Steamer Fears to Land Cargo of Orientals, Whites Threaten Strike and Japs Look for Trouble.

VANCOUVER, British Columbia. Seut. 12 .- [Special.] - Another outbreak of whites against the Japanese and Chinamen is certain to occur, despite the fact that the authorities are doing everything in their power to prevent it. Unless the employers discharge their foreign labor the whites will strike and boycotts and riots will surely follow. While no trouble is feared with the Japanese government, the Dominion authorities have a problem on their hands which they admit to be most serious.

The city is full of Hindus, something like 800 arriving here on a steamer from the far east the other day. Mayor Bethune started a subscription Mayor Bethune warned the captain of the steamer Monteagle, which arrived yesterday, not to land. The vessel has on board about 1000 Japs, Chinese and Hindus and it was feared that a race riot would result if they are allowed to land.

Boycotts and Strikes Near. The steamship company landed nearly all of the Japanese at Victoria. At Vancouver, the dock was roped off for two blocks, and heavily guarded. Last night an attempt was made to land the Hindus. An immense crowd gathered and officials were afraid to let the Orient-

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 12.-General Manager Elliott of the Great Northern Express company announced today that the Great Northern, Oriental Limited train No. 1, which left St. Paul Tuesday morning, was held up by two masked men, six or seven miles west of Rexford, Ment, at an early hour this morning. The robbers crawled over the tender at this place and at the point of their guns commanded the engineer to stop the train. They then ordered the fireman to go back with them to the express car and instructed him to tell the express messenger, mail clerk and baggageman to go back into the coaches.

While this was being done the robbers kept up a continual fusillade with their guns to terrify the passengers and keep them within the coaches. Find Safe Is Empty.

After the messenger, baggageman and mail clerk had left their cars, the robbers went through the mail cars and looted the sacks of a large quantity of registered mail. Then they went into an extra express car which carried an overflow of mail, baggage and express, and which contained a regulation safe. This they attempted to blow open. Czar and Czarina Taken from Stranded Boat-Subjects Know Nothing of the Accident.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12.-No official announcement has been made here regarding the grounding of the imperial yacht Standart near Hango, Finland, yesterday afternoon. The news has been withheld even from the embassies. No hint of the accident has been allowed to reach the public, and the newspapers have been forbidden to publish a word on the subject.

The Associated Press, however, learns that the grounding of the yacht, on board of which were Emperor Nicholas and Empress Alexandra and their family, produced a depressing effect upon Capt. Stagin, the commander of the vessel.

The Standart lies in a most nufavor. The Standard lies in a most unfavorable position upon some rocks.

At 10 o'clock last night the imperial party left the Standard and were taken on board the dispatch boat Asia.

good this summer as at any time during the past five years. The last of August, or early September it appears, are apt to see some shrinkage in the numbers brought, chiefly because the lobsters are shedding their shells. During that period they hide away among the deep grasses of the coast until the new "coat" is well hardened. Should they roam about in their native element, they would fall easy prey to other fish lurking round.

In consequence of this time of exclusion the "catch" is lessened but, in the meantime, the ponds along the Maine coast are well filled and toward the end of the first week in September they will be drawn upon. After two weeks or so, it is likely to happen that the lobsters will be less plentiful and somewhat higher than now.

In chatting with an old-time dealer on this highly interesting subject today something was said about the great work of the government hatcheries and the way in which the native waters were supposed to be stocked. The old-time dealer chuckled as he remarked: "Yes; for thirty years that has been going on and yet I do not believe all the men in charge and all the employes put together could count up ten that were brought into evisitence under their theories. Alive Four Months In a Grave. Hari Das, the great Hindoo fakir, who lived in the first half of the nineteenth century, is the only wonder worker of modern times who has ever allowed himself to be buried in the ground for months. In the year 1839 Hari told General Ventura that for a certain fee he would allow a committee to test the claims which he made of being able to die and remain dead for months and then come to life again. When all was arranged Hari hypnotized himself to such a degree that his circulation was wholly stopped. When he was pronounced dead to all intents and purposes he was buried in a garden and a high wall built around the grave. Guards were stationed on the wall so that interference or deception would be impossible. Four months later Hari was exhumed according to agreement, and after a few mixutes of vigorous rubbing of his body by friends he opened his eyes, and an hour later he was well and able to walk. The fakir was clean shaven when buried and is said to have come out of the grave in the same shape, a fact which Ostriches Are Poor Sailors. "Ostriches are terrible creatures to have aboard ship in a storm," said a sailor. "Knocked about by the waves, they fall and break their legs. We once carried eight superb ostriches. They were good sailors. Their sea appetites were fine. But two days from port a nasty gale overtook us. And then it was pitiful to see those ostriches. TRAVELING BY ELEPHANT.

The Uncomfortable Howdah-Fording Rivers and Passing Through Forests. There were two elephants at our disposal and myself and the interpreter rode the first, each occupying half of the howdah. The hawdah has a peculiar and objectionable habit of nearly succeeding in cutting your legs in two. If you hang your legs outside you may pad the edge as much as you like, but if you are new to the game you will wake in the edge as much as you like, but if you are new to the game you will wake in about half an hour from an uneasy doze with the painful conviction that the lower halves of your legs have dropped off.

On squirming up into a position from which you can view the outside world you will see they are still dangling there, but with an irresponsibility which suggests that they have been frayed through to the last shred. Abnormal efforts allow you to drag them safely inside and you think it will be better in future to keep them there.

Dog Fennel to Start Balky Horse. "A balky horse is the meanest thing this side of Memphis," said A. L. Nichols of Brentwood, Tenn. "I had a horse one time that balked on all occasions. "One day he balked and I could not make him move forward to save me. An old negro man happened along and supplied a remedy. Going to the side of the road he pulled a handful of dog fennel weed. Taking this he rubbed it under the horse's nose. The animal shook his head once or twice, raised up his tail the horse's nose. The animal shook his head once or twice, raised up his tail and started down the road in the merriest trot you ever saw. That treatment of dog fennel cured the horse of balking. Portraits on Pipes. The portarit pipe is a fad with certain the portant pipe is a rad with certain wealthy young men. One of the most beautiful is owned by a well known peer who was married to an American beauty a few years ago. He wished to have a pipe made bearing the likeness of his wife, and left several photographs and a statuette of the lady with the carver. A mouth later he received the pipe and a statuette of the lady with the carver. A month later he received the pipe and a bill for £160. A number of pieces of meerschaum had been tried, only to prove defective, and the last piece, which measured eight inches high, seven inches broad, and twelve inches deep, was reduced to a pipe three inches high and two and one-half inches at its widest part. KENOSHA, Wis., Sept. 10.-[Special] -Two men drowned and six others all from Milwaukee, were rescued from death when the sandsucker H. A. Root owned by two Milwaukee men, turned turtle in the river here at about 4 o'clock this morning. A leak is supposed to have been the cause of the disaster, ac cording to Capt. Mooney of Milwaukee.

Capt. Mooney had come into Kenosha river from Milwaukee Monday and took on a load of sand. It was his plan to return to Milwaukee Tuesday morning and so the boat put in at Kenosha. Most of the men went to bed early and Capt. Mooney walked about on the deck for a few minutes taking a last look to see that everything was right. Mooney said this morning that he had a presentiment last night that all was not well and went to sleep unsatisfied.

The first knowledge of the wreck came when the memlers of the crew were when the members of the crew were awakened by a crash, a lurch of the boat and a rush of water. The lookout at the life saving station also heard it and within a few minutes was dragging Mooney through a porthole which the captain had found in the darkness. Caught Like Rats.

Most of the men were shut like rats rats in their berths and that any of them rats in their berths and that any of them escaped is considered almost a miracle.

Capt. Cameron of the life saving crew saw Mooney with his head through the porthole and chopped him out. Mooney was exhausted. "There's another in there," he said. When Cameron and his men reached the other man they found Miller dead.

Zube, when he had recovered sufficiently from the shock to talk, said his dog saved his life. He was awakened by the furious barking of the animal in the firemen's quarters. The place was dark and as Zube slipped away from his berth he landed in several feet of water. He tried to awaken Koney. He was sleeping too soundly. Zube groped about in the darkness for a long time, hearing the shouts of the lifesavers above him. He reached the door of the cabin, but it was tight. The dog found a window which Zube smashed open with his fist. Then he was rescued. By the time that Cameron's men reached the cabin they found Koney drowned. His head was covered with bruises.

He Was Never Irrational.

"I had been with the man two weeks. He was always rational, so far as I had observed, but was never left alone. He leaves two sisters, a mother, and a father, Robert Faries."

The operator of the machine was as ignorant of the accident as the attendant, until his attention was called to it. His roller weighs fourteer tons, and the wheel is so large that he cannot see the ground close by as he runs backward and forward. He did not notice that anything had occurred until people shrieked along the sides of the roadway which he was flattening.

Capt. Mooney's wife was summoned at once from Milwaukee and when she arrived it was found that Mooney would recover. He will be taken to Milwaukee as soon as possible. Mooney is unnerved by the loss of his companions, as well as his own terrible experience. In talking of the disaster at the life saving station he said:

A recent test of oils for road making n Kansas showed that the residuum rom the refinery was superior to any of in Kansas showed that the residuum from the refinery was superior to any of the crude oils, one gallon of the residuum being equal to two to four of crude oil. In order to determine the value of this material for road making, says Country Life in America, a road bed was prepared in sandy soil. After grading it was ploughed four and a half inches deep and harrowed.

A harrow preceded and followed each application of the residuum, which was repeated until one gallon had been applied to each square yard. The surface was then smoothed and rolled.

After considerable use the surface of the road became dusty and another application was made. Prof. Dickens reports that the road is perfectly satisfactory, being firm but not hard.

Another stretch of road treated in the same way sustained loads weighing three tons and more during wet weather without being damaged. Not even a break in the surface crust occurred. Oils containing less than 30 per cent. of asphaltum are not fit for road purposes.

In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription," from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs! These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however brought before a fury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traducers came to grief and their base slanders were refuted.
