HOME-COMING A GRAND SUCCESS

Annual Home-Coming Brings Out Huge Crowd. Between Three and Four Thousand Visitors in Attendance at the Park.

Kewaskum has had another rousing home-coming and the event brought joy and happiness to every heart. The second annual home-coming last Sunday was a marked success in every particular. The weather could not have been better for the enjoyment of the day. The attendance was large and it was as enthusiastic as a crowd could be. All the surroundings worked together to add to the enjoyment of the occasion. Home-coming is a success for Kewaskum and there is no doubt that it will grow in favor from year to year. There were between three and four thousand visitors in the city and they were all made welcome. They began to arrive early in the week, the advance guard consisting of those who desired to spend a few days at the old home and enjoy a good visit with old friends. About one hundred and fifty arrived from Milwaukee Saturday and Sunday morning brought the rest from that city to participate in the enjoyment of the day. It is estimated that fully seven hundred people came from Milwaukee alone. In addition to them there were visitors from all parts of the state, wherever former residents of Kewaskum are making their home at present. Campbellport and West Bend sent the largest delegations outside of that from Milwaukee. The attendance at the North Side Park in the afternoon was the largest ever seen there and it was a jolly crowd. Good nature reigned supreme and all appeared to take in the real spirit of the occasion. It was a day of visiting with old friends who had not met in a long time, some of them in years, and the occasion was improved to the utmost. Much greater loads to market and make the trip in less time, thus saving money both ways. Mayor Becker spoke of the pi neers who began the development of the forest which has been continued by their children in building up a prosperous and thriving community. He said that Kewaskum has much to be proud of in her young men and women, descendants of the sturdy pioneers, most of them of Teutonic blood which has in it the determination to succeed, the tenacity of purpose and the real reverence for true American ideals that has always distinguished the German-Americans. He eulogized the spirit shown in the home-coming anniversary and said that it was a good thing for all, both those who come back for a brief visit to the old scenes and those who extend the hearty hand of welcome and the hospitality so characteristic of the place. It was an occasion for genuine happiness, he said, and he rejoiced to see that all were improving it to the fullest extent. Mayor Becker created a very favorable impression among our people. He was hailed as "the next governor of Wisconsin," but very modestly disclaimed the honor thus conferred upon him. Though he did not say in so many words that he would possibly be a candidate for governor, yet it is a fact that the people are talking strongly for him for that nomination and he would find staunch supporters if he should enter the field. His appearance here and the excellent address he made added to the favorable impression and made him justly popular. The people of Kewaskum like to see a young man of ability come to the front and they think that Mayor Becker is a young man of the right stamp.

ARRIVAL OF HOME-COMERS AT KEWASKUM SUNDAY MORNING.

Following the address of Mayor Becker, Supervisor Fred Heiden of Milwaukee made a short address in German on "The Value of Home," in which he compared the conditions of today with those of the pioneer times, mentioning many familiar names of the period of the early settlement. This address, like the others, was well received by the crowd and Mr. Heiden was liberally applauded as he proceeded. Mayor Becker left the grounds at about 4:30 o'clock and returned to Milwaukee in his automobile. Before leaving he said that he wanted to return his thanks to the good people of Kewaskum for the cordial welcome that they had given him and that he had greatly enjoyed the visit and would be glad to come again under similar circumstances. This second annual home-coming has been so successful that there is no doubt it will be made an annual event in the future and carried out on a liberal scale. The business houses in the village were nearly all decorated in honor of the occasion and welcome banners were suspended across the streets at different points. In behalf of the people of Kewaskum the STATESMAN thanks Mayor Becker, A. C. Backus, Fred Heiden, the Home coming Club of Milwaukee and all others who came to help make the occasion such a grand success. The complete address delivered by Mayor Becker will be found on the fourth page of this issue. NOTES. The dance in the evening was very largely attended, 396 admission tickets were sold. Berg acted as best man. After the ceremony a wedding reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple left on the 8:38 p. m. train for Mont. N. D., where they will reside. The Campbellport band serenaded them at the depot when they left.

BIG SOCIAL EVENT AT CAMPBELLSPORT An unusually pleasant affair was the reception tendered on Wednesday evening to the members of No. 1128 1/2 I. O. O. F. by the Chief Muzzler of that organization. The occasion was his birthday anniversary and during the day he was the recipient of many tokens of remembrance and the best wishes of his many friends. At the appointed hour the guests assembled at the club house and sincerely extended to him in person wishes for many happy returns of the day. The club house was tastefully decorated with flowers and official symbols of the order. The High Chief Medical Adviser was, as usual, the first one to detect the odor of cookey. He proceeded to investigate on the q. t., and was met at the door of the kitchen by a rolling pin in the hands of the pastry cook who advanced threateningly and informed him that he was out of order. The worthy Adviser perhaps realized this for he retreated unceremoniously and soon appeared in the reception room hat in hand and very much scared. Very soon the doors of the dining room were swung open and the guests took their seats at the table. Blessing was asked by the Worthy Chaplin and all fell to in a manner that showed their highest appreciation of the efforts of the chef and his worthy assistants. The Chief Preventor acted as toastmaster and responses were made by the High Prelate, the Chief Strong Sentinel, Strong Inner Guard and the Exalted Treasurer. The Chief Gynmost then gave an interesting dissertation on the importance of physical outdoor exercise, and the Noble Grand Initiator discussed the relative merits of the different forms of initiation in use in his department. The question of the food value of the Irish potato as compared with the cabbage was then debated upon by the Chief Muzzler and the Past Chief Preventor. The debate was decided in favor of the cabbage by the High Chief Medical Adviser. After the meal was over the guests repaired to the reception room and spent the remainder of the evening listening to selections of vocal and instrumental music under the direction of the Worthy Grand Musician. A vote of thanks was then tendered the host, the chef and the caterers and the guests departed pronouncing the affair one of the most enjoyable in the history of the order.
