Against Henry Murray, Bound Over to the Circuit Court.

Henry Murray, who is making his home with his brother William, south-west of here, was arrested last week Friday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm on complaint of L. W. Schmidt of this village. Murry was arrested near Boltonville Friday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff John F. Schaefer and Marshal Geo. F. Brandt. He was Village Treasurer's bond was fixed brought before Justice Muehleis Saturday afternoon and his bail was fixed at $400, which was furnished by his brother William. The complaining witness alleges that the defendant came to his residence place on Fond du Lac Ave., last week Friday forenoon and without provocation assaulted him in a most brutal manner. The defendant claims that he acted in self defense. Both parties in the case are engaged in selling nursery stock. The goods that the defendant sold during the season were consigned to L. W Schmidt to be delivered by him. Murry objected to this and thus the trouble started.

The case was again called in Justice court here Thursday A. M and was bound over to the Circuit Court. The bail for the defendant's appearance was fixed at $500, which was also furnished by his PITTSBURG, Pa., April 12. - Dr. Mark Blackburn of Wilson, Pa., member of one of the most prominent families of western Pennsylvania, shot down Mrs. Violet Getty, the beautiful wife of Dr. W. G. Getty of Hindmann, Pa., his dear-est chum, and then turned the revolver on himself in a Ninth street rooming house Monday night.

Mrs. Getty is at the Allegheny general hospital and probably fatally wounded. Dr. Blackburn is at the Homeopathhospital and is not expected to live. The shooting occurred at 18 Ninth street, the home of Mrs. Mary Mars, mother of Mrs. Getty, whom she had been visiting. Blackburn has been insanely jealous since his graduating day, his chum and college classmate, Dr. Getty, announced his engagement to Violet Mars, with whom Blackburn had been in love. This was seven years ago. After Getty and the young woman were married, however, Dr. Blackburn visited their home regularly.

Monday morning Mrs. Getty came from Hindmann to her mother's home and Blackburn saw her on the street that aternoon. He walked to her mother's home with her. The doctor urged her to elope with him, saying that he had purchased tickets to Milwaukee, Vis., for both of them. Mrs. Getty rejected his advances.

But the opportunity did not imme-diately present itself. It almost seemed as if Denzilia were aware of his intention so skilfully did she avoid being a moment alone with him during the next two days. And yet he could not perceive that she was doing it on purpose

Three days afterwards the Duke was rendered desperate by the information that Miss Lavenham's long-expected friend was to arrive definitely in a couple of days.

"And then," said Denzilia cheerfully to the party assembled for the second dejeuner, "I think I shall make her leave Zermatt at once. I have seen enough of it."

CHAPTER XVIII.

The announcement had indeed something of the effect of disconcerting the entire party.

"I think we have all had about enough of Zermatt," said Mrs. Matthieson, in next moment his arms were round her her soft tones. He could not have taken a surer way of distracting Montresor's attention from himself and Agnes.

At the idea of Denzilia perhaps at that moment binding herself irrecoverably to another man Montresor felt such a wave of passionate emotion sweep over him that during 1909 it was rapidly expandthat he could scarcely control himself. "I won't interfere with Kenneth and Miss Lavenham," he said, after a pause, "but I am not inclined to go home just yet. I think that I'll go on further."

Agnes followed her mother. Langrishe remained still where they left him for some time, then he, too, rose with the intention of entering the hotel.

As he did so he saw the Duke come slowly across the garden. It needed but one glance at his face, or even at his back, to know that he had been rejected. Langrishe, who, like everybody else, sincerely liked the simple-hearted young man, was very sorry indeed for him. Happy as he was himself, he could not forget that he had once suffered a similar fate. He therefore went in hastily in order not to oblige the rejected suitor to talk to him. Heironymous shook his head and intimated that it was a mistake for Miss Lavenham to have gone out without him. Then he looked at the sky, and said that he feared a storm was brewing. Montresor went hurriedly in search of

PROBLEM OF LAKE CHAD.

Its Shrinkage-No Reason to Believe It | bandits. Is Drying Up. Lake Chad in the Sudan has for some years offered an interesting object of study to the geographer. According to observations made by travelers from time to time it was rapidly drying up. It seemed likely that at no very date the lake would entirely disappear. Native traditions, however, asserted that it was subject to fluctuation and if so the apparent drying up might be one of these. Capt Tilho, chief of the French commission sent to study the district. has just been laying the results of his observations before the Royal Geographical society.

When Capt. Tilho visited the lake in of the total area of the lake basin, which, in its full extent, is about four-fifths the size of Belgium. Lake Chad is of the nature of an inland sea, receiving the drainage of the surrounding country and having no outlet. When filled, however, it floods the swamping valley of Bahr-el-Ghazal, on the southeast.

Its average depth is not more than five feet. In spite of the continued shrinkage up to his last visit Capt. Tilho concludes that there is no reason to suppose that Lake Chad will eventually dry up. And the latest news from the district is

One of the most interesting features of Lake Chad is the dense masses of a tree some twenty-five feet high and with a trunk over a foot in diameter which grow in its waters. The Fate of Poets.

W. H. Yeals, the Irish songster, recently told a sad little story of the disso lution of a coterie of poets which existed in London years ago under the title of the rhymesters' club. For the twelve poets who had formed the club, Yeals claimed the sincerity which marks the true artist. Several of them had gained distinction, but of the little party two have died from drink, a third committed suicide and two others have lost their reason. "The poet's life must almost necessarily be troubles," said Yeals. "All songs are those of victories won in the poet's mind. If you could find a perfectly steady nature you would find a silent

MASKED MEN, ARMED, ORDERS TRAINMEN TO HOLD UP HANDS AND BATTLE FOLLOWS.

DESPERADOES MAKE ESCAPE.

Mauston, Wis., Hears Report That Robbers Went Through Day Coach and Secured Considerable Cash.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 8.-Two masked bandits attempted early today to hold up the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad's crack train, the Pioneer Limited, which arrived in St. Paul at 7:15 o'clock this morning.

The men boarded the train at New Lisbon, Wis., getting in by way of the forward vestibule of the front sleeper, which had been left open when the conductor took his orders to the engineer. Langrishe accepted the information The men passed through a front sleeper into the rear vestibule of that car, locking both doors of the vestibule.

When Conductor Shumway passed forward through the train he was instantly confronted by two revolvers held by two masked figures.

Porter Johnson se-cured a revolver and fired twice, but the men got away after returning the fire. No one on the train was hit. S. B. LA CROSSE, Wis., April 8.—Not a cent of money and no valuables were obtained in the robbery of the Pioneer Limited, according to an official statement made by Conductor A. P. Shum-way here today. Until the conductor reported, the wildest rumors were in circulation and even at the railway of-fices no assurance could be given that a large amount of booty had not been obtained. The Pioneer Limited is a long train of a dozen coaches and sleepers and is patronized by the best class of travelers, so that the booty, had the highwaymen succeeded in their plans would have been heavy. That they failed is due to the nerve of Shumway, and a negro porter, whose name has not been reported.

Conductor Shumway authorized the following statement:
"When I entered one of the passenger coaches as the train was speeding toward Tomah I came face to face with a tall man in a narrow passageway. mediately a gun was stuck into my face and the command came: 'Hold up your hands and don't be foolish.' I threw up one hand and struck up the revolver and struck out with the other hand, dropping my lantern. My blow fell on the man's face or neck. At the time I thought there was only one man, but as h stumbled back I saw the gleam of a revolver over his shoulder. It was held by a shorter man who stood behind the other. The first man had fallen back wards through he door of the compartment and the other went with him like flash for he saw a negro porter con ing up behind him. I think that black man saved my life. "Only the sleeping car conductor is the first car and the porter who was with me responded to my cry for help as I ran into the first car. INSURGENTS ARE ANGRY AT CANNON

SOME WOULD TAKE UP MATTER OF DEPOSING HIM NOW.

MADISON OF KANSAS SAYS SPEAK-ER'S "BLUFF" WILL BE CALLED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12. -Speaker Cannon's defi to the Republican "insurgents" of the House in his speech on the floor when he abruptly told them that unless they "have the courage" to combine with the Democrats and vote to vacate the chair, he would remain speaker until March 4, 1911, brought expressions from the insurgent leaders today in no uncertain tones.

"The speaker can continue to make these irritating defies," said Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas, after the administration legislation is disposed of. He knows that he is perfeetly safe just now. But after we have passed the important legislation in hand his case will be attended to. A man can't continue to make large bluffs without eventually being called."
Representative Poindexter of Washing-

on, another "insurgent," who, with Murlock, voted some weeks ago in favor of the Burleson resolution to depose Speaker Cannon, was equally caustic. "Cannon's action is foolish," he said. 'He is sitting on a powder mill and it seems to me a pretty reckless performance for him to keep from striking matches all around the place. He'll touch this thing off some day and he will find himself going up through the dome of the capitol. "The speaker cannot eliminate the issue of Cannonism by constantly parading it in the House. The issue is not an incidental or personal one, but is fundamental, and there can be no harmony until it is finally disposed of and dis posed of in the right way. Cannon's speech was not a particularly fine effort at harmonizing the party.' There were many informal conferences among the "insurgent" members during

FOND DU LAC, Wis., April 11 .-[Special.]-While returning from church Sunday morning, Miss Kate Dillon, a well known resident of the city who is blind, fell down a flight of stairs at her home on Main street, fracturing two ribs and sustaining a scalp wound. She has been unconscious since the accident and her injuries may prove fatal.

RUNS INTO HOTEL.

A large touring car, driven by a son of Sid Monroe of Rogersville, containing five passengers, ran into the side of the English hotel, Marr and Fourth streets, Saturday afternoon. The automobile got beyond the control of the chauffeur as the machine was turning the corner and hit the hotel at full speed. None of the occupants of the auto were injured, but the machine was badly damaged.

COLLIDED WITH AUTOMOBILE.

Victor Commo sustained several bad bruises and had his lin cut Sunday afternoon when a horse he was driving collided with an automobile at West Johnson and Main streets. The horse became frightened near the Erving hotel when part of its harness broke and dashed lown the street. When he arrived at Main and Johnson streets Mr. Commo attempted to turn the horse and in doing so collided with the automobile. The driver was thrown from the carriage, which was badly damaged. The wind shield and lamps on the automobile were broken.

ANNOUNCEMENT LONG DEFERRED.

Announcement was made this morning of the marriage of Miss Ella White, former Grafton Hall student, to Stephen Glasier, a former high school boy, at Plymouth last July. The couple came here after their marriage and lived here until recently when they went to Ra-cine, where the husband is trying for a place on the Racine baseball team.

ANOTHER SAFE OPENED.

The third of a series of mysterious thefts of money from safes occurred when $8.50 was taken from the safe in the local offices of the Washburn-Crosby company. It is not known when the money was taken as the safe had not been opened for several days. The police are of the opinion that the thief who visited the Washburn-Crosby office is the same one who stole money from the safes in the offices of Frank J. Wolff and Justice R. C. Fairbank.

DOYLE IS INSANE.

Martin Doyle, the aged war veteran who was arrested on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, has been declared insane by a lunacy commission and will be committed to the northern hospital at Oshkosh. Doyle has a long criminal record and owing to his advanced age the authorities here were at a loss as to what should be done with him. He is said to be the man who solicited money claiming that it was for the G. A. R. state encampment fund.

CAN'T BEAT THE BEET. One of the Most Valuable of All Culti vated Vegetables.

The beet beats all. It is one of the most valued of cultivated plants, says Chicago Tribune. The sugar beet is main source of sugar and alcohol. The large forage beets supply an excellent food for cattle, and the red garden varieties provide savory table vegetables. The usefulness of this valuable food has now been increased by the production of an edible flour from sugar beets. The Wednesday afternoon. The business desiccation of sliced sugar beets is practiced in Germany on an extensive scale, but the produce is employed exclusively as fodder for cattle.

In Belgium a meal is made from dried beets. It is entirely free from the distinctive flavor of the beet, and is suitable for cakes, pudding and pastry. As it contains about 65 per cent. of sugar it can often be substituted with advantage for sugar in somewhat larger quantities. The processes of desiccation and grinding not only cost less than the extraction of sugar, but preserve all the sugar of the beet, part of which is rejected in the form of molasses in the process of sugar making.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

When the kidneys are sick, the whole body is weakened. Aches, pains and urinary ills come, and danger of diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and impart strength to the whole system.

James Greenman.

142 East Front street, Ionia, Mich., says: "I had the worst case of kidney and bladder trouble that the doctors had ever seen. For three months I was confined to my bed. I was in constant pain and voided blood. On using Doan's Kidney Pills, I passed forty-nine gravel stones. Since then

I have been well." Remember the name-Doan's. For sale at all dealers. 50 cents a Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton is quoted as telling this story at a recent. Presbyterian gathering:

"A Connecticut pastor of a denomination well known to us was questioning a boy pupil of the Sunday school. The lad answered greatly to the satisfaction of the good man, but finally the latter was stumped when the youngster made his last reply.

"What commandment, my son, did Adam break when he ate the apple?" asked the pastor.

"'Please, sir,' returned the boy, 'there were no commandments at that time.'

Wasted a Fortune on Skin Trouble.

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limb, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital But they be Adjusted.

I used all the medicines that I could see but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get really frightened. I did not know, what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope.

"I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times, but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedies and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. A Clerical Definition.

Archbishop John J. Glennon was called to Kansas City, his former home, to attend a conference of church dignitaries. Among the churchmen pres ent was one very "stout" bishop from Kansas. His "front" was the notable feature of his physical make-up. He bore a striking resemblance to figures the cartoonists draw to represent the greedy trusts. Like some Kansas peo-ple, he was inclined to be just a trifle "breezy."

"breezy."

"What is the difference," the rotund bishop good naturedly asked Archbishop Glennon, "between a bishop and an archbishop?"

"Well," replied Archbishop Glennon, with a glance at the Kansas bishop's "front," "I should say it was mostly in the arch, bishop."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

of the United States department of agri-

Despite the reticence of both men, it is accepted as a matter of course that Mr. Roosevelt is in possession now of Pinchot's complete case against Secretary Ballinger's conservation policy and of what has been described here as "an alleged reactionary tendency" in forestry matters of the administration of Presi dent Taft.

The most significant development was the announcement made at the conclusion of Pinchot's visit today that Mr. Roosevelt had accepted an invitation from the former chief forester to address the National Conservation Congress late in the coming summer at a time and place yet to be fixed. Former Mayor Phelan of San Francisco arrived here at noon after an automobile ride from Monte Carlo, and drove at once to the Carow villa for a call upon Mr. Roosevelt.

The weather continued beautiful and Mr. Roosevert planned another excursion into the mountains for this afternoon.

After a wedding breakfast, the bridal couple left for a honeymoon in the east, after which they will take up their residence at Evanston, Wyo.

BOTHERED BY SPIRITS.

This Is Explanation Offered by Ohio Woman Who Killed Two-Year-Old Daughter.

AKRON, O., April 12 .- "The spirits kept bothering me," is the only explanation offered by Mrs. Rosa Marquardt, aged 20, who today attacked and killed her 2-year-old daughter, Margaret, and so seriously injured her 1-year-old baby that the child's death is expected. Mrs. Marquardt beat the children with a hickory club. The woman was committed to the Massillon state hospital.

He Also Speaks Well of Canada.

No matter what may be the opinion of Mr. Joseph Cannon, no matter if he may be looked upon by some as a czar, and by others as a big, warmhearted man, with many of the instincts that make humanity very bearable, all will admit that he is a man who has been advertised more than any other man in the United States. What he may have to say therefore on any subject, will have weight. Observant, he speaks his mind freely. He was interviewed the other day by the correspondent of a Canadian newspaper, he spoke of his admiration for Canada, and he is quoted in a way that pictures fairly well the personnel of the man. The correspondent says he launched out into personal biography, proverbial philosophy, political comment, cynical scorn, broad profanity and sentimental poetry such as one Arely hears in the space of an' hour. He discussed the Canadian tariff, and then said: "People say I ada two or three years ago. SPRING AND ECONOMY.

Cost of Living May Send People to the Country.

It is, perhaps, a trifle early to sing of spring, but it is none too early to touch upon one of the things that spring. though only vague prospective at present, will, when it comes, make possible. As a consequence of the high cost of living, or a result of the discussion of it, it is estimated that from 33 1-3 to 50 per cent. more urban family heads than usual are at present wishing that they had "a little place in the country"-a little place on which they personally might raise sufficient garden truck to meet the wants of their families, with a surplus that might be marketed at the prevailing quotations, or may be, in view of all that has been said those prevalent, thus insuring them comparative ease and independence. SATIN REVIVED. A Splendid Fabric Being Used for British Court Dress.

terials of the most supple texture, with one notable exception, are being used for the toilettes worn at the inaugural court of the season. The exception is the new satin-which is really old-a splendid fabric capable of standing alone, revived from faraway times. It will be used for the petticoats of some gowns as a back-ground for magnificent embroideries, but mainly for the regulation court train.

But the gauzes are many and novel, and a characteristic which numbers of them share is a shot appearance. Blended colors of a chameleon-like effect are the novelty of the moment, and of paramount beauty are medleys of guinea-gold, all tints of rose—with special emphasis given to Chantecler, a cock's-comb red—many brilliant blues and lovely greens, inclusive of apple and lime for the youthful and the more stately olives for those of maturer years.

A mysterious dusting of some other surface color gives the shot effect to the fabric, for which purpose pearl, mauve, cloud-gray and even a curious bronzebrown are frequently chosen.

Refinement of effect is more than ever the study of the dress designers, hence the very embroideries over which clever fingers have long labored are veiled. Such is the treatment meted out to the bul lion and bugle designs, which, however, gain in charm of mystery what they lose in brilliance by the cloud of finest gauze with which they are covered.

One-color schemes are prominent this season. For example, a rose-colored toilette will have rose silk or rose bugle embroidery softened by a tunic and cor-sage veiling of gray net, with here and there a half yard or so of the decoration left in native brilliancy.

Lace is going to be a great feature in the full-dress schemes, and the dressmakers are dyeing it to match the frocks it adorns. Fashionable laces are Venise

For the Old Fashioned Coffee Was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table. "I had been troubled some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily.

"Sometimes it would beat fast and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain. "I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of An Adumbration of Civil Service Reform.

How frequently it happens that effort to effect a betterment in one direction oceasions impairment in another direction. It is often said of men that they have 'the defects of their virtues." The same thing, unfortunately is sometimes true of reforms, and from observations which the editor of the Boston Transcript has made regarding conditions at Washington civil service reform is no exception to the rule. The editor of the Transcript says: People talk about civil service reform as if it were a panacea, and as if when we have enough of that everything would be businesslike. In some respects it compli-cates the problem. Every national cam-paign involves the assumption of political obligations. Thousands of men from Oregon to Florida perform valorous services for the candidate, either for his nomination or his election. After he gets into office something must be done for them. With civil service reform closing all the obligations. Thousands of men from Ore regular doors, new things must be invented each four years for the new crop of men to be recognized; new bureaus, new ways of representing the government abroad and new schemes of sociological activity.

President Taft, in despite of all the nterests and influences working against well-informed families who have used such a consummation, has been making a genuine endeavor to stop wastes in the administrative departments of the federal government, and to some extent he has succeeded. It can be realized by any one with a modicum of knowledge of the situation or a particle of imagination that the President is committed to no easy task.
