The baseball season of the Central-Wisconsin baseball league will open its doors to this village tomorrow, Sunday, when Schleisingerville, one of the top-notchers of the league, will lineup against the locals. Although Kewaskum is holding last place, a good game can be expected. Manager Geo. Schmidt predicts a victory, and says he believes in the old saying, "A poor beginning always means a good ending. All local rooters are requested to be present and aid their team to victory.

Great preparations have been made to make the opener a howling success. The Kewaskum Brass Band has consented to furnish the music. At 2 o'clock the band and local ball players will meet at the Eagle Hotel and parade to John Schaefer's place, where they will meet the Schleisingerville boys and then proceed to the ball park. President Peters of the village and President Wollensak of the local association will pitch and catch the first ball. Everybody enter at the school house gate.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Backhaus, living two miles north of here in the town of Auburn were agreeably surprised by their neighbors and friends last Sunday evening on the occasion of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Backhaus had spent the day with relatives at Random Lake, and when they returned they found their home surrounded by friends who congratulated them most cordially. The evening was pleasantly spent in various pastimes and all enjoyed the occasion immensely. A bounteous lunch was served during the evening. DUNDEE.

Catherine Spradow, an aged and respected resident, died at the home of her son, Emil Spradow, on Wednesday, May 11, 1910, aged 81 years, 7 months and 4 days. She was born in Germany on the 7th day of October 1828. She was married to Julius Spradow in 1861 and 12 years later they emigrated to America, locating near Kewaskum where they lived 7 years and then bought a farm 1 mile south-east of Dundee, where she lived continuously until death. For the past three years she had been failing in health, but was very patient and uncomplaining. She was a good christian, a kind hearted and honest lady. Her husband preceeded her in death last summer. She leaves to mourn, three sons, namely: Emil of Dundee,Otto of Glenwood and Charles of lbs. of dynamite, which he placed Campbellsport. CONGRESS IN SESSION.

In the Senate.

In a personal explanation to the Senate on the 11th, Senator Piles of Washington disavowed any responsibility for the appointment of Richard A. Ballinger as commissioner of the general land office or later as secretary of the interior. This action resulted from intimations in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation that Mr. Piles had influenced the appointment in the interest of the Cunningham coal claimants. Senator Simmons of North Carolina spoke in favor of the Dixon long and short haul clause, after which the railroad bill was laid aside. The theory that the President may withdraw from entry the public lands without authority of Congress was seminated by thority of Congress was combatted by Senator Borah in an extended argument.

The Senate on the 12th reached an agreement to begin voting at 4 o'clock on the 13th on the long and short haul amendments to the railroad bill, and to meet daily at 11 o'clock, beginning Monday. The voting agreement for tomorrow provides that all amendments relating to the long and short hand shall be disposed of before the end of the legislative day, but the understanding does not preclude the taking of a recess from one day to another in case the amendments should require more time that can be given them tomorrow. All of the speeches of today were in support of the Dixon long and short hand amendment. They were made by Senators Clapp, Smoot and Nixon. The Senate passed the House omnibus lighthouse passed the House omnious ngutader-bill, which, after receiving the consideration of a conference committee, will go to the President for his signature.

The feature of the consideration of the administration railroad bill in the Senate on the 16th was the vote taken on an amendment by Senator Cummins to strike out the sections of the bill to provide for the establishment of a commerce court. This was defeated by a vote of 28 to 37. The affirmative vote was cast chiefly by Democrats and "insurgent" Republicans. A number of other amendments were offered to the sections, but all of them were defeated. The provision of the railroad bill for an extra allowance of $3000 a year to members of the proposed court of com-merce over the allowances of circuit court judges was stricken out by the Sen-ate on the 17th. The greater part of the session was devoted to a discussion of the Cummins amendment making the interstate commerce commission the de-fendant in all cases in the courts growing out of orders of that commission. but no action was taken.

In the House.

In the House the entire session on the 11th was taken up by the consider-ation of bills affecting Indian lands. In the House on the 12th Representative Payne of New York delivered an extended defense of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, arguing that the recent advance in the cost of living was not due to that legislation. Representative Cox of Ohio spoke, denouncing conditions in national military homes.

The 16th being unanimous consent and suspension day in the House, a large number of bills were passed. Among the more important measures passed was a Senate bill providing for a system of parole for United States prisoners sentenced for more than one year and who have served at least one-third of their terms. A resolution, introduced by Mr. Henry of Texas, to change the date of inauguration of the President from March until the last Thursday in April was defeated. Only one vote was lack-ing of the two-thirds of the House necessary to provide for the submission of a constitutional amendment for that purpose to the several states of the Union. General debate on the sundry civil bill in the House on the 17th gave an opportunity for several speeches. Mr. portunity for several speeches. Mr. Campbell of Kansas denounced Democratic tariff revision which, he said, was shown by experiences of the country to be disastrous. Mr. Underwood of Ala-bama criticised the President and the Republican majority of the House for failure to give publicity to facts gathered in connection with the corporation tax. Mr. Keifer of Ohio advocated his plan for an international agreement for preserving neutrality of the Panama canal. Mr. Barnhart of Indiana denounced machine politics in general and the Republican party in particular. Mr. Sisson spoke in favor of legislation abolishing gambling in cotton futures.

The Ham Fair at Paris.

A great feature of the present week is the ham fair which is held on the Boulevard Richard Le Noir. The name of this fair is wholly misleading, for as far as I have ever seen hams are the very last thing any one ever buys there.

Old brass and copper curios, quaint jewelry, rare china, lace, tapestries and books are what most people go out for to seen, and a sight not to be easily for-zotten is the long, wide boulevard lined a h ramshackle stalls laden with every possible kind of lumber and presided

Out of piles of valueless lumber Americans and English diligently seek for veir pet kind of curios, and there is not an artist in Paris who cannot point to some bit of furniture in his or her studio and say with pride. "I got that for five francs at the ham fair."

No one ever pays more than five se five franc bargains are becoming more rare, and wen as housekeeping in Paris grows more and more costly does the furnishing of one's house to keep .- The Queen.

Kipling a Gardener.

In addition to Rudyard Kipling's othaccomplishments, he is a keen garden-er. When visitors call upon him at his delightful place in Sussex, England, they are taken to see his "Free Trade Garden." None but the keenest tariff reformer would appreciate the name at first sight. On looking around, however, one sees that the paths are all laid out with disused millstones, relies of the time when the miller ground the corn, and wheat growing was one of the staple industries of the country.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 18.-Emil Seidel, the new Socialist mayor of Milwaukee, was recognized by only a few of his political comrades when he paid his frequently deferred visit to the national Socialist congress here today.

"That's Seidel," the word went round until it had spread throughout the hall and was lost in wave on wave of cheer-

Consideration of the immigration question for the moment was lost sight of. The outbursts subsided long enough, however, to allow the choosing of the Milwaukee man to occupy the chair, and then broke out again.

"Cheer for the cause, not for the individual," shouted the mayor. "Don't talk; roll up your sleeves and get busy."

Search of Ruins of Hotel Adams in Phoenix, Ariz., Fails to Reveal Any Bodies.

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 18 .- No authentic information upon which to ground a belief that there was any loss of life in the Hotel Adams fire early yesterday morning has reached the city officials after twenty-four hours and it is now their conviction all guests escaped. Search of the ruins has failed to reveal any bodies. No one has reported friends or relatives missing. Fireman Peter Sullivan, who made the round of the rooms of the hotel after the fire started, found them all empty, indicating the alarm had been generally heeded and the hotel quietly deserted.

Sullivan was rewarded by the city council for having risked his life in the search for unconscious sleepers. The position of fire chief was created and Sullivan was given the post.

POSTAL BILL IS READY

HOUSE MEASURE COMPLETED AFT-ER WEEKS OF DEADLOCK.

Over 10 Years Old May Use Saving Facilities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18 .-After weeks of deadlock, followed by other weeks of careful work of consideration, conference and compromise, the House postal savings bank bill, as favored by the Republican members of the committee on postoffices and post roads, was introduced to the House Tuesday by Representative Gardner of New Jersey. The bill provides that postal savings banks may be established at any post-office when authorized by the board of trustees; any person over 10 years of age may deposits any amount from $1 up to $500, but not more than $100 in any single month.

Withdrawals may be made on ten days' notice; special cards may be sold for 10 cents, to which special 10-cent stamps may be attached until a total of $1 is affixed, when the card may be de-posited the same as a dollar in cash. Two per cent. interest would be paid depositors; a depositor may buy with his deposits United States bonds, bearing 2½ per cent. interest, in denominations of $24 and multiples, although but 47½ per cent. of the total postal savings deposits shall be so invested.

Forty-seven and one-half per cent. would always remain on deposit in local banks, and the remaining 5 per cent. would be in the hands of the treasurer of the board of trustees.

The funds would be deposited in any banking institution furnishing security backed by the taxing power of governments. The money realized by the government in the sale of bonds would be used for the retirement of other bonds now ready

CLEANING SILVERWARE.

The Importance of Having Right Kind of Polish.

Silver is a beautful and durable ware whether solid or plated, but its continued beauty depends upon the care given it by its owner. First, it must be washed carefully immediately after using. No plate powder will remove scratches caused by careless mixture of the different pieces. It is of great importance hot water, rinsing them in hot water, and polish with fine soft linen towel. When treated in this way consistently, plate requires very little use of powder. Many of the "silver polishes" on the market are mercurial in nature and act quickly in cleansing and polishing, but the silver tarnishes quickly after their use. Gas blackens silver left exposed to the air very quickly. An old cleansing process is the use of water in which Irish potatoes, "with jackets on," have been boiled. It will cleanse delicately chased and engreyed pieces better they revided which graved pieces better than powder, which settles in the depressions. Spoons and forks, which have become stained with eggs should be boiled in this water, rinsed in clear hot water, and when dried will be found brighter than ever. Here is an old tried recipe for silver polish, which may be made at home: Rub to a fine powder one pound of the best whit-ing, and sift it. Mix together four-ounces spirits of turpentine, two ounces spirits wine, one ounce spirits camphor, one-half ounce spirits hartshorn. Add whiting gradually to the liquid, mixing thoroughly until the consistency of cream. Put into a large bottle and cork tightly, tying the cork down. When it is wanted for use, shake, pour out a portion into a bowl, and with a soft, clean sponge cover the silver entirely with it. Let dry for ten minutes. Then bush off and polish with chamois. This is an excellent polish and harmless. The Stenographer's Excuse.

Will You Be My Valentine?

CHAPTER I.

"WHO COULD HAVE SENT IT?" The wintry sunlight was stealing into Cassie's room as she drew aside the dainty curtains. With a soft smile curving her lips she threw open the casement, and peeped out. One moment she lingered there, her eyes resting wistfully on the white road visible from her window; then the sound of a laugh aroused her.

"It is no use, Cassie! I have already been waiting here over an hour, and as yet have seen no one. I call it shame-ing, screened in the shadow of a laurel tree. Her first impulse was to draw back shyly; the next to lean yet farther out. That is the worst of living here," she said calmly. "Had we been nearer town, we should have seen a hundred men pass in that time."

"Hush, Cassie! I do believe I can see a dark form stealing down the road. It must be-it is-a man!"

There was no hesitation this time. Before her sister's voice had quite died away Cassie had left the casement and flown downstairs. Another moment, and she stood breathless beside Ray.

They watched the advancing figure anxiously as it came towards them. Soon an expression of disappointment crossed both pretty faces.

"The postman!" exclaimed Ray. "Never mind; perhaps he may bring us a valentine," Cassic answered soothing-"You know Edgar generally sends Ray shook back her sunny curls; she did not care very much for her cousin's yearly effusion; she had so hoped her fate might have passed the gate that morning.

The old postman stopped and drew from his bag a few letters and a small white packet. "A valentine for you, Miss Cassie.

Your sweetheart hasn't forgotten you," he chuckled, placing the packet in the elder girl's hand. The girls hastened into the house, glad to seek warmth near the blazing fire, for the wind outside had chilled them. Cassie quietly undid her box, whilst Ray sorted the letters.

"How exquisite! Who could have sent it? I know no one like this," the elder girl exclaimed. Ray bent over her sister and examined the gold locket she held. It was open, and within was a beautiful miniature—that of a man. "How handsome he is! Cassie, do you think it is some unknown suitor, who has taken advantage of to-day to present himself to your gaze?"

Cassie closed the locket, and as she did diamonds on the outside.

Cassie started to her feet, and flung her arms round the small black-robed

Mrs. Woodbury repressed a smile; she did not wish to disappoint her niece, though she felt sure the minature must Cassie.

"You have discarded Edgar's gift. Is that kind of you?" she said, lightly taken from its chain to make room for the new one.

Cassie blushed, and her hands trembled ever so slightly as they fastened "Edgar won't mind, and I am tired of Cassie started, and the guilty color surged into her cheeks. "Where have you been, Ray?" she questioned. "To see after the dressmaker. We must look our best next week, or Wil-

"Is Edgar going with us?"
"I don't know. I expect he will be home soon to tell us his intentions." Ray's words were prophetic; that very evening brought a letter from Ed-

Edgar smiled, his face reddening slightly. "I ought to have been clearer, mother. There were two miniatures-one of a very lovely girl, and it was her face which struck me. By the resemblance between them, and their curious style of dress, I should imagine them near relatives. I expect the miniatures are old now, and the originals dead long ago." "Where is the girl?" Ray demanded. "I should like to see her." Edgar gave a constrained laugh.

"I did not bring it with me. I remember leaving it on my table. You see, a fellow can't carry about relics like that. I should have all the others joking me." Had his listeners been more suspicious they might have noted a hesitation in his speech which made it sound untrue.

MANILA, May 18.-Upon instructions from Washington, Lieut. Col. Robert F. Ames was today confined to quarters and will be court martialed on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and to the prejudice of military discipline.

The action against the officer is a sequel to the investigation of the circumstances which led Lieut. Clarence M. Janney of the Twelfth infantry, U. S. A., to take his life following a dinner party at the home of Ames at Fort William McKinley. The suicide's wife remains at the fort and probably will be the chief witness at the courtmartial. A Filipino coroner and an army board of inquiry found that Janney committed suicide and so reported to Maj. Gen. William H. Carter, commanding the department of Luzon. After examining the findings, the general returned them to he board with instructions that it obtain additional testimony covering certain of the features of the case. No furher developments were made public un-il the receipt of the instructions from Prairie du Chien Courier Was Established Fifty-eight Years Ago, Before Railroad Arrived.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., May 18. -{Special.}—The Prairie du Chien Cou-ier will celebrate its fifty-eighth anniversary May 19. The Courier is the oldest publication in this part of the northwest with the exception of The Pioneer Press which was established in 1849 as the Minnesota Pioneer. The first number of The Courier was published May 19, 1852, by Buel E. Hutchinson and J. Hurd. After several changes of proprietors the plant was purchased in 1856 by V. A. W. Merrell, an eastern newspaperman, who had been for several years on the staff of the Mil-

In November, 1858, The Courier passed into the hands of its present editor, William D. Merrill, then in his nineteenth year. Since that time, over half a century, it has been in Mr. Merrell's immediate charge and has never missed an issue. The Courier preceded the railroad and telegraph in Prairie du Chien by five

CREATES NEW DIOCESE.

Wil Be Named Toletana, Latin for Toledo, in Province of Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., May 18.-Unofficial notice was received by the administra-tive officer of the Roman Catholic archliocese here today that the Pope has created a new diocese in the province of Cincinnati. The new diocese is named Toletana, which is the Latin for Toledo, and the center of the diocese probably will be the Ohio city of that name. Rev. John T. O'Connell of Toledo is mentioned as the possible bishop. The diocese of Toletana will include the northwestern part of Ohio.

A WINDOW SMASHER.

Mary Sweeney, of window smashing fame, has a rival in the person of leorge Dubuque, who hales from Chiago, and who, during his short residence in the city, made things lively for the officials. He was arrested on Forest avenue just as he was preparing to break the large expanse of plate glass in a saloon front. After being taken to jail he amused himself by breaking all the windows in the corridor, saying that he liked to hear the jingle of the glass. George is now trying his skill at breaking stone at the workhouse, where he

FLYING PAN A SHIELD.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., May 16 .-[Special.]-A frying pan, stove poker and pocket knife are said to have figured prominently in a fight that occurred Sunday afternoon at a residence on the east side and which ended in the arrest of August Shallock on the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. Shallock is said to have created a disturbance at the house and when others warned him to keep quiet, he is alleged to have drawn a knife and threatened to kill them. With the aid of the pan and poker, the women united to disarm Shallock and kept him until the police arrived.

The Ashford township spelling contest, which was held in the Elmore school house on the evening of May 12, was a grand success in every way. The school room was packed, which showed the interest Kohlsville; John Gales, wife and of the patrons of the different dis- Plymouth tricts in this contest. Seventeen tories offered 4.474 boxes of cheese ence, and Andrew Martin Sr. were pupils took part in the spelling Sales as follows: 240 boxes daiscontest and twelve in the number ies at 14 1-4c; 80 at 14 1-8c; 2,513 contest. The following schools at 14c; 267 boxes twins at 17 7-8c were represented: Joint No. three, 183 cases Miss Melinda Miller, teacher, Joint 14 1-2c; 913 cases longhorns at No. 4, Miss Agnes Kuehl, teacher; 13 7-8c; 8 at 13 3-4c; 225 boxe No. 5, Miss Anna Terlinden, teach- square prints at 14 5-8c.

er; Joint No. 6, Miss Zeta Strobel teacher; No. 9, Miss Blanche Murray, teacher; and No. 10, Miss Sadie Katen, teacher. Principal Geo. Ritter of the Campbellsport High School pronounced the words and the Misses Margaret Fellenz and Alma Hughes of the Auburn Graded School acted as judges. After the list of one thousand words had all been spelled, the Misses Hilda Bohland and Estella Mathieu of Dist. No. 5 and Miss Nora Thill of Dist. No. 6 still remained on the floor. These three were declared winners. It was then decided to take words from a text book to see which of the three would receive 1st. place. The honors went to Nora Thill. The number contest was won by Miss Mamie Mc Ginnity of Dist. No. 9, who had every problem correct. A short program was also rendered, which consisted of recitations and songs. Miss Ruby M. Acker gave an excellent talk on the needs and equipments of the country schools and the co-operation of parents necessary to make school work a success. Mr. Ritter also gave an interesting talk on the value of teaching civics in country schools.

HYDE CONVICTED OF MURDER AND GETS LIFE TERM

LAW PROHIBITS BOND PENDING CONVICTED MAN'S APPEAL TO HIGHER TRIBUNAL.

PATHETIC SCENE IN COURT.

Defendant's Wife Throws Her Arms Around Husband's Neck and Weeps as Verdict Is Read.

THE ACCUSED STILL HAS HOPE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16 .- Dr. B. C. Hyde was found guilty at 10:28 o'clock today of murdering Col. Thomas H. Swope. His punishment was fixed at life imprisonment.

"Oh, Clark," cried Mrs. Hyde when the verdict was read by Judge Latshaw. She threw her arms about his neck and wept silently. Then she patted her husband on the cheek.

Dr. Hyde sat motionless. He looked firmly at Judge Latshaw while the verdict was being received. As the words "imprisonment in the state penitentiary during his natural life" were pronounced, his gaze was fastened on the floor.

"Don't worry, acarie," he said to his wife as she clasped him in her arms.

Mrs. E. N. Hopkins and Miss Laura Hyde, sisters of the physician, looked distressed but did not break down. They tried to comfort Mrs. Hyde.
"We shall hope for the best," they said.
"We don't understand this verdict.

Clark is innocent." "I have not lost hope," declared Dr. Within ten minutes after the verdict had been returned the doctor was on his way to his cell. Mrs. Hyde remained in the courtroom for some time. She was extremely weak. Neither Mrs. Logan O. Swope nor any of her children except Mrs. Hyde, was in the room when the jury reported.

Planned to Hold Jury. Judge Latshaw half an hour before the verdict came in decided to change his plan of discharging the jurors tomorrow morning if they did not agree. He planned to hold them for several days

When the announcement came that the verdict was ready the news spread rapidly and every inch of space in the court-The group at Dr. Hyde's table was hopeful but inclined to nervousness. Reports unauthorized, but persistent, were that for many hours the vote had been eleven to one for conviction. The arrival at an agreement made it appear certain the physician had been found guilty. In the face of discouraging prospects, Mrs. Hyde evidently tried to be

"I think it will be all right," she said to her husband, and smiled. Little time was wasted in reading the verdict. The crowd heard it, and at the marshal's orders, arose and silently trooped out from the room without con- FOLLOWING QUARREL WITH WIFE

Appeal Will Be Made. An hour after the verdict was reached. Mrs. Hyde was able to go to her home.

Before leaving she said: "I am now over the first shock and am feeling strong. I shall take immediate steps to make a motion for a new trial. Failing in this, I shall arange for an appeal. The case will be reversed in the supreme court, I am confident because Clark is innocent and therefore, it cannot be otherwise." When news of the conviction was for-warded by telephone to Mrs. Swope at Independence she shrieked and dropped the receiver. She refused to make a

It is the belief of court attaches that the supreme court will be unable to reach Dr. Hyde's case for at least a year, on account of the crowded condition of the docket. In the meantime the prisoner may be kept in the county jail or sent to the state prison at Jefferson City by Judge Latshaw. The law of Missouri prohibits the courts from admitting persons convicted of murder to bail. Mrs. Swope Talks.

Mrs. Logan O. Swope was feeling improved in spirits this afternoon and con-

"If I had not been satisfied I was doing the right thing," she said, "I never would have started this prosecution of son-in-law.

"As for a reconciliation with my daughter. I stand now as I have always stood. The doors of my house and my arms and heart are open to her whenever she wants to come home. My mo-ther love for her has never cooled. I have though she was mistaken but never that she was other than the sweet, inno-cent girl she is."

History of the Case.

Dr. Hyde has been under suspicion in connection with the mysterious illness and deaths in the Swope family ever since the death of Col. Thomas H. Swope on October 3, 1909.

The death of Col. Swope followed soon after he had suffered a severe convulsion and the convulsion, it was charged by members of the Swope famcharged by members of the Swope family, followed immediately after the administration of a capsule at the direction of Dr. Hyde. It was proven at the trial that Dr. Hyde had purchased cyanide of potasium in five grain capsules

Two days before the death of Col. Swope, Moss Hunton, a cousin of the millionaire philanthropist, died at the Swope home following a stroke of apoplexy. Dr. Hyde and Dr. G. T. Twyman of Independence treated Hunton.

Beginning early in December, an epidemic of typhoid fever broke out in the Swope home, during which ten members of the family were stricken and one, Chrisman Swope, a brother of Dr. Hyde's wife, died. Chrisman died after taking a capsule given at Dr. Hyde's direction. The analysis of the liver of Col. Swope's body resulted in the finding of fifty-two-sixty-sixths of a grain of strychnine by the Chicago chemists.

CHIPPEWA FALLS (WIS.) MAN IS MURDERED.

WOMAN ADMITS SHOOTING HIM

Doctors Find Bullet's Victim Weltering in Pool of Blood-Daughter Won't Talk.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., May 16. -[Special.] - Alsworth J. Sunderland was murdered shortly before midnight Saturday in his home and his wife is accused of the crime. Sunderland is a laborer and after receiving his month's wages he visited is based upon the fighting or putting numerous stores, paid his bills and re- out of fires after they occur, rather than turned home with a friend about 10 preventing the starting of fires in the erland home left during this quarrel and was the last to see the man and woman on the effects of fires now raging in the together. After the shooting Mrs. Sunderland went to a clothing store six blocks away and telephoned for a doctor.

Sunderland was found by two doctors in a heap on the floor, his head in a pool of blood and a bullet hole in his right the settlers in burning to clear lands for breast. He was dead when found and the oldest of his four children, a girl of the oldest of his four chimien, a girl of them. The famous, particuten, was seated in a chair nearby crying. This girl would not say anything about the affair, but a boy of seven said about the affair, but a boy of seven said the crime. The special committee of the Legisthat his mother committed the crime.

Bloody footprints show that he staggered back down the stairs and tried to cross the reom to a cough but fell before the room to a couch but fell before reaching it. On a dressing table in a bedroom upstairs was found a revolver with one shell discharged. Doctors claim that the way the bullet entered the man makes the suicide theory out of the question. Mrs. Sunderland disappeared immediately after the shooting but was found this morning about a mile and a half north of the city, after she had been wandering in the woods since Sunday morning at 1 o'clock.

The woman has not made any statement to the officers but she has told har ment to the officers, but she has told her sister that she and her husband got into a quarrel and after giving her a black eye, he slapped her in the face. She started to retire upstairs and he was go-ing to retire downstairs. He started afther up the stairs to whip her again.

Then she shot him.

The coroner's jury met this morning and after listening to the doctor's testimony, adjourned until late this after-

Griffith in his lecture to the Outdoor Art association any attempt at advancing rates was lecture to the Outdoor Art association made. No notice of the present advance at Milwaukee Saturday. The organization has issued the following statement: State Forester Griffith in a lecture to the Outdoor Art association Saturday is reported to have declared that all pine lands were worthless for farming purposes and that farmers were being duped by companies placing the settlers upon the same. Any sane man who has visited the northern half of Wisconsin, which was at one time almost entirely covered by immense pine forests will wonder, whether Mr. Griffith knows anything about the state. pine forests will wonder, whether Mr. Grit-fith knows anything about the state which Does Mr. Griffith know that the apples from northern Wisconsin and Michigan (raised on cut-over pine lands) took first prizes at the St. Louis exposition and the Wisconsin and Michigan state fairs? Does he know that the leading cherry growing section of the state is located in these cut over pine lands? Does he know that wholesalers are making such a demand for preserved vegetables grown on these cut-over lands that they cannot be filled? Does he know that seed potatoes are being grown on these lands that are bringing record prices in all markets. Does he know that a herd of prize hogs raised on this pine land carried away all the honors at the state fair for two successive years?

fair for two successive years?

Is Mr. Griffith working in the interests of the state of Wisconsin who employs him, or is his sole ambition to secure land to plant trees upon. Does he appreciate that these pine lands are now supporting several hundred thousand people in northern Wisconsin and are helping to give the state its position as the leading dairying state of the country?

country?

The Chamber of Commerce would like to have Mr. Griffith visit Marinette county. It have Mr. Griffith visit Marinette county. It wants him to come with his eyes open and ready to be convinced for there is no doubt but that he can be convinced if he is ready to accept self-evident proof. We would like to have him come to the county as a man and not as an official whose sole desire seems to be to plant trees, whether it be on land fitted for trees or for other things.

Marinette county people believe that the statement of Forester Griffith was a deliberate knock meant to injure and stop the development of this portion of the state and they will continue to believe it until be proves otherwise.

Prophetic Remark Made by King Edward at His Last Private Dinner.

LONDON, May 17.-Further details are now current respecting the last private dinner attended by King Edward on the Monday before his death. Miss of the western states, to prevent the Agnes Keyser was the hostess. It was arranged as a welcome home for the King to meet Lady Arthur Paget. Both Mrs. Keppel and Lady Paget wore unrelieved black. Mrs. Keppei wore high black aigrette in her hair, the only relief to her dress being some fine silver e-ging on the bodice and sleeves. Lady

The first remark the King made when he sat down at the table was: "Why, we have quite a funeral effect." Italy enjoys the distinction of being the first of the great powers to appoint an acknowledged Jew as its prime minister. Curiously enough, the ex-premier, Baron Sonnino, was also a Jew by descent, his father having been a Jewish emigrant from Leghorn; but his mother was an English Protestant, and he himself was not brought up in the Jewish faith. About the origin of Signor Luigi Luzzatti, who has just been entrusted with the task of forming a cabinet, there is no possible doubt. He comes of a famous family that has given Jewish rabbis, physicians, poets and scholars to Italy for generations, and he has never been other than proud of his membership of the Jewish race. Signor Luzzat-ti's career has been consistently bril-liant. He first entered Parliament forty years ago, and in 1891 received his first cabinet appointment as minister of the treasury; he has also won high academic distinction in the fields of political economy and law. It is significant testimony to the position of the Jews in Italy that, while Signor Luzzatti is premier, the mayor of Rome, Signor Ernesto Nathan, is a member of the Jewish Polith

Middletown's Climbing Cats.

A maltese cat which climbed high up the steeple of the First Presbyterian church and became entangled in the vines which covered it, caused great ex-citement at Middletown, N. Y., Hun-dreds of people congregated and the services of the police and fire departments were enlisted to rescue the ani-mal. Volunteers were requested to ascend the fire ladders, but they held off. Roy D. Parker finally sprang forward and hurried up the ladder while the crowd cheered until the cat had been brought to the ground. It fought fiercely as Parker seized it, but he escaped serious injury. Several years ago a cat climbed to the roof of the big church and the fire department was called out to save it.

CAR WHEEL'S DEVELOPMENT.

Those of Solid Steel Now Successfully Produced.

In the development of the solid steel wheel as distinguished from the steel tired wheel, where the tire is fastened to center made of cast iron or steel, it has been made the goal to produce a metal that should be the equal of the steel tire, and this has been done, says Cassier's Magazine. By care in he cropping of the ingots to avoid piping and segrega-tion, by close attention to heating, and by use of very powerful machinery by which the rolling of the tread may be carried on down to a low temperature, the essentials of a good tire metal have been obtained. These may be put at a high tensile strength and limit of elasticity, a high ratio of elongation before rupture under load, and hardness with the density of fine grain.

The chemical features of low sulphur and phosphorus and high carbon are matters of the furnace and the steel maker, and can, of course, be obtained as well in an ingot intended for a solid wheel as for one that is to be made into tires. It was the mechanical features that gave trouble, added to the necessity of producing a low-priced wheel. All this nas been done, and a suitable wheel is avail-

The placing of the and declares that "promised security from fire cannot be guaranteed." Expectation that the fire would be confined to one room was not realized, because of duced. the intense heat generated by the burning of the furniture and draperies. The heat caused fire to break out on the floor above, and communicate it successively to the other floors. This has drawn forth the remark that the control and subjugation of flames in any building depends upon the confining of the fire the room in which fire breaks out, by osing the doors and windows and impeding combustion in that way. The exrience has been that people will throw rush from the rooms for help, leaving the doors open. With neglect of this kind, due to momentary panic, there is ample ground for the declaration that "there no such thing as an absolutely fireproof building.

New Orleans has made a bid for the proposed World's Panama Canal Exposition by raising $300,000 and promising a fund of $1,000,000. > A "mouth hygiene" exhibition is the latest enterprise of those who were try-ing to awaken the public to the impor-tance of giving direct and persistent attention to the physical condition of the individual as a correlative of effort to improve the public health. The display was suggested by the success of the tuberculosis exhibits throughout the United States, which have been followed by a noticeable awakening of the people in the interest of personal hy-giene. A circular issued in promotion giene. A circular issued in promotion of the mouth hygiene exhibit now installed in the Metropolitan Life building, New York city, states that if the school children of Gotham are typical there must be more than twelve million child-ren in the United States who have defective teeth, with incidental handicaps ich as malnutrition, enlarged glands ad defective breathing. The movement for improvement of the mouth is worthy of encouragement, because the mouth is the avenue by which disease germs get into the alimentary and pulmonary tracts. By keeping the teeth in good condition and by the use of antiseptic mouth washes for that purpose, the general health of the people may be greatly improved. The work done by the teeth is contributory to processes in the digestive tract, and many cases of chronic indirection are doubtless due to insufic indigestion are doubtless due to insufficient mastication by crippled molars.

In his complain "Broken Arrow" states that he and Miss Rock were married September 15, 1904 and that all went well until the fall o of 1906, when "Rock" suddenly ceased to love her brave and commenced a "sys tematic course of cruel treatment" that made life in their tepee almost unbear able. The petition states further that in October, 1908, Mrs. "Broken Arrow" struck her better half repeatedly, inflict ing great injuries, and then ran away from his "house" and remained away until brought back by the reservation police. After being returned, Rock, accord ing to the complaint, resumed her rough treatment of the dusky warrior and continued to desert his wigwam. In all she left his "bed and board" at least twenty times, returning only when forced to do so by the reservation officials. It is specifically stated that on July 15, 1909, she bit him on the arm and head, struck him several times with a belt, and injured him greatly, the marks of which injuries are still visible on his person In conclusion, "Broken Arrow" states that at all times since the fall of 1906 his squaw's conduct toward him has been of such a character as to complete-

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots-sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak 'tomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

HOME FOR BIRDS

A Woman of Cincinnati Makes Ample Its Strange Manifestations in the High-Provision for One.

Approximately $250,000 of the estate of Thomas J. Emery, who was by far the largest realty owner in Cincinnati, has been set aside by his widow, Mrs. Mary Emery, for the founding and per-petuation of a home for birds. Mrs. Emery has completed the purchase of a tract of land in Evanswood place of about two acres and has signified her intention of turning it over to the care of the de-partment of biology in the University of Cincinnati. This ground is to be built up with different kinds of houses where the feathery tribe can be sheltered. It will be made secure against the invasion of cattle and small boys, and there will be housed there possible 100 different kinds of birds and their several species. In addition to this there will be houses for the birds of mixed "nationality" and places where these may be studied in their different classes and under different

All the work of this gigantic bird colony is to be done under the direction of Assistant Prof. H. M. Benedict of the department of biology of the University of Cincinnati. He says that this has been for many years a kind of meeting place for the birds of Cincinnati and that thousands of them have gone there to rest and to eat. He says he will arrange a place where they can rest undis-turbed by passersby. "We are in a new field as yet," said Prof. Benedict. "We decided effect in aiding other communi-ties. It will be known as 'The Mary ties. It will be known as 'The Mary Emery Bird Presirve,' and we will take special delight in showing it to all the people who care to see it when it is the said veins of metal in the bills, closed valleys, mountain peaks liable to attract and discharge atmospheric electricity.—Hospital. people who care to see it when it is finally arranged." MOUNTAIN SICKNESS lands of Peru.

At a meeting of the Medical society of Berlin, Dr. Knoche gave on account of his experiences and observations in regard to mountain sickness during his soourn among the heights of the Cordilleras of Peru.

He suggests that the ideas acquired from Alpine experiences in regard to the pathology of mountain sickness are very imperfect. In Peru and Bolivia attacks known as "houna" or "sirroche" are as-cribed by the natives to certain conditions other than simple altitude. Mule drivers avoid paths because they are "haunted" by houna, and again certain valleys are known for the frequent oc-currence of sirroche. In one such valley the whole of the author's caravan was affected by the complaint. In La Paz, the capital of Bolivia, certain streets are known for the number of cases of this malady which occur there. Sirrocha consists in a condition of nervous excitation. It is not due to a deficiency of oxygen, as it may occur after a descent of 5000 meters. It does not appear to depend upon muscular fatigue, as t is especially liable to appear in the night and disappear during the day.

It may be accompanied by hemorrhages, which may attain to a dangerous degree. The author makes the interest ing suggestion that the cause of this affection may be of an electric nature, such as electric discharges in the air. In supmust study the best way to teach birds to congregate and nest in the locality where they are safe. The action of Mrs. Emery was the first of its kind to my knowledge in the world and will have a positive to the occurrence of this affection; as electric discharges in the air. In support of this hypothesis he points out that the conditions favoring the accumulation of electricity are just those which predistrictly are just the predist pose to the occurrence of this affection; mines and veins of metal in the hills,
