HOTELS MUST NOT BAR OUT JEWS.

NEW YORK COURT HOLDS LANDLORD HAS NO RIGHT TO DISCRIMINATE.

EXCLUSION IS NOT LEGAL.

Person's Creed Must Not Operate Against Him—Peculiar Features of Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The right of a hotel to exclude Jews was passed on in a decision handed down by Justice Waughoe Lynn in the municipal court case of Watson against Abbott.

A peculiar feature of the case is that none of the persons directly interested in its outcome is a Jew, that all of the lawyers who argued the matter were Christians, with the exception of one who was argued against the Jews, and that the judge who decided it is an American.

It appeared that George H. Abbott, a lawyer of this city, had rented an apartment at the Hotel Renaissance, which was a place where Jews were excluded.

Landlord Had Anti-Jewish Rule. Before this could be done, however, Mr. Abbott was told that the arrangements could not be made.

PILOT WHO BUMPED ROOSEVELT IS FREED.

Officers of the Fowler Not Guilty of Carelessness in Navigation.

ECHO OF MISSISSIPPI CLASH. River Boat Struck Executive's Son Hard That President Hit His Head on Side of Cabin.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 21.—United States Inspectors Walter and Hodge of Memphis, who yesterday began the trial of the case of the officers and crew of the steamer Dick Fowler, charged with reckless navigation on the occasion of President Roosevelt's trip down the Mississippi river on October 3, have returned a verdict of not guilty.

Roosevelt Bumped Head. At the time of the trip of the President down the river the Fowler was filled with admirers of the President, ranging from the highest of the President's friends to the lowest of the President's enemies.

The result was that while the passengers on the Fowler were industriously shouting "Hurrah for Teddy," the Fowler was struck by the boat carrying the President's party.

DESERTED AND ROBBED TOLEDO WOMAN SAYS HUSBAND LEFT HER PENNILESS.

Substituted Waste Paper in Wife's Purse During Night—Came Here Last Week.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 20.—A woman in Milwaukee, penniless and alone, is the deplorable condition of Mrs. Schmidt, who claims her husband deserted her on Tuesday last, and took with him all her savings, leaving her with nothing but the clothes she wears.

Less than a week ago Mrs. Schmidt came to Milwaukee with her husband from Toledo, and he boarded at 416 Jackson street, while her husband pretended to be seeking employment.

The woman claims that her husband came here, but from time to time advanced her husband small sums until he had secured $222 in all.

WAUKESHA DEPUTY SHERIFF MUST PAY DAMAGES TO MISS ANNA F. KREB.

JURY IS OUT FOUR HOURS. Judge's Charge Is Favorable to Plaintiff, Who Also Told a Convincing Story.

WAUKESHA, Wis., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—After being out but a little over four hours, the jury in the Krebs-Heintz breach of promise case at 3 o'clock this afternoon rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, Miss Anna F. Krebs of this city recommending that the defendant, Deputy Sheriff Leonard F. Heintz of North Prairie, be ordered to pay her $1800 for pain to her feelings.

Evidence Favorable Plaintiff. Interest in the case was intense, both parties being well known throughout the county. The fact that Judge Griswold's charge in the morning was in favor of the plaintiff, led many to believe that the defendant would be ordered to pay the damages.

The testimony at the closing session of the trial this morning was interesting and the courtroom was crowded.

Said Proposal Was a Joke. Heintz denied that he ever promised to marry the plaintiff and testified that he had never seen her until the day after the trial.

The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, Miss Anna F. Krebs of this city recommending that the defendant, Deputy Sheriff Leonard F. Heintz of North Prairie, be ordered to pay her $1800 for pain to her feelings.

On or about January 1, 1909, electric cars will not only be running between Milwaukee and Sheboygan, but they will be operated between Fond du Lac and this city. This information was given out this morning by one who is connected with the Milwaukee Northern Electric Railway company which is now operating its cars between Milwaukee and Post Washington. The grading for the extension northwest of Cedarburg has been commenced and much of it will be done this fall before the ground freezes. Branch lines from the main road to N. 14th Milwaukee and to the Lindworm farm will soon be placed in operation, according to the report received today. A low fare, 3 cents, will be charged for service between the Lindworm farm and the city, and it is understood that the present fare from North Milwaukee to the city will be materially reduced. It is expected that the line to Sheboygan will be in operation by May 1st of next year or soon after. The work on the Fond du Lac branch will then be rushed to completion, and cars may be running to that city

Mrs. Charles Baetz, who underwent an operation at St. Agnes' hospital in Fond du Lac on last week Wednesday, is slowly improving. Mrs. Frank Goetz, who underwent an operation the same day, died the following Saturday and was buried on Monday. Mrs. Goetz, who was a former resident of Dundee, but who has resided in Fond du Lac the past four years, is survived by her husband, six daughters and two sons who have the sympathy of this community in their sad bereavement. —The time is now here for subscribing for various magazines, so place your subscriptions at Geo. H. Schmidt's Book Store. Dean Curtiss on the Chicago International Stock Show. THE VALUE OF AN D. L. At the first of second show of the International Live Stock Exposition, a young farmer from Iowa was attracted by an exhibit of improved corn. The uniformity and excellence of the product appealed to the eye and the words of the young man in charge of the booth kept ringing in the farmer's ears. He resolved to test the merits of improved blood in seed corn. He purchased a bushel of the best corn he could buy, at what seemed like a long price. Then he prevailed on a successful and reliable corn breeder to let him have ten ears of his choicest corn at a still higher price. He took this corn home to his Iowa farm and went to work to reproduce it and make it better. He gave it close and intelligent attention for several years. Last winter he came to the short course at Ames with an exhibit of corn and won the grand championship for a single ear. The ear of corn was pronounced the most perfect that had ever been seen. It sold at public auction for $150, a rate of over $8,000 a bushel. This ear in corn competition was as outstanding as a young Abbottsburn in Shorthorn excellence. It was not a freak or an accident. The same exhibitor, the same year, produced two other ears, each good enough for grand championship, with the first out of the way. This young farmer, who got his inspiration and higher ideals at the International Live Stock Exposition, has sold seed corn to hundreds of farmers in Iowa and adjoining states, a number of whom have been winners at prominent shows. This is a single instance of the value of a higher ideal in agriculture. There are hundreds of similar cases at each recurrence of the International Live Stock Exposition, though the results may not be as striking as in this case. When John Kaskin, the great creator of higher art and ideals, was a boy, he often accompanied his father on his travels. In visiting the great art galleries the father always preceded him and selected the pictures representing the higher types of art and took care that the son did not see these of inferior grade. The father was molding the son's mental conceptions to higher ideals in art. The result was that Kaskin became the master mind of his time in his chosen field. The International Live Stock Exposition affords the same high ideals in agriculture. Its value from year to year to this, the greatest creative industry known to man, cannot be measured or fully estimated. Its lessons become more potent, more practical and more imperative with each succeeding year. C. F. CURTISS, Denn Agricultural, Iowa State College. The International Live Stock Exposition will be held at Chicago from November 30 to December 7, 1907. Milwaukee Northern Railway (From Evening Wisconsin Nov. 15.) On or about January 1, 1909, electric cars will not only be running between Milwaukee and Sheboygan, but they will be operated between Fond du Lac and this city. The work on the Fond du Lac branch will then be rushed to completion, and cars may be running to that city before the first day of the year 1909.

This branch will take in the city of West Bend and the villages of Kewaskum, Campbellsport and Elmer, as well as Lake de Neveu, a summer resort about five miles southeast of Fond du Lac. Mileage books on both the Sheboygan and Fond du Lac lines will be sold so that by buying a book, the patron will get the benefit of a rate which will be below the 2 cent fares which are charged on the steam routes. The power house at Post Washington will supply the current for feeding a part of both lines. This is operated by large gas-producing engines which have attracted considerable attention from railroad men in all parts of the country on account of the small amount of coal that is used and the few men that are employed to run the plant. Faithful to the End. The dunes cracked ominously, the water bubbled in the great pot, and sealed in the shade of a palm the naked savages began to sharpen their cruel knives. "Is there no hope?" murmured the doomed commercial traveler. "None," blessed the ebony chief. "Then," said the young man, pointing to his sample case, "if you are determined to eat me, at least let me ask you, as a last favor, to try our brand of mustard with the feast. I am convinced that one trial will secure you your permanent patronage, and I—" But strong arms seized him here, there was a splash, and all was over.—Los Angeles Times. Sensible Preference. In one of Miss Mulock's stories she says that "a cheerful heart seethes cheerful things" and gives this incident in proof of it: A lady and gentleman were in a lumber yard situated by a dirty, foul-smelling river. The lady said, "How good the pine boards smell!" "Fine boards!" exclaimed the gentleman, "Just smell that foul river!" "No, thank you," was the reply; "I prefer to smell the pine boards." No Reform Wanted. "I hope he'll reform when you are married!" "Why, he spends every cent he earns!" "I know it, but he spends it on me."—Houston Post. Caustic Criticism. Sculptor (to his friend)—Well, what do you think of my bust? Fine piece of marble, isn't it? Friend—Magnificent. Want a pity to have made a bust of it. It would have made a lovely mantelpiece.—Bon Vivant. She Was On. The Doctor—You understand, don't you, that this is only to be used externally? The Patient's Wife—Sure, sir, I'll make him get out of 'bed to drink it.—Harper's Weekly. Face to Face With Work. "Darling, if you refuse me, I don't know what I am to do." "Well, I'm not to blame for that; you should have learned a trade."—Pick Me-Up.
