Trepoff takes a gloomy view of the future of the au-tocracy, in which he believes. The general is confident that if given un-trammelled power he could restore the old status quo in a year, but the pres-ent vacillating policy he thinks will end only in ruin. A representative assem-bly, no matter what its initial character may be, he is convinced, will soon be transformed into a constituent assem-bly which will give the death blow to absolutions.

An Important Capture. Moscow, July 13.—The authorities here decline to disclose the identity of the assassin of Prefect of Police Shura loff last Tuesday, but it is known that a very prominent and important polic cal capture has been made. After the prisoner's escape from the police station where he had been confined as a politi-cal suspect, some days previous to the assassination of the prefect, Suvaloff set all the police of Moscow at work to effect his recapture. The prisoner, in the meantime, shaved off his beard, and while the police were searching for him everywhere, the man went to the pre-fect's office and committed the crime-for which he will now be tried. The bullets of the revolver used by the prisoner were filled with poison. The crowd in the anteroom of the prefect. The proport that the assassin escaped The report that the assassin escaped

It is openly asserted that it is a political dem-onstration against the military govern-ment and furnished evidence of the con-flict going on between the municipality and the government, as the judges are elected by the people.

Find a Bomb Factory.

Port Huron Orangemen say they did not resent it, as they believed the insult to Canada was uncalled for. St. Petersburg, July 13.—The bomb, factory seized at Tiffis, Caucasia, is con-sidered an important haul. It contained in addition to finished bombs a large quantity of dynamite, nitro-glycerine and other explosives. Thirteen persons be-longing to the local revolutionary committee were captured. A chemist who was implicated committed suicide.

HOW TO WIN SUCCESS.

Governor Douglas of Massachusetts Gives Advice to Boys.

From a place at the cobbler's bench at a mere pittance, William L. Douglas has risen to the highest executive position in the State of Massachusetts, that of Governor, and has made himself a millionaire. His rules and pre cepts of success are given by him through the Boston Sunday American. The Governor is interested in boys and declares that these rules are given for the benefit of boys. The Governor

Recently, ia talking to a delegation of bright-faced boys, I told them that they should, in order to make the most of life, obey the old maxim, "Stick to your last." If you don't you'll find that old ogre, called trouble, bobbing up in your path way every now and then, and you'll, never get to be on speaking terms with success. Fortune, you know, favors the brave. In the battle of life the really brave man is the one with courage enough to "stick to his last" in the face of early rebuffs and temporary reverses. He's the fellow who will eventually be able to laugh at trouble and to get chumon Riddell's face. my with success. What would you think of a shoemaker who, after making part on one last, became dissatisfiel and started another shoe on a different last, keeping up this method until he had finally spent all his money for stock and had nothing but a lot of halfring. finished shoes to show for it. Foolish way to do. isn't it? But it's no more foolish than for a young man to tackle a new line of business every little while other than fatal. until he grows too old to learn any business thoroughly.

Everything in nature is fitted to do one thing well and spends its whole life do You never hear of the ant going into the honey-making business; nor of he bee building ant hills for a change. Each one knows its place in the world and sticks to it, and that is what boys must do if they would accomplish great Nearly every boy at an early age displays an aptitude for something, and if that aptitude is properly developed the process of selecting a last is simplified. And remember always to keep your ambition up to the top notch. Whatever you do, try to do it better than the other fellow. At school make it a point to stand at the head of your class: and at play don't be satisfied until you can jump the farthest or throw the straightest. Then when you enter business life this matter of getting ahead will become a habit.

Now another thing to think about is this: Don't try to do what you like-do what you can. That's a good compan-ion piece for "stick to your last." Don't let the attraction of something you don't know lure you away from the thing you do. Do what you can and stick to it. That's wisdom.

above all, a woman who has had more experience in treating female ills than any living person.

Over one hundred thousand cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day. Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimo-nial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as they have been.

Mrs. Fred Seydel, of 412 North 54th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-

"Over a year ago I wrote you a letter asking advice, as I had female ills and could not carry a child to maturity. I received your kind letter of instructions and followed your advice. I am not only a well woman in con-sequence, but have a beautiful baby girl. I wish every suffering woman in the land would write you for advice, as you have done so much for me."

Just as surely as Mrs. Seydel was eured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

No other medicine in all the world has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Therefore no prudent woman will accept any substitute which a druggist may offer. If you are sick, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass, for special advice. It is free and always helpful.
