

Kewaskum Statesman.

SATURDAY, FEB. 1, 1908.

CORRESPONDENCE.

WALCOURT WHISPERINGS. Miss Augusta Schultz visited relatives at New Fane Sunday.

Town Treasurer C. W. Boetz of Dundee collected taxes here Monday. Roland Pieper and Ella Hussman are visiting in Milwaukee this week.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Byrnes of Empire spent Sunday with relatives here.

William Bartelt of Hustisford visited relatives here a few days of last week.

Mrs. C. Pieper is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. Rose, in Dodge county this week.

Mrs. Glen Ostrander is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vangilder, in Fond du Lac this week.

ST. MICHAELS MITES. Miss Susan Meeth of Milwaukee is visiting at her home here.

A party was held at Math. Scheldewiler's place last Thursday.

Albert Rodenkirch was a visitor at Port Washington Saturday and Sunday.

Ernest Bethke and Miss Mary Schiltz were the guests of the Dricken family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Roden gave a party to their friends Thursday evening on the occasion of the former's birthday.

Mrs. Koenen and daughter left on last Saturday for their home in Port Washington after spending the past two months here with Joe Rodenkirch and family.

We have been told that Casper Klunke traded his farm on the property of Max Grubbe at Boltonville. We extend our best wishes for the success of Mr. Klunke in his new business quarters.

ELMHORE ETCHINGS. Grandma Elizabeth Senn is on the sick list.

Mike Gantenben St. spent from Sunday until Wednesday at Milwaukee.

Miss Veronica Lefebvre spent last Tuesday evening with Miss Susan Schill.

Miss Laura Schimmelpennig spent Monday afternoon with Miss Helen Mathieu.

Miss Rosa Farris of Fond du Lac is learning the art of dressmaking with Mrs. Helen A. Schill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kleinhaus and son Norman visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Beisbier at St. Kilian.

Peter Jaeger and the Misses Marie Mangan and Susan Schill attended the dance in the new school house in the Jaeger district.

Misses Della and Viola Scholl, Helen and Stella Mathieu, Susan and Maggie Schill were out for a sleigh ride Monday evening.

Rev. S. Romeis and family of Hoisington, Kans., have arrived here. The new pastor will deliver his first sermon here at the Reformed church on Sunday, February 2nd, at 10 a. m.

Those from here who attended the dance at New Fane were: Misses Mary and Gertrude Becker, Helen Mathieu, Susan Schill, Veronica Lefebvre and Florence Whipple of Milwaukee, Messrs. Peter and Frank Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Bartel Becker, Peter, John and Eddie Lefebvre, Andrew and Herman Schrauth and Albert Leisses.

BECHWOOD BEAMLETS. Julius Glander spent last Sunday in West Bend.

Herman Krahn spent Tuesday with A. W. Butzke.

Ed. Simon is at present employed at James Mulvey's.

B. C. Hicken went to Kewaskum Friday on business.

Albert Sauter went to Kewaskum on business Monday.

Charles Krahn went to Kewaskum Saturday on business.

Noah Seaman of Adell was a business caller here on the 23rd.

Oscar Krautkramer of Milwaukee is visiting relatives and friends here.

J. A. Dvorak spent from Saturday to Monday in Milwaukee on business.

L. H. Janssen and force of men are putting up his supply of ice this week.

Henry Reis and wife spent Tuesday afternoon with A. W. Butzke and wife.

W. L. Gatzke and Frank Bartelt were at Kewaskum last Monday on business.

Ott. Arndt had several teams hauling wood from Fred Backhaus' place Tuesday.

Charles Schmidt spent several days of last week with his parents at Armstrong Corners.

Mrs. John Krutkramer went to Milwaukee last Monday to visit relatives and friends.

A. J. Koch of Milwaukee spent several days with his mother, Mrs. Chas. Koch and family.

A. C. Hoffmann attended the seventh annual poultry show at Milwaukee last week.

Wednesday was the coldest day here this winter. The thermometer registered 15 below zero.

Henry Mulvey of Hingham spent Tuesday and Wednesday with his brother James and family.

KOHLVILLE CORRESPONDENCE. Winter seems to have come at last. Grandma Krueger is on the sick list.

Jacob Hamm of Mayville is sojourning this week with his son Albert and family.

Arthur Benedum of Milwaukee was the guest of Adam Kohl and wife last Sunday.

Adam Schmitt and wife of Elmora called on Adam Kohl and wife last Saturday.

Tax Collector William Kippenhan of Wayne was in our burg last Tuesday collecting taxes.

Messrs. Nic. Mertes and R. B. Demers of Kewaskum were callers in our burg last Tuesday.

Fred McEnthron of Mayville, agent for the Watkins remedies, called on his trade here last Wednesday.

Fred Waechter of West Bend moved his household goods into the Franz Bartelt residence last Saturday.

Quite a few from this vicinity attended the opening dance at John Galle's Hall at Wayne last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meyer and daughter Annie returned last Monday after a few days' visit at Milwaukee.

The people of our little hamlet were aroused early last Tuesday morning when fire was discovered in Ferdinand Sell's barn. In an hour's time the building was consumed and the rear end of the house which stands but fifteen feet away was all ablaze. However with the prompt action and untiring efforts of the neighbors the house was saved and in another hour's time the fire was under control. The origin of the fire is not known but is supposed to have started from hot ashes. The loss is partially covered by insurance in the Kewaskum Mutual Insurance company. Mr. and Mrs. Sell wish to express their thanks to those who assisted in extinguishing the fire.

BOLTONVILLE BUDGET. R. N. A. meeting Saturday evening. The ice harvest is about over for this season.

Ben Woog is slowly recovering from a serious illness.

Miss Jessie Row was the guest of Miss McCormack over Sunday.

Stautz & Eisentrant were working their new feed shredder Wednesday.

Wednesday was the coldest day on record for this year as it was 10 below zero.

Charles Plaum and wife are grieving over the death of their year-old daughter.

The school board made its annual inspection of the schools on Friday and were favorably impressed.

Mrs. Frohman returned on Sunday from Plymouth and reports her daughter-in-law as recovering rapidly.

Mailcarrier Martin is right on time these days as he makes his trip in a brand new cutter purchased from P. Dries, our dealer.

Rev. Joseph Gravelly (giving his views of the evils of card playing during a pastoral call)—As I was saying, I am in doubt—Parrot (interrupting eagerly)—When you are in doubt play trump!

And no member of that family has been able to account for the parrot's utterance to the satisfaction of the pastor.—London Punch.

A Hard One. Tommy—Say, mamma? Mamma—Well, what is it, Tommy? Tommy—How does a deaf and dumb boy say his prayers when he happens to have a sore finger?—Kansas City Independent.

The Main Thing. "She has the face of a seraph!" declared the enthusiastic friend. "That's all right," said the practical manager, "but has she the backing of an angel?"—Baltimore American.

Chipper. "Will you saw some wood for your dinner?" "No'm, I don't eat wood."—Houston Post.

He who knows most forgives most.—Italian Proverb.

A Tight Squeeze.

Broncho Bob—I hear Dead Eye Pete has been hanged to death by a female grizzly.

Hurricane Bill—Well, that's just like Pete. He never could stand being bugged by a female.—Chips.

Any Port In a Storm.

She—Just imagine! Supposing you were so immensely wealthy that you couldn't possibly spend your income. What would you do? He—Marry you.—New York Mail.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

The Colored Brother's Reason. Booker T. Washington told the story of a negro pastor who was having some difficulty with his flock.

"The old fellow came to me and asked me to help him out," Mr. Washington said. "I went down to the little backwoods country church with him one Sunday. Incidentally I took occasion to inquire among the parishioners a little and found that they had not paid the old man his salary."

"Upon this basis of information I started in to admonish the members of the congregation. I told them that they should pay their pastor; that he had to live; that he had to have his salary."

"In all, I was making a pretty good speech. I had most of the congregation convinced. I think."

"But there was one old fellow in the back of the church that was muzzling during my talk. He would sneeze a little and duck his eyes below the old soft hat he held up to his face. 'We ain't goin' to pay 'im any more salary this year.'"

"The old fellow became so obstreperous that I re-monstrated with him. 'Brother, why are you not going to pay your pastor any more salary this year?' I asked him."

"'Because we done paid him for them same sermons last year,' was the decisive response."

How Prisoners Read. "It is rather pathetic," said a prison chaplain, "the way our inmates read their surreptitious newspapers. It is sad for the poor fellows' eyes too."

"It is agitating the rule for them to read the papers in the cell doors there are peepholes, to which the jailers come noiselessly, seeing that all the rules are enforced."

"The prisoner who simply must read pastes with a bit of porridge his journal up against his cell door beneath the peephole. He sits down on the floor a yard or two away and holds his dustpan in one hand and his brush in the other. In this awkward and wretched position, his eyes nearly popping out of his head from strain, he reads away for dear life."

"And when the jailer's cold, hard eye peers in through the peephole it misses the paper and lights up with some faint appreciation at the sight of the prisoner polishing up his door."—New York Press.

The One Man. A man who was summoned for beating his wife with a brick, put all the blame upon his mother-in-law and was exonerated by the bench for his lack of gallantry.

"Why should I always be the fashion for a man to malign his mother-in-law?" the magistrate remarked. "He is really quite dead among us. I know a man once who never spoke an unkind word to his mother-in-law, never blamed her in the least for his quarrels with his wife and never had the bad taste to complain about her to other people."

The wife beater stared open mouthed as he listened to the recital of the domestic paragon's virtues. Then he said: "Oh, yes, I've heard of that fellow before. His name was Adam"—London Globe.

Bees Comb. Bee comb or beeswax, the material of which the honey cells in the beehive are composed, is a product of a system of chemistry carried on in the "wax pockets" which are located in the abdomen of all working bees. It is a peculiar substance and is said to be analogous to the fats of higher animals. Originally it was supposed that this wax was taken up in an almost pure state from the flowers by the bees, but experiments carried on by the leading botanists and chemists of the world conclusively prove that the bee is capable of elaborating his peculiar wax, although confined to a diet purely saccharin in its nature.

Loaves Pretty Way. Bullion—What pocketbook is that you are advertising for? Jimson—My own, of course. "Get out!" "Containing a roll of bank notes and a large number of checks. Finder can keep money if he will return papers." "Get out! You don't see a roll of bank notes or a check once a year?" "No, but Bertha Bullion's father takes the paper I advertised in, and he'll see that advertisement."

"Humph! Where did you get the money to pay for that big ad.?" "Bertha lent it to me, bless the darling!"—London Answers.

He Explained. The stranded automobilist was working over his car. Up came a sarcastic follower of the plow. "How many horsepower is she?" he inquired.

"Sixty," replied the automobilist. "Then, by heck, why don't she go?" "Because, my friend, thirty are pulling each way."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fearfully Foxy. "I work a foxy scheme on my boy. He'd rather wash the dishes than wash his hands, so I let him wash the dishes."

"What's the foxy part?" "Why, he gets his hands clean."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Lucid Interval. Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

True Business Instinct. Ed was a mighty bright negro belonging to a family in Columbia, Tenn. He had been a faithful servant for many years, and by saving and carefully investing his wages he had leased the usual thriftlessness attributed with more or less justice to the majority of his race.

His master was an attorney, and one morning before he had arisen, the lawyer was called upon by Ed, who said: "Say, boss, Ah wants yo' ter draw me up a mortgage."

"A mortgage?" asked his master. "What do you want a mortgage for?" "Well, Ah's done lent Um' Lisha five dollars, an' Ah wants a mortgage on his cow an' calf."

"For how long have you lent the money?" "Fo' one moof."

"One month? Why, the interest on that amount for that time would't pay for the paper a mortgage is written on."

"Boss," said Ed, scratching his head, "Ah ain't carin' nuffin' fo' dat interest. Ah jes' wants dat niggah's cow an' calf."—Judge.

No Place For Him Here. "Your honor," said a prosecuting attorney in a backwoods court, "the prisoner at the bar is charged with killing one of the most exemplary citizens of this county, Thomas Jones, your honor, was in every respect a model man. He was a member of the church; he was never known to bet on horses, play poker, drink whisky or use tobacco. He—"

"Hold on a minute," said the judge. "You say he never bet on a horse?" "That's what I said, your honor."

"Never was known to play a game?" "Never, your honor."

"And he never drank whisky?" "Never drank a drop in his life."

"And he didn't chew tobacco?" "Never took a chew in his life."

"Well, then," said the judge, "I don't see what he wanted to live for. There wasn't anything in life for him, and I don't see why he ain't about as well off dead as alive. Release the prisoner, Mr. Sheriff, and call the next case."—Nashville American.

A Too Busy Life. The messenger from Mars surveyed the multitude which had gathered to meet him with undiluted interest. Nor did he hesitate to propound such inquiries as his curiosity prompted.

"Where do you all live?" he asked, speaking generally, saying, "We have never yet learned to live in the present without interruption of business, don't you know."—Puck.

Natural Toothbrushes. Natives of Somaliland have the whitest and best teeth of any people in the world, and the reason is not far to seek. Whenever they are idle they may be found rubbing their teeth with small pieces of wood—little twigs which are covered with a soft bark and which system of chemistry carried on in the "wax pockets" which are located in the abdomen of all working bees. It is a peculiar substance and is said to be analogous to the fats of higher animals. Originally it was supposed that this wax was taken up in an almost pure state from the flowers by the bees, but experiments carried on by the leading botanists and chemists of the world conclusively prove that the bee is capable of elaborating his peculiar wax, although confined to a diet purely saccharin in its nature.

Loaves Pretty Way. Bullion—What pocketbook is that you are advertising for? Jimson—My own, of course. "Get out!" "Containing a roll of bank notes and a large number of checks. Finder can keep money if he will return papers." "Get out! You don't see a roll of bank notes or a check once a year?" "No, but Bertha Bullion's father takes the paper I advertised in, and he'll see that advertisement."

"Humph! Where did you get the money to pay for that big ad.?" "Bertha lent it to me, bless the darling!"—London Answers.

He Explained. The stranded automobilist was working over his car. Up came a sarcastic follower of the plow. "How many horsepower is she?" he inquired.

"Sixty," replied the automobilist. "Then, by heck, why don't she go?" "Because, my friend, thirty are pulling each way."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fearfully Foxy. "I work a foxy scheme on my boy. He'd rather wash the dishes than wash his hands, so I let him wash the dishes."

"What's the foxy part?" "Why, he gets his hands clean."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Lucid Interval. Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may heat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.

Doctor—Has your husband had any indigestion since he was here last? "Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his brain, and should keep it free from any evil that may

Kewaskum Statesman.

SATURDAY, FEB. 1, 1908

C. & N. W. RAILWAY TIMETABLE. Table with columns for GOING NORTH, GOING SOUTH, and Kewaskum-Campbellport.

LAGONICAL LOCALS.

Woodmen meeting next Tuesday. Newton Rosenheimer Sunday at Milwaukee. Val Dreher has been on the sick list the past week.

Miss Clara Strobel left for Milwaukee Thursday. Candelmas day tomorrow, watch for the ground hog. H. W. Krahn was at Milwaukee on business Tuesday.

John Muehleis was at Milwaukee on business yesterday. Charles Guth of Milwaukee was a village visitor Tuesday. Rev. Erber spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Milwaukee.

Lawrence Haessly began filling his ice house last Tuesday. S. C. Wollensak was at Milwaukee on business Thursday. Miss Clara Raether is doing some sewing for Mrs. Henry Fick.

Miss Elsie Backhaus returned home from Milwaukee Tuesday. Martin Haessly and wife of Elmore were village visitors Sunday. Hicks almanacs for 1908 for sale at this office. Price 30 cents.

Rev. Erber officiated at a funeral at Fillmore Monday in place of Rev. Barth, pastor of the Fillmore church, who was on the sick list. John and Joseph Schladweiler of Farmer, S. D., returned home last Tuesday after a few weeks' visit here with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wendorf had their infant child christened by Rev. Greve at the Ev. Lutheran St. Lucas church last Sunday. Everhardt Peters, a pioneer resident of the town of Barton, died suddenly of paralysis last Monday. The funeral was held Thursday.

FOR SALE—Cedar fence posts, various sizes at prices that are right can now be had at my place.—Michael Johannes Jr. NOTICE—Fire insurance agents doing business in the village can pay the 2 per cent fire tax to the department treasurer at the Central Hotel.

FOR SALE CHEAP—A 3 1/2 H. P. steam engine and an Allis 6 roller feed mill. Write or inquire of Mat. Rempel, Kewaskum, Wis. 3t. Call at Herman Merks' Fair Store for bargains in clothing, furnishing goods, shoes, etc. Goods will be sold regardless of cost.—Herman Marks. 2t

Mrs. Adolph Perschbacher from West Bend spent part of the week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schleif, and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Fancher Calvin and Mrs. F. C. Gottsleben acted as installing officers at the installation held by the Royal Neighbors at West Bend last Monday evening.

Save money by waiting for our February Watch Sale. During this month we give you a ten per cent discount for every cash Watch purchase made.—Mrs. K. Endlich. Fred Metzner of Kohlsville, Mr. Wollweber of Allenton and the Misses Dora Shuppel and Katie Baumgartner of Wayne were guests of Andrew Groth and wife Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Driessel received word that their son, Dr. A. J. Driessel and wife of St. Cloud, Wis., were the happy parents of a ten pound baby boy. Congratulations doctor. John Schoenharr of Breckinridge, Minn., is spending the week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schoenharr. Mr. Schoenharr conducts a large shoe store in Breckinridge.

FOR SALE—A 114 acre farm located 2 1/2 miles northwest of Kewaskum, all land can be cultivated and good buildings on place. Inquire of John Oppenorth, R. R. 2 Kewaskum. 4t. Grand prize mask ball at Frank Kohn's Hall, New Fane, on Saturday evening, February 8. Five prizes will be awarded. Music by the Ladies' Orchestra of Milwaukee. All are invited.—Frank Kohn. 2t

Robert Joost traded his 40 acre farm in the town of Auburn and $1,500 for 96 acres of the Kojelsch farm near St. Michaels with J. B. Dav last Wednesday. Mr. Dav sold the Joost farm again on Thursday to William Baum for $4,000. Andrew Heilmann had the misfortune of spraining his ankle last Thursday morning while walking from his house to the barn. Mr. Heilmann wishes to inform his customers that although he will not be able to be around for some time, he will have fresh bread daily which he will receive at 10 a. m.

The German M. E. services on February 9th will be held in the Temperance Hall both morning and evening at the usual hours. On Sunday evening, February 9th, the pastor will preach an English sermon on the subject: "Is the Gospel of Jesus Christ true." At which occasion the revival meetings will begin. The second blizzard of the season passed over this section last Sunday. The snowfall which came with the wind drifted the roads badly by Monday morning. Traffic on the railroads was not much delayed. On Wednesday morning we experienced the first zero weather when the thermometer showed 14 below.

Wayne Waftings. John Galles spent Tuesday at Kewaskum on business. George Schmidt of Kewaskum was here on business Monday. John B. Murphy spent last Tuesday with friends at Campbellsport.

The youngest daughter of William Hess broke her collar bone last Saturday. John Flasch and wife of St. Kilian spent Sunday with the John Galles family. Mrs. Philip Faber is on the sick list this week. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Viola and Ervin Eckel of Allenton spent Saturday and Sunday here with friends. George Kippenhan is laid up with the grip this week. We hope he will soon recover. Candelmas day Sunday. Watch for the ground hog or for another six weeks' winter.

Mrs. Peter Hess of the town of Barton spent Saturday and Sunday with her son William. We had quite a snow storm and very cold weather last Sunday and part of this week. Otto Bartelt and wife of New Prospect spent the forepart of this week here with the Kippenhans. Sophie Seibert of Allenton called here on Jacob Kudeck and wife and other friends Saturday and Sunday.

Max Spangenberg, the hardware traveling salesman from Milwaukee, called on our blacksmiths Wednesday. Fred Borchart and wife of Theresa spent Saturday and Sunday with the latter's parents and other friends here. Lizzie Schmidt and cousin, George Schmidt, spent part of the week at Knowles with the Herman Marosa family.

Some of our young folks surprised William Hess and Anna Niesius last week Thursday evening. All had a good time. Joseph Sukowaty sold two horses last week, one to John Yogest of Kohlsville for $150 and one to William Arnet of Wayne for $155. The dance at John Galles' Hall last Saturday evening was largely attended by people from West Bend, Kewaskum, Allenton, St. Anthony, St. Kilian, Kohlsville and Campbellsport. All enjoyed a good time.

NEW PROSPECT NOTES. Margaretha Sausen visited at John Ruzel's for a few days this week. W. J. Romaine and family visited at Charles Romaine's last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartelt are visiting all their relatives for about two weeks. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Bartelt, a baby girl last Tuesday. Congratulations.

Otto Hausfuch's horse ran away last Sunday evening. But little damage was done. N. C. Enders, who is traveling for A. F. Watke of Fond du Lac, was here on business last Tuesday. L. B. Van Blarcom came out here last week to pay his patrons the balance for their milk for the season. August G. Bartelt Jr. was to Dundee on business last Tuesday and August the third was to Robert Bartelt's the same day.

William Heberer finished sawing lumber for Herman Molkenhine this week. From there he moved to Ramoth's near Round Lake. J. B. Barnes, William Bartelt and Charles Spradlow were fishing through the ice on Crooked Lake last Sunday. They caught twenty-five pickerel. Banqueters Blown Up. Seated at a banquet board at the home of George Goding, manager of the Mavville office of the Wisconsin Telephone company, fifteen guests, members of bowling teams, were knocked senseless by the terrific explosion of a quantity of dynamite on Saturday night.

When the smoke had cleared away and consciousness had been recovered by some of the victims of the accident, it was found that Mr. Goding had suffered severe injuries, two fingers and the thumb of his right hand being blown off. Leo Schwartz had been hit on the breast with a portion of the explosive and seriously burned about the head and shoulders. It is not thought, however, that he will lose his eyesight. Other guests suffered loss of hair and eyebrows and serious and painful burns. The banquet guests were posing for a flashlight photograph of the assemblage and the accident was due to the fact that some one had allowed some high explosive to become mixed with the flashlight powder. Medical assistance was at once called and the sufferers were removed to their respective homes. The dining room of Mr. Goding's residence was wrecked, several articles of furniture being blown through the windows. Notice to Rural Route Patrons. I am instructed to order all patrons of Rural Free Delivery to provide themselves with a liberal supply of post stamps in advance. The placing of pennies in mail boxes causes a delay and is a hardship imposed upon rural carriers that should and must be done away with. The Fourth Assistant Postmaster General in his letter of instructions suggests that for the benefit of your carrier you place in your mail box a small tin cup in which you deposit the amount of which you wish to purchase stamps. I would advise a fifty cent supply of post stamps be kept on hand at all times. A. G. KOCH, P. M.

CAMPBELLSPORT. Loy Goss of Chicago spent Sunday here. Joe Straub left for Chicago last Tuesday. Arthur Damm was on the sick list last week. A. S. Schwandt spent Monday at Milwaukee. James Fuller spent last Tuesday at Fond du Lac. William Ebert of Fond du Lac called here Tuesday. Miss Lillian Knickel spent Monday at Kewaskum. Joseph Schreck of Milwaukee called here Saturday. Mrs. Olga Klotz was a Milwaukee visitor Monday. Mrs. H. Spoerl was a Fond du Lac visitor Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Flood of Eden spent Saturday here. J. E. Ward and wife spent Saturday at Fond du Lac. S. Grossen was a business caller at Fond du Lac Friday. Found, part of a ladies' fur, owner call at the drug store. H. J. Paas transacted business at Fond du Lac Tuesday. A. W. Zickert of Fond du Lac was a caller here Saturday. Oscar Bohnes of Milwaukee called on friends here Sunday. Joseph Haessler drove to Parnell on business Wednesday. Mrs. D. Knickel left Monday for a visit at Helenville, Wis. Peter Hahn was at Fond du Lac on business Wednesday. A new line of wall paper has just been received by J. H. Paas. Miss Sidonia Ertz has returned from a month's stay in Milwaukee. Several from here attended the dance at Lomira Sunday evening. Miss Marie Haessly of Fond du Lac visited here a few days this week. W. F. Schmidt of Fond du Lac was in the village on business Tuesday. Miss Mae Crosby of Cascade boarded the train here Sunday for Oshkosh. Al Flanagan attended the Curran-Mahoney wedding at Eden Tuesday. Village Treasurer Philip Damm was to Fond du Lac on business Wednesday. Sam Metzke of Barton visited here over Sunday with Rev. C. Zenk and sister. William Martin and James Farrell were Fond du Lac visitors Sunday evening. Farrell & Meixensperger shipped two carloads of live stock to Chicago Monday. Quite a number from here attended the auction held by Christ Becker Tuesday. Otto Teschenorf is making some improvements on the interior of his residence. Watch for the "Train Wreckers" at Brau's Hall the latter part of February. H. A. Wrucke made a business trip to Shebovagan and Milwaukee last Thursday. B. H. Glass and Dr. P. E. Uelmen were business callers at Milwaukee Wednesday. William Colburn of Fond du Lac was in the village on business last Wednesday. Glen Smith, who is attending the Oshkosh Normal school, spent Sunday at home. Miss Lillah Harder, a student at the Oshkosh Normal, is at home sick with the grip. Joseph Haessly and Wallace Ward attended a dance at Armstrong last week Friday evening. Valentines, valentine postals, valentine boxes of candy, etc., for sale at E. F. Martin & Co's store. Mrs. H. Braun was called to South Germantown Monday on account of the serious illness of her mother. Miss Lydia Dunkelof of Racine and Miss Sadie Katen of Oshkosh were guests of William Katen Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Scheurmann have gone to Davenport, Ia., for a two months' visit with relatives. A. W. Bissett, representing the Robert A. Johnson Co. of Milwaukee, called on the trade here Wednesday. Rev. S. Romeis arrived here Tuesday from Hoisington, Kan., to take the pastorate of the Reformed church at Elmore. A sleighing party consisting of about seventy-five young people enjoyed a sleigh ride to Bartelt Jaeger's home Thursday evening. H. A. Wrucke was at Onkfield on Tuesday and Wednesday to adjust a fire loss for the Campbellsport Mutual Fire Insurance Co. The Odd Fellows will give an oyster supper at their hall above E. F. Martin & Co's restaurant tonight (Saturday). Come all. Philip Guenther and C. R. Van De Zande attended the annual meeting of the Theresa Union Telephone Co. at Theresa last Saturday. Miss Anna Curran and Pat. Mahoney were married at Eden Wednesday at 9 a. m. A reception was held at the home of J. E. Ward. Mrs. D. J. O'Connor of Chicago, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goss, returned to her home today. O. S. Raymond of Neillsville stopped off here Saturday on his way home from Jasper, Ind., where he is building a hub and spoke factory.

Miss Mildred Brown, a student at the Oshkosh Normal school, was called home on account of the serious illness of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gage. Charles Vohs and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Knickel and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzel Jr. and children and Miss Grace Knickel spent Sunday at Eden. Frank Cole, Arthur Vohs, Wallace Ward, Joseph Rodler and wife, H. S. Sackett and wife, Ed. Martin, Loy Goss and Alma Martin were at Fond du Lac Sunday evening. The town of Ashford has received a large consignment of stone to be used for building a bridge over the Milwaukee River in the southeast corner of the township. Contractor F. Jewson bought a house, barn and two lots of David Knickel. He will move and remodel same. Mr. Jewson came home with four loads of tools this week. NOTICE—I will set up my sawmill on my lot in the village of Campbellsport and begin sawing early in the spring. Anyone having any logs to saw can haul them there now and mark same properly.—Fred Zuehlke. if

ST. JULIAN SHAPES. Our saloon keepers harvested their ice this week. Amand Grab visited a few days at Milwaukee last week. Andrew Strachota transacted business at Fond du Lac Thursday. Henry Strobel and sisters Mary and Zita spent Saturday at Fond du Lac. Joseph Kalt returned to Milwaukee Saturday after a few weeks' visit here. Rev. Wolf of Neosho and Rev. Eggers of Rubicon called on Rev. Burelbach one day this week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kleinhaus of Elmore spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Betschler here. Barbara Wiesner returned home on Wednesday after a week's visit with the George Wiesner family at Campbellsport. Herman Knar of Stanley, Wis., and William and Joseph Knar of Lomira attended the funeral of their grandfather here Tuesday. DIED—John Rosbeck died Sunday morning at 4:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wenzel Jarous, at Ashford, of bronchitis. He had reached the age of 88 years. Deceased was born in Bohemia, Germany. He emigrated to America in 1855 to his homestead 1 1/2 miles southeast of here where he had lived up to the last two years, after which he went to stay with his daughter, Mrs. W. Janous at Ashford. The funeral took place on Tuesday with Rev. P. I. Burelbach officiating. He leaves to mourn his demise one son, George, and three daughters, Elizabeth (Mrs. Joseph Wondra), Margaret (Mrs. John Petersick) of St. Kilian, and Mary (Mrs. Wenzel Janous) of Ashford. The funeral was well attended with a large delegation from Ashford. SALESMEN WANTED—Our New Chart of the United States and world is now ready. Far ahead of anything of the kind ever published. It is new and is the Rand-McNally quality. Greatest money maker for salesmen we have ever had. Men new to work enthusiastic and say it sells at sight.—Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago, Ill. 3t

FOR SALE—The Mrs. S. Weise house and lot in the village of New Fane. For particulars inquire at J. M. Marx's store, New Fane. if

WE pay 3 per cent for time deposits

CITIZENS STATE BANK, KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

is a good quality to develop and means much to you in the future. You should begin now—it's easy after you once get started. Don't delay. One dollar opens an account in our Savings Department and we'll help it grow at the rate of 3 per cent. BANK OF KEWASKUM, Capital $15,000. Kewaskum, Wisconsin

The Saving Habit

ing a hub and spoke factory. Miss Mildred Brown, a student at the Oshkosh Normal school, was called home on account of the serious illness of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gage. Charles Vohs and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Knickel and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzel Jr. and children and Miss Grace Knickel spent Sunday at Eden. Frank Cole, Arthur Vohs, Wallace Ward, Joseph Rodler and wife, H. S. Sackett and wife, Ed. Martin, Loy Goss and Alma Martin were at Fond du Lac Sunday evening. The town of Ashford has received a large consignment of stone to be used for building a bridge over the Milwaukee River in the southeast corner of the township. Contractor F. Jewson bought a house, barn and two lots of David Knickel. He will move and remodel same. Mr. Jewson came home with four loads of tools this week. NOTICE—I will set up my sawmill on my lot in the village of Campbellsport and begin sawing early in the spring. Anyone having any logs to saw can haul them there now and mark same properly.—Fred Zuehlke. if

ST. JULIAN SHAPES. Our saloon keepers harvested their ice this week. Amand Grab visited a few days at Milwaukee last week. Andrew Strachota transacted business at Fond du Lac Thursday. Henry Strobel and sisters Mary and Zita spent Saturday at Fond du Lac. Joseph Kalt returned to Milwaukee Saturday after a few weeks' visit here. Rev. Wolf of Neosho and Rev. Eggers of Rubicon called on Rev. Burelbach one day this week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kleinhaus of Elmore spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Betschler here. Barbara Wiesner returned home on Wednesday after a week's visit with the George Wiesner family at Campbellsport. Herman Knar of Stanley, Wis., and William and Joseph Knar of Lomira attended the funeral of their grandfather here Tuesday. DIED—John Rosbeck died Sunday morning at 4:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wenzel Jarous, at Ashford, of bronchitis. He had reached the age of 88 years. Deceased was born in Bohemia, Germany. He emigrated to America in 1855 to his homestead 1 1/2 miles southeast of here where he had lived up to the last two years, after which he went to stay with his daughter, Mrs. W. Janous at Ashford. The funeral took place on Tuesday with Rev. P. I. Burelbach officiating. He leaves to mourn his demise one son, George, and three daughters, Elizabeth (Mrs. Joseph Wondra), Margaret (Mrs. John Petersick) of St. Kilian, and Mary (Mrs. Wenzel Janous) of Ashford. The funeral was well attended with a large delegation from Ashford. SALESMEN WANTED—Our New Chart of the United States and world is now ready. Far ahead of anything of the kind ever published. It is new and is the Rand-McNally quality. Greatest money maker for salesmen we have ever had. Men new to work enthusiastic and say it sells at sight.—Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago, Ill. 3t

The Saving Habit

is a good quality to develop and means much to you in the future. You should begin now—it's easy after you once get started. Don't delay. One dollar opens an account in our Savings Department and we'll help it grow at the rate of 3 per cent. BANK OF KEWASKUM, Capital $15,000. Kewaskum, Wisconsin

ing a hub and spoke factory. Miss Mildred Brown, a student at the Oshkosh Normal school, was called home on account of the serious illness of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gage. Charles Vohs and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Knickel and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzel Jr. and children and Miss Grace Knickel spent Sunday at Eden. Frank Cole, Arthur Vohs, Wallace Ward, Joseph Rodler and wife, H. S. Sackett and wife, Ed. Martin, Loy Goss and Alma Martin were at Fond du Lac Sunday evening. The town of Ashford has received a large consignment of stone to be used for building a bridge over the Milwaukee River in the southeast corner of the township. Contractor F. Jewson bought a house, barn and two lots of David Knickel. He will move and remodel same. Mr. Jewson came home with four loads of tools this week. NOTICE—I will set up my sawmill on my lot in the village of Campbellsport and begin sawing early in the spring. Anyone having any logs to saw can haul them there now and mark same properly.—Fred Zuehlke. if

ST. JULIAN SHAPES. Our saloon keepers harvested their ice this week. Amand Grab visited a few days at Milwaukee last week. Andrew Strachota transacted business at Fond du Lac Thursday. Henry Strobel and sisters Mary and Zita spent Saturday at Fond du Lac. Joseph Kalt returned to Milwaukee Saturday after a few weeks' visit here. Rev. Wolf of Neosho and Rev. Eggers of Rubicon called on Rev. Burelbach one day this week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kleinhaus of Elmore spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Betschler here. Barbara Wiesner returned home on Wednesday after a week's visit with the George Wiesner family at Campbellsport. Herman Knar of Stanley, Wis., and William and Joseph Knar of Lomira attended the funeral of their grandfather here Tuesday. DIED—John Rosbeck died Sunday morning at 4:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wenzel Jarous, at Ashford, of bronchitis. He had reached the age of 88 years. Deceased was born in Bohemia, Germany. He emigrated to America in 1855 to his homestead 1 1/2 miles southeast of here where he had lived up to the last two years, after which he went to stay with his daughter, Mrs. W. Janous at Ashford. The funeral took place on Tuesday with Rev. P. I. Burelbach officiating. He leaves to mourn his demise one son, George, and three daughters, Elizabeth (Mrs. Joseph Wondra), Margaret (Mrs. John Petersick) of St. Kilian, and Mary (Mrs. Wenzel Janous) of Ashford. The funeral was well attended with a large delegation from Ashford. SALESMEN WANTED—Our New Chart of the United States and world is now ready. Far ahead of anything of the kind ever published. It is new and is the Rand-McNally quality. Greatest money maker for salesmen we have ever had. Men new to work enthusiastic and say it sells at sight.—Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago, Ill. 3t

FOR SALE—The Mrs. S. Weise house and lot in the village of New Fane. For particulars inquire at J. M. Marx's store, New Fane. if

WE pay 3 per cent for time deposits

CITIZENS STATE BANK, KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

is a good quality to develop and means much to you in the future. You should begin now—it's easy after you once get started. Don't delay. One dollar opens an account in our Savings Department and we'll help it grow at the rate of 3 per cent. BANK OF KEWASKUM, Capital $15,000. Kewaskum, Wisconsin

The Saving Habit

ing a hub and spoke factory. Miss Mildred Brown, a student at the Oshkosh Normal school, was called home on account of the serious illness of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gage. Charles Vohs and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Knickel and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzel Jr. and children and Miss Grace Knickel spent Sunday at Eden. Frank Cole, Arthur Vohs, Wallace Ward, Joseph Rodler and wife, H. S. Sackett and wife, Ed. Martin, Loy Goss and Alma Martin were at Fond du Lac Sunday evening. The town of Ashford has received a large consignment of stone to be used for building a bridge over the Milwaukee River in the southeast corner of the township. Contractor F. Jewson bought a house, barn and two lots of David Knickel. He will move and remodel same. Mr. Jewson came home with four loads of tools this week. NOTICE—I will set up my sawmill on my lot in the village of Campbellsport and begin sawing early in the spring. Anyone having any logs to saw can haul them there now and mark same properly.—Fred Zuehlke. if CLEARING SALE. Before taking our annual inventory we will dispose of a large assortment of remnants in calicos, double fold percales, gingham, flannel, dress goods, ribbons and laces regardless of cost. Do not fail to take advantage of this opportunity as long as the stock lasts. L. ROSENHEIMER, KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

...OPENING DISPLAY... LACES, EMBROIDERIES AND WHITE GOODS FOR 1908. The New Fabrics are here for your inspection. You will find the assortments larger than ever including the newest designs. Prices will be lower than those asked by retail stores in the larger cities. We invite inspection and comparison. Apron Gingham 7c, Dress Gingham 10c, A.F.C. Fine Gingham 12c, Imported Gingham 20c. STOCK REDUCING SPECIALS. Every day we are adding to the number of Bargains from our winter stock which must be closed out. It will pay you to visit this store often during this money saving time. Pick Brothers & Co., WEST BEND'S LEADING STORE.

BOERNER'S. Biggest Bargain Feast of the Season. Great Reductions in Clothing, Great Reductions in Overcoats, Great Reductions in Cloaks, Great Reductions in Furs, Great Reductions in Gloves and Mittens, Great Reductions in Caps, Great Reductions in Sweaters, Great Reductions in Duck Coats. Big 5 and 10c Bargains. It will pay you to come to our store NOW. BOERNER BROTHERS, MERCANTILE CO., WEST BEND, WIS.

WEST BEND BREWING CO. BREWERS OF EXTRA FINE LAGER BEER. BOTTLED OR BARRELED. West Bend, Wisconsin. NIC. MARX, DEALER IN GROCERIES, FLOUR, FEED. MADISON MILLING CO.'S "WHITE DAISY" AND "BEST PATENT" FLOUR. FRESH OYSTERS IN SEASON. WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS. Kewaskum, Wisconsin. THE REV. IRL H. HICKS Almanac and Magazine. Should be in every home in the land. His weather predictions can be relied on only in his own publications. No other publisher is permitted to print them in any form, either with or without credit. His 1908 Almanac excels all former editions in beauty and value, and sells for 35 cents, postpaid. His monthly magazine, WORD AND WORKS, contains his weather forecasts for each month, together with a vast amount of the best family reading and costs $1. a year, one almanac with each subscription. Every earthquake and serious storm for 20 years has been predicted by Prof. Hicks. You cannot afford to be without these publications. Address all orders to Kewaskum Statesman, KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

