BOMB FOR ROYAL COUPLE

KING ALFONSO AND HIS BRIDE NAR-ROWLY ESCAPED ASSASSINA-TION AT MADRID.

AUTHORITIES WARNED.

Wedding of Spanish Monarch and English Princess Surrounded by Great Pomp and Splendor.

MADRID, May 31.-A bomb was thrown at King Alfonso and Queen Vic-toria in the Calle Mayor this afternoon, as their majesties were returning after the marriage ceremony. Considerable confusion prevailed, but the King and Queen, who maintained their composure, reached the palace in safety. According to the few details available it would appear that the bomb was thrown by a boy, who was promptly arrested, but another version of the affair says that the real perpetrator of the outrage escaped.

An equerry was wounded and two horses were killed. Another report says several persons were killed. Grand Duke Vladimir Target? A later report says that the bomb was not thrown at the King and Queen, but that it was aimed at Grand Duke Vlathat it was aimed at Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia, or at least in the direction of his carriage.

Many soldiers and others were killed or wounded, it was believed.

As a curious coincident it is just a year ago today that a bomb was thrown at King Alfonso in Paris. As the King, accompanied by President Loubet, was driving away from the opera, May 31, 1905, an Anarchist threw a bomb at the royal carriage. It struck a trooper, fell to the ground and exploded without injuring the King or the President. Several soldiers and a number of persons were injured.

Seven Reported Killed.

LONDON, May 31.—A dispatch to a news agency from Madrid says seven persons were killed and that thirty were injured by the bomb explosion. It is further asserted that although five persons were arrested on the charge of being connected with the outrage, the man who actually threw the bomb has not been apprehended.

It is said that Senator La Follette and Isaac Stephenson have much to do in the case.

When asked whether he had taken any interest in the postoffice controversy, Senator La Follette declined to say, but intimated that perhaps Isaac Stephenson had taken a hand. Mr. La Follette also admitted that he knew Mr. Patrick years ago, when the latter was private secretary to Mr. Stephenson, then in Congress. He added that he did not believe a case of want of efficiency could be made against Mr. Patrick. The senator admitted that he has a personal ulace.

Immediately following the royal coach came the bride's party, forming another glittering array of gala coaches, bearing the lords and ladies in waiting and the princes and princesses of the house of Battenberg and finally came the famed mahogany coach with the radiant bride, Princess Victoria, attended by her mother and Queen Marie Christina.

Lewis S. Patrick has been postmaster at Marinette for eight years, and for more than twenty years has been an active political and personal worker for Isaac Stephenson. Representative Minor insists that a great majority of the people in Marinette desire that Mr. Patrick shall no longer hold the office.

OSHKOSH, Wis., May 31 .- [Special.] -The examination of Leander Choate, James Doughty, Benjamin Doughty, Thomas Daly and James M. Bray, gon is in progress in this city today in the federal court. United States Officer

McDonald is in charge and Messrs. Reid and Henning of Milwaukee are present in the interest of the government. The defense is being looked after by Judge C. D. Cleveland of Oshkosh, assisted by A. E. Thompson.

This morning the examination began at 10 o'clock and James and Benjamin Douhgty were examined. Both of these lumbermen denied all of the charges contained in the indictment and stated that they had had no timber deals in Oregon since 1902 and that they have had nothing to do with the purposes or sale of the lands described in the indictment. Messrs. Doughty stated that the company they represented had not employed Mr. Black of Shawano or any Oregon people in the purchase or sale of lands and that they had never intended to defraud the government in any of their deals.

Adjournment was taken at noon and Adjournment was taken at noon and the examination resumed at 2 o'clock. All of the gentlemen mentioned in the All of the gentlemen mentioned in the indictment were present in court excepting James M. Bray, who is a paralytic and is confined to his home. Judge Cleveland explained to the court about Mr. Bray, and it was agreed that it would be impossible to include him in court in the examination. Attorney A. S. Larson of Shawano was present at the examination in the interests of the the examination in the interests of the three Shawano men included in the in-dictment. Their examination will not

Monday morning. Andirons. In regard to andirons a writer in t isseur points out the curious fac that the older specimens rarely come in pairs, but are of different heights and sizes. It was the custom in the middle ages, it seems, to make them meven so as to facilitate the moving and raising of the huge blocks employ ed for firewood. He continues: In the middle ages they were als planned to hold a spit, and it was not until the late sixteenth century that they were much ornamented. Accordawn mowers at all prices. Call and ing to Viollet le Duc, since the most remote ages, from Etruscan times down to the Romans, such andirons were made of iron. Vasari speaks of andirons made with "meraviglioso magistero" for the captains of the Arte della Seta, but I have not found much ornamentation upon them as early as he says. I have a theory of my ow which is contrary to that of Viollet le Duc. In England andirons are called fire dogs, and in the Bargello there is fire dogs, and in the Bargello there a splendid specimen made in the form of crouching hounds. I hold that the andirons were in the first instance PAINTER, made in the shape of animals lying at rest, shaped of clay or stone, and it was much later that they were made of iron, when they often ended in animals' heads, most often in that of

"One day I was setting the type of an article for the paper telling what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for a man afflicted as I was and I was so impressed with it that I determined to give the medicine a trial. For a year my rheumatism had been growing worse, but after taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I began to improve. The pain and swelling all disappeared and I can truthfully say that I haven't felt better in the past twenty years than I do right now. I could name, off hand, a half-dozen peo-ple who have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at my suggestion and who have received good results from them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be safe and harmless to the most delicate constitution. They contain no morphine, opiate, narcotic, nor anything to cause a drug habit. They do not act on the bowels but they actually make new blood and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure rheuma-

one of the candidates for governor, in speaking to friends of his trip to the "sticks" of north Georgia, declared that some of the good folk in that part of the state evidently were no more fa-miliar with the dictionary than the old miliar with the dictionary than the old woman who said it was good reading, but that she didn't like the story.

"While in the middle of a speech," said the candidate, "when everything was going smoothly and I thought the audience well under the spell of my eloquence, I spoke of the gubernatorial race as though it were already won. When I mentioned the word "gubernatorial" an I mentioned the word 'gubernatorial' an old mountaineer shuffled to his feet in the rear of the building, and after waiting until I finished my sentence, de-clared in his piercing voice:

From her bedroom overhead she heard the babel of voices, she recognized her step-mother's coldest, angriest accents.

She could have heard the very words that passed between them had she chosen to listen, but that she could not stoop to do. Only when she heard the door close behind him, she ran downstairs again, and, meeting him in the corridor, held out both hands in sympathy.

Wrong in His Head.

A Yorkshire millworker charged with having set fire to a large hayrick was defended on the ground that he was not altogether responsible for his actions. One of the witnesses, a typical Yorkshire man, testified to the belief that the prisoner was "wrang in his head."

"Can you mention any occasion on which the prisoner behaved in a manner to warrant your statement?" he was asked by the prosecuting counsel.

"Ham and eggs, muffins and coffee for ten in the breakfast room," she said. "Very well, ma'nm," replied the butlet, who appeared half an hour later and announced: "Breakfast is served."

With shouts of laughter the young people made their way to the breakfast room, where they did full justice to the breakfast, and then—went back and played bridge until 7:—New York Globe.

Beer Barrels Bombard House.

An extraordinary accident occurred in Islington recently. A horse drawing a brewer's dray laden with barrels of beer got beyond control of the driver while going down hill and, dashing into Rodney street at a wild gallop, charged into some iron railings gave way and the horse and dray tumbled into the area. Some of the barrels crashed through the window of No. 19 into a room where a man named Bowden was at dinner with his four children and his sister-in-law, and injured Bowden about the head. His wife and a baby were in bed on the further side of the room, and would probably have been killed by one barrel had it not been stopped by the chair in which Bowden sat.

The interior of the room was partially wrecked, furniture and crockery being mashed and a large hole made in the floor. The driver of the dray was taken to the hospital. If afflicted with Thompson's Eye Water

Marvelous work of these highly efficient instruments for submarine work is described by Robert McDuff in his article, "Wireless Signals Under Water," in the Technical World Magazine. Says Mr. McDuff:

"A use to which the submarine telephone may be put in time of war will be for communicating with submarine boat and printed on a tape. In the same way a message could be sent from the submarine boat and received at a shore station, or on a flagship of a fleet. A more simple way of sending messages would be by attaching a striking gong, or bell, to the side of a ship and tapping out a certain agreed-upon code."
