TWELVE PLUNGED TO DEATH

Dozen Killed and Sixty Injured in Train Wreck.

DRAW BRIDGE OPEN.

Five Hundred People on Board Atlantic Coast Line Coaches When Crash Came.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 17.—Twelve people were killed and sixty others injured this afternoon when an excursion train on the Atlantic Coast Line was wrecked near Kingston, N. C., bound for Norfolk, shot through an open draw near Bruce Station in Norfolk county.

The train was bringing 500 persons from Kingston to Norfolk, and was returning to Norfolk for a two-days' excursion. It is said that most of the killed and injured are colored persons.

The engine and three coaches plunged into the Elizabeth river as the train was going at a lively rate of speed. The bridge had been opened to allow a tug to pass through.

HELP HURRIED TO WRECK.
Supt. Wooten of the Atlantic coast line with two tugs and all the Norfolk physicians and nurses have been left for the scene of the wreck.

Just how many people are killed and injured is not yet positively known, but the list is believed to be large.

DROWNED IN COACHES.
The dead in the accident are all believed to have drowned while caged in the coaches which plunged into the river. The list of injuries is not yet made, but a few have been investigated.

Private telegrams and telephone from the scene of the wreck indicate that many may be added to the fatalities.

Private telegrams and telephone from the scene of the wreck indicate that many may be added to the fatalities.

OPERATOR IS BLAMED.

Twentieth Century Flyer Wreck Inquiry is Concluded by the Coroner.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 17.—That the wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited train at Mentor, O., killing nineteen persons, June 23, was caused by Walter Minor, telegraph operator at Mentor, is the verdict reached here by Coroner Siegelstein.

Verdict Reviews Wreck History.
The verdict in part follows:
"I find that the switch was opened by Edward F. Minor, in charge of the night station."
"I find that the time from which the head of the Twentieth Century Limited train is seen approaching the depot platform, this being composed of some 200 mechanics and others from Augusta, Ga., Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla., bound for Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York for the purchase of fall goods, the first train to arrive at Mentor, is 8:30 o'clock this morning without accident."

Miss M. Werner of New London is visiting with her grandparents, Anton Werner and wife, for a few weeks.
All the young ladies and gentlemen from here who spent last Sunday at Knowles report having had a good time.
Albert Abel and William Foerster called on relatives and friends at Cascade Sunday. They returned home Tuesday.
Mr. Reaney and wife of Michigan and Nic. Hess and sister Julia of Barton were guests of William Hess and wife Wednesday.
Jacob Hawig and his mother from near Kohlsville, Fred Kohl and wife of Milwaukee visited with John Goetz at West Bend Sunday.
William Hess moved his family and household goods into the P. M. Young residence last Saturday. He is now working for George Petri.
There will be a children's day entertainment at the Reformed church on Sunday evening, (August 20) at 7:30 p. m. given by the Sunday school. You are all cordially invited.
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin visited with their son George and family at West Bend Sunday on the occasion of the christening of their little son who was named George Andrew William.
Wisconsin Barley Crop the Largest.
The reports of the barley crops of five different barley producing states, that have been received by E. P. Bacon & Co. of Milwaukee, show that Wisconsin is only one of the quintet that will exceed the crop of last year. Wisconsin's average crop will be five bushels greater than last year. Minnesota has dropped off five bushels, Iowa nine bushels, Nebraska three bushels, while South Dakota is expected to have practically the same crop as last year, according to the latest figures. The reason given for the greater yield of barley in this section is that the acreage has increased the past year.

A Dog Story.
Beerholm Tree, the London actor, told a story of a dog named Argus which used to accompany him to the theater. The dog was of an emotional habit of mind and was greatly affected by sensational scenes. When Mr. Tree was playing in "Captain Swift" Argus used to take his place in the wing and follow his every word and look until the sudden situation was reached. The moment Mr. Tree felt for his pistol Argus used to rush into the darkest corner he could find and, burying his head between his paws, listen for the thud of the actor's fall. After that the dog would crawl back to meet his master with a howl of joy at Mr. Tree's apparent return to life.
Green Hair.
There are men living today with green hair. This weird color is not a curious fad, but the result of working in a copper mine, where in order to come a marketable commodity the crude ore is roasted in furnaces. It is stated that, although no offensive odor emanates from this process, there is nevertheless some strange substance therein that produces a chemical change of the hair and beard, so that they become as green as grass. Strange to say, the texture of the hair softens no injury, but remains as soft and glossy as ever.—Pearson's Weekly.
Brief Criticisms.
Of Gray's "Elegy" a contemporary reviewer wrote: "The excellence of this little piece amply compensates for its lack of quantity." That and nothing more. Of "A Memoriam" a contemporary estimate was that its "simple but touching verses" were evidently inspired by "the full heart of the widow of a military man."
Good Amendment.
Husband—This cake is very good, my dear, but it seems to me there ought to be a little more— Wife (in clear, incisive tones)—That cake came by mail and was made by your mother. Husband—Yes, as I was saying, there ought to be a little more—of it.
The Situation.
First Passenger—Are they a happy family? Second Passenger—I'm afraid not. The old man is senile, but his wife and the girls have mad me.—Harper's Bazar.
A Suggestion.
Doctor (to pressing creditor)—If you must bring your bill every day, at least you might come with your head tied up, so that people would think you were a patient!

Knowledge dwells in heads replete with thoughts of other men, wisdom in minds attentive to their own.—Cowper.

The Skillful Repairing of Watches and Jewelry.
You have often heard it said that really right repairing was a lost art—that the average mending done now-a-days was a bungle. Those who bring their Watches and Jewelry here to be repaired will find unusual facilities and unsurpassed skill. When the work is finished I subject it to a rigid inspection to make sure it is right. Your search for faults will be fruitless. Prices as low as the work is good. A full line of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silverware and Optical Goods always on hand.
