Stafford declared today that although the first reading of the law might give the impression that it is designed to prevent the issuance of these checks, the law, on close reading is found to be identical with the law of 1862. When asked to explain why congress passed such a law Mr. Stafford said that it is really a re-enactment of that war-time statue, which crept into the penal code at its last revision.

"This section, which appears in the penal code passed by the last congress, is a re-enactment of the original law passed in July, 1862," said he. "It is part of the statutes that relate to penalties for infraction of the currency laws. It was passed just following the authorization by congress of $200,000 for greenbacks, and unquestionably the purpose was to prevent private persons from using checks of $1 denomination as currency in lieu of greenbacks."

"The secretary of the treasury, who has the enforcement of the law relating to currency, has never construed this section to prohitreasury. he states:

Derse is Exonerated

The State Board exonerates Mr Derse from the charges made a gainst him, and recommends that the county board elect trustees of the asylum who will take more interest in the institution and their work. They also claim that Mr Derse has been overtaxed with work by reason of having charge also of the poor farm and county work house, and looking after the interests of the county in the addition that was being built to the asylum. No fault has been found with the management of the asylum and both Mr. Derse and his wife are recommended for their work. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- In a little room in the basement of the Somerset county hospital at Somerville, N. J., Monday evening an attempt was made by the methods of the hypnotist to resuscitate the hypnotic subject, Robert Simpson, who had apparently died while under hypnotic influence the evening before. On some rough planks raised to a table's height lay the body-living or dead-of Simpson, whose means of livelihood had been as a subject for the showman-hypnotist, Arthur Evertou.

Everton, in jail, charged with homicide, persisted in his declaration that Simpson was not dead, but was yet in a cataleptic condition in which the hyp-notizer had placed him for exhibition

Everton had begged the authorities that his friend and former instructor, W. E. Davenport, secretary to the Newark postmaster, be sent for and be allowed to attempt to revive Simpson This earnest request of the hypnotist the authorities after consultation decided to grant.

OLDEST PIANO IN AMERICA. Built in London and Brought to This Country in 1784. America's oldest piano is now owned by Charles W. Gray of Portsmouth, N. H. It was built in London by Johann Zampe in 1763, and twenty-one years later was brought to the United States for Look Aster, says Music. It later was brought to the United States for John Jacob Astor, says Music. It was with much difficulty that the strings were kept from rusting during the long passage across the ocean, and after its arrival in New York the much drier atmosphere caused the woodwork to crack.

For nearly forty years the piano remained in the Astor family, then it went into the possession of the father of the late G. Alexander Emery of Boston. On the death of Mr. Emery, Sr., the piano passed to his son, and on his removal from Boston to Portsmouth he took the highly treasured instrument with him. At his death it passed into the hands of Mr. Gray.

PREVENTORIUM FOR CHILDREN SAVES NINETY-TWO LIVES.

Radical Step in Battle Against White Plague Is Taken in Organization by New Yorkers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. - [Special.]-With gifts aggregating $700,000, a tuberculosis preventorium for children was formally organized at the residence of Henry Phipps. Its purpose is to take from he tenements children who have been infected with tuberculosis and restore them to normal health before it is too

This radical step in the fight against tuberculosis had its inception last May, and the preventorium actually began its work on July 2. The preventorium had been founded to cope with the alarming condition revealed by the reporting of 23,325 new cases of tuberculosis in New York city in 1908 and by Dr. Herman M. Biggs' estimate that there were 40,000 children in the tenements who had been infected with the disease, most of whom could be saved by open-air life, pure food and wise supervision.

An arrangement was made with the New York Association of Tuberculosis Clinics for the selection of children, and the first patient was received on July 2. Since then ninety-five children, ranging from 4 to 14 years, have been received from thirteen clinics or other institu-tions, and all have shown steady improvement, all gaining in weight, some eight or nine pounds, and the capacity of the institution has been so taxed that In the early evening Davenport arrived in Somerville. He was met at the the hospital, where they met W. H. Long, county physician, and three members of the hospital staff—Drs. Hecht, Stilwell and Halstead.

It is planned to maintain the preventorium without charge to parents for board or railroad fare. To care for 400 children will cost about $100,000 a year. Davenport explained to them that he had long been a student of hypnotics, ment of $1,000,000, which would cover 40 per cent. of the running expenses and

Dr. Long, for himself and the members of the staff, agreed. In their opinion Everton's hypnotic subject was dead. They professed no especial knowledge cured, the preventorium will depend upon membership fees, in sums ranging from $1 to $1000, checks for which may be sent to Alexander S. Webb, Jr., treas-

URGES TRADE SCHOOLS

President Van Hise Tells Needs of Educational System at Normal School Dedication.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Nov. 10 .- [Special.]-The need of trade schools in every city, the necessity for many additional county agricultural schools, and the importance of consolidating rural schools to improve their condition, was urged by President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin at the dedication of the new normal school here this afternoon.

"It is generally admitted that the most defective part of our educational system at present is the rural school," said President Van Hise. "This I believe is unavoidable as long as the district sys-tem is maintained. Rural schools can only be put on a satisfactory basis by consolidation of the districts into large units. The children of the country districts must be brought together in large graded schools if they are to be given effective instruction.

"The other important development of our public school system that must be provided for is the trade school. As yet we have only begun to realize the importance of such schools in Wisconsin. A municipal trade school has recently been established in Milwaukee. Trade schools of agriculture have been estab lished in a number of counties. But when the real need of training a large number of boys and girls for useful occu-pations is considered, the present provisions are wholly inadequate. Every municipality should have a trade school, and most of the counties of the state need agricultural training schools.

WOMAN IN WARRINER CASE TALKS AT LAST.

Never Got a Dollar from Railroad Man.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 10 .- Following a sensational raid by constables today on the fashionable apartments occupied by Mrs. Jeannette Stewart here, Mrs. Stewart, who has been mentioned in connection with the Warriner defalca-tion and alleged blackmail, broke a long silence and gave out an authorized state ment. The constables who made the raid were armed with attachment papers taken out by a department store.
"I never blackmailed Charley Warriner out of a dollar," were the first words of Mrs. Stewart as she sobbingly de-clared she "would never again confide in a woman friend," whom she alleges is responsible for much of the notoriety she has attained in connection with the case.

"This woman," said Mrs. Stewart, "I took into my flat, and she occupied it while I was out of town. I thought she was my friend. She went to a department store and guaranteed my account there. Now we have quarreled, and she has gone up there and withdrawn her guarantee, resulting in this suit against

Mrs. Stewart explained her lavish expenditure of money in the past by say-ing that as the daughter of Martin limmons of Portsmouth, O., she had in-perited a large fortune and had not been ependent on any one.

Mrs. Stewart denied also that she revealed the local shortage in the Big Four department to the New York officials and laid the blame for that at the door of the Cincinnati woman, who she charges with involving her in the attachment suit.

Twenty Thousand Tons of Old Iron in a Single Pile in San Francisco.

The largest scrap heap in the world isin San Francisco, a relic of the great fire which followed the earthquake of April, 1906. It is 40 feet high, 100 feet square and contains 20,000 tons, all cut in equal lengths of 18 inches, and piled in one solid mass, with the sides assmooth and solid as a brick wall.

This is the only one of four heaps of equal size and proportions which remains intact in its original size and shape, the other three having been drawn upon asthe material was needed. Many other scrap heaps are piled about the bay awaiting shipment, some as big as as house and others mere hillocks, scattered over acres of ground.

Since the fire one company has handled 150,000 tons of this old material. It has six large shears in operation to cut the iron and steel, either that it may be better handled for shipment or for the fur-nace, says The Iron Trade Review. Lit-tle of this scrap is used in San Francisco, the bulk of it being shipped to the Atlantic coast or to European ports.

Kentucky's Biggest Cornfield. The biggest cornfield in the state of speaking to a vacant space.

Kentucky is now being laid by. It is the field outlined by the gigantic horse-shoe sweep of the Ohio river from Henderson round past Evansville to Green River. It is the biggest because it is corn continuously for 6000 or 7000 acres unbroken by fences, unrelieved by any other crop-no hay, no tobacco, oats or wheat-just corn, corn, corn, and then more corn. It is estimated that over 300,000 bushels of corn will be raised in this monster tract this year, and this is in spite of the fact that the farmers were scared out of a year's growth by the high water and for a time were not quite sure whether the high water would let them raise any corn.

Time will prove that his recall is a great blunder. It is an occurrence which none who have studied eastern politics can under-stand."

The above statement is by Dr. Charies McCarthy, chief of the legislative reference department, who has just returned from Japan, where he accompanied the University of Wisconsin baseball team on its successful visit to the island em-

Dr. McCarthy came into contact with, and was entertained by several of the greatest statesmen in Japan at the pres-ent time. Count Okuma, Japan's great mmoner, and Baron Goto, minister of the imperial department of communica-tions, and who has in charge the solution of the transportation problems in Manchuria and Korea, as well as several prominent political scientists and news paper men, were among those whom Dr. McCarthy became most intimate with. McCarthy became most intimate with. He has discussed the international relations of the two countries with these men, and particularly the Crane affair, though at the time it was not known that Mr. Crane's recall was of a permanent nature. Under such circumstances Dr. McCarthy's statement that the things, reported to have been said by Mr. Crane, were not offensive to the Japanese is particularly interesting.

Heir to Great Possessions.

The little Viscount Chelsea, now in his seventh year, is heir to a property likely to increase greatly in value during the next few years, for his grandfather, Lord Cadogan, owns much of that large dis-trict of London which gives this important child his title. There is always something pathetic in a boy early deprived of a father's care, and this is specially the case when the little lad in question is an only son. Lord Chelsea is a bodson of the King, and, together with his sister, is an object of affectionate interest to all the royal family.

Woman Gets Rid of "Coffee Heart." The injurious action of Coffee on the heart of many persons is well known by physicians to be caused by caffeine. This is the drug found by chemists in coffee and tea.

A woman suffered a long time with severe heart trouble and finally her dector told her she must give up coffee, as that was the principal cause of the trouble. She writes: "My heart was so weak it could not to its work properly. My husband would sometimes have to carry me from the table, and it would seem that I would never breathe again. "The doctor told me that coffee was causing the weakness of my heart. He said I must stop it, but it seemed I could not give it up until I was down in bed with nervous prostration.

"For eleven weeks I lay there and suffered. Finally Husband brought home some Postum and I quit coffee and started new and right. Slowly I got well. Now I do not have any headaches, nor those spells with weak heart. We know it is Postum that helped me. The Dr. said the other day. 'I never thought you would be what you are.' I used to weigh 92 pounds and now I weigh 158.

"Postum has done much for me and I would not go back to coffee again for any money, for I believe it would kill me if I kept at it. Postum must be well boiled according to directions on pkg., then it has a rich flavor and with cream is fine."

WASHINGTON, D. Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness. Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eves and reddens the cheeks. No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R.V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N.Y.

An inward bound steamer was hailed by the pilot boat stationed outside the mouth of the Yangtase river and asked to take three passengers on board and bring them up to Shanghai. These passengers proved to be black men of small stature with frizzle hair and faces of the negrito type. All that could be discovered about them was that they had been pickd up in a canoe by some Chinese fishermen off the Chusan islands.

When found they were in an emociated

When found they were in an emaciated condition and had evidently been exposed in their little craft for many days with little to eat or drink. From signs made by the men it was understood that there were originally five in the party, but that two had died. The castaways were well treated by the Chinese and then brought up on a junk and handed over to the

As soon as the Tamsui arrived in port the men were handed over to the care of the river police. Their only clothing consisted of shirts and trousers given to them by the officers of the vessel. They wore massive ear ornaments of coral and shells, with necklaces of the same materials, and one of the men, who was considerably older than the others and had a beard, was tattooed on his arms and

Two boxes which the men had brought with them were searched with a view to finding a clew to their nationality, but the contents, which consisted mainly of twine and hooks, merely showed that the strangers were fishermen. For two days the mystery of their voyage was un-solved, as no one could be found who could speak or understand their lan-

Eventually, as it was supposed that they belonged to one of the German is-lands around New Guinea, they were taken to the German consulate, where a map was put before them and the names of a number of islands were read out. When Salpan island, one of the Ladrone group, was mentioned the men became intensely excited and showed by signs that that was where they had come from. The Ladrone islands are about 2000 miles from Shanghai in a souetheasterly direction, and it is still a mystery how these dark fishermen came to be picked up so far away from their native island, as the prevailing winds of the last two months have been from the north. How long they were adrift in their canoe is still unknown, as no one has yet been found who can speak to them in a tongue they understand.—Shanghai Times.

THE FIREPLACE.

Its Value as a Ventilator Said to Be

While we deeply regret the necessity of disturbing such a hoary and venerable belief, with so many delightful and comforting associations connected with it, as that of the "perfect ventilation" obtained by means of an open fireplace, candor compels us to state that the natural method of ventilation, either by means of an open fireplace or an ordinary stove, is neither adequate nor sat-factory. It is not adequate because, except in the leakiest of rooms, the amount of change made in the air is insufficient.

The second and most vital reason is that the cold air which enters for the most part comes in at a level where it is of the least value for respiration, viz.. from 1 to 3 feet above the floor, and is sucked directly into the fire and the color of the second of the color of the shot up the chimney, thus producing an unpleasant sensation of draught upon the feet and lower limbs while doing very little to purify the air at or above the level of the mouth. This latter is the only air in the room that we can breathe.

In other words, the fire gets the bulk of the fresh air, and leaves the occupants of the room the foul air, which being warm tends to rise toward the ceiling. The fire draws plenty of fresh air for itself, but it doesn't give any of it back for the use of the human occupants of the room. All the benefit they get is from such of the cold air as they may be able to breathe during its rush toward the fireplace. Hence, while an open fire provides a much larger involuntary change of air than a closed stove, its mere presence in the room by no its mere presence in the room by no means solves the problem of ventilation for that room, as is often fondly sup-

It is a very pretty thing to look at and an excellent means of providing healthful exercise by causing the occu-pants of the room to take their turn in standing or sitting directly in front of it and turning themselves round and round, like meat on a spit, to keep from being chilled on one side and roasted on the other. But it is almost as much of a broken reed for purposes of ventilation as of warming in really severe weather.
As an ornamental addition to a room already really warmed by furnace or steam heat, and as a temporary resource and addition to comfort during the unsettled weather of spring and fall, before the main heating sween is fore the main heating system is in opera-tion, it is most excellent, but it can only be regarded as an addition to methods of real ventilation and real heating.— Dr. Woods Hutchinson, in Outing.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY CARS. Inventor Talks of a Speed of 125 Miles an Hour.

A balloon trolley line is the last word in aerial navigation and it comes from Marburg, Germany, in a report received at the department of commerce and labor from Thomas H. Norton, United States from Thomas H. Norton, United States consul at Chemnitz.

An engineer of Marburg, Consul Norton says, has secured capital to carry out his idea of an aerial trolley line, which is a combination of the essential elements of the dirigible balloon and the lattice religion. elements of the dirigible balloon and the electric railroad. The cars are to be supported by the bouyancy of the balloon and the motive power transmitted by an electric cable. The supporting balloon is to be cylindrical in shape, of semi-rigid construction, 200 feet long and 33 feet in diameter. It rests lightly against the cables on either side, channelled wheels attached to the framework of the balloon attached to the framework of the balloon forming the contact, the cables being sus-pended at the proper height by towers. The passenger car is to be attached be-

A company has been formed to construct a line on this principle from the railway station at Marburg to Freuenberg, an elevation of five miles distant and 1200 feet above the town. The estimated cost is $28,000 a mile for a double cable line. An important economical feature is the prospect that the cost of maintenance and transportation of the corresponding expense on an ordinary railroad. It is believed that a speed of 125 miles an hour can be safely made on the balloon trolley.—Philadelphia Record.

One letter received by Lady Cook was from a woman in San Francisco, who offered to direct her equal suffrage campaign She has received similar offers from several cities in the middle west. ## Physicians Recommend Castoria

ASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First-The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second-That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third-It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system-not by stupefying it-and our readers are entitled to the information. - Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher. Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place." Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent." Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's." Dr. Wm. J McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy." Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

Horse Breeding in Washing- GEO. H. SCHMIDT ton County

The state law repuires all public service stallions to be licensed by the Department of Horse Breeding of the College of Agriculture of BOOK AND MUSIC STORE the University of Wisconsin. In Washington county there are at the present time 11 licensed purebred stallions and 24 licensed grade Religious Goods, Communion Goods stallions. The proportion of grade sires in this county is high as com-Mrs. A. Smith and sons Clifton pared with that in many other counties in the State and as soon as possible the undesirable grades should be replaced by sound, purebred stallions of fine quality and prepotency. No progress can be made in horse breeding while gra le sires are used.

> The figures for nearby counties are: Sheboygan, pure-bred 21 grade 32; Fond du Lac, pure-bred 34, grade and scrub 46; Dodge, pure-bred 26, grade 39; Ozaukee, pure-bred 9, grade and scrub 12; Waukesha, pure-bred 31, grade 19; Milwaukee, pure-bred 42, grade ! Posting of Licenses Required.

> Stallion licenses must be recorded with the county register of deeds and exact copies printed and posted in conspicuous places where ever the stallion is used for service at home or away from home, for a fee or free of charge. The licenses show owners of mares whether the stallion they think of using is "pure-bred," "grade," or "mongrel or scrub." Only sound, pure-bred stallions can i mprove our horses. All other stallions should be retired as quickly as their places can be filled by purebred sires.

"Pure-bred" means that the stallion is of pure breeding and is recorded in a stud book recognized by the U. S. Government. "Grade" means that the stallion pure-bred dam, but is not recorded or eligible to registry in a stud book recognized by the Government. "Mongrel or scrub" means a stallion of "mixed" or "unkown' breeding, having neither sire nor dam pure-bred. We could argue the quality of Columbia Indestructible Cylinder Records until a year from now-but what good would it do if you could not prove it for yourself by coming into our store and seeing and hearing it? We could print a whole newspaper every day about the special and original Columbia processes of manufacture—and get nowhere at all if the Records did not bear the evidence.
