

CORRESPONDENCE.

DUNDEE DOINGS.

John Bowers attended the fair in Plymouth Tuesday.

James Murray moved his family to Campbellsport Wednesday.

Henry Powers of Campbellsport was a business caller here Friday.

Quite a number from here attended the county fair in Fond du Lac this week.

Mrs. Foley and daughters Florence and Hannah attended the Rooney-Stokes wedding in Beechwood last Wednesday.

Mrs. Thomas Jordan and three daughters of Barton came up Saturday to visit relatives. They returned Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McDougal and son Gilbert spent from Saturday to Monday night at Omro with John McDougal and family.

Richard Koehn has been engaged to teach the winter term of school here. Mr. Koehn is a graduate of the Oshkosh Normal and has taught here before although he taught in the schools of Sturgeon Bay the past year.

BEECHWOOD BEANLETS.

Willie Hintz and Arthur Dubbin spent Sunday at Waucusta.

Alex. and Ella Laubach were to Kewaskum Tuesday on business.

Miss Leslie Knebas of Milwaukee spent several days here visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hintz and daughter Ida were to Batavia Tuesday on business.

Miss Katie Hoffmann attended the convention at Lomira from Friday to Monday.

Dr. E. L. Morgenroth of Boltonville was a professional caller here on Tuesday evening.

Lewis Heidner and wife from South Dakota and John Tracy of Mitchell visited relatives here last Thursday.

On Sunday evening a large number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Gatzke surprised them. The company arrived and took possession of the E. F. U. Hall with the evident purpose of having a good time. Dancing was indulged in and refreshments of all kinds were served. Everybody reported a fine time.

WAUCUSTA WHISPERINGS.

George Rudolph of Milwaukee spent Sunday here.

Miss Carrie Buslaff went to Fond du Lac Tuesday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burnett August 27th, a daughter.

A. C. Buslaff made a business trip to Campbellsport Wednesday.

Mrs. Jacobitz of West Bend was a caller here last week Thursday.

Mrs. Thomas Flanagan of Minneapolis is visiting relatives here.

Misses Dora Rahling and Agnes McPharlin spent Sunday at Forest Lake.

Max Spangenberg of Milwaukee was a business caller here last week Thursday.

J. B. Odekirk and daughter, Mrs. M. D. Haskin, drove to Fond du Lac last Thursday.

Mrs. F. Buslaff and little son Edmund went to Milwaukee Tuesday to visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. H. Haupt and children returned to their home in Milwaukee after visiting with friends and relatives here for six weeks.

NEWFANE NEWS.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Backhaus, a girl last Friday.

Arthur Laubach of Milwaukee is visiting Joe Laubach and family this week.

T. W. Maxson, cigar dealer from Waupun, made a business call here Wednesday.

Peter Kohn and wife of Kewaskum visited their son, Frank Kohn and wife here Wednesday.

Herman Brusser and wife of Milwaukee are visiting Henry Firks and family since Wednesday.

Stephen Klein, John Mertes and Ed. Glander attended the county fair at Fond du Lac Wednesday.

FELENZ - SCHLADWEILER WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the mission church at St. Mathias last Wednesday, September 2, when Mr. John Felenz of Scott was married to Miss Christina Schladweiler of Auburn, and who has resided in Milwaukee for the past few months. The bride was attired in a very pretty and effective white silk gown. She was attended by her sister Katharine of Milwaukee and Miss Lena Felenz, the groom's sister, both were dressed in gowns of sheer white which gave a harmonious and pleasing effect at the nuptial celebration. The groom was attended by his brother William and John Schladweiler, the bride's cousin. After the ceremony the newly married couple went home, accompanied by members of the family and a few near relatives, to partake of the feast and merrymaking. Rev. Father Joseph Thulle, who tied the nuptial knot, was among the guests. The young couple boarded the south-bound train at six o'clock last Wednesday evening to take a somewhat limited honeymoon trip. After October 15th they will be in their new home, one and one-half miles west of Campbellsport. Many friends extend their cordial wishes to the new couple, both of which are well known and popular for many miles around. May they live happily in their new home.

ST. KILIAN SHARPS.

Andrew Strachota transacted business at Milwaukee yesterday.

Mrs. John Flasch and daughter Laura were callers at Elmore Friday.

Joe Schmitt and John Kleinhaus were Cream City visitors last Sunday.

Quite a number from here attended the county fair at Fond du Lac this week.

George H. Schmidt and Miss Agatha Tiss of Kewaskum called on relatives and friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Victoria Kohler and daughter Tillie spent Sunday with Christ. Schmalz and family at Theresa.

Peter Strobel and family of Milwaukee spent from Saturday until Monday with Kilian Strobel and family here.

George Johnson and sister Agnes and Miss Marguerite Casey of North Ashford called on L. H. Sawyer and wife last Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Kraus died last week Friday at her son Frank's home in Plymouth, aged 89 years, 11 months. The remains were buried here last Monday.

John Byrnes and wife, Steve Byrnes, Pat. Murphy and wife, Franz Harmel and wife of Milwaukee Sunday with Thomas Byrnes and family. They came in an auto.

The base ball game which was played here last Sunday between Lomira and St. Kilian was largely attended. Lomira was defeated by a score of 16 to 4. The batteries for Lomira were Miller, Feilbach and Hirsig; for St. Kilian Weinding and Husting.

NEW PROSPECT NOTES.

Robert Backhaus made a business call here last Thursday.

William Heberer was threshing through here this week.

Herman Jandre made a business trip to Lamertine last week.

John Rinzel was to Kewaskum on business last week Saturday.

Mr. Tierwachter of Fond du Lac was here on business last Monday.

Nick Schwindt and wife of Glenbeulah visited relatives here last Sunday.

William Bartelt has about finished putting up buildings for Herman Molkenthine.

Emil Spradow and William Jandre went to Fond du Lac last Thursday to attend the fair.

Katherine Uelmen returned home last Sunday from a few days' visit with her sister at Oshkosh.

William Polzean, George Wiesner and John Granger are putting up a wall for Nick Hammes this week.

Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Johnson left for home Thursday from the Dr. C. N. Trompen cottage at Forest Lake.

L. B. Van Blarcom and daughter Maude went to Fond du Lac on last Tuesday to attend the county fair.

L. B. Reed, Jim Hodge and Robert Raymond left for Alvin, Texas, last Wednesday to look over the country.

Mrs. Carl Spradow and son Arnold, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Pienning for a few days, returned home last Thursday.

John Andrae, Charles Meinecke and Pat. Kennedy of Kewaskum came out here last Monday to camp at Lake Seven for a few days.

Mrs. Katharina Thoennes, who was visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Rinzel, for a few weeks, returned home to Milwaukee last week Saturday.

ELMORE ETCHINGS.

Mrs. Abraham of Oshkosh spent Wednesday here.

Mrs. Apple of Milwaukee is visiting with the Jacob Guntly family.

G. Blum of Kewaskum called on our burg on business Sunday.

Mrs. John Damm of Campbellsport is visiting with the Gus. Scholl family.

Mrs. Ulrich Kleinschay is visiting relatives at Fond du Lac for a week.

Quite a number from here attended the county fair at Fond du Lac this week.

George Mentz of Milwaukee spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Jacob Scheid.

Miss Tina Doyle of Milwaukee visited a few days with the Kleinhaus family.

Mrs. Apple and Mrs. Jacob Guntly visited with Mrs. Annie Senn Sr. on Wednesday.

Nathan Haessly and family from Theresa visited Sunday at the home of Jacob Haessly.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ. Struebing visited Friday at Wayne at the home of Henry Brandt.

Miss Leona Meyer of Campbellsport spent Sunday with her grandpa, Jacob Rothenberger.

William Senn and wife and brother Ulrich visited Sunday with the Jacob Guntly family.

John Schaefer and family of Campbellsport visited at the home of Jacob Kleinhaus Sunday.

Miss Theresa Haessly and Mrs. John Schranth called on Mrs. Martin Jaeger on Thursday of last week.

George Mathieu and sisters Helen and Stella and Gust. Krueger visited with the Corbett family at Dundee Sunday.

Mrs. Dreikosen of Ashford and Mrs. Kohler and son Albert of Marion called on Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Guntly Monday.

Gust. Scholl will give a harvest picnic at Schrauth's Grove on Sunday, September 13th, and in the evening a ball in the Elmore Hall. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ. Schmalz and daughter Golda of Theresa visited Monday at the home of Jacob Haessly. Mr. Schmalz and little Miss Golda a so called on friends in the village.

He Knew Her.

The conductor looked at the thin man.

"Do you see that stout woman at the other end of the car, the one with the monkey hat?" he asked.

"I think I see the one you mean," the thin man responded.

"There, she's looking this way," said the conductor. "Well, sir, I admire that woman."

"Yes, I do. She may have a squint and wear bad fitting clothes and big shoes, yet I admire her."

"She knows how to get off a car the right way, and that's why. She's too stout, and her hat is ratty, and she hasn't any taste, but when she steps down from the back platform I never worry. I know she'll land all right. I'm dead sure she isn't going to sit down in the mud and ask me for my number. That's why I admire her. Here she comes now. Watch her when she gets off."

The stout woman came down the aisle and briskly descended to the street. And the conductor, with his hand on the bell rope, winked approvingly at the slim man.

Then the stout woman looked around. "Come, George," she called, and the slim man meekly followed her—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Simple Minded Kurds.

Some of the peculiar traits of the Kurds of Asia Minor are described by a traveler: "If it were possible to imagine two colors more distinct than black and white it would be possible to imagine two characters more widely differing than those of the Arab and Kurd. The pure Kurd is the most unsophisticated and glibble person in the world so long as you keep away from the material issues. His respect for a man who can read and write is almost pitiable. The Kurds are on the whole blunt and incapable of falsehood. If they do wrong—and they often do—they admit the fault in the simplest and most unaffected way. I had a muleteer who was honest, civil and incorruptible. He said, 'Did you ever kill a man? I asked him one day. Yes; sixteen on the Khazat road when I was a deserter from the army,' came the reply in a voice absolutely unmoved. 'You were a robber?' 'Yes, but now, praise be to God, I am married and a muleteer.'"

No Chesterfield.

A Boston man was praising the late Earl of Dunmore.

"Lord Dunmore," he said, "was a good man. Tall and robust and supple, I can see him still with his short gray beard and his kind face. His only fault was a fault due to his aristocratic upbringing; no doubt—was the exaggerated value that he set upon correctness. He insisted in correctness in eating, in dress, in everything."

"At a dinner in Beacon street once I heard him tell a story about an incurable self-made man, or 'nouveau riche,' as he called him. This man was dressing one night to go out. His wife bustled into the room before he started to look him over."

"'But, George,' she said reproachfully, 'aren't you going to wear your diamond studs to the banquet?'"

"'No, what's the use?' George growled, 'My napkin would hide 'em anyway.'—New Orleans States.

Proof of Brains.

Mr. Travers, the famous New York wit, once met at dinner a pompous Englishman who was "doing" the States. He had letters aplenty attesting his importance—letters from Gladstone, Dilke, Salisbury and Churchill. He had talked everybody tired before the dinner began, and Travers saw the Englishman to be his neighbor at the table. There was new, or a stop in the fellow's tongue. When the oysters were brought on he began: "Now, it is a question as to whether or not the oyster has brains. Scientists dispute the idea." "T-t-t-they certainly have some," retorted Travers.

"Your proof, sir?" retorted Travers, on eager for argument. "W-wh-why, sir, the o-o-oyster knows h-how to shut up."

COTTAGERS' DAY AT FOREST LAKE.

Thursday, August 20th, is a day long to be remembered in the history of Forest Lake. The cottagers residing around the lake celebrated the Annual Cottagers' Day in a magnificent manner by holding an illuminated boat parade and a concert, followed by fireworks from the cottage of Dr. Trompen, the manager of the celebration.

Many people were present from the neighboring towns of New Prospect, Beechwood, New Fane, Kewaskum and Campbellsport. The plan of celebration was proposed by Dr. Trompen and met with a prompt and hearty response from the other cottagers.

Everybody got to work. Bunting and Japanese lanterns were ordered from Fond du Lac, but could not be obtained there so the order was sent to Milwaukee, and after several vain trips to Campbellsport and several phone messages to Milwaukee, the material was finally received on Wednesday evening, and the cottagers had a busy time on Thursday building and decorating their floats. Dr. Trompen was ably assisted by his guest, Professor Astenius of Chicago, as chairman of the committee on music, by Mr. A. A. Teninga as chief of staff who, with his electric launch and camera as well as with his expert advice, proved himself invaluable, by Mr. A. Nehring as flag officer, who designed and decorated the various banners and pennants used by the fleet, and by Prof. G. A. Brennan as admiral of the fleet.

At 7 p. m. the fleet began to assemble in front of the manager's cottage. There were twenty beautiful floats all decorated in bunting, flags, Japanese lanterns, ferns, evergreens and flowers, as well as green and gold trimmings to represent the cottagers' colors. No two floats were alike. Each one displayed an originality of design and beauty of execution that gave the many spectators a succession of delightful surprises.

The cottagers who participated were: Dr. C. N. Trompen, two boats, Mrs. Howe, Miss M. Foley, Prof. G. A. Brennan, Mrs. W. Jaeger, Mr. A. Nehring, two boats, Mrs. John Madderson, Mr. Bentley Van Blarcom, Prof. J. M. Forsyth, Prof. Lewis W. Colwell, Prof. Mack M. Lane, Dr. J. B. Colwell, Mr. King, Mrs. Dr. Koresell, Mrs. E. M. Leonard, Mrs. H. Spilver, Mr. John Englesman and Mr. A. A. Teninga. All these cottagers are from Chicago but Mr. Bentley Van Blarcom, who is from Fond du Lac, Wis. The several women who might be thought widows are only temporarily so.

At 7:30 the signal was given to illuminate and was promptly obeyed by the several boatmen. The sight was then not only beautiful but was really magnificent. The fleet of twenty boats was gathered in Lily Cove and with their beautiful decorations and twinkling lights were truly bowers of beauty.

At 7:45 the signal was given to form in line and with Admiral Brennan in command started on their parade around the lake. The boats about two lengths apart, formed a line about 1/4 mile long and presented a most beautiful sight. The evening was fine, with but little wind and this contributed much to the success of the parade. After circling the lake, several evolutions were effected, to the great delight of the spectators, consisting of people from the hotel and visitors, after which the fleet came to anchor in Lily Cove to listen to the concert which was given from the porch of Dr. Trompen's cottage. The concert was given by a number of trained musicians some of them professionals who find at Forest Lake a most congenial atmosphere. They were repeatedly encored by the delighted company who gleefully repeated the cottagers' yell

"Strawberry short-cake, buckleberry pie
V-e-g-e-t-a-b-l-e
A-RE WE IN IT? Well I guess,
Forest Lake Cottagers, yes, yes, yes."

The program arranged by Prof. Astenius was as follows:
Piano Solo—Palmrose E. Minor.....McDowell
Song—Good Bye.....Tosti
Mandolin Solo—Palmrose.....Tobani
Song—Past and Future.....DeKoven
American.....Mandolin Solo—Mandolin.....Rubinstein
Quartet—Street and Law
Miss Ruth Sautelle, Miss Marie Koopman,
Prof. Mack M. Lane, Prof. A. O. T. Astenius,
Piano Solo—Rhapsody.....Bradams
Prof. A. O. T. Astenius

After the concert Dr. Trompen sprung a surprise on the audience by giving a fine display of fireworks that lit up the lake and in conjunction with the myriad lights of the fleet made a scene of surprising beauty.

After the fireworks the company dispersed to their homes thanking the manager and his corps of assistants for their ability and success in planning and executing this fine program.

For the Benefit of the Live Stock Owners.

A great number of inquiries have been received at the office of the State Veterinarian, asking whether Dr. David Roberts can be consulted at the state fair at Milwaukee.

We are informed by E. Kessler, secretary to State Veterinarian Roberts, that an office will be opened at the Publicity building at the state fair on the opening day, and consultation may be had with Dr. Roberts at any time during the session of five days, from the 7th to the 11th of September.

For Mending China.

For mending china the white of an egg and pulverized unslaked lime is a strong cement. Dip a small brush in to the egg white, slightly beat and brush the edges to be joined. Then quickly dust one edge with a little of the lime and place the edges together accurately; hold in place firmly for a couple of minutes, then set aside to dry. This must be done quickly.

WAYNE WAITINGS.

William Foerster transacted business at Byron last Friday.

Attend the threshers' dance Saturday evening in Galles' Hall.

Philip Eckel of Marshfield called here on old friends Tuesday.

Anton Mueller of Hartford was here Monday on political business.

Conrad Mack and wife of Campbellsport called here last Monday.

Several of the boys attended the dance at Kohlsville Saturday evening.

B. H. Dingman of Plymouth was here on business last week Thursday.

The Frauen Verein met at Charles Struebing's near Elmore last Sunday.

The Brand sisters of Kewaskum spent a few days last week with their uncles.

The primary election was largely attended here Tuesday. Eighty-eight votes were cast.

William Hess and family spent Sunday with his brother John and family at Kohlsville.

The John Braun and August Zuehlke families spent Sunday with friends at Campbellsport.

Services at 9:30 in the forenoon and at 2 in the afternoon.

Peter Gumm and son of Jackson and Adam Held of West Bend called here last week Friday.

Miss Eifer of Plymouth is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Rev. Schultz and family.

John Hosp of the town of Barton was here Thursday and made a horse deal with M. Johannes of Kewaskum.

Mr. Schmidt of Nora Springs, Ia., spent part of last week with his uncle, Henry Schmidt Sr., and aunt, Mrs. John Bressmann.

Mmes. Fred and John Becker of Milwaukee and Mrs. Fred Borchart of Theresa spent part of last week with the H. Schmidt family.

Jacob Schrooten and family from near New Cassel and his two nieces from Le Mars, Ia. spent Wednesday afternoon with William Foerster and family.

LOCAL MARKET REPORT.

Table with market prices for various goods like Barley, Wheat, Red winter, etc.

JOS. STRACHOTA CONTRACTOR and BUILDER of GEMENT WALKS. Kewaskum, - Wisconsin

MRS. K. ENDLICH, Carpet Weaver. KEWASKUM, WIS.

DR. H. DRIESSEL Physician and Surgeon. Located in the A. F. Beckhaus residence on Main and West streets.

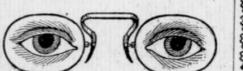

GEORGE H. SCHMIDT BOOK AND MUSIC STORE. DEALER IN Religious Goods, Communion Goods for First Communicants, Birthday and Souvenir Postals, Books, Stationery and Office Supplies, Fishing Tackle, Cut Flowers and Sheet Music.

TAFT'S DENTAL ROOMS. 222 Grand Ave., Milwaukee. Opposite the New Majestic Theatre.

The latest practical appliances and methods. Compare any work you may have had done at our office with the best work you may have had done before, and if our work is not equal or superior to it we will make you no charge. We ask a reasonable price for all our work, sufficient to allow us to use the best material obtainable, and to give you the attention needed to do the most substantial work.

TAFT'S DENTAL ROOMS, 222 Grand Ave. Wir sprechen Deutsch.

LEISSRING OPTICIAN. Exige Hotel, Kewaskum, Wednesday, Sept. 9, and every 2nd Wednesday in month thereafter. Home Office, 222 Grand Avenue, 2nd Floor, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

HENRY RAMTHUN, DEALER IN Stoves, Tinware, Windmills, Pumps and Lightning Rods.

Edison Phonograph. We sell a genuine Edison Phonograph complete for $12.50 or $25.00 on terms of only $1.00 a week.

J. P. SCHLAEFER. Campbellsport, - Wisconsin

A Business Training and Education. Is a necessity of modern business life. The young man or woman with such training is well equipped to start their business career.

Spencerian Business College. By reason of its superior facilities—Reliability, Fair Dealing, Up-to-Date and Progressive Methods and Strong Faculty, is better able to supply that Training and Education than any other school in the Northwest.

NICHOLAS REMMEL, HARDWARE, STOVES AND TINWARE, PUMPS AND PIPE FITTINGS. Steel Tanks Carried in Stock. Extra Sizes Made to Order.

GASOLINE ENGINES. Sample engines can be seen in operation at my shop. Gasoline and steam engines repaired on short notice.

TIN WORK. All kinds of outside tin work promptly and neatly done.

Agent for the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Co. THRESHER SUPPLIES. Nic. Remmel, Kewaskum, Shop and Store Near the Depot.

ENGAGEMENT RINGS. It's a matter of taste with a man whether he prefers a blonde or a brunette for his wife, as it is also a matter of taste whether he chooses a Diamond, a Sapphire, a Pearl or an Opal to present his fiancée as an Engagement Ring.

MRS. K. ENDLICH, WATCH MAKER, KEWASKUM.

FLY NETS. Spare your horse, do not leave him to the tender mercies of the harsh flies but get a Fly Net at Kewaskum, Wisconsin

HERMAN W. MEILAHN, Dealer in Furniture, Pianos, Organs and Sewing Machines.

Undertaker and Embalmer. Dealer in Richardson's Superlative Carpets and Rugs.

WEST BEND BREWING CO., EXTRA FINE LAGER BEER. BOTTLED OR BARRELED.

NIC. MARX, GROCERIES, FLOUR, FEED. MADISON MILLING CO.'S "WHITE DAISY" AND "BEST PATENT" FLOUR.

JOS. EBERLE, There Are Always Good Reasons for a Machine's Popularity.

NORTH SIDE PARK. This is one of the prettiest parks in the state and is an ideal place for picnics, excursions, etc.

FARMERS HOTEL. Board by the day or week. Good stable room.

Louis Brandt, CARPENTER & CONTRACTOR. Kewaskum, Wisconsin.

Fine Granite and Marble Monuments. WEST BEND MARBLE and GRANITE WORKS.

J. HOMRIG, Proprietor.

Opgenorth & Son, MASON CONTRACTORS. Concrete Work and Builders of Cement Sidewalks.

Kleinhaus & Boegel, Vehicles and Farm Implements. ELMORE, WISCONSIN.

Kewaskum Statesman.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 5, 1908.

C. & N. W. RAILWAY TIME TABLE.

Table with columns for 'GOING NORTH', 'GOING SOUTH', and 'NEW SUNDAY TRAIN GOING SOUTH'. It lists train numbers, departure times, and destinations like Kewaskum and Campbellsport.

LACONICAL LOCALS.

—Village Board meeting next Monday.
—Frank Zwazchka is having a well dug on his property.
—The Catholic parochial school opened last Monday.
—Otto Lay spent Saturday and Sunday at Appleton.
—The public school will open next Tuesday, September 8.
—School supplies of all kinds at Geo. H. Schmidt's Book Store.
—A complete line of school books at Geo. H. Schmidt's Book Store.
—WANTED—About 20 ton of good timothy hay, inquire of John Brunner.
—Hugo Klumb left for Oshkosh last Monday to attend the Normal school.
—John Schaefer Jr. is spending the latter part of the week at Milwaukee.
—Miss Emma Remmel left Wednesday for a visit at Milwaukee and Racine.
—Miss Katie Burkhardt of Eden was a village visitor between trains Monday.
—Mrs. Frank Strube of West Bend visited with her parents here last Tuesday.
—Miss Margaret Jokisch of Milwaukee is visiting with the lake Remmel family.
—Miss Thecla Backhaus of Marshfield called on relatives and friends here Sunday.
—William Wehling and wife visited with his brother in the town of Wayne Sunday.
—Gustave Uke and wife of Campbellsport spent Sunday here with the former's mother.
—WANTED—Hvlop crabs and fall apples—from 80c to $1.00 per 100 lbs.—L. Rosenheimer.
—Mrs. Fred Meid of West Bend visited with her sister, Mrs. H. W. Krahn, Thursday.
—The Kewaskum Rifle Club will hold a practice shoot at Frank Kaas' place next Sunday.
—Peter Shaub of Marion, Wis., visited with his brother William and mother last Monday.
—Mrs. Fred Koehler and daughter Clara of Milwaukee arrived here on Thursday for a visit.
—Carl Urban spent Sunday with his son Charles at Rockfield, who is section foreman there.
—Miss Alma Miritz returned home last Saturday from a few months' stay at Hartland, Wis.
—To wash photographs take a soft sponge and apply a very weak cold solution of Galvanic Soap.
—Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Backhaus drove to Hustisford yesterday for a week's visit with relatives.
—Philip Eckel of Marshfield called on friends here Tuesday while on his way home from Milwaukee.
—Mrs. William Hausmann and sister, Miss Fleischmann, spent Tuesday with friends at Elmore.
—Misses Annie and Elsie Miller spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Christ. Walter at West Bend.
—William Cirnicks of Cedarburg called on the August Kumrow family the latter part of last week.
—Mrs. Michael Braun of Wabeno is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Laura Schaefer, since Tuesday.
—If you wish to be convinced as to which is the best laundry soap on sale today try a cake of Galvanic.
COLDER WEATHER—Just the time to make the full purchases in dress goods and clothing.—L. Rosenheimer.
—Mrs. George Brunner of Elm Grove visited with her son, John Brunner and family from Saturday to Monday.
—Mrs. Philip Metz of Milwaukee is spending the week here with her father, Andrew Jung, and other relatives.
—Peter Schill and family of Ashford were guests of Michael Johannes Sr. and wife the latter part of last week.
—Miss Kate Hang returned to East Orange, N. J., on last Tuesday after spending the summer here with her parents.
—The Misses Adela Dahlke and Edna Guth spent Tuesday at Campbellsport as guests of Miss Veronica Zwazchka.
—The base ball boys have posters up for a grand ball at the North St. Park Hall on Saturday evening, September 19.
—There will be no services in the German M. E. church next Sunday on account of the quarterly meeting in Batavia.
—Mrs. Albert Weddig and son Ervin of Fond du Lac visited with relatives and friends here from Sunday to Tuesday.
—Mrs. Mat. Beisler returned home from Milwaukee Sunday after spending a week with her son Frank and family there.

—Don't forget that corn binder. We have one set up and ready for your inspection. Ask to see it.—L. Rosenheimer.
—Don't forget that William Lessing, the Milwaukee optician, will be at the Eagle Hotel here next Wednesday, September 9.
—George W. Stadler, general traveling representative of the Gaar-Scott Co., of Madison, called in the village on business Monday.
—School reopens Tuesday, September 8th, so be sure and buy your school books and supplies at Geo. H. Schmidt's Book Store.
—The Misses Clara and Bedelia Hinkel of Milwaukee returned home on Monday after a week's visit with William Koepke and family.
—Mrs. Joseph Strachota spent over Sunday with relatives at Lomira. She returned home Monday evening accompanied by her mother.
—Dr. A. J. Driessl and wife of St. Cloud, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wolf and Arthur Wolf of Lomira spent Sunday with Dr. Driessl and family.
—William F. Backhaus and son Alvin were at Appleton Thursday to make arrangements for Alvin to attend the Lawrence University.
—John Thomas of Chicago arrived here Thursday to spend a week with his uncle, Jacob Becker, and other relatives in the town of Wayne.
—Miss Carrie Strupp of the town of Kewaskum and John Heindel of West Bend were married in the Catholic church at Barton last Thursday.
—Mrs. Mat. Weber and daughter Isabella of Theresa, Mr. and Mrs. John Dengel of Campbellsport were guests of the Sommers family Sunday.
—The L. Rosenheimer Malt & Grain Co. will resume operations in their plant next Monday after being shut down for repairs for the past six weeks.
—Miss Ella Trost was agreeably surprised at her home by a large number of her young friends last Saturday evening on her birthday anniversary.
—William Mattes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Mattes, of Redfield, S. D., arrived here Tuesday for a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Mattes.
—Louis Kissel, the aged Hartford manufacturer who was shot down by John Gerber, a disgruntled employee in Hartford on August 19th, died last week Friday.
—A ladies' blue jacket with light lining, on the road between Kewaskum and Sand Lake; finder please leave same at this office or at A. G. Bartlett's, New Prospect.
—The Kewaskum base ball team defeated Fond du Lac on the home grounds last Sunday by a score of 13 to 12. It was one of the most exciting games played here this season.
—Mrs. Louis Geidel and son Otto of Fillmore were guests of the N. J. Mertes family Thursday. Mrs. Albert Geidel of Chicago is also spending the week with the Mertes family.
—Mrs. F. Lauer and daughter Ada, who has been stopping here with her brother, F. C. Gottsleben and family for some time, left for Spokane, Wash., Tuesday to make her future home there.
FARM FOR SALE—42½ acres of good farm land, situated in the town of Auburn, with good buildings and about two acres of timberland. Will be sold cheap if taken at once. Inquire of R. F. L. Petri, Campbellsport R. F. D. No. 32.
—The building owned by John Groeschel and occupied by Andrew Straub as a soda water factory, was destroyed by fire early last Saturday morning. The cause of the fire is unknown. Mr. Groeschel's loss on the building is about $600 with $200 insurance and Mr. Straub's loss on machinery, bottles, etc., is $2,000, with $1,300 insurance.
—The War Department believes that Uncle Sam's soldiers should be permitted to have beer in their canteen. This governmental recognition of beer as a temperance drink is widely understood. Lithia, the bottled product of the West Bend Brewing Co. has no equals. It contains a trifle over 3 per cent of alcohol and is a temperance drink in the strictest sense of the word.
—Joseph Eberle received a letter from Secretary Humphrey of the Phil Sheridan Lodge, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, in which he thanked Mr. Eberle in behalf of the members of the lodge for the courtesies extended to them at their picnic on August 16. He also states in the letter that the lodge intends to make their picnic an annual event and wish to be booked for next season at the North Side Park.
—We received a letter from Moritz Rosenheimer and wife last Monday from Italy. The letter reads in part as follows: "We are now in the beautiful land of Italy. We have seen large mountains, beautiful lakes and churches which are the largest in the world. We have traveled all through Germany, part of Austria and the Alps. From Italy we go to Switzerland on the Rhein, to Paris, to London and thence to our sweet home, America." Mr. and Mrs. Rosenheimer send their best wishes to their friends here. They expect to be home by the end of September.

BOLTONVILLE BUDGET.
Eli Hanks sold his farm to Mr. Schladweiler last week.
Miss Sophia Kraetsch will resume her sewing next Monday.
The Rev. Lutz of Batavia was a caller in the village last week.
Charles Reitz and family Sundayed with the Dr. Morgenroth family.
William Firme and children of Batavia spent Sunday in the village.
Mrs. J. Henning and Mrs. Hoppe called on friends here last Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. Haberser of this town spent Sunday with Mat. Thill and wife.
Mrs. C. S. Webster and children returned to their home in Kaukauna Thursday.
Some of our villagers attended the primary election held at Fillmore on last Tuesday.
Arthur Judge and family of Milwaukee are spending a few days with relatives here.
Harvey Millbreth of Random Lake is employed in the cheese factory here since last week.
Miss Norma Miller of Milwaukee and Rena Kraetsch spent Tuesday at Elkhart Lake.
Miss Minnie Voeks, who has been critically ill during the summer months, is now recovering.
Louis Morbus, who has been spending several weeks with relatives here, has returned to his home at Milwaukee.
Ben. Woog and mother and William Brazelton and wife visited over Sunday with relatives at Schlesinger's.
Miss Leslie Knebes of Milwaukee and Dr. Bauer of Beechwood called on the Sam Row family last week Friday.
Miss Florence Row returned home from Mendota last week Friday after spending some time in Michigan visiting friends.
The Misses Leta and Lela Frohman and Alvin Woog are spending the week at Plymouth. They will take in the fair while there.
Mrs. Ed. Kraetsch and children returned to her home in Chicago last Monday after visiting for some time with her sister, Mrs. E. L. Morgenroth.
Mrs. William Albright of South Farmington spent Sunday at the home of James Bolton. She was accompanied here by her sister, Mrs. Mary Wilson.
On Wednesday at 9 a. m., at St. John's church, Rev. Muenzer pronounced the words that united for life in the holy bonds of matrimony, Mr. Michael Stempel of Fredonia to Miss Katie Walters of St. John's congregation. The bride was tastefully attired in a dress of silk and was attended by her sister, Waldena, as maid of honor. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Goeding. After the ceremony at the church the young couple repaired to the home of the bride where a wedding dinner was served to only nearest relatives. We are unfortunates as to where the young couple will reside but we trust that their future life may be a prosperous and happy one.
The Primary Election.
A very light vote was polled last Tuesday, only 94 votes were cast in the village and 55 in the town. The tickets nominated in the county are as follows:
County Clerk—Albert C. Benike, Dem.; Herman Groth, Rep.
Treasurer—Peter Gumm, Dem.; Henry J. Falk, Rep.
Sheriff—Adam Held, Dem.; Frank Schoenbeck, Rep.
Coroner—H. J. Kirsch, Dem.; E. W. Wittig, Rep.
Clerk of the Circuit Court—A. J. Hemmy, Dem.; A. J. Schrader, Rep.
District Attorney—H. A. Sawyer, Rep.
Register of Deeds—J. W. Gehl, Dem.; A. L. Endlich, Rep.
In the state Isaac Stephenson won the senatorial fight. Aylward was nominated for Governor over Schmitz on the Democratic ticket.
A. C. Backus defeated his opponent in Milwaukee county for District Attorney by a large majority.
Married.
The marriage of Otto Mattes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Mattes of this village, and Miss Lora Atkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Atkin of Waldo, was solemnized at the bride's home in Waldo at 2 p. m. last Wednesday, Rev. Otto of the local German M. E. church tying the nuptial knot. The bride was attended by her sister, Stella Atkin, and William Mattes, nephew of the groom, acted as best man. A reception was held after the ceremony which was attended by about seventy-five guests. Mr. and Mrs. Mattes will make their home in Kewaskum.
Notice.
We are short of Regs, that is the one-eighth barrel size, and would kindly yet urgently request the farmers to pick them up around their yards and bring them in, otherwise we will be unable to supply them with beer in these sizes.
WEST BEND BREWING CO.
Retraction.
I hereby retract all these untrue words which I have said against my brother, August Kumrow, and children, on the 28th day of August, 1908.
Dated at Kewaskum, Wis., this 31st day of August, 1908.
ALBERT KUMROW.
FOR SALE—Cedar fence posts, various sizes at prices that are right can now be had at my place,—Michael Johannes Jr. 1-4-1

CAMPBELLSPORT.
Ed. Quinn was a Milwaukee caller Tuesday.
C. Mack was a Fond du Lac caller Saturday.
Peter Senn and wife visited at Lomira Sunday.
Nick Majeros spent Saturday at Fond du Lac.
John Zuccaro spent Monday at Fond du Lac.
John Blum was a caller at Kewaskum Sunday.
E. T. Markle of Fond du Lac called here Monday.
Fred Jung of Theresa was a caller here Wednesday.
Mr. Fairbanks of Fond du Lac called here Monday.
William Warden was a New London visitor Sunday.
Leo Husting was a business caller at Fond du Lac Friday.
C. Mack and wife were guests of Wayne friends Monday.
Miss Ida Kloke came home Sunday evening from Milwaukee.
C. A. Worthing of Fond du Lac was a caller here Monday.
Jim Stanton of Fond du Lac spent Saturday and Sunday here.
Miss Anna Johnson returned home Monday from a visit at Eden.
Nathan Haessl and Chris. Schmalz of Theresa called here Sunday.
Bernard Schleit of Milwaukee was here visiting relatives Sunday.
A. J. Guepe and wife of Milwaukee called on relatives here Sunday.
Emmett Doyle and Theodore Harter drove to Greenbush Sunday.
Master Norman Docter of Milwaukee is the guest of relatives here.
George and Byron Glass were at Milwaukee Saturday and Sunday.
Mrs. John Harter and son Gregor have gone to Wabeno to visit relatives.
Charles Cole has resigned his position with the Kong-Schong Tea Co.
William Kloke had a telephone put into his new meat market Monday.
Miss Maude Salter of Eden was the guest of the I. Klotz family Tuesday.
Mrs. C. A. Thresher has returned from a few days' visit at Milwaukee.
Robert Raymond and family visited friends at New Prospect Sunday.
Miss Millie Brown left Tuesday for a visit at Plymouth and Fond du Lac.
Andrew Senn Jr. has taken a position as book-keeper for an Oshkosh firm.
C. W. Hendricks and family of Milwaukee visited relatives here last week.
Miss Lilah Petri of Wayne boarded the train here Tuesday for Fond du Lac.
Miss Amelia Senn has returned to Oshkosh to resume her work at the Normal.
The Saemann, Loeb & Knickel Co. have gone into the grain buying business.
Dr. M. A. T. Hoffman left Tuesday for a ten days' visit with relatives at Webster, S. D.
John Terindin witnessed the Wau-sau-Fond du Lac ball game at Fond du Lac Sunday.
Miss Lenora Wietor of Merrill spent Friday and Saturday here with the Misses Bonesho.
Paul Blum and Miss Tillie Rauch visited at Miss Rauch's home in South Ashford Sunday.
Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd of Neenah is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams and family.
Leo Hoffmann left Tuesday for Mt. Calvary where he will attend the St. Lawrence college.
James Hodge and L. B. Reed left for two weeks' trip through southern Texas Wednesday.
Miss Gretchen Berg of Ashford was the guest of the Misses Bonesho Friday and Saturday.
The Campbellsport graded school will open September 8th. Eleven grades will be taught.
George Murray of Fond du Lac was the guest of relatives and friends here Saturday and Sunday.
Miss Lilah Harder has been engaged to teach school at St. Cloud the coming school year.
Miss Minnie Peck returned to Milwaukee Saturday after a three weeks' visit with relatives here.
The McCugo Construction Co. of Fond du Lac built a cement walk for C. G. Schmidt this week.
Mrs. H. C. Scholler and daughter Thelma returned Saturday after a week's visit at Milwaukee.
Leo Husting and William Martin attended the St. Kilian-Lomira ball game at St. Kilian Sunday.
Peter Schrooten, chairman of the county board, boarded the train here Saturday for Fond du Lac.
The Misses Louise and Martha Zerk returned Saturday after a short visit with relatives at Manitowoc.
Remember school commences next Tuesday. Get your school supplies at E. F. Martin & Co's store.
The Misses Beniah and Mildred Schrooten of Le Mars, Ia., arrived here Sunday to visit relatives.
Edward Pannon left Wednesday for a week's business trip through the northern part of the state.
Miss Louise Hangartner was the guest of Fond du Lac friends and relatives Thursday and Friday.
Mrs. Viehler, who spent a few weeks here with relatives, returned

Hints to Farmers
Now is the time that you realize on your season's work.
As you sell your grain, stock or produce, place your money on open account with a reliable bank.
Pay your bills by check, which makes the best kind of a receipt, and avoid the worry and danger attending the carrying of large sums of money.
We pay three per cent interest on certificates of deposits and savings accounts.
Our offices are always at the disposal of our customers and country friends.
BANK OF KEWASKUM, Kewaskum, Wisconsin
to her home in Chicago Saturday.
The Misses Anna and Olive Terindin went to Oshkosh Sunday where Miss Olive will attend the Normal.
Mrs. William Pohlman of Fond du Lac was taken very ill at the home of E. F. Martin and family Sunday.
Mrs. J. M. Kohler and daughter Dolores have returned from a ten days' visit at Waupaca and Clintonville.
Miss Florence Senn returned to her home in Oshkosh Monday after visiting here with relatives for a few weeks.
Thomas Collins and daughter of Tracy, Minn., spent the forepart of the week with the T. L. Johnson family.
The officers of the Campbellsport Mutual Fire Insurance Co., held their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening.
Herbert Martin, who sustained a fall from a building last Friday, has quite recovered from the effects of his injuries.
Miss Lillian Hangartner, who spent the past few weeks here and vicinity, returned to her home in Fond du Lac Tuesday.
Rev. Albert Ernst has returned to his home at Stillwater, Minn., after a few days' visit with H. I. Krahn and family.
William Schroeder and wife returned to their home in West Bend Tuesday after a few days' visit at the E. F. Martin home.
Stuart Campbell, who was injured by a fall last week, is improving. Mr. Campbell was 91 years of age September 4th.
The Theresa Union Telephone Co. has completed another extension of their line leading from this village toward Ashford.
Frank Eaton and wife of Atlanta, Ill., and Miss Jessie Pool and Henry Howard enjoyed a day's outing Sunday at Schrauth's.
Miss Mattie Pond and brother, who were guests of the H. F. Sackett family, returned to their home in Appleton Monday.
The annual Sunday school picnic of the German Reformed church will be held Monday in Stoffel's grove, south of the village.
The ball game at Waucousta Sunday between Waucousta and South Eden resulted in a score of 4 to 7 in favor of Waucousta.
Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Cole have returned from a visit at Neenah. Their daughter, Mrs. A. M. Pearson, of Neenah, is here visiting them.
Mrs. Wm. Hangartner and daughter Violet returned to their home in Fond du Lac Tuesday after a few days' visit with relatives here.
The ball game at Kewaskum Sunday between Fond du Lac and Kewaskum resulted in a victory for the latter team by a score of 13 to 12.
Mrs. Mary Sent, who has been visiting relatives here, left Wednesday for Fond du Lac where she will visit a few days before returning to her home.
The Misses Olive Klotz, Gladys Wenzel and Irene Klotz, Arthur Guenther, Charles and Otto Cole left on Tuesday for Fond du Lac to attend the fair.
Mrs. J. V. Harter and son Theodore, who have been spending the summer here with relatives, left last Wednesday for Milwaukee to visit relatives and friends.
George Yankow, Ed. Barnett, William Thornton, Thomas Dieringer Jr. and the Misses Mattie Odekir, Helen Johanna and Clementine Breyman were Kewaskum visitors Sunday.
George Kippenhan of Wayne, Ed. Stahl and family and Julius Glander of Beechwood, Miss Minnie Lietz, Michael and William Stingl of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the H. J. Krahn family.
LOW RATES
WISCONSIN STATE FAIR, Milwaukee, September 7-12, 1908.
Tickets will be on sale via C. & N. W. R'y to Milwaukee and return for this occasion—one and one-half fare for the round trip. For full particulars regarding train service and dates of sale, apply to any ticket agent.
—Bishop Potter pronounced Copenhagen, Denmark, as the ideal temperance city in the world. In that city, the people, men, women and children, drink beer in entertainment and other resorts, and discourage the use of ardent spirits. Drink Lithia beer, the beer that will strengthen and build up your system.

THE U. S. CREAM SEPARATOR.
Skims the most Cream from the Milk, because its bowl (where the skimming is done) is really three bowls in one. This feature is found in no other Separator and enables the U. S. to hold the World's Record for clean skimming.
Runs Smoothest and Easiest, because the driving gears are entirely enclosed, self-oiling and automatically supplied with fresh oil. No other Separator has all these advantages.
Is Easiest and Quickest Washed, because there are only two simple parts inside the bowl, and because the bowl is wide enough to be easily cleaned inside (other Separator bowls have from 5 to 45 inside parts, or are long and narrow like a gun barrel).
Is Most Convenient, because the top of the milk supply tank is about even with the operator's waist, making it easy to fill. This means labor saved.
Lasts Longest, because there are ball bearings at high speed points, and because the parts are few, simple, strongly made, and easy to get at.
The U. S. is the separator for you to buy because it is better than any other, and will give you the biggest value for your money. You should see one yourself to really appreciate all its good points. Call and see one. They are sold by
L. ROSENHEIMER, Kewaskum, Wisconsin.

A GREAT WHITE GOODS SALE!
For the remaining days of this week we are offering our entire stock of Laces and Embroideries at exactly ONE-HALF PRICE.
This is the greatest White Goods opportunity ever offered in West Bend and we would like to have our trade take advantage of this sale and buy their future wants, for opportunities like this are very rare.
SHIRT WAISTS, WASH GOODS, DRESS GOODS, at Closing-Out Prices.
Pick Brothers & Co., WEST BEND, WISCONSIN.

If you Young Men will get your tip from us, we'll point the way to the swiftest Fall suit you've ever worn. There'll be no such thing as trailing along in the rear of the smart clothes set for you. You'll be correctly dressed; in your own estimation and that of others.
We're putting a lot of these Ederheimer-Stein suits on particular Young Men. The originality of designs and pronounced style ideas give them an individuality not to be found outside the work of these expert makers of clothes for Young Men. Many models and rich patterns in browns, olives, tans, self stripes and contrasting shades.
30 stamps with every 1.00 purchase in our Shoe and Clothing Department Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

BOERNER BROTHERS MERCANTILE CO., WEST BEND, WIS.

That The Power of Money
in making more money is the secret of getting rich is generally admitted. The average so-called "savings deposit" is only $400—yet this $400 represents 6 per cent interest on nearly $7,000 for a full year. As the most of these accounts were started with a deposit of one to ten dollars and gradually increased to their present size, doesn't it seem that you can do fully as well? Make up your mind to do it—then it's merely a case of application. Your earnings are as large, or larger, than those of the average depositor referred to, only—you haven't been banking your money.
Come in and let us tell you some other reasons why you should have a bank account.
CITIZENS STATE BANK KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

What is Peruna.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peruna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensary says of the principal ingredients of Peruna.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensary says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of dyspepsia, gastritis, membranous lining various organs of the human body.

Another ingredient of Peruna, corydalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensary as a tonic.

Sciron seeds is another ingredient of Peruna. The United States Dispensary says of the action of sciron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Send us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peruna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

QUININE IN ITALY.

State Sells It and Uses the Profit to Fight Malaria.

The sale of quinine in Italy is carried on in a peculiar fashion. The government sells the drug to the peasants in malarious districts and then uses the profit to fight malaria.

The first aim is to protect the peasants from mosquitoes. But it is almost impossible to get them to take care of the wire screens which are given them for their houses.

As for their wearing veils and gloves when they go abroad, as they are urged by the authorities to do, anybody who knows the Italian peasants can guess how many of them will do it.

The government has therefore to depend on mosquito nets, or the use of what is called fumigation, or the use of the Italian peasants can guess how many of them will do it.

Last year the government sold to the peasants about $300,000 worth of quinine, with not profit of about $75,000.

—New York Sun.

The Indignant One.

"The idea of my telling me 'ow children ought to be fed? I've buried ten of my own!'"—The Tatler.

Three out of the four of the Old South prizes given in Boston have been won by girls.

Promoted by Exercise and Cuticura Soap

In the promotion of Skin Health, Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, is undoubtedly superior to all other skin soaps because of its influence in allaying irritation, inflammation, and clogging of the pores, the cause of disfiguring eruptions. In antiseptic cleansing, in stimulating sluggish pores, in emollient and other properties, they have no rivals.

Sold throughout the world. Depot: London, 27, Chancery Lane; New York, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Philadelphia, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Chicago, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; San Francisco, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Boston, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Portland, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Seattle, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Tacoma, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Vancouver, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Portland, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Seattle, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Tacoma, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.; Vancouver, 15, N. W. Cor. of Broadway and Nassau Sts.

TO-NIGHT
CARET

FOR SALE
$1,000

Builds independent from Bungalow, finished throughout with hardwood natural finish. Cemented cellar. In very convenient arrangement with living room, dining room, kitchen and bathroom. Call on E. B. BURD CO., 1417 Marquette Bldg., Chicago.

Part They Play in Development of the Great Nitrate Beds.

Northern Chile, which is so largely mountain or desert, is generally regarded as a forbidding wilderness, but in spite of its natural desolation the landscape presents a scene of great beauty and interest. The rugged, snow-capped peaks and there in the waste of sand and salt flats are some of the most conspicuous objects to be seen. The principal object of which are Pica and Matilla. These mountains are supplied with water from the high Andes, but the particular streams that support their life are not certainly known. It has been found that

A Wayward Beauty.

By the Author of "Under False Colours," etc.

CHAPTER V.
It was on the following Sunday afternoon that Beryl, sitting idly under the cool shade of a wide spreading oak, was joined, to her extreme astonishment, by Irene, Duchess of Staffa.

"I have had no opportunity of telling you before how charming you looked at Buckingham palace," began the duchess amiably. "Your dress was perfect."

It seemed to Beryl that on Saturday night she had been many opportunities for paying this graceful compliment. But perhaps the duchess forgot that she had been twenty-four hours at Damorey. "Oh, no, my dear, I liked my frock," she responded politely.

"Everybody admired it immensely. Even the dear Queen told me she had never seen a young lady more charmingly and suitably attired."

Beryl smiled pleasantly and remained silent. She was a little weary of responding to compliments. "Do you think of remaining long at Damorey court?" pursued the duchess carelessly.

"As long as my guardian thinks proper," replied Beryl. "Your guardian?"

"My guardian, Mr. Franklin Gower?" "Oh, is Mr. Gower your guardian? How funny!"

"Funny?" echoed Beryl. "Well, he is rather young for a guardian. Don't you think so?"

The duchess eyed her keenly in Beryl's face. The girl laughed merrily, unrestrainedly.

"Mr. Gower young?" she said. "Oh, no, he is not young. He is very old and kind, but he is not young. He was my father's greatest friend."

"I see. And now he has transferred his affection to that great friend's daughter?"

Beryl's eye twinkled. "We quarrel and fight continually," she said. "Does Mr. Gower do much of the fighting?"

"No, I don't think he does. I fancy it must be I who provoke all our disagreements."

"Ah, he has something more serious to do in looking after your affairs?"

"That would not take him long," said Beryl, with a smile. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

miliation if owed to a stranger—while to you it is—oh!"

And, overcome by her bitter mortification, Beryl hid her face in her hands and sobbed unrestrainedly.

The turn affairs had taken was a complete surprise to Franklin. He had intended that Beryl should know nothing of this business until the day he lighted himself. Indeed, it may be said, even down. All had been going so smoothly till this bomb had suddenly exploded—lighted of course by a woman's fingers. He gently disengaged one of Beryl's hands, and, crossing it with the tenderness one might use to a frightened, unreasoning child, he asked—

"Why should you give me a slight obligation to me so peculiarly unbearable, Beryl?"

She tore her hand away from his grasp and replaced it over her flushed face.

"Because you—because I—oh, I don't know! What shall I do? I have no friend to whom I can turn for advice. There is no possible way that I can see out of this terrible trouble!"

"Beryl!" There was a depth of feeling in his voice that she had never heard before. "There is a way. A very simple way. But, oh, so glad and bright to me if you would but consent to take it!"

She removed her hands from her face and stared at him with wide-open eyes that glistened with tears.

"Oh, what is it?" she asked, in a voice that was almost a sob.

"I have a plan, Beryl. It is a plan that will free you from all your obligations, and it will free me from all my obligations to you. It is a plan that will free us both from all our obligations to each other."

"I see. And now he has transferred his affection to that great friend's daughter?"

Beryl's eye twinkled. "We quarrel and fight continually," she said. "Does Mr. Gower do much of the fighting?"

"No, I don't think he does. I fancy it must be I who provoke all our disagreements."

"Ah, he has something more serious to do in looking after your affairs?"

"That would not take him long," said Beryl, with a smile. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

"Really?" exclaimed the duchess. "Is that all?"

"That is all. I am not a great heiress. I have enough to live upon. No more."

"You are fortunate to have that," said the duchess. "A friend of mine, who has similar property, has received nothing whatever from her sugar plantations for twenty years."

The duchess rose languidly as though to depart. She smiled at Beryl as she moved away. She knew all she had come to hear. "My large property consists of a sugar plantation in the West Indies."

And Sir Trevor, and that sweet little ward of yours, and I don't know how many more names, unless they happen to be one of us. I know it begins with a W. Oh, thanks! Yes, of course. Vivian, and I said a W. Well, I was very near, but it was not. By the way, I saw Miss Vivian this morning."

Gower's languid attention gave place to the keenest interest.

"You saw her? Where?" he asked, taken completely off his guard.

"I was at St. Pancras at a most unorthodox hour this morning to meet my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

"Oh, girls are so independent nowadays," said Irene carelessly. "The chaplain will soon be as exacting as my mother, and on the platform with her maid was Miss Vivian. She was talking to that extraordinary person who played the violin in such a marvellous fashion at Damorey. Your ward has gone on to visit somewhere in the north, I suppose?"

"Yes; she went quite suddenly. My sister was unable to accompany her, and I had to go on my own."

Of all the heterogeneous celebrities whom it has been my business to meet, I have never known one so simple and unaffected as Grover Cleveland. He had absolutely none of that veneer of vanity which makes most great men ridiculous. He was the only Democratic President since 1861; and no career in American history had been more triumphant and sensational than his; yet he continued to the last to be as simple-minded and as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm.

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to his farm from the flatlands and intrigues of public life, writes Herbert N. Casson in the New Broadway Magazine.

"In 1797," he said, "when the country demanded that I should return to public life, I was as ready to listen to the small talk of the people, as though he had spent his life raising chickens on a bush farm."

The older he grew, the more attached he became to the simple life of the country. He was fond of old clothes and loose slippers and the soft grassy earth. Once he told me with great gusto how George Washington led to