The marriage of A. L. O'Connell of this place and Miss Cassie Hughes of Mitchell was solemnized at St. Michael's church in the town of Mitchell last Tuesday forenoon, June 25th, Rev. Father Hughes of Franklin, a cousin of the bride, tying the nuptial knot. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of Chiffon and lace over white silk while the groom wore the customary suit of black. The bride was attended by her sister, Margaret Hughes of Boston, who wore a gown of white organdie. Dr. James O'Connell of Menasha, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride where a sumptuous dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell left the same day for a wedding tour. The contracting couple have the best wishes of their many friends as they journey through life together.

—We wonder how many of our readers have noticed the difference between the man who has been married but a short time and one who has been married several years. You can always tell a young husband from an old one. When a man has been married but a few months, you will generally see him working in the garden, or fixing up about the house and while he works he whistles and sings, or occasionally looks up toward the window to see if anyone is watching him. A year later he is still working in the garden but the smile has been engaged for a frown and he occasionally looks up towards the house wondering why in thunder breakfast is not ready. Another year rolls by and his looks would sour milk, but he is still at work, stopping occasionally to kick the dog or throw at the cat. The next year we find him sitting on the front porch, smoking a pipe, while his wife does the digging in the garden. Now just watch our young men, as one by one they are caught in Cupid's net and see if this rule does not work out the problem correctly.

—The people of Denmark are the most sober in the world and temperance is considered more widespread there than any where else. The reason is that they encourage the use of beer instead of strong drinks, and all over the cities and towns are "temperance hotels," buildings in which are a restaurant, beer saloon and social gatherings, theatricals, concerts, balls, etc. West Bend beer contains but 31 per cent of alcohol, hence it is a strictly temperance drink.

Four Row Potato Sprayer.

Farmers are invited to call at Jacob Becker's place at Kewaskum and examine the Iron Age four row sprayer which has become in recent years an absolute necessity to the farmer, in successfully and economically growing various crops, especially potatoes; in fact, it is so regarded because without a rapid and thorough means of spraying, the potato beetle or the "blight" may in short order damage the crop. Therefore, to our already valuable and important line of "Iron Age" implements, adapted for potato culture, we offer the "Iron Age" sprayer—implements designed for a very thorough study of what was needed. A complete machine is on exhibition and inspection is invited.

JACOB BECKER, Kewaskum, Wis.

—Many ministers of the country are becoming advocates of the plan of bringing about temperance by the encouragement of the use of beer instead of the really alcoholic drinks. Order a case of Lithia for the home.

Colonial Fear of Lawyers.

In the columns of the New York Gazette of Sept. 8, 1780, there was a paragraph lamenting the increase of lawyers as threatening to the future prosperity of the community and degrading to freemen. "An honest trade in former days," said the writer, "was all that people of common ability and education were ambitious of; but now no profession is gentler but the lawyer and the merchant. The lawyers are now creeping into every post of importance and thrusting themselves wherever there is a vacancy. Our congress is an assembly, are crowded with them, and even in our great commercial convention there are five lawyers to one merchant."

Curling the Bad Boy.

You remember the old fashioned young man who when she heard her young son swearing or using naughty words washed his mouth in soapsuds. There is an Atelison boy who could not be reformed in this way, so his father took him in hand. Every day his father called him in and said, "Now, your mother objects to those naughty words you use, but I, being a man, like them. Go over the list for me." The boy promptly complied at first, but in a few days he tired of the words and has now given up his list entirely.—Atelison Globe.

The Toad and Its Skin.

The toad sheds its skin at certain periods, the old one coming off and leaving a new one, which has been formed underneath. In its shed, it does not give its cast off coat away to any poorer toad, and there are no tons dealing in second hand raiment. Neither does it leave its cast off jacket on the ground after the fashion of the shiftless snake. It swallows its overcoat at one mouthful, converting its stomach into a portmanteau.

Noises Out of Joint.

When I was a girl, the aristocratic nose was high, beautifully modeled, rising in a delicately waving ridge and at the tip standing well out from the face and not turned up. But now the fashion has completely changed. The pretty women one sees portrayed in illustrations, papers and magazines very seldom have much to speak of in the way of noses.—Dowager in London Chronicle.

The Difficulty About Our Composers.

"Who is your favorite composer?" inquired the artistic person. "I can't say just at this moment," answered Mr. Camrox, with an appealing glance at his wife, "but it's somebody whose music I can't remember and whose name I can't pronounce."—Washington Star.

Wicked men cannot be friends either among themselves or with the good.—Socrates.

Awards in Beauty Quest.

Next Sunday, July 7, The Milwaukee Sentinel will announce the final awards made by the judges in the American Beauty Quest which has engaged the attention of the readers of twenty-seven metropolitan newspapers of the country during recent months. Handsome half-tone portraits of the young women honored by the judges will be published, as well as sketches and personal descriptions of the subjects. Since the result of the Wisconsin quest was made known, comparisons have been made from week to week by the people of Wisconsin between Miss Gabriella Worsley, declared the most beautiful woman in this state, and the women who have won the honors elsewhere. No little gratification was felt over the fact that Wisconsin's representative was among the six whose portraits were published June 30, and from whom the judges will select the one most beautiful of all. To be one of the six most beautiful women selected from so many thousands is in itself an honor, and one which the people of Wisconsin fully appreciate. How Wisconsin will fare in the final apportionment of awards remains to be seen, and interest is naturally aroused to high pitch. Another point of special interest is the outcome of the challenge issued by The Sentinel to the Chicago Tribune, after the latter had made the claim that Della Carson, the most beautiful woman in Chicago, surpassed in charms any other woman in America. Out of this challenge the American Beauty Quest developed, but there is still a great and natural interest as to which of these two women excels the other. As both appear in the group of six selected as the best among the twenty-seven first prize winners of the various states, the question can not be determined until the detailed decision of the judges is made known. This will be officially announced next Sunday, as well as the order of the first five awards in the national quest.

The Machine that Does it Right.

The great utility of this machine consists in the saving of time, labor and expense, and we set forth the following advantages over the old way of setting tires: No tires are taken off. No nuts are taken out and thrown away. Any degree of slack can be put in the wheel. Four tires can be set in one-half hour's time. No burning or marbling of fellos. No spooling of wheels by wadding the tires too short. It does far more work than can be done by any other tire off. No working of the fellos for any "baking" time.

"Shop at home."

That should be a maxim for every resident of this town—a maxim to be not only remembered but ACTED UPON.

It only needs a comparison of prices to show you that no house in the land undersells us.

It only needs a trial of our goods to prove the folly of distant buying.

There is nothing in all merchandising so deceptive to the general buyer as jewelry. There is nothing else which requires the same acute judgement to decide wisely.

For these reasons you should purchase your jewelry here, where you can get the benefit of our experience for your protection.

—George Werner and family from Great Bend, N. D., spent several days here with old time friends of Mr. Werner who left Kewaskum about twenty-nine years ago. Mr. Werner just returned from an extended trip in Europe.

—The following spent Sunday at Fred Belger's place: John Klein Jr. and wife, John Klein Sr. and wife, August Kumrow and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Heise and daughter Alma, Albert Koerber and wife, Dora, Ellis and John Schuppel, Tillie Backhaus and Louis Klein.

—The Japanese Government encourages the growth of beer drinking among its people in preference to sake drinking, inasmuch as the former contains 3 per cent of alcohol and the latter 12 per cent. The Japanese Government is constantly seeking to improve the sobriety of its people, and wants to do so along practical lines.

—When Jacob W. Skirchen of this city advised his son Christ of Farmington to seed barley April 2 the former's acquaintances gave him a great laugh. Now the barley is up, fully headed out and the heaviest stand of any piece of barley in the county and it will be ready to cut about the first week in July. Jake is now giving his wife friends the merry ha-ha.—West Bend Pilot.

—The glorious 4th of July passed off quietly here and no serious accidents happened. The celebrations at both parks were largely attended. We are unable to give the names of the many visitors who spent the 4th here on account of the short time before going to press.

—Two new interurban cars, Nos. 1 and 8, for the Milwaukee-Northern Electric Railway, arrived at their barns in this city yesterday. Loaded on three flat cars, and are now being unloaded and placed on trucks. They are neat, fancy, up-to-date cars, beautifully painted, of a dark red color, and with fine upholstered seats. They certainly are the very best high-class cars, that but few interurban roads can boast of having.—Cedarburg News.

—American people are increasing in sobriety every year because of the encouragement they are giving to beer. Many of the best manufacturing concerns of the country are establishing canteens in their plants, supply their workmen with mild beverages like beer, believing that it is a genuine move in behalf of sobriety in their business. Order a case of Lithia Beer for your home during the hot weather. It is a fine beverage. It is much healthier than ice water.

—The newly organized K & C club, composed of players from Kewaskum and Campbellsport, won their first game played last Sunday by defeating the St. John's Catholic team of Milwaukee on the local grounds by a score of 13 to 0. The game was a one-sided affair and at no stage of the game were the locals in danger of defeat. The features of the game were the batting of the locals, the pitching of Yankow and Neelan and the visitors' center fielder, who made two difficult catches, thereby robbing the locals of 2 two-base hits. The score by innings is as follows:

St. John's	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
K & C	0	4	0	0	0	3	2	4	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—

Strange Freak of Lightning.

During a heavy wind and rain storm Friday afternoon lightning struck the barn and residence on the farm of Math. Holz, on the west shore of Cedar Lake. The material damage is not heavy but it is a great wonder that all the people at that place are alive today. The bolt struck the barn first and after shattering a heavy corner post ran along the basement wall and then left through the roof tearing up the shingles. Two of Mr. Holz's boys, Nic, and John, were in the stable in the basement milking the cows; all the horses and cows there were knocked down, as well as the boys. All escaped injury. There seems to have been but one flash and clash, and it is thought that it was the same bolt that also struck the house. When lightning struck the barn the boys hurried to the house to notify their parents of the occurrence but when they got there they found the rest of the family all stunned or frightened. The bolt struck the chimney and ran down coming out of the stove. The family and two summer boarders, Mrs. Gelhaar and daughter Ola a young lady of about 20 years of Milwaukee, were seated at the table. The bolt first struck the fox terrier dog of Mrs. Gelhaar killing him instantly. When struck, the animal bounced at Mrs. Gelhaar and bit her in the left hand and the jaws had to be broken to release her from the grip. Miss Gelhaar had a most miraculous escape from instant death as her stockings and shoes were literally torn from her body and into shreds. The other inmates were also stunned but not so badly as Miss Gelhaar who was unconscious for about an hour. A hole was torn through the floor and the bolt then left the house through a basement window.—West Bend News.
