After an experience of twenty-five years, and during this time having under my observation from 700 to 1200 coal miners, and after careful inquiry among the oldest miners, I have been forced to the conclusion that bituminous coal miners, while actively engaged in their occupation, are practically immune from tubercular infection.

About seven years ago I commenced the treatment of whooping cough by sending the patient down in the mines immediately after the miners had fixed a short; having the patient inhale the gas and powder smoke for one and one-half to two hours at a time. I found that one or two sittings was sufficient to effect a cure in from four to six days, and without other medicine.

This was followed an until I have on medicine.

This was followed up until I have on my records from 75 to 100 cases, ranging in age from 3 months to 27 years. This treatment has passed, so far as my experience goes, from the experimental stage to the stage of confirmation. It is so successful and is now so well known in this locality, the miners take their children so affected into the mines, without consulting a physician, and always with the happlest results.

Don't Wait.

Hanna, Wyo., Jan. 15th (Special)-Delays are dangerous. Don't wait until all the awful symptoms of Kidney Disease develop in your system, and your physician shakes his head gravely as he diagnoses your case. If you suspect your kidneys, turn at once to great Kidney Specific-Dodd's Kidney Pills. You can do so with every confidence. A few of Dodd's Kidney Pills taken in time have saved many a life. The early symptoms of Disorder may be the forerunners of Bright's Disease, Diabetes and Dropsy. Mr. W. H. Jeffries, a resident here, tells below how he treated an attack of Kidney Trouble. He

"Before I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, I had always a tired feeling every morning when I got out of my bed, and my Kidneys were in bad shape. There was always a dull heavy pain across my loins, and I had hard work to stoop. I took two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the tired feeling and back pains have entirely gone, and I am now cured."

Says Coffee Causes Epilepsy. Says Coffee Causes Epilepsy.

Consul General Guenther of Frankfort writes that the Vienna Clinical Review gives an account of observations with reference to epilepsy in the medical clinic of the late Prof. H. Nothnagel which is worthy of attention. It concerns a case of epilepsy in a woman addicted to eating coffee beans, reported by Dr. Marbun. The most important result of the investigation is in these words: "It must appear at least as probable that coffee in this case was the direct result of epilepsy, which therefore would have to be classified as a toxic one." It is noteworthy that this corresponds with recent observations by several other physicians, as for instance eral other physicians, as for instance with those of Charles Feres, who was with those of Charles Feres, who was the first to point out that coffee was responsible for epilepsy; also with the clinical experiences of Prof. Korbert of Dorpart. This important connection be-tween consumption of coffee and epilep-sy, which deserves to be known every-where, serves as a warning to be ex-tremely careful with coffee made of hears containing coffeine and at any beans containing caffeine, and at any rate children should be deprived of it entirely, otherwise their health will be exposed to a great danger.

"I am sorry, sir, but you will see I can hardly answer any further questions."

Or course the clerk was right. Philip had hardly quitted the telephone when a note reached him by hand from Evelyn: "Please come at once. Must see you."

I want nothing for myself, but the mere sight of a few checks to pay tradespeople, doctor and the rest will soothe Sir Philip's last hours. He is a proud man, and I know he is heartbroken to think he is dying a pauper among strangers."

So it ended as might be expected. Philip wired to Grange House, Scarsdale, to announce his coming. Accompanied by his valet, he left King's Cross at 12 o'clock, but his parting words to Evelyn were:

"Yes. We pass it. It closes at 8."
"I will not be back from the Grange se before then?" "Hardly. It is a half-hour's drive."

"Thank you. You will stop a moment at the telegraph office?" The doctor hesitated. "There is so little time. It is of great mportance? Of course-

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical

Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose.

"It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis(catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, ver and intestinal disorders and derangements. Medical Properties of Salt.

Salt has healing and health-giving properties, both taken internally and as an outward application. The efficacy and strengthening qualities of sea baths are well known. Fisher folk will tell you that to drink a little sea water every day for a week or longer is an unfailing cure for indigestion. People who are too delicate to stand the invigorating cold plunge of sea bathing are often recommended by their physicians to take warm sea baths. Old sores, having long defied treatment, have been cured by constant bathing in sea water, which is very good for the skin and complexion, especially if it be a skin with a naturally acid rather than an alkaline tendency. Salt dissolved in milk and applied to the face with a soft rag, after washing in soft hot water, nightly for a week or so, imparts a velvety softness to the complexion. Salt water is also good for the scalp, as it is the most efficacious, though simplest, remedy known for falling hair. A solution of salt and water is also good for bathing sore eyes.

If one has taken too much salt, either medicinally or in food highly seasoned enough to make one unpleasantly thirsty, a little acid, either in the form of lemonade or vinegar and water, will speedily remedy the inconvenience.

A hag of hot salt applied to the face or affected part is a great relief in neuralgia. Applied to a cut finger, salt, though it makes it smart very much at the time will heal the gash quicker than anything else.—Housekeeper. KEMP DIES IN KANSAS. William F. "How do I know? Simply by studying causes and effects. We can see the effects here of some cause which has decreased the number of Sunday jags. There is just as much beer to be had, just as much made. It's just as cold and tastes just as good as ever. Men like it as well now as they did in April. They have the same means of getting it.

"But they don't drink as much. Why? Because they eat watermelons. There's nothing so cooling as a watermelon off the ice. It slakes the thirst as well as anything else, and after eating a large, juicy slice no man will have any desire left for a cold, frothy stein, no matter what his tastes may be. This is a fact.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remediescalling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and ex-perience many of them gained a won-derful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs. Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various authenticity and accuracy can hardly ills and weaknesses of the body, and be equaled in any library in the it was her pleasure to search these out and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.
