"FOOD DRINK"

Thomas A. Edison, The Man Who Thinks and Does Things, Talks Philosopher

Says Satiety and Stuffed Stomachs Stupify

"I know men and women," said Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor, the other day, "who are food drunk all the time."

The unique expression requires no interpretation, in the case of Alexander Kullback, who went to Colorado, Mr. Stewart graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison September 12, 1904.

And it is not necessary to see one eat in order to tell the victim of the food debauch. He carries the sign in his complexion and in his figure. Ruddy and oily, appetitic and paunched, he is marked of men.

And how much worse such symptoms appear to us in womankind, just as the liquor habit had enough in man. It is usually, truly offensive to decency in the daughter of Eve. When the "fair" ones become the fat ones, with coarse complexion, discolored features and portly figures from the stuffing of food, the element of romance is lost, and the greed for food is the only thing that remains.

That make for the things we love in woman.

Fortunately, there is relief for the man and woman addicted to the platter, as truly as there is relief, now, for the one addicted to the cup. The clear, complete, the return to simplicity, the relief from obesity resulting from over-eating, will again bring joy to the temperate eater who will but wait the nearest drug store and invest a quarter or fifty cents in Camp's Curative Remedy, powder or tablets, and...

This simple, vegetable, sixty-year old family remedy has proven its value in cases of cases of food drunkenness long before Thomas A. Edison invented the expression. So great is the maker's faith in his herbal remedy that he guarantees every claim he makes for it, or the druggist from whom you purchase is authorized to refund your money. You will find Camp's Curative Remedy on sale at your druggist's, guaranteed for its stomach and digestive ills.

A Power for Good.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by L. Rosenheimer.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong. And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength. Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

(For week ending Monday, Sept. 5, 1904.) The weather conditions during the week were in the main favorable to un-matured crops and the general tone of reports received from correspondents this week indicates that a somewhat more hopeful feeling prevails, especially in regard to the outcome of the corn crop. Generous and in some sections excessive rains occurred during Wednesday night and Thursday and while there was considerable damage done in a few localities by washing the rains were generally badly needed and very beneficial. There is now ample moisture to mature the remaining crops and to give fall grains an excellent start, as well as to put the soil in good condition for plowing. Pastures have been revived and are now furnishing an abundance of feed. The temperature has been reasonable and although the nights were cool no frost of any consequence were reported during the week. The interest in the crop situation now centers in corn. As a whole the crop made very satisfactory progress during the week but it is still ten days or two weeks behind the average condition at this date. Some of the early plantings in the southern section will be matured in ten days or two weeks but the bulk of the crop will require from three to four weeks of favorable weather to place it beyond possibility of damage by frost. The average date for the first killing frost for the central counties falls on September 12th, while for the eastern and southern counties it is about five days later. The condition of the potato crop is very satisfactory and an excellent yield is practically assured. A few correspondents report the appearance of blight but the complaint is by no means general. Fall plowing has progressed rapidly and the bulk of the winter grains has been sown. Sugar beets are maturing rapidly, and a good crop of excellent quality is assured. Apples are generally satisfactory.

Sir Henry Doulton.

Sir Henry Doulton, who was born in Vauxhall Walk in 1820, practically spent his life in Lambeth, where his father established his pottery in the year of Waterloo, and he took an active part in the business from the old days of "chimney pots, drain pipes, ink and types of old Flemish and German stoneware, whose soft, tender colorings are so restful and refined. It was always a pleasure to Sir Henry to chat with any one who was interested in old London—the London when Vauxhall was virtually in the country; when Vauxhall gardens, with their "10,000 extra lights," were the resort of the Joe Sedleys and the buxks of a generation later; when the now desolated market garden and meadows was considered remote enough from London to be the scene of a duel between the Duke of Wellington and the Earl of Winchelsea in 1829.

A Sixteenth Century Letter.

The following copy of a letter, written in 1585 by a young lady who was residing with a lady of rank as attendant in her waiting room, an office carrying no menial service with it and much sought after by the daughters of gentility, may be interesting:

To my good Mother, Mrs. Parks, at Bromfield. DEAR MOTHER—My humble duty remembered unto my father and you, &c. I received on Wednesday last a letter from my father and you, whereby I understand it is your pleasure that I should write you what times I do take for my lute and the rest of my exercises. I do for the most part play of my lute after supper for my recreation. My lady heareth me, and in the mornings after I am wakened I play an hour or two before my lute and afterwards after I have done my lute, for my drawing I take an hour in the afternoon and my French at night before supper. My lady hath not been well these two days, she telleth me when she is well that she will see if I will come and teach her. I can by any means she will. I hope I shall perform my duty to my lady with all care and diligence. I have written my lute and my French and brought me a diction or two. Mr. Harriotte was with me upon Friday and he had some of him when I came to London. I have written for my lute and my French and I leave you to the Almighty, desiring Him to increase in you all health and happiness. Your obedient daughter, Susanna Parks.

Easy Pill

Easy to take and easy to act is that famous little pill DeWitt's Little Early Risers. This is due to the fact that they tonic the liver instead of purging it. They never grip nor sicken, not even the most delicate lady, and yet they are so certain in results that no one who uses them is disappointed. They cure torpid liver, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, headache, malaria and ward off pneumonia and fevers.
