Of these preliminaries by far the most interest attaches itself to the caucus of the Democratic members of the House, which has been called for Saturday to choose a leader to succeed Representative John Sharp Williams of Mississippi who re-

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 3.-Greater safety in mining, conservation in the coal mining industry, the formal opening of the government station for investigation of mine explosions which was established here recently, an election of three directors, addresses by James R. Garfield, secretary of the interior, Dr. J. A. Holmes, chief of the technologic branch of the United States geological survey, the annual address of President J. H. Richards of Idaho, speeches by well known mine owners and mine officials, and a reception to the delegates by the citizens of Pittsburg, were some of the features confronting the American Mining congress when the second day's session of the eleventh annual convention began here today.

Improve Coal Mines. Apparently the whole convention has concentrated its efforts for the improvement of the coal mining industry. The disasters last year at the Naomi mine, Fayette City, Pa., Monongah, W. Va., and Jacobs Creek, Pa., and the catastrophe last Saturday at Marianna, Pa., have so far furnished the chief material for discussion.

In an address, former Gov. Fleming of West Virginia, a director of the Monongah mines, said: "I wonder sometimes if there is such a thing as too much ventilation in the mines." In the mines."

The American Mining Congress has recalled that in all their recent mine explosions the mines were the best ventilated in the world. Mr. Fleming's question has caused much discussion, and according to a number of prominent men, may result in the prevention of many disasters in the future.

Champ Clark is probably the best known figure on the Democratic side and, without much question, the most popular one. For several reasons his elevation to the minority leadership is worthy of notice. There promise to be some phases of his leadership that will be in marked distinction to the leadership of John Sbarp Williams. Many Democrats believe, and in this number are some of the best friends of Mr. Williams, that Clark will make a more effective leader than did the noted member from Mississippi. For one thing the Missouri representative will go into the leadership with practically the united suppose.

State Treasurer Dahl May Be Enjoined from Paying Money to Rural Schools.

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 3 .- [Special.]

One innocent looking law passed at he last session of the Legislature may be taken into the courts for a test of its $50 for the ventilation of schoolhouses, trial Just what the reason for its passage was no one seems to know, since country choolhouses as a rule are notoriously well ventilated through ill-fitting windows, broken floors and worn out doors, but the law having been passed, human ingenuity was equal to the test of meeting it. Of course furnaces could not be put under country schoolhouseas so a stove was devised, with a zinc enclosure, and it was set forth that by means of this zinc envelope the foul air in the room would be thrown into the stove and hence sent up the chimney.

When objections were made to the charges of $75 or more it was said further that the state was paying $50 thereof. The signature of one school officer dows, broken floors and worn out doors, his campaign for coroner. His expense

The second man would generally be secured on the representation that the first had signed so that by seeing members of the board separately a majority usually was obtained.

"I have just come," she began breathlessly, with her eyes on two robins arguing loudly on an ash tree, "to sit and sew by your sofa. We won't talk a word, please, because nurse Martin said I over-tired you dreadfully yesterday."

"Nurse Martin was as mistaken as it is possible for a woman in her senses to be," he said quietly, "I felt better yesterday, while you were with me, than I have ever done in my life before."

"We will be quite sober and sensible today." said Diana with dignity, while she pressed a hem of coarse linen. "We seemed to talk so much nonsense yesterday that we got quite confused between apologies and jests, and didn't know when we were poking or serious."

"Pardon me, Napoleon! In my mind there was no confusion. But we will be as grave as mutes if you like -anything so long as you will sit near me here in the aunthors."

"Do you krow, I fancy the poachers took away your nerves," he commented gravely. "Your fingers are shaking so that you have been three hundred seconds trying to thread that needle. Why not let me try my hand?"

"Oh, no!" she said, poising thread and needle desperately.

"Again!" he said with a laugh.

"Oh, pray thread it!" she said coldly, passing the needle to him. In her impetuous haste she dropped it on the rug of the smaller of chronicle.

Is there an Isle of Wight dialect? Probably the constant stream of tour ists passing through the island has swept it away. But the cosmopolitan invasion has not taken from the islander his insularity. Hear two natives, traveling by rail—in the railway coach of a former age—discussing their destination. "Where are you going?" "Oh, I'm going across to England. And you?" "I'm for England, too." FIGHT FOR A $5 PROM

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS WANT AD-MISSION PRICE RAISED.

Contend That Big Social Function of the Year Cannot Be Conducted Properly on a $3 Basis.

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 2.-[Special.] -Students at the University of Wisconsin believe that the faculty will raise the price of admission to the annua junior promenade, which is to be held February 19, 1909, from $3 to $5. The faculty social committee, composed of Profs. E. A. Gilmore and J. F. A. Pyre, and Capt. Ralph McCoy, met with Pron Chairman Gordon S. Falk and a repre sentative body of students last night in order to ascertain student sentiment in regard to the proposed change.

The students contend, and the faculty committee appears to agree, that the $3 admission fee is not large enough to finance the promenade, which is the greatest social event of the year at the university. Because of the inferior quality of the accommodations offered at the last two proms, tickets to which were sold at $3 by faculty order, the attendence has fallen off, and a large deficit was incurred last year. It is believed by the students that if the faculty will authorize a $5 prom, a large number of alumni will attend, and get in closer touch with the university. Both faculty and students feel the need awakening among the alumni a great-interest in the university. At the next faculty meeting, which robably will be held December 14, the social committee will bring the proposition before the faculty, and will also present a petition for a $5 prom, which has been signed by about 150 prominent students. It is believed that the faculty will take definite action at that time

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it falls to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
