WIDOW GETS GOOD SHARE

Daughters, Other Relatives, Store Employes and Servants Remembered by Provisions in Will.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 25.—The will of Marshall Field was filed in the office of the probate court of Cook county at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The will, consisting of 22,000 words, makes disposition of an estate that doubtless exceeds $100,000,000, probably reaches $120,000,000, and may go even to $150,-000,000.

The document specifically provides for the disposition of $25,298,000, not including the Field residence at 1905 ooo, are all made, some to revert at the death of beneficiaries, there remains a vast residuary estate, estimated at from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000, which is inherited by the two sons of the late Marshall Field. These are Marshall Field III. and Henry Field. The trust is not in any event to be dissolved until the elder of the two boys, now 12 years of age, is 50 years old.

Mr. Field, however, provided that the boys shall have gradually growing incomes, and specified, moreover, that when they reach the age of discretion they shall become associated with the trustees and executors, in order that their character may develop through work and responsibility. The will says this provision is made with a view to the true happiness of the boys themselves.

The residuary estate under the trusteeship mentioned will hold in its bulk the entire business of Marshall Field & Co., to be continued uninterruptedly and to be continued uninterruptedly and without change in the policy developed through a generation by Mr. Field.

Daughter Gets $6,000,000. Of the individual bequests—not considering the two grandsons, who are chief heirs—the largest is to Mr. Field's only daughter, Ethel Field Beatty, wife of an English captain. She is given, in trust, three bequests of one, two, and three million dollars, making a total of

M'CARTHY CASE A PUZZLE

Alleged Murderer in Jail and Trial May Disclose Whereabouts-Where Is Senso and Girl?

KAUKAUNA, Wis., Jan. 25 .- [Speeial.]-Within the last five months six people disappeared from Kaukauna and the mysteries surrounding them have not been cleared in any case. The disappearances are those of Michael M. Mc-Carthy, who was last seen on the night of September 13, 1905; Bernard Senso, Charles Dorg. 25, 1905; Herman Senso; since November 25, 1905; Herman Senso, left on Friday, January 12; and Martin Verhagen, who disappeared on the night of January 13.

McCarthy Case Greatest Enigma. McCarthy Case Greatest Enigma.

The first and most mysterious disappearance was that of Michael McCarthy, a wealthy bachelor farmer. Since the night of September 13, 1905, nothing has been heard of him and his disappearance is the most mysterious case which the officers of Kaukauna and vicinity have yet been called upon to solve.

That he was murdered by Wenzel E. Kabat and his bones burned on the McCarthy farm, is charged by a majority of people. The officers of Kaukauna and attorneys have worked incessantly on the case, and to their efforts are due the arrest of Wenzel Kabat. Perhaps the McCarthy mystery will be solved when Kabat is brought to trial in March.

Senso and Dumrow Eloped?

Senso and Dumrow Eloped? While the police were busy in the Mc-Carthy case, they were confronted with another mystery. The disappearance of Bernard Senso and Miss Elsie Dumrow probably never will be cleared. When Senso and the girl disappeared, it was thought that he would apply for a posi-tion at a paper mill in Maine or Canada, but a thorough investigation proved this untrue.

The third of these mysterious disappearances is that of Charles Borg, a pearances is that of Charles Borg, a Swede, who was last seen on November 25, 1905, and may now be lying in the canal at Kaukauna. Borg was an employe of the North-Western railroad. He drank much, it is said, and on account of his intemperance he was discharged from the service. This made him despondent, and a fellow workman says that he told him that he had nothing more to live for and that he thought the best thing he could do was to jump in the canal. He left all his belongings at his boarding place.

Grenier was hysterical; he had the highly strung nervous system of a girl where deeds of bloodshel were concerned. While Mason obeyed his instructions he pressed his hands over his eyes. "Bring some brandy, white-liver. Do you want me to do everything?"

This gruff order awoke Grenier to trembling action. He went to a cupboard and procured a bottle. Mason, having placed Anson in a chair and steadied his head against the wall, seized half a tumblerful of the neat spirit and drank it with gusto. The other, grad-ually recovering his self-control, was satisfied with a less potential draught. "It will be dark soon," growled Mason. "We must undress him first, you said."

Mason, satiated and stupefied, obeyed his instructions like a ministering ghoul. They undressed Philip wholly, and Grenier, rapidly denuding himself of his boots and outer clothing, donned these portions of the victim's attire.

Then the paint tubes and the other accessories of an actor's make-up were produced. Grenier, facing a mirror placed on a table close to Philip, began to reproduced. There was a glint of admiration in the last few years local pride in the North sign of recovery.

"Mason looked over his shoulder. It was headed:
"Annual Report of the Mary Anson Home for Destitute Boys."

Mason coarsely cursed both the home and its patron. But Grenier laughed pleasantly.

"The very thing," he cried. "Look here!"

Oldest Dwellings In Europe. One of the very earliest human settlements in Europe is Roche Corbon, on the banks of the Loire, seven miles above Tours. Here limestone cliffs stretch for miles and are pigeonholed with caves, which are on different levels and open on to terraces. When the rest of the country was nothing but forest land Roche Corbon was a thriving settlement inhabited by wild skin clad predecessors of the present cave dwellers. These terraces and caves were formed by the action of mighty Henry Goehring of Silver Creek rivers, and during the glacial period, when the climate of that portion of France was very severe, man drove out the bears and hyenas and took refuge in these natural shelters, which was here selling new seed potatoes faced south, and so became human settlements of a primitive sort. "Then it grew worse and spread to my knees. I could not stand up and I could not sleep nights. My suffering was more than I can describe. I took a great deal of medicine, but nothing even gave me relief until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"The Oregon bounty law has been a source of great abuse and the state has been robbed of many hundreds of dollars. About three years ago a scheme was discovered by which coyote scalps had been shipped into this state for months from Idaho, where there is no bounty, and the regular fee collected.

that was exactly like mine and my hus-band got me some of the pills. I took them for three weeks before I really felt better but they finally cured me." Mr. Pitcher, who is a veteran and a member of E. D. Morgan Post, No. 307 of New York, substantiates his wife's statement and says that she now walks without difficulty, whereas a year ago he was compelled to push her about in a wheeled chair. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pitcher are enthusiastic in their praise any of them. One doctor said he was of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
