

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

OF THE

Bank of Kewaskum

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

RESOURCES:		JULY 15, 1908.	SEPT. 23, 1908
Loans and Discounts.....	$128,120.45	$125,609.23
Overdrafts.....	3,091.69	52
Due from Banks.....	20,105.36	39,307.30
Checks on other Banks and Cash Items.....	4,687.65	58.79
Cash on Hand.....	4,687.65	6,418.15
Total.....	$156,005.15	$171,393.99
LIABILITIES:
Capital Stock paid in.....	$ 15,000.00	$15,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	2,200.00	2,200.00
Undivided Profits.....	2,227.89	3,007.19
Individual Deposits subject to check.....	11,433.05	18,034.59
Time Certificates of Deposit.....	119,169.01	127,423.33
Savings Deposit.....	5,975.20	5,728.88
Total.....	$156,005.15	$171,393.99

We invite attention to the above statement and upon its merits respectfully solicit your business.

We pay 3 per cent interest on Certificates of Deposit and Savings Account. Checking Deposits solicited.

A. L. ROSENHEIMER, President. M. ROSENHEIMER, Vice-President.
B. H. ROSENHEIMER, Cashier.

Kewaskum Statesman.

SATURDAY, OCT. 3, 1908

CORRESPONDENCE.

BEECHWOOD BEAMLETS.

Julius Glander transacted business at Batavia Monday.

Alex. Lubach went to Adell last Wednesday on business.

J. H. Janssen purchased four head of cattle of B. C. Hicken Monday.

Jake Horning, John Krautkramer and Willie Hintz were to Kewaskum Tuesday on business.

Miss Flora Reven went to Mattoon, Wis. Monday to spend several weeks with relatives.

Henry and Julius Reysen, Frank Brandenberg and Willie Hintz spent several from here attended the funeral of Edward Glander at New Fane Sunday afternoon.

ASHFORD ACTIONS.

Mrs. Boden was a Lomira caller Saturday.

Mrs. M. Thelen was a Lomira caller Saturday.

Henry Maul is working for Bert Thelen at present.

Henry Jnnon and wife called on Peter Fell and wife Sunday.

Mrs. Mike Thelen spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. J. Straub.

Miss Bella Johnson of Campbellsport called on John Krudwig and family Sunday.

The Misses Zita and Tillie Strobel of St. Kilian called on Miss Rose Driekosen Sunday.

School in District No. 1 commenced here last Monday with Miss Zita Strobel as teacher.

Miss Alexia Maul left for Milwaukee Wednesday to visit with Miss Rose Thyorski and other friends.

Lorenz Raffenstein and Martin Thelen spent from Saturday to Monday at Appleton with the latter's brother.

BOLTONVILLE BUDGET.

Mrs. J. Burgess is on the sick list this week.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing again in this locality.

Miss Olga Goerler began teaching at Aurora last Monday.

William Voigt held an auction at his home on Friday, October 2.

Miss Mary Dulca spent from Saturday to Monday at Milwaukee.

James Strong Sr. of Cascade is quite seriously ill at the home of his son Nicholas.

Joseph Burgess and wife attended the funeral of Barney Potter at West Bend last week.

A new cement walk is being laid at the upper end of town past the Goerler residence.

Mrs. Mary Wilson accompanied by her daughter-in-law and grandchild here of Oshkosh are visiting relatives.

Mrs. W. M. Murray, who spent three weeks at the home of her father here, has returned on her way home.

James Kenney and sister Kate spent the first of the week here with relatives. While here they had erected a monument at the graves of their parents in St. John's cemetery.

EXCURSION RATES TO CHICAGO.

One and a half fares for round trip Oct. 5, 6 and 7th via Chicago & North Western Ry., account Deep Waterways Convention. Return limit Oct. 12th. Full particulars on application to ticket agent Chicago & North Western Ry.

WAUCOSTA WHISPERINGS.

Frank Rose of Farmington called here Tuesday.

Miss Hattie Busluff spent Sunday at Fond du Lac.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gohman of Forest spent Sunday here.

E. E. Bratz of Elkhart Lake was a business caller here Tuesday.

Adolph Pieper and wife visited relatives at Hustisford for a few days this week.

Miss Annie Tunn and Miss Van Greithuzen of Milwaukee called on friends here Tuesday.

Miss Agnes McPharlin returned here Saturday after spending a week with Fond du Lac relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. M. McCugo and daughters Vivian and Marie of Fond du Lac spent Sunday with R. Kahling and family.

ST. KILIAN SHARPS.

Gebhard Strobel of Milwaukee is the guest of his parents.

Miss Kate Emmer spent last week Thursday at West Bend.

Miss Theresa Kern of Madison is visiting her parents here.

John Miller of Lomira called on friends in this vicinity last Sunday.

Mrs. Victoria Kohler and daughter Tillie spent last week Thursday with Joseph Strachota and family at Kewaskum.

The return Leap Year dance given by the "St. Kilian Coteria Club" on Monday evening was largely attended in spite of the disagreeable weather. The music furnished by Gibson's Harp Orchestra of Appleton could not have been excelled. Dancing was kept up until three o'clock and everybody left saying that they had enjoyed a good time. The dance was a decided success in every way and credit is given the "Coteria Club" for the pleasantness of the affair.

ST. MICHAELS MITES.

Joe Wiskirehen and family of Kohler spent Kirmes in our burg.

Joe Rodenkirk and family are entertaining visitors from Wilmett, Ill.

Miss Agnes Lenertz of Milwaukee spent several days at her home here.

Mrs. Nic. Schneider and daughter Mary are visiting at Sommerst, Minn.

Math. Felenz and wife and Christ. Wiskirehen and wife were visitors at Kohler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bohn and son of West Bend spent Kirmes day at Charles Bremser's.

Mr. and Mrs. John Puestle of Sheboygan arrived here last Saturday on a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Andrew Meyers of Milwaukee and sister, Miss Lena Marx, of Chicago, arrived last Monday on a two weeks' visit at their home here.

Tuesday the patron feast of St. Michael's was celebrated in the local church. Services began at 7 o'clock when the visiting priests read masses. Special high mass was held at 10 o'clock. Kirmes was spent rather quietly among the people, all being too busy to celebrate. Some however attended the Kirmes dance in Schiltz's Hall in the evening and enjoyed a good time.

NOTICE

We the undersigned forbid hunting or trespassing on our farms and any one caught doing so will be prosecuted according to law.

GEORGE MEHLINGER,
MAT. THEISEN,
HUBERT FELLEZ,
MAT. STEHLER,
GEO. DELMUN,
GERHARD FENG,
JOS. HERRIGES,
AUG BRUESWITZ

KOHLVILLE CORRESPONDENCE.

George Becker and family of Milwaukee visited last week with his parents here.

Louis Eberle and son Joe and Paul Guenther of Milwaukee called on relatives here last Sunday.

John Engleiter sold his 80 acre farm to Mr. Guntly from near Ashford last Wednesday for $8,300.

Mrs. John Braun and children of West Bend were guests of the Gottlieb Metzner family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kohl and Miss Amanda Benedum spent Sunday with the Fred Feiz family at Kekaske.

Albert Hamm and family and Miss Annie Seibert visited Sunday with the Adam Schmidt family near Elm.

ELMORE ETCHINGS.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schmidt is very ill.

ST. MICHAELS OF FOND DU LAC

was a caller here Saturday.

Peter Scheid and Ulrich Guntly spent Monday at Lomira on business.

A number from this vicinity attended the cattle fair at Kewaskum Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brandt from Wayne spent Saturday evening with relatives here.

Miss Laura Schimmelpennig visited a few days the past week with relatives in Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Struebing spent Sunday at Kewaskum with George F. Brandt and wife.

Rev. William Zenk and family of Jackson visited with Rev. Romeis and family Thursday.

Mrs. Bertha Reinhardt left Saturday for Fond du Lac to visit with relatives for a few days.

The Ladies' Aid Society met Friday afternoon, October 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Peter Scheid.

Rev. Romeis closed the German school for the season Friday with a picnic for the children at Schrauth's Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Schimmelpennig and son Arthur attended the funeral of Ewald Glander at New Fane Sunday.

Mesdames Henry Schimmelpennig, Gottlieb Pehl and Philip Damm of Campbellsport visited at the home of L. J. Schimmelpennig Thursday.

Mrs. Alma Solt and son Oliver of Willow, Ill., visited Thursday and Friday at the home of Rev. Romeis. The former is a cousin of Mrs. Romeis.

WAYNE WATINGS

Charles F. Dams of West Bend called on friends here Tuesday.

William Foerster put up a windmill for Thomas Byrne Tuesday.

The Frauen Verein met at the home of Jacob Knoebel last Sunday afternoon.

Nick Hess and mother spent Sunday afternoon with his brother, William Hess.

Gust. Diels of Horicon and William Diels from near Kohlsville called here Wednesday.

Quite a few young people from here attended the dance at St. Kilian on Monday evening.

Frank Schuster and men of Theresa laid cement walks for Henry Schmidt Sr. last week.

Andrew Martin received the sad news from Bloomer last Monday of the death of his brother Henry's wife.

Mrs. John Niesius and youngest son of Allenton called on her daughter, Mrs. John Hawig and family last Saturday.

John Galles bought a fine young

When the Good Frau Frivols.

German women, especially German matrons, are accredited by the 'unthinking with extreme stolidity, but when the Teutonic mamma is out with her good man and the 'kinder' who so say as she? One can see her in her glory in any of the really German beer gardens of the metropolis, whether in Manhattan or at Coney Island. There is a place at the island where German families gather to drink imported beer and wine and listen to Tyrolean singers and a German band and a big callopo. It is like a bit of Berlin, for one's feet rest on a coating of gravel spread on the ground, and the tables stand among tall trees, big trees with plenty of shade. Soft green electric lights impart an aesthetic glow. On all sides good feeling is abundant, and it is a pleasant sight the well dressed franks and frauleins make as they sit with their sons and husbands and brothers and fathers, enjoying the brews of the fatherland as well as its music. And if anybody thinks the German woman cannot be as lightheaded as any Parisienne make as they sit with their chattering assemblage quickly will change that opinion.—New York Press.

CARD OF THANKS.

We hereby extend our sincere thanks to our many friends who so kindly assisted us during the illness, death and burial of our beloved wife and mother and to all who attended the funeral. GEO. ARNET & CHILDREN.

The funeral of Mrs. George Arnet was largely attended. Those who attended from abroad were: Adm. Schrupp, William Schrupp and wife, Mrs. John Schrupp, Mrs. Jake Schleicher, Emil Schrupp and William Schall of Newwood, Minn.

Mr. Eberle and family of Milwaukee.

Philip and John Schellinger of Kohlsville spent Saturday evening with the John Galles family. John Flisch and family of St. Kilian, Chris. Hoerig and his brother-in-law from Kohlsville spent Sunday there.

REDUCED COLONIST RATES.

One-way tickets at special low rates on sale daily throughout September and October, from all points on the North Western Line to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and Puget Sound points.

Daily and Personally conducted tours in tourist sleeping cars via the Chicago, Union Pacific & North Western Line. Double berth only $7.00 through from Chicago. For full particulars write S. A. Hutchison, Manager, Tourist Dept., 212 Clark St., Chicago, Ill., or address nearest ticket agent The North Western Line.

Golfing Feats.

The Scottish golfer who undertook for a wager to drive a ball a mile in a dozen consecutive shots probably set himself an easier task than some of his predecessors north of the Tweed.

Among the most interesting wagers of this kind was one taken in the "Bentley Golfing society in 1798 that no two members could drive a ball over the spine of St. Giles' steeple. The feat was attempted by a Mr. Seales of Leith and Mr. Smellie, a printer, each being allowed six balls, and both competitors succeeded. In sending their balls over the weathercock, a height of more than 100 feet from the ground.

Some years later Donald McLean, a writer to the Signet, won a substantial bet by driving a ball over Melville's monument in St. Andrew square, while several Scotchmen have performed the difficult feat of driving the ball from Bunsfield links to the top of Arthur's seat, a species of golfing steeplechase which requires considerable stamina as well as skill.—Woolmerston Courier.

A Little More Than Your Income.

A young man, being asked how much it cost to live in New York city, replied, "A little more than your income, whatever that is." A young city clergyman on his first round of parish calls found a family on the verge of starvation. The man had been out of work for a week and had a wife and five children, the youngest a baby. They had just eaten the last bit of food in the house. The young clergyman gave them $5 and collected for them $20 before the day was out. A few days later he called on them and getting work for the man. They were again on the point of starving. With the $25 the woman had bought a fine new baby carriage, some coffee and sugar. When the clergyman expostulated she indignantly denied extravagance. The children had broken the old carriage, and it was necessary the baby should have a daily airing. As for the coffee, it was the first they had had in weeks. They were accustomed to it and needed it.—Appleton's Magazine.

A Queer Cough Mixture.

Mrs. Delaney, so well known as an eighteenth century personage, had a strange prescription for a cough mixture. Writing to a friend in January, 1758, she says: "Does Mary cough in the night? Two or three snails boiled in her barley water or tea water or whatever she drinks might be of great service to her. Taken in time they have done wonderful cures. She must know nothing of it. They give no manner of taste. It would be best nobody should know it but yourself, and I should imagine six or eight boiled in a quart of water and it strained down opposite to him and it would be a good way, adding a spoonful or two of that to every liquid she takes. They must be fresh done every two or three days; otherwise they grow too thick." A strange remedy, and one wonders whether "Mary" took it and benefited by it.

Misjudged.

A Scotsman was traveling in a third class smoking carriage on a north of England line when at a small station a fishwife with a creel opened the door. Not relishing the prospect of such company, the Scotsman said in his smoothest tones, "Ah, this is a smoking carriage for a good woman!" The fishwife took no notice, but pushed in. "My good woman, this is a smoking carriage," repeated the male passenger in louder tones. The fishwife put her creel in the corner and sat down opposite to him and it was not started. Then the woman put her hand in a pocket of her blue petticoat, took out a large black pipe, lit it, and blowing a cloud of rank smoke that nearly suffocated her companion, remarked, "And so, my mannie, ye thoit nobody could tak a draw but yersel!"

A Big Swallow.

A detective was testing in the case of a woman shoplifter whom he had arrested in her own house. "And, your honor," said he, "when I told her the charge she turned her back to me and swallowed a purse, six suits of silk underwear, a silver candlestick and a chafing dish, and—" "Rubbish! Are you crazy?" the magistrate interrupted.

"Excuse me. What I mean to say, your honor," explained the detective, "is that she swallowed the pawn ticket."

O! dear me.....

.....work for an hour to make bread.....

.....mix it anxiously.....

.....stir it 'til your arms ache.....

.....knead it 'til your back's broken.....

.....put it in the oven.....

.....and.....look at it!.....

.....brown on one side.....

.....yellow on the other.....

.....white on the bottom.....

.....and black on top.....

.....well-done in front and dough in the back.....

"I suppose this old stove was a good one.....

once.....but if I don't soon sell it I'll lose money on it.....

"Life's too short to putter any longer with a poor stove.....what's the use putting it off.....

"I might as well have it now.....The saving in fuel would help to pay for it, and.....

.....we'd have good things to eat.....

.....Yes; it'll be an Acorn.....might as well have the best.....

National Conversations.

If you see three men standing together on the sidewalk in any given country, you can guess the subject of their conversation. In Germany it is the army; in Russia, the bureaucracy; in France, women; in the United States, business. In England, sport, and in Turkey nothing at all.—Brussels Demiere Heure.

Her Way.

"I wouldn't cry like that if I were you," said a lady to little Alice. "Well," said Alice between her sobs, "you can cry any way you like, but this is my way."—United Presbyterian.

Life is measured by experience and not by years.—Lath Proverb.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, COUNTY COURT FOR WASHINGTON COUNTY, IN PROBATE.

In the matter of the estate of William Petri, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that creditors are allowed until the third Tuesday in March, 1909, to present their claims against said deceased to the court for examination and allowance, and that said court will on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1909, at the probate office in the city of West Bend, in said county, receive and adjust all claims so presented against the said William Petri, deceased.

Dated September 2, 1908.

By order of the Court, J. O'MEARA, Kuechenmeister & Barney, Attorneys. County Judge. (First publication Sept. 12, 1908.)

BIG LAND A CTION IN CANADA.

A quarter million acres Canadian farm lands for sale at public auction at Regina, Saskatchewan, Oct. 12th to 17th. Special homesteaders' excursion rates from all points via the Chicago & North Western Ry., Tuesday, Oct. 6th. For full particulars inquire of ticket agents The North Western Line.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, COUNTY COURT FOR WASHINGTON COUNTY, IN PROBATE.

Notice is hereby given that at the special term of the county court, to be held in and for said county at the Probate Office in the city of West Bend, in said county, on the third Tuesday of October, 1908, the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Caroline Utke to prove and admit to probate an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of Carl county, deceased, and of the issuing of letters testamentary thereon according to law.

Dated September 23rd, A. D. 1908.

C. E. Robinson, Attorney. J. O'MEARA, County Judge. (First publication Sept. 26, 1908.)

LOCAL MARKET REPORT.

Barley..... 508.61
Wheat..... 806.10
Red winter..... 806.10
Rye, No. 1..... 509.75
Oats..... 409.45
Butter..... 18
Eggs..... 20
Unwashed wool..... 166.18
Potatoes..... 556.60
Hides..... 1,252.00
Hay..... 7,946.10
Honey..... 60
Honey..... 67
Apples..... 808.10
Red Clover seed, per 100 lbs..... 9,006.10
White..... 6,006.10
Alsyke..... 6,006.10
Hickory Nuts..... per bu. 1,052.10
LIVE POULTRY.
Spring Chickens..... 11
Hens..... 60
Old Roosters..... 60
Geese..... 60

DAIRY MARKET.

ELGIN, Ill., Sept. 28.—Butter, firm at 25c; sales for the week, 694,200 lbs.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Sept. 28.—Sales of cheese on the dairy board today were twine, 135c; dairies, 125c.

PLYMOUTH, Wis., Sept. 28.—On the call board today 28 factories offered 2,920 boxes cheese (country and work) at 12 1/2c; 100 boxes at 10c; 100 boxes at 11c; 100 boxes at 12c; 100 boxes at 13c; 100 boxes at 14c; 100 boxes at 15c; 100 boxes at 16c; 100 boxes at 17c; 100 boxes at 18c; 100 boxes at 19c; 100 boxes at 20c; 100 boxes at 21c; 100 boxes at 22c; 100 boxes at 23c; 100 boxes at 24c; 100 boxes at 25c; 100 boxes at 26c; 100 boxes at 27c; 100 boxes at 28c; 100 boxes at 29c; 100 boxes at 30c; 100 boxes at 31c; 100 boxes at 32c; 100 boxes at 33c; 100 boxes at 34c; 100 boxes at 35c; 100 boxes at 36c; 100 boxes at 37c; 100 boxes at 38c; 100 boxes at 39c; 100 boxes at 40c; 100 boxes at 41c; 100 boxes at 42c; 100 boxes at 43c; 100 boxes at 44c; 100 boxes at 45c; 100 boxes at 46c; 100 boxes at 47c; 100 boxes at 48c; 100 boxes at 49c; 100 boxes at 50c; 100 boxes at 51c; 100 boxes at 52c; 100 boxes at 53c; 100 boxes at 54c; 100 boxes at 55c; 100 boxes at 56c; 100 boxes at 57c; 100 boxes at 58c; 100 boxes at 59c; 100 boxes at 60c; 100 boxes at 61c; 100 boxes at 62c; 100 boxes at 63c; 100 boxes at 64c; 100 boxes at 65c; 100 boxes at 66c; 100 boxes at 67c; 100 boxes at 68c; 100 boxes at 69c; 100 boxes at 70c; 100 boxes at 71c; 100 boxes at 72c; 100 boxes at 73c; 100 boxes at 74c; 100 boxes at 75c; 100 boxes at 76c; 100 boxes at 77c; 100 boxes at 78c; 100 boxes at 79c; 100 boxes at 80c; 100 boxes at 81c; 1

Kewaskum Statesman.

SATURDAY, OCT. 3, 1908.

C. & N. W. RAILWAY TIME TABLE. GOING NORTH. Campbellsport, Kewaskum, Milwaukee.

GOING SOUTH. Milwaukee, Kewaskum, Campbellsport.

LAOCONICAL LOCALS.

Otto Stark visited at Milwaukee Sunday. Village Board meeting next Monday evening. Miss Ida Klug visited at Oshkosh Sunday.

The local base ball team were over to Random Lake Sunday where they defeated the team of that village by a score of 7 to 13. Traffic was delayed over two hours last Monday evening on account of several cars on a freight train being derailed near Granville.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES. (Cora A. Colvin, '08.) Miss Edna Schmidt returned to school Tuesday. Miss Myrtle Schmitt was absent several days the past week.

CAMPBELLSPORT. Wallace Ward drove to Lomira on Friday. Henry Braun visited at Milwaukee this week.

WE ASK YOU. To examine our statement of condition. People who intrust their money to a bank should know something of its financial strength.

Autumn Merchandise. THE ADJUSTO CORSET. Boys' Fall Clothing. L. ROSENHEIMER, KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

Do You Like to Save Money. Then we would advise you to make your Fall and Winter purchases here. Pick Brothers & Co., WEST BEND, WISCONSIN.

La Vogue Garments. Practical as well as Stylish. It's well enough to talk of style—but that style to be really serviceable must be practical.

Put Some Money Away. now. You will not always be able to earn as much as you are earning today. CITIZENS STATE BANK KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

NOTICE—Hunting on the farms of the undersigned is strictly forbidden under penalty of the law.

FOR SALE—Cedar fence posts, various sizes at prices that are right can now be had at my place.

The roof of the electric light plant was slightly damaged by fire Tuesday evening.

William Odekerk figured in an accident Saturday evening that might have resulted in serious injury to himself and his horse.

Report of the Financial Condition of the BANK OF KEWASKUM. Loans and discounts, $125,000.00. Deposits, $171,200.00.

Report of the Financial Condition of the CITIZENS STATE BANK. Loans and discounts, $73,022.11. Deposits, $102,354.33.

Report of the Financial Condition of the BANK OF KEWASKUM. Loans and discounts, $125,000.00. Deposits, $171,200.00.

Report of the Financial Condition of the BANK OF KEWASKUM. Loans and discounts, $125,000.00. Deposits, $171,200.00.

A Wayward Beauty.

By the Author of "Under False Colours," etc.

CHAPTER X.—Continued.

"Oh, please do not waste any time!" said Beryl, anxious to be off without further delay. "You can have mine if you need one."

"All right! Never mind, Leo! Come back! Have we got the sandwiches all right?"

"Yes, yes! Do come!" from Beryl. "I'll be waiting for you!"

"Pounds of it—I shall go alone, if you boys won't start!"

"All serene, Beryl! Fire away! We can catch up a girl in a brace of shakes."

"Can you, old chappie? Then here goes!" laughed Beryl, with pretty defiance.

And she sprang on her machine and was flying along the drive as though some lower-geared machine had been threatening to overtake.

"Silly to force the pace like that at the beginning," criticised Eddie. "She will be completely puffed before she has done the first mile."

"It's a little bit of 'side'," corrected Leo. "She will slow down as soon as she gets round the corner and we can't see her."

And she deliberated, copied from her elders, the two boys mounted their cycles, and set forth with loud, leisurely strokes to overtake the racing companion whose lower-geared machine had been working more severe. But for all their superiority it was some time before they overtook her, and then, to their loudly expressed surprise, they found her in no wise exhausted by her hard toil.

"A merry heart goes all the day. Your sad tires in a minute," quoted Beryl, in explanation at what they called her fitness.

"I thought you were to be so joyful about it," asked Eddie, severely matter of fact as ever.

"I know," said Leo, with a wide grin. "I'm glad to see you so happy."

"Oh, no, you don't, Leo!" she said. "You are too much of a gentleman to let your merriment be known."

"Of course I am. You didn't think I should see a cad as to betray a girl's little secrets, did you?"

"Girl's secrets are not worth betraying, are they, Leo?" she asked.

"Not often; but I dare say they think they're safe," replied Leo, smiling. "If you might tell me," struck in Eddie, who did not relish being relegated to the position of an outsider.

"There is nothing to tell, really," Beryl assured him. "You know Leo says that he is going to be an author. You must make allowances for his desire to cultivate romance. That is a sweet little romance. Let us get some milk there and ask the people to let us sit in the garden and eat our sandwiches. I am as hungry as a hunter."

"I thought you never felt hungry when you were in—"

"Shut up, Leo! I don't mind your own business! I won't give you that sweet little romance. Let us get some milk there and ask the people to let us sit in the garden and eat our sandwiches. I am as hungry as a hunter."

"You little gourmet," laughed Beryl. "I suppose you will turn up your magnifying glass and find some more to eat for champagne? I think while you boys devour the remainder I will peg myself. With your high gears you will get me up."

"I knew you wouldn't be able to rest quiet till you saw—"

"But a warning glance from Beryl's eyes, which were turned to see if she had buried his face in a tumbler of foaming milk and soda, who or what Beryl was anxious to see, remained for the rest a mystery."

The three travelers were only about five miles from their destination when a treacherous storm, lying in wait upon the road, broke in upon them, and caused it to explode with a loud report.

"Oh!" exclaimed Eddie. "There's a bore! What are we to do now?"

"I suppose we shall have to stop and mend the beastly thing," suggested Leo. "I'll get the tools."

Eddie proceeded to search the back pockets.

"I don't believe there is any mending stuff," he exclaimed. "Leo, you are silly to have left that behind. Have you got any, Beryl?"

"I have a tin of mending stuff, but I have overlooked the possibility of the subject of my bag," Beryl explained. "There was a regret so poignant in his tone that his heart was touched. She moved swiftly to his side and laid her hand upon his shoulder."

"Do not say that you are nothing to me," she murmured softly. "I shall never know a happier moment till the article comes back from this long, terrible voyage."

"Beryl!"

"With a sudden heart-throb he looked long and earnestly into her eyes. What he read there made him fold her into his arms, and seal their mutual betrothal with a kiss."

"All right, Beryl! I will be as dumb as an oyster. I say, Eddie, these pate de foie gras sandwiches are galumphous. I am going to give the chef a hint to put some in."

"You little gourmet," laughed Beryl. "I suppose you will turn up your magnifying glass and find some more to eat for champagne? I think while you boys devour the remainder I will peg myself. With your high gears you will get me up."

"I knew you wouldn't be able to rest quiet till you saw—"

"But a warning glance from Beryl's eyes, which were turned to see if she had buried his face in a tumbler of foaming milk and soda, who or what Beryl was anxious to see, remained for the rest a mystery."

The three travelers were only about five miles from their destination when a treacherous storm, lying in wait upon the road, broke in upon them, and caused it to explode with a loud report.

"Oh!" exclaimed Eddie. "There's a bore! What are we to do now?"

"I suppose we shall have to stop and mend the beastly thing," suggested Leo. "I'll get the tools."

Eddie proceeded to search the back pockets.

"I don't believe there is any mending stuff," he exclaimed. "Leo, you are silly to have left that behind. Have you got any, Beryl?"

"I have a tin of mending stuff, but I have overlooked the possibility of the subject of my bag," Beryl explained. "There was a regret so poignant in his tone that his heart was touched. She moved swiftly to his side and laid her hand upon his shoulder."

"Do not say that you are nothing to me," she murmured softly. "I shall never know a happier moment till the article comes back from this long, terrible voyage."

"Beryl!"

"With a sudden heart-throb he looked long and earnestly into her eyes. What he read there made him fold her into his arms, and seal their mutual betrothal with a kiss."

"All right, Beryl! I will be as dumb as an oyster. I say, Eddie, these pate de foie gras sandwiches are galumphous. I am going to give the chef a hint to put some in."

"You little gourmet," laughed Beryl. "I suppose you will turn up your magnifying glass and find some more to eat for champagne? I think while you boys devour the remainder I will peg myself. With your high gears you will get me up."

"I knew you wouldn't be able to rest quiet till you saw—"

"But a warning glance from Beryl's eyes, which were turned to see if she had buried his face in a tumbler of foaming milk and soda, who or what Beryl was anxious to see, remained for the rest a mystery."

The three travelers were only about five miles from their destination when a treacherous storm, lying in wait upon the road, broke in upon them, and caused it to explode with a loud report.

"Oh!" exclaimed Eddie. "There's a bore! What are we to do now?"

"I suppose we shall have to stop and mend the beastly thing," suggested Leo. "I'll get the tools."

Eddie proceeded to search the back pockets.

"I don't believe there is any mending stuff," he exclaimed. "Leo, you are silly to have left that behind. Have you got any, Beryl?"

"I have a tin of mending stuff, but I have overlooked the possibility of the subject of my bag," Beryl explained. "There was a regret so poignant in his tone that his heart was touched. She moved swiftly to his side and laid her hand upon his shoulder."

"Do not say that you are nothing to me," she murmured softly. "I shall never know a happier moment till the article comes back from this long, terrible voyage."

ABBOTT OUT OF THE RACE

CANNOT BRING SUIT TO HAVE HIS NAME PLACED ON BALLOTS.

CLOSES ALL COURT AVENUES.

High State Tribunal Does Not Prepare a Written Opinion, but Denies Formal Application.

BEEDLE IS REPUBLICAN NOMINEE

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The supreme court this morning denied the petition of James E. Abbott of Madison for leave to bring suit against Secretary of State James A. Frear to compel him to certify Abbott's name to the county clerk as the Republican nominee for insurance commissioner.

No Written Opinion.

There was no written opinion, but on convening at 10 o'clock this morning it was announced that the application was denied, but that the court would be ready to hear the case on a new application made.

Outcome Long in Doubt.

The race between Beedle and Abbott was a close one and it was not until last night that the result was made certain. At that time, after a complete canvass of all the precincts in the state, it was found that Beedle had a narrow lead over Abbott.

The denial of the motion closes every avenue by which the matter can be taken into court unless there is considerable delay in the discovery and a new application made.

Freeman and Brakeman Escape Death Miraculously Though Scalded When Engine Blows Up.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 28.—Engineer Fred J. Good, 3631 Park Hill avenue, was killed, and Fireman Christian J. Hanson, 443 Third-street avenue, and Brakeman B. N. Taylor, a resident of Milwaukee, badly scalded in an explosion of the boiler of locomotive 1772 at Portage, Wis., at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Hanson and Taylor were scalded badly by escaping steam, while the escape of the latter is considered almost miraculous. He was hurled through the air fifty feet.

Frederick Good.

The bursting of the boiler sent fragments of the locomotive in all directions, and as the train was passing through the explosion hurled the contents of the firebox into the dry grass and started a miniature forest fire, which was extinguished by the close proximity of the work of the locomotive was wrecked, though all the cars remained on the track.

In charge of Conductor Louis Stiltz, 434 Fourteenth avenue, the freight train left Milwaukee Saturday afternoon. While standing on a siding at Portage, awaiting orders, the explosion occurred. The locomotive seemed in the best of order, prior to the crash. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

EXPLOSION KILLS ONE

ENGINEER ON MILWAUKEE ROAD MEETS DEATH IN ACCIDENT.

Freeman and Brakeman Escape Death Miraculously Though Scalded When Engine Blows Up.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 28.—Engineer Fred J. Good, 3631 Park Hill avenue, was killed, and Fireman Christian J. Hanson, 443 Third-street avenue, and Brakeman B. N. Taylor, a resident of Milwaukee, badly scalded in an explosion of the boiler of locomotive 1772 at Portage, Wis., at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Hanson and Taylor were scalded badly by escaping steam, while the escape of the latter is considered almost miraculous. He was hurled through the air fifty feet.

Frederick Good.

The bursting of the boiler sent fragments of the locomotive in all directions, and as the train was passing through the explosion hurled the contents of the firebox into the dry grass and started a miniature forest fire, which was extinguished by the close proximity of the work of the locomotive was wrecked, though all the cars remained on the track.

In charge of Conductor Louis Stiltz, 434 Fourteenth avenue, the freight train left Milwaukee Saturday afternoon. While standing on a siding at Portage, awaiting orders, the explosion occurred. The locomotive seemed in the best of order, prior to the crash. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

The frame of the locomotive was blown to pieces and the boiler was torn to pieces. The boiler was torn to pieces and the fragments scattered in all directions. Portage people were aroused by the noise of the explosion and hurried to the aid of the train crew.

Engineer Good was not dead, when found, and he was taken to the hospital. He was severely injured, but recovered, although terribly scalded. The rear end of the train was dazed and dazed, while Taylor was unconscious in the burning marsh and was taken to the hospital, where he recovered. It is believed Taylor and Hanson will recover, although terribly scalded.

The frame and boiler itself between the two main tracks.

Good's body was brought to Merrill Park, 100 feet from the head of the train. The frame and boiler itself between the two main