Officials of Schwarzchild & Sulzberger Company Plead Guilty to Conspiracy.

TOOK RAILROAD REBATES. Is Badly Damaged, but Reaches New

Vice President, Traffic Manager and Assistant Traffic Manager Appear in United States Court.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 21 .- Four officials of the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger Packing company were fined an aggregate of $25,000 by Judge Humphrey in the United States district court here today. The fine followed a plea of guilty to indictments charging conspiracy to accept railroad rebates. The defendants were Samuel Weil of New York, vicepresident; B. S. Casey, traffic manager; Vance D. Skipworth and Chess E. Todd, assistant traffic manager. Mr. Weil was fined $10,000, the other three $5000 each. Weil's Life in Danger. With the entering of the plea the declaration was made that unless at least one of the cases is immediately settled, the life of Samuel Weil, who is vice president of the company and is one of the defendants, is in jeopardy. He is said to be a nervous wreck and fears were entertained for his life if he were allowed to continue under the stigma of an indictment. The plea was entered. allowed to continue under the stigma of an indictment. The plea was entered, it is declared, after a complete understanding had been reached between counsel for the defandants and Attorney General William H. Moody. While in Chicago the attorney general was apprised of the condition of Vice President Weil, and it is said agreed to the entering of a plea of guilty, with the understanding that the jail provision of the law under which the indictment was returned, should be waived and merely a fine imposed. The same concession was made in the case of the other three defendants.

Damage Claims Really Rebates.

Damage Claims Really Rebates. The four defendants were charged ith unlawfully combining and agreeing solicit rebates for the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger company from the Michigan Central Railroad company, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, the Grand Trunk Western railroad, the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, the Boston Marie Railroad company, the Boston for the Railroad company and th ton & Maine Railroad company and the Mobile & Ohio Railroad company. Charges were made that the defendants conspired with each other in pre senting supposed claims for damages which were in reality claims for rebates.

Does Not Affect Former Charge. The plea made today does not in any way affect the charge of hiterference with government witnesses, made in a previous indictment returned against Cusey and other Schwarzschild and Sulzberger men. The four defendants were in the federal court building and all appeared before Judge Humphrey. They were accompanied by Attorney Weissenbach and Attorneys I. K. Boyeson and J. J. Herrick.

Court Scene Is Dramatic. The scene in court when the four defendants entered was interesting. All diately before the bar. The three traf-fic managers are young men and they showed their emotions visibly. The fourth defendant, Weil, as he entered the room, slipped into a seat near the door. He is an elderly man, weighing more than 170 pounds. His face was lined with deep marks, showing the suf-fering he has passed through since he was indicted. He appeared little inter-ested in the proceedings; he did not look ested in the proceedings; he did not look at the court nor at the crowd, which turned with one accord to see him. He

After looking steadily at the defendants for a moment the judge began speaking. We'll stood with hands folded before him and his head bowed. At intervals during the sentencing by the court he shot glances toward Judge Humphrey from beneath his brows. The other men looked into the face of the judge and hung to his every word.

dent to failures of sister banks through embezzlement or unwise banking; and it is as illogical to put all life insurance companies on the same plane with those whose affairs have been unmasked to their discredit as it would be to condemn all banks because of the failure of several as a result of criminal acts or mismanagement. Life insurance companies have come to be as indispensable as banks, and people cannot afford to asperse companies which are rightly conducted because of the wrong doings of officials of other companies. On the contrary, they should be moved in self-interest to uphold the well managed companies while they are condemning those whose officials have been guilty of gross violations of trust.

Self-interest should dictate a resolute support of companies which can say, as loes the Northwestern Mutual Life of Milwaukee in its annual statement, that it "has never been involved with other financial institutions nor had any connection whatever either as a company or

Bucksport's Favorite Story and the Monument That Proves It. Close by the road on the outskirts of the seaport town of Buckport, Me., on the Penobscot river, is a small family cemetery. In its enclosure sleep the Bucks, the family which founded the town and gave it the name and a legend. ears, was killed last night by being run The largest and most conspicuous monument in the cemetery is a tall granite shaft, which is in plain sight of the highway. On one side is the inscription, "Col. John Buck, the founder of Bucks-port, A. D. 1762. Born in Haverhille, Mass., 1718. Died March 18, 1795." Mass., 1718. Died March 18, 1795."

On the other side is the single word "Buck." and a curious outline which, with the help of the imagination, might be the print of a foot of normal size.

The legend as told is that Col. Jonathan Buck wes a very harsh man and the leading spirit of his day and generation. He was the highest in civil authority, and his word was law in the community in which he resided. When a certain woman was accused of witchcraft, at the first clamorings of the populace Col. Buck ordered that she be imprisoned, and later she was sentenced as a witch.

The execution day came and the woman went to the gallows cursing her judge. The hangman was about to perform his duty when the woman turned to Col. Buck and said:

"Jonathan Buck, listen to these words the last my tongue shall utter. It is the spirit of the living God which bids me to speak to you. You will soon die, and over your grave they will erect a stone that all may know the spot where your bones lay and crumble to dust. Upon that stone the imprint of my foot shall appear, and for all time, after your accursed race has vanished from the face of the earth, will the people from far and near know that you murdered a woman."

The imprint of the foot, the story The imprint of the foot, the story goes, appeared on the stone a month after it was erected. Certainly it is there today as plain as ever. Amateur photographers have taken pictures of it, and a visit to the Buck cemetery to see the "witch's foot" is one of the pastimes of summer visitors.

HONEST PHYS!CIAN

Works with Himself First. It is a mistake to assume that phycicians are always skeptical as to the curative properties of anything else than drugs.

Indeed, the best doctors are those who seek to heal with as little use of drugs as possible and by the use of correct food and drink. A physician writes from California to tell how he made a well man of himself with Nature's remedy: "Before I came from Europe, where I was born," he says, "it was my custom to take coffee with milk (cafe au lait) with my morning meal, a small cup (cafe noir) after my dinner and two or three additional cups at my club during the evening. "In time nervous symptoms developed, with pains in the cardiac region, and accompanied by great depression

I thereupon quit its use forthwith, substituting English Breakfast Tea. "The tea seemed to help me at first, but in time the old distressing symptoms returned, and I quit it also, and tried to use milk for my table beverage. This I was compelled, however, to abandon speedily, for while it rebrought on constination. Then by bappy inspiration I was led to try the Postum Food Coffee. This was some months ago and I still use it. I am no longer nervous, nor do I suffer from the pains about the heart, while my 'blues' have left me and life is bright to me once more. I know that leaving

The Skillful Repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

You have often heard it said that really right repairing was a lost art that the average mending done now-a-days was a bungle. Those who bring their Watches and Jewelry here to be repaired will find anusual facilities and unsurpassed skill. When the work is finished I subject it to a rigid inspection to make sure it is right. Your search for faults will be fruitless. Prices as low as the work is good. Mull's Grape Tonic Cured Him

Mrs. Thompson first wrote us as follows: "My husband, aged 23, suffers from sharp pains in his stomach and sometimes thinks it is his heart. Let me know by return mailwhat causes the pain, if you can. Mr. Thompson has been treated by several doctors, but they have given him up."

We promptly advised that a first-class specialist be consulted. We quote: "We want to sell Mull's Grape Tonic, because we know it will cure constipation, but 50c a bottle is no object to us when a human life is at stake, and if your husband's case is as serious as you state, we suggest you consult a reliable specialist, not the advertising kind, promptly." At the same time, knowing that Mull's Grape Tonic could do no harm, we advised its use until a physician could be consulted. January 25 Mrs. Thompson wrote that a physician had been consulted. He diagnosed the case as chronic constipation and dyspepsla. His treatment was followed faithully, but there was no perceptible improvement in Mr. Thompson's health. Then he began taking Mull's Grape Tonic and on September 3, 1903, we received the following letter from Mrs. Thompson:

"You will remember that I wrote to you last January in regard to my husband's health. It is four months since he quit taking Mull's Grape Tonic for constipation, which he suffered from since birth. He took just 24 bottles of it and is perfectly cured. He is much stronger and has gained considerable in flesh. I can not thank you enough for Mull's Grape Tonic. 'It is worth its weight in gold.' Just $12 cured him and he has spent hundreds of dollars with doctors who did him no good. It did all you claimed it would."

Very respectfully yours, MRS. W. H. THOMPSON, 801 Main St., Peoria, Ill.

Mr. Thompson stopped taking Mull's Grape Tonic in June, 1903. He has been completely cured and has taken her medicine since that date. Almost two years and no return of the disease, should prove a normal new tree.

For twelve years, day and night, utilizing all the spare time at his command. Charles H. Wolf, a veteran of Co. D. Eleventh Pennsylvania volunteers, and for the past fifteen years superintendent of the town hall, Germantown, has followed a most unione hobby. For the first time, he has just now revealed the interesting facts connected with his singular diversion, that of making a solid tinfoil ball weighing 525 pounds, which no two men can lift.

It measures 48 inches in circumference and contains 36,750 pieces of tinfoil, secured from wrappers and bags containing various brands of smoking tobacco, and soon it assumed a ball-like shape. It was then that would surpass anything of the kind in the world. I think I have succeeded, Thilip's sangfroid was coming to his aid. The horror of his passage through the gaping mob had cauterized all other sentiments, and he now saw that if he would preserve his incognito he must adopt a ruse.

"Philip Morland," he said, doggedly, when the inspector asked him his name for the last time before recording a definite refusal.

"Philip Morland!" It sounded curiously familiar in his ears. His mother was a Miss Morland prior to her marriage, but he had not noticed the odd coincidence that he should have been christened after the "Sir Philip" of the packet of letters so fortunately left behind that morning.
