WM. ROHLFING DIES SUDDENLY AT EARLY HOUR

WELL KNOWN PIANO MAN EXPIRES WHILE APPARENTLY IN EX-CELLENT HEALTH.

IN BUSINESS MANY YEARS.

Spent His Life in Manufacture and Sale of Pianos-Active in Milwaukee Musical Societies.

DEMISE IS A SHOCK TO FRIENDS,

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 7, 1908 .-William G. Rohlfing, one of Milwaukee's pioneer piano dealers, and an active resident of the city for thirty years, died suddenly this morning at 5 o'clock, at his residence, 543 Cass street, at the age of nearly 78 years. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon, interment to be at Forest Home.

So sudden was the death of Mr. Rohlfing that no member of his family had the least intimation of an approaching end until within an hour before he passed away. His son George and a daughter were summoned to his room about 4 o'clock and found their father apparently rapidly sinking. His only words to them were "I am dying," and within a few moments the end came quietly and peacefully. Heart trouble was the direct cause of death.

Kept in Touch with Business.

Mr. Rohlfing, who was at the head of the Rohlfing Piano company, visited the store at 130 Oneida street, during the day on Tuesday, where he made particular inquiries of the manager, his son, George Rohlfing, as to the condition of the business. In the evening, as had long been his daily practice, he visited a cafe in the Seventh ward, where he always met old associates and warm friends. With several of these he passed a pleasant hour, returning home early, apparently as well as he had been for months past, although he remarked to a friend during the evening that he had not been feeling as well as usual, but that he thought he was much better and remarked that he did not intend to miss meeting his friends each evening in Native of Germany.

William G. Rohlfing was a native of Osnabrueck, Germany, where he was born December 17, 1830. He was always proud of the fact that the great composer and musician, Beethoven, and himself were born upon the same day of the same month. His father, Christian Rohlfing was a leading pinger manufacture of the same day of the same month. His father, Christian Rohlfing was a leading pinger manufacture. tian Rohlfing, was a leading piano manufacturer of his native town and the son rned the trade in his father's factory He received a liberal school education in his native town, and in January, 1852 took passage at Bremen for the United States, making the journey to Baltimore in a sailing vessel in sixty-five days. In that city he entered the employ of Weiss brothers, piano makers, and in 1855 he was made foreman of the piano factory of Louis Stirn in the same city. Later he moved to Norfolk, Va., where, with two brothers-in-raw, Daniel and August Stirn, he started a plano manufacturing business. This was discontinued when the war between the states broke out. the war between the states broke out, at which time Mr. Rohlfing returned to Baltimore and accepted a responsible position with William Knabe & Co., reining there until 1878, when he came to Milwaukee.

Comes to Milwaukee.

Arriving in Milwaukee he engaged at once in the piano trade on his own account, opening a large music store here and continuing in the business at various places in the city, until his death. During those years Mr. Rohling was Milwaukee agent for some of the leading pianos in the United States. In later years his sons were connected in the firm names, the latest firm being the Rohlfing Piano company. For more than ten years the senior Rohlfing was treasurer and an active member of the Milwaukee Musical society, and in 1882 by the senior Rohlfing was treasurer and an active member of the Milwaukee Musical society, and in 1882 by the senior Rohlfing was treasured by the senior Ro waukee Musical society, and in 1886 he was chairman of the financial committee which managed the great saengerfest in this city. He was a life member of the Musical society. He was also a director of the Deutscher Gesellschaft, a member of the Deutscher club, and active in several other societies. He was a man of most genial traits, a remarkably happy disposition, and was a warm friend and disposition, and was a warm friend and companion of many men considerably younger than himself, who enjoyed his society and kindly nature.

On September 27, 1855, Mr. Rohlfing was united in marriage to Miss Emma Stirn, sister of his early employer in Baltimore. His wife and seven chillenges was the seven of the series o dren survive him. The sons are Charles, William, Jr., Herman and George Rohlfing, associated at various times in busi-

Is Oratory a Drawback? The great orators have not been the most fortunate aspirants for the presi dency. Webster, Clay, Douglas and Blaine were idolized by their followers, not only for their abilities and personal traits, but also for their persuasive powers of speech. Horace and Liberal Republicans in 1872, was GONTRAGTOR and BUILDER not a notable orator, but was none the less an effective talker. He made a speaking tour in the latter part of the eampaign, and, although his position was an anomalous one, he acquitted himself with credit, even if he was overwhelmingly defeated. Tilden, who in his free soil days made speeches obtained his mastery by his pen, not by his tongue. Grant, who was called the silent man because he could not make a speech when he first became a candidate, learned to speak very well in public, his speech for Garfield in 1880 being a good example of his de

"Balderdash!" An illustration of the manners of critics in bygone days is furnished by a scathing notice once printed concern ing a volume of Browning's poems. It was an early volume, and Browning was delighted to receive a letter from J. S. Mill proposing to write a notice of them in the Westminster Review. A few days later his expectations were dashed by hearing from Mr. Mill that he could not write the article, as he Wines, Liquors, Cigars, Etc. had been forestalled by a notice which had appeared in the Westminster Review itself. With a palpitating heart Browning rushed to his club and searched the pages of the Westminster Review, to find, to his dismay, the article which had robbed him of Mr. Mill's notice. It was to this effect: "A volume of poems by Browning-balderdash!" Oyster Shells as Medicine. Ground oyster shells were given by the mediaeval doctors to children suf fering from rickets and scrofula. Nov it appears that they were right. The shells contain lime, nitrogen, iron, su phur, manganese, magnesia, flour, bro mide, phosphoric acid and iodine, all excellent for feeble children. They say that if growing children were to take powdered oysier shells in their food the teeth would be improved .- London Answers.

Renomination of Charles H. Weisse by the Democrats of the Sixth District Meets With Hearty Approval.

This district has been ably repre sented during the period Congressman C. H. Weisse has been in office and the people are anxious that the present incumbant continue as their 1-4-tf public servant and at the coming election he will receive a handsome vote in Washington county, not alone from the members of his party, but from Republicans as well. His every act has been in the interest and for the welfare of the district and his wise judgment in matters of grave importance have won for him wide recognition He is a man for the plain people, one who is just the same after election as before. His paid their box rent at the postoffice, promises made in the heat of the campaign have been fulfilled and no man stands stronger with the people of this state today than Mr. Weisse: He has been a staunch friend of the while Congressman Weisse has thir ty-one to his credit. He is a worker, and believes that more can be ac complished by quiet work in the com is the kind of work that benefits the people, and no voter of the district who wants an ideal public servant will vote against Mr. Weisse at the coming election The erv of party is usually used to whip into line those who prefer the man, but this year the people are reading and they are going to vote for the man who stands for something and who has a clean

public and private record.

Mr. Weisse was born in Shebovgan county and educated in the Lutheran schools. At an early age he entered his father's tannery and after mas tering every branch became the hea of this great institution. His en ploves are his staunchest supporter for they know the merits of the man They have found him square in ever respect and that is the kind of a me congress. He has been the means securing free rural delivery for Wash ington, Fond du Lac, Dodge an Ozaukee counties. This service is re cognized by the farmers of the district more than by others. He is in touch with the affairs of the entire district and if elected in November i in a position to render far better ser vice and secure more for the district serve several years to familar ze him self with affairs at Washington Washington county voters who want

On the sanded floor of a small public house near Chestnut a ferret of long experience was matched with an old lopeared buck, the property of the landlord.

The ferret made straight for the rabbit's throat, but the latter was in the air before master ferret could reach him, and leaping clean over the ferret's head let out with those powerful hind legs of his a kick which hurled the ferret bodily against the wainscot. Twice the ferret returned to the attack and twice missed his grip and went hurtling through the air.

The third repulse was enough for him.

SKIN TROUBLES CURED.

First Had Itching Rash-Threatened Relied on Cuticura Remedies.

"About twelve or fifteen years ago I had a breaking-out, and it itched, and stung so badly that I could not have any peace because of it. Three doctors did not help me. Then I used some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent and began to get better right away. They cured me and I have not been bothered with the itching since, to amount to anything. About two years ago I had la grippe and pneumonia, which left me with a pain in my side. Treatment ran it into my leg, which then swelled and began to break out. The doctor was afraid it would turn to bloodpoison. I used his medicine, but it did no good, then I used the Cuticura Remedies three times and cured the breaking-out on my leg. J. F. ARE HOARSE FROM SPEAKING.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 8. - William Howard Taft and William Jennings Bryan not only ate at the same board during the fourth annual dinner of the Chicago Association of Commerce last evening but they chatted smilingly, jested about the strain of the campaign, and even went so far as to exchange

It was the first time in eight years that the two had met. Away back when Mr. Bryan was running the second time for the presidency he met Judge Taft in California; and the renewal of the acquaintance was marked by a strong handclasp.

One laughed with his eyes and the other smiled with his lips, but if there was any difference in the degrees of warmth between the two it could not be detected on the surface. A formal introduction, because of the occasion, was given by President Richard C.
