Requiem mass was read here at St. Michael's church last Tuesday at 9:45 a. m. after which the remains were taken to Kewaskum and thence via rail to Milwaukee where interment took place in Calvary cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS. To all the friends whose sympathy and services were so kindly tendered during the illness of our beloved father and in our time of bereavement, we desire to extend our thanks in the name of all the relatives.

REV. GEO. J. MUENZER, Rector of St. Michael's Church, IN MEMORY OF OUR BELOVED FRIEND "GRANDPA" MUENZER.

A life from our midst is taken, A voice we loved is still; A place in our hearts is vacant, That never can be filled. We cannot tell who next may fall, Beneath the chastening rod, One must be first, but let us all Prepare to meet our God.

We loved you, you, we loved you, But angels loved you more; And they have sweetly called you To your shining shore. The golden gates were opened, A gentle voice said "Come!" And with farewell footsteps, You calmly entered home. Powerful be thy silent slumber, Peaceful in thy grave so low; Then no more our name will know. Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life is fled; And in Heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed.

Take Notice!

SUBS. RIBBONS IN ARREARS. The postmaster general has issued the following order, which went into effect on January 1. It applies to all newspapers which circulate through the mails:

A reasonable time will be allowed publishers to secure renewals of subscriptions, but unless subscriptions are expressly renewed after the term for which they are paid, within the following periods:

Dailies, within three months; Weeklies, within one year; they shall be counted in the legitimate list of subscribers, and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at the second-class postage rate of one cent a pound, but may be mailed at the transient second-class postage rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed.

This order means that subscribers to the STATESMAN who are in arrears for one year or more must renew or pay up their subscriptions at once in order to enable us to continue sending their papers through the mails.

Our readers will find the date of expiration on their paper and by referring to this they can readily see when their subscription expires. If it has expired send us your renewal at your first opportunity so that we can continue to send the STATESMAN to you. KEWASKUM STATESMAN.

The Mysterious Passenger. The captain of a vessel which was bringing to America in the fall of 1792 a mysterious passenger who had come aboard at Hamburg watched the latter so closely that at last the passenger said one day: "Sir, this is not the first occasion upon which I have observed the attentive scrutiny you bestow upon me. May I inquire the reason?"

"Sir," responded the candid captain, "you took passage on my ship as a Dane. I don't believe you're anything of the kind."

The passenger smiled. The smile was full of perspicacity and confidence and was followed with, "Pray tell me, then, what you believe me to be."

At this question Captain Ewing flinched, hesitated and finally blurted out: "Well, to be honest, I think you are a gambler. You've well nigh ruined yourself at home and are now coming to deceive the fools you'll find on shore."

The young man's smile broadened. The next minute he turned grave again, lowered his voice and replied: "Captain Ewing, as you have studied me during this voyage, so I have studied you. I have come to the conclusion that you are a man to be trusted. I am Louis Philippe, duc d'Orleans, eldest son of that Louis Philippe d'Orleans who was slain by the guillotine on the 7th of November, almost three years ago."

SAN FRANCISCO.

ITS GOVERNMENT, ITS PEOPLE AND ITS GROWTH.

(By William Henry Ferber) My old neighbors may be interested to hear something regarding the "golden west" whether a city yarn or a desert patch boom. In the fire of April 18th to 21st, 1906, about as large an area as the business district of the east and west sides of the city of Milwaukee was totally destroyed by fire, because the water mains which were destroyed left the city dry.

The reason that the earthquake destroyed the water mains was because they were constructed under the contract system, cheap, cheap, cheap—for you must bear in mind that graft had entered every department of the municipal government of that city, from mayor to dog-catcher. The associated press is now giving you news about Mr. Abe Reuf, the grafter and ex-mayor, Eugene Schmitz, the grafter, and other grafters; and each time a reporter writes he says a lot of things which he imagines; regardless of any real truth; for he says these things for pay; for money.

Here is a sample of the former San Francisco government as run by Abe Reuf, political boss, attorney, leader, wirepuller. Whenever a saloon was to be licensed or refused one, Reuf was appealed to (with money) to appear before the license committee and procure one for the saloon. When ever a building was to be erected, the ring of the building inspection dictated what changes must be made, or they prohibited its erection, and so Reuf secured the permit (for money).

Whenever the axe was hung over a fireman or a policeman's head, the victim must appear before Reuf, and may even expose his cause (for money). Reuf dictated every nomination in all the conventions, made and unmade the candidates, and elected or defeated them. He held in his hand the destinies of the Democrats, the Republicans and also the Union Labor party, in fact he dictated to all three, and ruled them all. But I will say that he never dictated to the Socialists, nor did they look to Reuf for help. So you can imagine how a big city was cursed, being in the hands of Boss Reuf, and how hard it was to shake him off.

Had San Francisco been ruled by the people instead of by Reuf and his grafters, the city would not have been destroyed, for the water mains would have withstood the earthquake and the fire department would have been competent to save a large portion of the city. Right here I wish to say that the United States Mint was saved and also the postoffice building, and were really the only buildings saved with the exception of the county record office and the Southern Pacific Railway depot and ferry office. The government buildings were saved by the officials and troops, while the depot was saved by the railway employees in spite of the fire department or city's aid. But the big fire has had the effect of opening the eyes of the people to a better state of affairs, better government, better utilities, better streets, better buildings and better safeguards.

The grafters are overthrown. Other men are now in command and administering public affairs. Better buildings are being built, more substantial and more fire-proof. Better and wider streets are now being provided, with better grades, better pavement and better walks; though it will be from five to ten years before the scars of the great disaster will be fully healed, and all the damage repaired.

There is going to be an era of civic righteousness to follow the epoch of rottenness. Men and women are now working for civil service reform, where merit is to be considered and politics eliminated. Public officials are to be required to perform their duties for which they were elected instead of fixing the political fences and running the political machinery for the benefit of a few bosses.

San Francisco is not to pass into history like Babylon or Carthage or Nineveh and Tyre; and tho' its very name has been a by-word for all that is wicked, sinful, rotten and loathsome; it will eventually arise like a Phoenix from its own ashes, a better, purer, cleaner and safer city; a paradise for the home-seeker, a haven for the sea-farer and a great metropolis of commerce; a great mart for the products of its fertile fields and orchards, and the distributing center for the western coast states. Such are the possibilities of this great city with its natural harbor; the best naturally fortified city of the world. But there is still much need for a higher sense of civic righteousness, higher intelligence, and moral education for the ethics, honor, and the finer instincts among the native Californians are very low. The reforms will and must be made by the men and women who come from the east; as the majority of the native sons and daughters are not refined people. As a rule they are common and vulgar.

Optimist and Pessimist. "How are the meals at your hotel?" "Pretty good." "That means pretty bad, eh?"—Exchange.

CHAPTER II--(Continued). Here he pulled himself together resolutely and met the young man who was approaching him with the pleasant greeting: "Hallo, Vincent! Come for your tennis! Lory Avril is under the trees over the pond..."

John realized his own complete isolation with some sharp pang which no one was allowed to receive. He thought of the fact of his namelessness to Lory Avril and her aunt, Miss Challis, and then with characteristic self-repression he put an end to the subject by saying...

John's thoughts ran persistently on the woman who had stolen the papers and on the following circumstances which month or two before Lory Avril's death had come to see him by appointment. A lady who gave no name, only the word for it, had called on him...

John had more vigor than elegance. "All the same, as you have started the subject, aren't you dying at rather high age?" A bright and glowing author and an income still in the future.

John Deno returned to his room, sealed and stamped his letters, and then sat at the table, his hand on his forehead, as he reviewed the papers which he had in his hands, a prey to very grim perplexity.

"For I will not conceal from you, Mr. Deno," said the old man in a moment of confidence, "that I have always expected to see you here, sitting at this table, in my study, and reading my book..."
