STARVING DOGS LIKE HYENAS IN MESSINA RUINS

ANIMALS, RABID FROM LACK OF WATER, ATTACK HELPLESS REFUGEES.

BODIES HORRIBLY MUTILATED.

One Victim, Buried Up to His Neck in Debris but Still Alive, Has Eyes and Cheeks Gnawed.

ITALY GRATEFUL TO AMERICANS

MESSINA, Jan. 6 .- Dogs now constitute one of the dangers to the earthquake refugees. These animals, starving and often rabid through lack of water, gnaw the corpses like hyenas and frequently attack the refugees themselves.

Among the wounded who left for Paermo last night was a young man whose eyes and right cheek had been horribly mutilated by dogs. After the earthquake he was buried in debris up to his neck and while thus unable to move was attacked by three of the animals and seriously hurt before his cries attracted help. Many people are shooting all vagrant dogs at sight and stray bullets are another danger in the city.

Looters Are Shot. ROME, Jan. 6.-The report that a number of Italian soldiers had been arrested and shot because large sums of money supposed to have been stolen from the ruins in the earthquake area were found in their possession has been proven false. Several thieves have disguised themselves in the uniforms of dead soldiers which probably gave ris to the report.

Ambassador Griscom has presented formally to the Italian government the resolution of sympathy passed by the House of Representatives at Washington. Foreign Minister Tittoni expressed his high appreciation of this act and said it would be given fitting acknowledgment. Mr. Griscom today notified Count Taverna, president of the Italian Red Cross, that having received $100,000 from the American Red Cross society, he had shipped this American relief to the Strait of Messina on the steamship Bayern, which left Genoa yesterday. The ressel will fly the Red Cross flag. The expense of fitting out this vessel is computed at $60,000 for the first two weeks. The time of her charter will be extended f necessary. She is costing $1200 a day.

Search Italy for Supplies.

All Italy is being searched for material suitable for relief and it is becoming in creasingly difficult to obtain the kind of supplies required. Mr. Griscom has received warm congratulations on the organization of the Bayern relief expedition from several admirals of the Italian navy and from members of King Victor Emmanuel's staff. The admirals express their amazement over the energy which enabled the Americans to load a ship and outfit her perfectly within fortyeight hours. They did not know which emotion was the stronger, their gratitude or their admiration for the energy displayed.

Sig. de Felice, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, who on the very day of the earthquake reached Messina with relief party from Catania, said today that he does not think the search for the living under the ruins should be stopped. He recalls a number of instances of people in other disasters having been found alive after ten days.

Object to Rigid Measures. The rigid measures that the authoriies are enforcing in the earthquake rerion cause considerable complaint, es-pecially in Reggio, where it is affirmed arge relief expeditions consisting of solliers, doctors and carpenters were obliged to wait aboard vessels in the coadstead for twenty-four hours before being allowed to disembark. The administration of relief in the Calabrian listrict has been unable, on account of the bad condition of the roads, to de-pave brought to Reggio urgent appeals for help. Singers Die in Quake. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 6.—A dispatch received here from Rome says that M. Petroff, a prominent Russian basso, and two Italian singers, Signores Catiniand Gambi, tenors, perished at Messina.

SIX-MILE TRAMP TO SHELTER.

RICE LAKE, Wis., Jan. 7 .- [Special.]-Four children of Christian Lee, a farmer living six miles from here, were cremated in a fire which totally destroyed the farm dwelling last night. The dead children ranged in age from 8 to 16 years. Lee, together with his wife and three younger children escaped the ravages of the flames, only to face a six-mile walk to shelter with the thermometer registering 22 degrees below

Mother Rescues Children.

The mother was awakened by the roar of the flames, and grabbing the three youngest children rushed from the house. The four boys who were sleeping upstairs were cut off from escape. When the parents realized that their four children had been burned to death and that certain death awaited the survivors if certain death awaited the survivors it they remained without shelter, the fa-ther and mother started on the six-mile tramp across country to this city. The mother, who was carrying the two youngest children, became exhausted and Lee was forced to carry his wife and the two children for a distance of over a quarter of a mile to a place of safety. The third child, who walked, froze both The third child, who walked, froze both his feet, and it is feared that he will die as a result of the exposure to the cold. Fears are expressed for the lives of the other two children.

so-called Massachusetts ballot system since his inauguration two years ago, both in his messages to the Legislature and in public addresses.

Previous Legislatures have failed to enact the legislation suggested, and it is predicted that the proposed measures will result in a legislative struggle this year which may equal in point of bitterness the conflict over the anti-race track gambling bills.

Gov. Hughes recommends a system of direct nominations by all parties for all elective offices other than those of presidential electors filled at the November elections or at special elections called to fill vacancies in such offices.

Rev. John J. Carmichael of Columbus, Mich., Is Slain and Body Placed in Church Stove.

PORT HURON, Mich., Jan. 7.—Murdered after a terrific battle with an unknown assailant, Rev. John J. Carmichael's dismembered body was found in his little Methodist church near Columbus, this county. The body had been chopped to pieces, the pieces stuffed into the two big stoves in the church and partly consumed. After completing his work the slayer, it is supposed, drove in the minister's buggy to Pine river, several miles away, and escaped. Mystery enshrouds the motive for the murder. So far as can be learned the clergyman had not an enemy.

A Bit of Blue Sky.

Professor John Tyndall, who, with many great gifts, possessed a singular

skill in devising and conducting beautiful experimental illustrations, actually produced in 1869 a bit of blue sky

in the lecture room. In a glass tube three feet in length and three inches in diameter he exhausted the air until it was less than one-tenth the density of the atmosphere we breathe and represented the rarer air high overhead.

Into this exhausted air he introduced uitrite of butyle vapor, which is extremely volatile. Then a strong beam of light in a room otherwise dark was passed through the mixture, and in the blue cloud, rivaling in color the finest

Italian sky. Here was blue sky

SEA GULLS DEFENDED.

Massachusetts Expert Denies They Are Destroying Fish and Birds' Eggs. The accusation made against sea gulls by fishermen of Scotland that they are destroying fish and eggs of birds and are increasing too fast under statutory protection is denied by Prof. E. H. Forbush, ornithologist for the state board of agriculture of Massachusetts, who has made a special study of the bird this year and has not found one herring gull or black headed gull attacking the eggs of other birds. Large numbers of dead fish were washed up on the Massachusetts beaches this summer owing to the unusual number of whales, which drove the small fish so near land that they were caught by the breakers and tossed ashore. Town scavenger departments found it difficult to keep the beaches clear and they would for the gulls which swooped down and greedily ate the dead fish. This is put to the credit of the gulls. The live fish which the gulls eat, Prof.

Forbush declares, are not of the valuable kind, but small species like the sand eel, mummychog and minnow. Prof. Forbush also points out that the charge that gulls kill young ducks must charge that gulls kill young ducks must not be brought against the gull family as a whole but only a few individuals. As there are black sheep in the human family so there are bad dispositioned gulls which may kill young ducks, but on observer once noted that out of a hundred or more gulls only two were guilty of such killing.

The value of gulls to the mariner,
Prof. Forbush says, is well known. In Prof. Forbush says, is well known. In thick summer weather the appearance of gulls in numbers or the sound of their clamorous voices gives warning to the sailors that he is nearing the rocks on which they breed. Shore fishermen enstrouded in fog can tell the direction of the islands on which the birds live by watching their undeviating flight homeward with food for their young. The keen senses of sea birds enable them to head directly for their nests even in dense mist. Fishermen also discover schools of fish by watching the sea birds.

sea birds. As to the statement that the protection of the gulls is causing them to increase too fast, Prof. Forbush says that might say I am well.
