LIGHT DRAUGHT POTATO HARVESTER

Machines which will imitate the action of the human hand are recognized to be the best substitutes of hand work, and hundreds of the best agricultural machines now in successful operation are based on the idea of a mechanical imitation of the human body.

Have you ever seen a machine which imitates the action of human hands in digging potatoes? No; because none of the potato diggers now in use and handled by the trade are constructed along the lines of this idea. Our Light Draught Potato Harvester works like the old style forks under the guidance of human hands, and is therefore the best and only substitute for hand work in digging potatoes under any and all conditions. You are invited to see this machine on exhibition at

Plan to Run Boats From the Horicon Marsh to the Mississippi.

Rock river may be made navigable from the Mississippi to and through the famous Horicon marsh, long a paradise to hunters.

The project was given additional impetus at a meeting at Rockford Friday of the executive committee of the Rock River Improvement association. Citizens of Moline, Dixon, Sterling, Beloit and of the Horicon marsh district, where it is proposed to make the headwaters by the re-establishment of Horicon lake, were present, and gave assurance of hearty co-operation of their respective communities.

It was agreed it would be necessary for the people living along the river to assist in obtaining data which the government engineers can use for an argument to their superiors in Washington and to present to the rivers and harbors committee. W. A. Meese of Moline announced he would visit every place along the river to obtain the information desired by the engineers. He will start early in September.

Representatives of other towns indicated their willingness to aid. It is expected a meeting of the association will be held in September and another in October to report progress.

All the speakers at the meeting were of the opinion that the government will not ask for return of land that has been filled in. This assurance is expected to result in a larger interest in the proposed improvement.

Relics on the Kuhlmeier Farm.

William Kuhlmeier of the town of Plymouth, while doing his plowing this fall unearthed a number of Indian arrow heads, which are fine specimens. He has for many years made his home on a farm a short distance north-east of the city and during the time has found quite a collection of relics, such as arrow heads, elk and deer horns, also several specimens of wood which at one time helped to make a beaver dam. At the time Mr. Kuhlmeier first moved onto this farm there was a large dam, the work of the beaver, and the evenness with which the pieces of wood are cut and prepared by this animal, is something remarkable. Although the dam was destroyed a number of years ago, an occasional piece of wood used in its construction is still found.

Kills the Cabbage Worm.

A farmer who has had much experience in cabbage raising, says there is no necessity of using any poisonous compound to kill the cabbage worm. Sift fine salt over the heads or spray them with salt water, and they will cease to feed, and in an hour or so will drop to the ground. If there is any difference the dry salt is the most sure method. Salt sprinkled on loose heads or around them is thought to help them head, and when worms are very plenty it may be necessary to apply it more than once, but it's cheap.

A Big Swindle.

A big swindle in which residents of Winnebago and eight adjoining counties were victimized of about $15,000 came to light last week when irate farmers came to town looking for two agents who they say did the swindling. The agents took orders from farmers and townspeople for farm implements of which a fine sample was shown. The goods when delivered proved an inferior article. The agents also appointed county representatives for $200 each and preferably took notes which they discounted and then slipped out.

To Increase Registry Fee.

An increase of two cents is to be made soon in the fee charged for the registration of letters and mail packages. The decision to increase the registry fee followed an extended inquiry into the system by a special committee. The law authorizes the postal department to make the fee as high as twenty cents.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

Last Sunday night or early Monday morning the tailor shop of Mr. Munroe at Horicon was entered by a burglar and over $50 worth of goods were stolen.

A cabbage which has twelve distinct heads was grown by M. Bies of Manitowoc, on the lake shore road, a market gardner. The specimen is a great curiosity, being the first one of its kind to be reported anywhere.

D. E. Hoag, president of the village of Oakfield is in a hospital and it is feared that he will lose the sight of both of his eyes. He was breaking stones with a hammer when chips flew up striking him in the eye. The ball of one eye was cut by the chips.

Frank Walter has disappeared and has not been seen for several days. He left the city on Monday of last week saying he would visit his sick mother at Watertown. Where he has gone no one knows and he is keeping his many creditors guessing and wondering if ever they will realize on their accounts. His saloon was closed for a day when Frank Bachhuber took charge.—Mayville News.

During the storm Friday morning lightning struck the large brick church at St. Lawrence, nearly demolishing the steeple, which is 150 feet high. The woodwork on the steeple will have to be entirely rebuilt and much of the brick work upon which the steeple rests. It is estimated that the loss is about $1500 but it is covered by insurance. No damage was done to the interior of the building. The storm, while not unusually severe, was accompanied by very sharp lightning.—Hartford Press.

OBITUARY.

It is our sad duty this week to report the death of Mrs. John Enright, nee Katie Gilford, which occurred on Thursday, August 26th at 4 p. m. at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Gilford. Mrs. Enright had been in delicate health for several months and though her death was not unexpected, it came as a surprise to her family, who had still hoped to prolong her days by lavishing upon her the most tender care and attention.
Mrs. Enright was born at Colby, on July 23rd, 1875. Several years of her life were spent there but the family later moved to this town to reside on the farm about three miles southwest of this village, is still their home. In October 1903 she was united in marriage to J. Enright and the happy young couple went to reside on a farm about one mile south of this village. Although life seemed bright and promising to them their dreams were soon shattered by the grim angel of Death which on the following January visited their home and called hence the groom who was still in the prime of life. Mrs. Enright then took up her residence in Milwaukee, where she held a very responsible position for a number of years until failing health caused her to resign. By her constant and faithful attention to duty she won the respect and esteem of her employers as well as those under her charge. Her sweet disposition and noble character made her beloved, not by these alone, but by all who knew her. Her tender attachment to the members of her family was always most touching and while their hearts are now bowed with grief in parting from one so dear to them, may we comfort them with the assurance that her spirit still hovers near to comfort and cheer them along life's pathway, waiting only for the hour that shall again unite them in a blissful, eternal union.
On Monday at 10 A. M. funeral services took place at St. John's church after which the remains were laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery beside those of her husband. May she rest in peace.
Among those from elsewhere who attended the funeral were: Mike, James, Kate and Elizabeth Kenney, Mrs. Heatherman, Mrs. D. Enright and children, and Messrs. and Mrs. Will and Dan Gilford all of Milwaukee.
