of yesterday's happenings than was possible last night among the citizens of Statesboro today brings some expression of regret at yesterday's violence, while many say it was "all right." The general opinion is that a determined stand by the officers in command of the handful of troops would have prevented the burning of the two negroes.

A wholesale massacre to aim at the destruction of hundreds of thousands of ground squirrels is in contemplation by the farmers in the region lying between the city and Redondo.

The squirrels dangerously infest the country this season. It is said that so many have never been seen here before. They are always a terrible pest, but this year their numbers are fairly appalling.

One of the prominent farmers in the hay lands about Gardena says that he estimates that he loses the entire crop from one acre out of every ten by the squirrels.

At this moment, Lord Duncan would have fallen dead, had thoughts had power to kill. She paced up and down excitedity, wondering what was happening in the library beneath.

At the horticultural commission recently it was stated that if this man's calculations are correct he is an unsually lucky farmer. An instance is on the record there of a farmer losing his entire crop of berries from the squirrels near long Reach.

The gas, formed by ignition is heavier than air and descends into the holes. All the inhabitants are soon suffocated.

It is said the fiophers will, at the first smell of the gas, hurriedly throw up a dam of earth clear across the hole and thus shut off the fumes; but squirrels perish.

I refuse to answer any london, and there, in the seething mass is to be constructed on the Argentine side of the Andes mountains by the engineering firm of Adolf Bleichert & Co. of Leipsic, Germany. This cableway is to extend from the Chilecito station of the Argentine Northern railroad for a distance of thirty-two miles. Its termination at this end will be 14,933 feet above sea level, and the engine station that will be erected at this point of the cableway will be the highest in the world. No less than eighty-seven miles of rope will be required for the cableway. The project will necessitate many remarkable engineering difficulties being surmounted, since at one or two points the cableway will have to span gorges 2800 feet wide by 650 feet deep. The cableway is to have a carrying capacity of forty-four tons of ore an hour, and cars each containing 1100 pounds of ore are to be dispatched at intervals of forty-five seconds.—Scientific American.

Undignified but Cool Official.

A humble French official who was sent to one of the hottest departments of France found his bureau a perfect fur-nace, until he had a brilliant idea. He improvised a cistern and sat in it all day. The public came into his office and panted, but he was up to his armpits in water, cool and comfortable. Nobody minded; cool and comfortable. Nobody minded; it was thought very clever of him, and he grew in the local esteem. But one day there came an inspector whose business it was to maintain the dignity of the public service. He stood aghast. What! A registrar sitting in a cistern? It was a stigma on the republic. The case was reported to Paris, and the offender was on the point of being dismissed when a cynic suggested a more humorous punishment. "Send him to Algeria." Even the cisterns are hot in that climate.—London Chronicle.

A sudden fear chilled her heart. Her Chicago, Ill., Aug. 16 .- Despite th mayor's intervention, prospects for peace in the packing house strike were far from reassuring today. The packers' attitude was that, while nothing of benefit could result from a meeting with the mayor, it would not do to refuse to go to the city hall.

The great men of the world are healthy men. The weak go to the wall. In the nomination of a candidate for any office so prominent as that of President the health and likelihood of his living out his term is quietly considered, if not publicly proclaimed, before his name is ever presented to the public. On the other hand the strike leaders were equally antagonistic. President Donnelly declared he did not expect to be present at the time the conference was to meet. President Donnelly said his reason was that at the hour named he had to address the Hog Butchers' union.

"And the hog butchers are a great deal more important to me than the mayor," said the head of the strikers. "Harrison was too long getting in. He has heard our say for fair police treatment and has ignored it. He need not think that now he can snap his fingers or whistle and have us come to do his bidding."

in the full belief that it was the one and only course to pursue; and he dared not weigh the matter up, lest that awful temptation descend upon him again, to deprive him of his manhood, his honor, and all that made him worthy in Viola's sight.

In his sleep he had dreamed of her, not sweetly smiling as he had seen her last, but white with terror, and with tears of anguish flowing from her lovely eyes. He had dreamed of her holding out her arms to him and pleading to him to come to her, sobbing out his name, "Cecil! Cecil! My love, come back to me!" but there was a volume of water between them which he tried to cross frontal headache, deafness, ringing in the cars, and a temporary loss of the sense of taste and smell.

The principal diseases arising from taking cold are pneumonia, consumption, chronic catarrh, and are as a rule brought on by inhaling the disease germs into the head, where they lodge until a cold is contracted, the mucous membrane then becomes a splendid field to propagate the germ, and consequently the disease has its foothold. To prevent this has been still the study of Mr. S. H. Meadows, a Gruggist of Milwaukee, since 1882, who has given much time and attention in preparing a scientific combination of antiseptic and Germicidal drugs which, applied to the masal tract each day will keep the mucous membrane of the nose in a perfectly healthy condition, thereby preventing the development of the disease germ, if not killing it outright. This preparation also has a remarkable effect on the diseases of mucous membrane of the nose and head It permeates and penetrates the air passages, causing them to regain their normal condition within a short time. The success of this preparation has been so marked as to attract the attention of some of our leading physicians, who not only endorse it, but are using it them selves as a prophylactic and giving it to their patients.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was fitful, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be."—Mrs. M. E. Hughson, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Ordinary Tasks Produce Displacements. Apparently trifling incidents in woman's daily life frequently produce displacements of the womb. A slip on the stairs, lifting during mentruation, standing at a counter, running a sewing machine, or attending to the most ordinary tasks may result in displacement, and a train of serious evils is started. The first indication of such trouble should be the signal for quick action. Don't let the condition become chronic through neglect or a mistaken idea that you can overcome it by exercise or leaving it alone.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

Mrs. Lelah Stowell, 177 Wellington St., Kingston, Ont., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - You are indeed & godsend to women, and if they all knew what you could do for them, there would be no need of their dragging out miserable lives in agony.

"I suffered for years with bearing-down pains," womb trouble, nervousness, and excruciating head-ache, but a few bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made life look new and promising to me. I am light and happy, and I do not know what sickness is, and I now enjoy the best of health."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can always be relied upon to restore health to women who thus suffer. It is a sovereign cure for health to women who thus suffer. It is a sovereign cure for the worst forms of female complaints,—that bearing-down feeling, weak back, falling and displacement of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, and all troubles of the uterus or womb. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in the early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. It subdues excitability, nervous prostration, and tones up the entire female system.
