THERESA WITHDRAWS

Word has been received by Secretary Geo. H. Schmidt from the Theresa ball club that they had at their meeting Monday night decided to withdraw from the league, claiming that they could not meet expenses. An act like this on the part of the Theresa club has not been favorably received and looks as if they got cold feet. They also by dropping from the league lose their guarantee deposit.

A special meeting of the league will be held at the Eagle Hotel in this village to-day, Saturday, at 1 P. M. If another team canno theless the league will proceed to play ball for the remainder of the season with four teams.

Ever since he took up his work here at Kewaskum Mr. Cavanaugh has bent all his efforts to enlarging and developing the school, and success has crowned his efforts. It was a proud moment for him to stand as sponsor for a class the size and calibre of that of the present year and the whole community joins with him in this feeling. We know that the popularity of the high school will continue to grow as its good work comes to be more generally known, and it is entirely possible that the record of 1910 may be allowed to stand only a few years.

CONGRESS IN SESSION

In the Senate.

The sundry civil appropriation bill and the conference report on the rivers and harbors bill monopolized the attention of the Senate on the Sth, but no action was taken on either. Senators Burton and Newlands criticized the rivers and harbors bill in sharp language, both of them denouncing it as a "pork barrel."

After agreeing to the conference report on the river and harbor bill the Senate on the 9th took up the sundry civil and on the 9th took up the sundry civil appropriation, but adjourned without concluding its consideration. The provision eliminating the House restriction on the eliminating the House restriction on the use of funds for prosecutions under the anti-trust law, so as to make them inapplicable to peaceful combinations, wage-earners, etc., was the subject of criticism, but ultimately accepted. An amendment appropriating $100.000 to permit the President to investigate the rarious executive departments of the government with a view to better economy was adopted.

In connection with the sundry civil bill the Senate on the 10th listened to a revival of the tariff discussion of last session. Senator Beveridge being the prin-cipal speaker. The Indiana senator spoke in advocacy of the provision of the bill authorizing the expenditure of $250. 000 to aid in procuring information looking to the proper administration of the tariff law. He referred to this legislation as the first step toward the tariff commission. Senator Hale declared Mr. Beveridge's purpose to be the destruction of the present tariff law.

The Senate on the 13th listened to The Senate on the 13th listened to a notable address by Senator Dolliver of Iowa in the form of a vigorous defense of the "insurgent" Republican and a reply to the criticisms of them by the President of the United States. The sundry civil bill, carrying appropriations aggregating $118,000,000, was passed by the Senate. Bills amending the bank-ruptcy law and requiring land-grant railroads to survey their lands so as to ren-der them amenable to taxation were

The conference report on the railroad bill was presented to the Senate on the 14th. The Senate divided its attention between the public land withdrawal bill and Senator Owens' motion discharging the committee on privileges and elections from the further consideration of the resolution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. Action was taken upon neither of these measures. Speeches against the administration's conservation policy were made by Senator Hughes of Colorado and Heyburn of

In the House.

In the House the entire session on the Sth was occupied by a debate upon the Olmsted bill creating a new form of civil government for the island of Porto Rico. Before adjournment the House began the reading of this bill for amendment, thus practically insuring its final dis-position next Wednesday, when under the rules it will again be taken up.

By the overwhelming vote of 195 to 101 the House on the 9th passed the pos-tal savings bank bill. Twenty-four Democrats joined the Republicans in voting for the final passage of the bill. The Democratic substitute for the bill of the majority was rejected, 113 to 196.

By a vote of 48 to 71 the House on the 10th declined to recede from its disagreement from the Senate amendment appropriating for the expenses of an automobile for Speaker Cannon, the same action being pursued in the case of the al-lowance proposed by the Senate for Vice President Sherman's automobile. All other amendments of the legislative bill were agreed to. The partial conference report on the navel bill was agreed to. The House accepted the proposal of the Senate to build one battleship in a government navy yard and a $1.000,000 collier on the Pacific coast. The report of conferees on the rivers and harbors bill was agreed to, the total appopriations and authorizations being $51.947,

The entire session of the House on the 13th was devoted to political speech-es delivered during the period permitted for general debate upon the deficiency bill. Representative Nye of Minnesota spoke on optimism and patriotism as powerful factors in the nation at large, referring to the functions of party orga nizations in the government of the coun-Representative Leever of South Carolina advocated legislation to prevent fictitious dealings in future sales of cotton. A defense of Attorney General Wickersham in h's attitude toward the Philippine friar lands was made by Mr. Crumpacker of Indiana.

The House on the 14th also received the conference report on the railroad bill, but the greater part of the day was devoted to political speeches. Representative Randell of Texas created a sensation by moving that the House recall from the comittee on the judiciary a bill to prohibit senators, representa-tives and judges from accepting gifts, compensation, etc., from railroad, tele-graph and other similar corporations on ground that Representative Parker of New Jersey, chairman, and other members of the committee were accepting such gifts, and by so doing were disqualified from action on such a measure. Mr. Randell, seeking action on his motion as privileged, met opposition and the speaker sustained a point of order which prevented action upon it. This action was upheld by the House, 121 to 20.

be placed under a bond of $50,000, but the amount finally settled upon was $25,000. A bond for $10,000 was required of Bogart. Their hearing was set for July 12.

Chief Postoffice Inspector Mayer in a statement charges the officials of the company with a giant stock manipulation plan, that the stock capital of the company, whose assets were about $400,000, had been increased by an interchange of secruities and that the price of these shares had been arbitrarily raised to such large amounts that the raised to such large amounts that the company at this time had an apparent stock market value of $1,000,000,000.

Mr. Mayer states that one of the offi-cers has cleaned up $5,000,000. He says there are 28,000 stockholders throughout the country who have placed their money with the company on the representation of its officers that it had a surplus of nearly $7,000,000 when as a matter of fact the company was failing to make its operating expenses.

SENATE WORKS FAST

Appointment Reaches Senate and Confirmed with Lightning-like Rapidity.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15 .-[Special.]-Though the "powers that be" were a long time considering whether David C. Owen should be reappointed, when they did decide to give David four years more, the wheels worked with lightning rapidity.

President Taft sent the nomination to the Senate at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and at an executive session occurring than two hours afterward, Owen's name was considered and his nomination confirmed. This is almost a record-breaker for speed in such mat-ters by the Senate. Usually under most favorable conditions to the nominee, his name is almost invariably held at least twenty-four hours before even the slightest move is made to take it under advisement in executive session No explanation is given for the rapid fire action in Postmaster Owen's case, further than that he personally has a splendid record and the Milwaukee postoffice is admittedly a model among first class offices of the country, its general officiency being frequently pointed to by postal authorities here as being in the very first rank.

RAIL GAP IS CLOSED,

Frisco Line Makes Important Traffic Agreement with Railroads in the Southwest.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 15 .- Announce ment was made here Tuesday at the offices of the Frisco railroad of the formation of a traffic arrangement for the interchange of freight and passenger business between the Frisco and the Houston and Texas Central, together with the Southern lines in Texas.

This agreement, which is effective today, will close up the gap in the Frisco to the southwest which was left when the Frisco separated from the Rock Island last December. It will give the Frisco a through line from Chicago, St. Louis, and Kansas City to Houston, New Orleans and Brownsville, and eventually, in connection with the national railway of Mexico, to the city of Mex-

The traffic agreement with the Harri man Texas lines is regarded as of the greatest importance to the Frisco, as well as to the Houston and Texas tral, as the Frisco has its own line from New Orleans to Houston, and the recent ly purchased St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico line from Houston to Brownsville is entirely separated from its main system by the distance between Dallas and Houston. Apple Raising Most Profitable. The apple is the king of fruits. It is used in more different ways than any other food, and is the only fruit that one can enjoy every day in the year. The apple-tree, moreover, is the hardiest of fruit trees, and in a region like the Paci-fic Northwest thrives and bears apples without care of any kind, but with cul-tivation and scientific direction the production is sure and very large.

The Pacific Northwest contains the only territory now being sucessfully planted to apple trees. Moreover, in this favored land the productive area is confined to a few small protected val-leys, and only a part of each, the bench or tableland, is adapted to fruit-raising. In a word, the market for good apples is hopelessly undersupplied, and the prices are tending to increase rather than decrease, especially for the fancy product of the North Pacific valleys, where 90 per cent of the apples of all good varieties are fancy.

The Irrigated Apple Lands in These Protected Valleys are admittedly the Most Valuable Productive Lands in the World. Net profits of from $500 to $1000 per acre in a single year are the authentic records of scores of orchards in the best districts, and the price for well-bearing, mature orchards is practically prohibitive. Sales have been made for more than $3000 per acre for orchards not yet in bearing. It is signifi-cant that no land whatsoever in these remarkable fruit regions has ever teriorated in value, but has doubled and quadrupled and is still advancing with the developing civilization. These precedents also apply to orchards being planted at the present time. A postal with your address mailed to our address will bring you detailed information of this attractive investment. William H. Cudworth, 128 Wisconsin St., J. M. Granger, 97 Wisconsin St.

out by the railway commission, one in the case of the city of Manitowoc against the Manitowoc Electric Light company, and the other T. J. Cunningham against and the other 1. J. Cunningham against the Chippewa Falls Traction company. In the Manitowoc matter the general assertion was made that the rates were made of uniform service and it also orders the discount system be discontinued because it is discrimination. The adjustment is to be based on the amount used in the manner in which it is used. In the Chippewa Falls case a rate of $1 a month was authorized.

A Sister's Golden Jubilee.

A triple celebration which drew attention from all over the country as well as across the sea, was held at Mercy hospital, Chicago, when nearly five hundred persons gathered to honor Sister Mary Raphael on the occasion of her golden jubilee of veil life, to commemorate the sixtieth anniversary of the granting of the hospital charter, and to graduate the nineteenth class of nurses. Incidentally, the event was also resolved into a re-union of the hospital staff and internes at a banquet in the nurses' dining room. Of all the features given recognition, however, the one devoted to Sister Raph-the amphitheater was almost completed filled to hear the programme rendered in her praise. Dr. J. B. Murphy presided, and Dr. John H. Hollister, the only survivor of the original Mercy hospital staff; Judge Brentano, Dr. Archibald Curc. Mrs. Franc Elliott and Rev. M. J. Dorney made remarks.

THE BUSINESS GIRL. Hints That Will Enable Her to Win

Her Way. Girls desiring to enter upon a business career must impress upon their minds the fact that an employer appreciates women who can seize his ideas and follow them out without asking a thousand and one questions. They must not think that because they are girls an employer should be more considerate toward them and their shortcomings than he would be toward those of a man. Then, again, some girls are apt to be oversensitive when they first enter an office, store or warehouse, and consider that every little thing done well is deserving of praise from their employers. Perhaps it may be, but in five cases out of six the employer has no time to praise his assistant. If a girl knows and believes she is doing her very best, even in the smallest detail, she will have the reward of a quiet conscience, and a kindly employer will not forget a word of encouragement voluntarily from time to time. A girl should take every opportunity of improving her talents. She should not be afraid of doing a little extra work, or think that she was doing more than her share when her employer asks her to do a little "overtime." Nothing is lost by it in the long run. Too many women are "penny wise and pound foolish," forgetting that whatever furthers the interests of the house that employs them will eventually further their own, provided, of course, they are industrious, energetic and faithful. Success is a plant which requires con-stant care of oneself and one's work if it is to flourish, and the girl who will succeed in all phases of life is undoubt-edly the one who knows herself and her capabilities, and has the tact and faculty to use that knowledge to the best ad-

The quarter of an hour seemed long in passing, so long that the shadows grew darker and the room very gloomy.

Mrs. Gayford shivered a little, and told herself she would soon be going to sleep if she did not make some move-

Just as she would have risen to ring for her maid, Delmar was shown in. "I am afraid I have kept you waiting, dear," he said; "but just as I was starting a fellow came in and kept me talking. However, I don't think we shall be late if we start at once."

At that moment the door opened again, and a footman entered. "If you please, ma'am, a person wishes to see you. I told him you were engaged, but he refuses to go away; he says his business is important.

"Tell him I can see no one; but he can send his card up by you."

"Well, ma'am, it's a queer story altogether. I know these brothers to have been two of the biggest of the rogues that walk the earth, and I have heard that, being twins, there was a remarkable likeness between them. But tell me, ma'am, how long is it since you married Charles Gayford?"

"Five years this spring." "Well, I know this man we have aresetd to be Thomas Gayford, for some of the force have had their eyes on him since his release, and as he was sentenced to penal servitude seven years ago, he can't be your husband."

"I had news that my husband was killed, but I never had heart to inquire into the particulars. I was too glad to be free, so that when last autumn this man presented himself as my husband, saying that his death was wrongly re-ported, I was too easily duped, and have paid him large sums of money to leave me alone."

"I see it all now. Well, ma'am, rest assured of this-the man we have arrested is no husband of yours. You are free, but you shall have proofs of it all in a little while."

The next day Bertram Delmar, sitting over his solitary breakfast, received a telegram. "My punishment is ended-come at once to Mildred."

Whitemere was only an hour from King's Cross by express, yet how long the time seemed, before he reached the house in Kensington, whence he had been banished, as it had seemed, for ever. And now she wired that her punishment was ended. What did it mean? Why, what could it mean but that the last six months, with all their hideous associations, could now be buried in oblivion? By half-past 11 he stood in the presence of the woman he loved. One glance showed him that though the same, yet she was changed. Yes! she looked older, the color was gone from her cheeks, she

"You have good news for me-I know it," was his greeting, and the great brown eyes filled with tears. "How kind of you to come to me.

Listen now, that man you saw was never my husband; only my husband's brother, my brother-in-law. "Thank heaven!" and then he asked no further explanation, for Mildred was taken in his arms, and she wept out the first tears that had come to relieve her since the day she had fainted in the library. The proofs of Thomas Gayford's identity and Charles Gayford's death were of the Riviera.

This had been done, and a bright idea Her brougham and horses were but had struck the villain. THE END.

Cat and Fly Poison a Man.

A cat and a fly caused the death of Edward H. Pratt of Jersey City in Christ hospital, New York. Mr. Pratt was 45 years old and was the president of the Pratt Roof Protection company. One day he reached under his office chair "Now, sir, with as few words and as little delay as possible I will state my decision. Sooner than live with you I will kill myself; instead, I offer you a sum of £3000 pounds a year, to be paid through my bankers, on the sole condition that you never enter my house again. Remember, my property is my own, that you have not the slightest right to touch one farthing of it without my permission. So on this condition I make my offer. Do you accept it?"

"Why should you think he is here!"

"Well, ma'am, with your permission we will search the house; you see you both bear the same name, and we hardly know what to make of it. But we must not stay talking, or our bird may have flown."

Mildred heard the officer give some orders to his men as they quitted the apartment, and then she sat in a fever of suspense listening, hardly able to appropriate to pet a kitten and was scratched on the right hand. That night he caught whose buzzing at a window annoyed him. The next morning he was awakened by a pain in the scratched palm. It swelled and the pain increased. Dr. Gordon K. Elizabeth Green, 59 Cambridge street East Orange, N. J., was buried in St. John's cemetery, clad - a shroud of her own making. The coffin in which her body rested was of her own choosing, and the stone that will mark her grave was selected by her and will be engraved as she ordered. Miss Green, who was 26 years old, found herself in an advanced stage of tuberculosis last December. She decided that she had no chance of recovery and began at once preparations for her funeral. She worked on her shroud for nearly two months. When it one day and in one place."

was done she called in a marble cutter and from his designs picked the kind of tombstone she wanted. She directed that it bear only her name, and it is ready to be erected now. Then Miss Green sent for Michael Barry of Valley street, chose her casket, and told the undertaker what kind of a funeral she wanted. Everything was done as she had asked.

AUTO CRUSHES BICYCLE.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., June 11 .-[Special.]-While trying to avoid a collision with a street car, W. J. Waterwaite of Randolph today ran his automobile into a bicycle ridden by William Kierig, a 14-year-old boy, on South Main street. The boy escaped injury, but his wheel was demolished. Mr. Waterwaite and some friends passed through here on their way to Beaver Dam. He said he considered the lad's escape remarkable as he fell within an inch of the wheels.

PRESENT "RIP VAN WINKLE."

For the first time in the history of the ounty, the play, "Rip Van Winkle," was presented by country school pupils. The theater was an open air one and the pupils chose for stage settings the natural scenery of the ledge, which gave them ample opportunity to portray all of the thrilling scenes in the life of Rip. The production was conducted by the pupils of the Four Corners school, of wnich Miss Gertrude Dunning is the 'excher, and was witnesses by nearly 200 people.

Why Take Alcohol?

Are you thin, pale, easily tired, lack your usual vigor and strength? Then your digestion must be poor, your blood thin, your nerves weak. You need a tonic and alterative. You need Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. We believe your doctor would endorse these statements, or we would not make them. Ask him and find out. Follow his advice. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. The endorsement of your doctor will certainly greatly increase your confidence in Ayer's Pills as a family laxative. Liver pills. All vegetable. Ask your doctor about them.

This Is Paradoxical, but True of the German Emperor.

The court doctors find Emperor William an intractable patient. He is suffering from a poisoned hand, the result of an insect-bite, and the doctors refuse to permit him to even turn the pages of a book. It has been the Emperor's custom to overcome minor human weaknesses by exercising his will power, and he can not see why he should not do so now. One day last week, when the swelling-that had covered the whole arm-went down some, the Emperor insisted on donning his easy uniform and going down the palace steps to greet the King and Queen of the Belgians. As a result there was a slight relapse. The doctors warned him that he must keep quiet and urged him not to attend the military review. He took their advice

The boy be came unconscious at once and did not regain his senses. Young Forbes is also in a serious condition.

What "Gold-Filled" Means.

Probably most people who buy gold-filled watches fancy that they are mysteriously impregnated with gold. As a matter of fact the term is misleading. Gold filling consists in taking two sheets of gold, between which is placed a sec-tion of solder coated base metal. This metallic sandwich is heated and pressed, so that the three parts are welded to-gether, with the gold outside.—Scientific

VICE PRESIDENT MAKES SPEECH

Dillon Opens Convention with Eloquent Pleas for Harmony and Unanimity of Work.

OLD ENTHUSIASM IS EXPRESSED.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 9.-Thousands of enthusiastic, cheering delegates and visitors, assembled in the Auditorium, greeted Emanuel L. Philipp, chairman of the arrangements commite. when he called to order the first Republican convention held in Wisconsin - six years, at 2 o'clock Wednesday

Bach's orchestra had enlivened the occasion with national airs and Miss Alma Youlin with patriotic songs. An enthusiastic cheer greeted Mr. Philipp when he rose to announce the purposes of the convention. The delegates recognized the fact that it was owing perhaps directly to Mr. Philipp's energy that the Taft convention came into being.

Cries of "Philipp for senator" were heard from different sections of the large hall, to which Mr. Philipp replied with a bow and smile.

Mr. Philipp called the convention to order at 2:30. The main hall was half filled with lelegates, several hundred visitors occupied the reserved gallery section. Secretary Edgar T. Wheelock read the call for the convention, following which the accredited delegates were announced.

Bray Made Chairman. Assemblyman William M. Bray of resolutions committee and empowered to country had increased in prosperity,

The hall was decorated for the convention. Flags and bunting ornamented the sides and stage and huge palms gave the appearance of a large summer garden. The corps of sergeants-at-arms maintained order. When Chairman Phil-ipp began his address there was silence. After Chairman Dillon's address committees on organization and resolutions were appointed.

Session Is Harmonious.

Permanent organization was perfected immediately on the conclusion of Temporary Chairman Dillon's address. Speaker L. H. Bancroft was chosen presiding officer of the convention. His speech was interspersed with timely stories and pointed remarks directed at opponents, not omitting the insurgents. When the chairman had concluded, E. L. Philipp introduced "a Republican whom we all love." Ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard was assisted to the speaker's chair. The former executive was slow of step and his voice did not possess the old-time energy, yet his address was received with permander of the committee:

Vice President James S. Sherman and James E. Watson left Milwaukee at 7:20 o'clock this morning to return direct to Washington.

"We find that the Socialists have no horns, or else the only people we saw were Republicans," he said laughingly.

Both the vice president and Mr. Watson expressed great pleasure found dur-ing their trip and visit, and Mr. Sher-man said he could return to the na-tional capital with the knowledge that Republicanism was far from dead in Wisconsin.

Mr. Sherman is a witty speaker, possessed of a clear, pleasing voice. He was obliged to bow several times in acknowledgment to the greeting when he had been introduced by Chairman Levi H. Bancroft. When he announced that he had come to address the Republicans of Wisconsin at the command of the President of the United States there was another vociferous outburst of applause.

The vice president stepped upon the stage with Chairman Bancroft, M. E. Dillon, Oliver C. Fuller, L. J. Petit, former Govs. W. D. Hoard and Edward Scofield, S. A. Cook, E. L. Philipp, Dan B. The vice president read from manuscript, but frequently laid aside his notes that he could drive home a particular point more effectively.

Summary of Address.

Summary of Address.

In opening his address, Vice-President Sherman congratulated the gathering on its representation. Briefly, he sketched the course of the party during the last half century, pointing to its origin at Ripon, Wis., and urging that the birth state maintain its pride in the organization with reason. He traced the election of Presidents from Lincoln to Cleveland, laying much street on calamitous results which, he said, followed the presidency of the lat-

He congratulated the Roosevelt re He congratulated the Roosevelt regime, as an era of peace and prosperity, when industries prospered and the country thrived. Ending, he referred briefly to President Taft.

The history of the party, he said, had been a history of insurgent uprising, but, in each instance, the wave receeded,

There is proof here that as a field for investment there is nowhere to be found a more profitable one than in purchasing farm lands in Canada. And, as a field for occupation and working the farms there is nowhere on the continent where more satisfactory return is given. The crops are always sure and the prices are always good. With railroads entering and traversing all the settled parts, there are very few districts in which the farmer will be mary market is low on this account, and then in reaching the world's markets the railways have their rates controlled by the Government, and what may be considered a fair deal is certain. Good prices for all kinds of grain is the rule, and if the investor value given to his unworked land, it is not difficult to understand that the profit to the man who works his land is just that much more, and there will be no depreciation. > BARON MOUNT STEPHEN, former president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was born in Scotland, June 5, 1829. His parents were of the common people. As a lad he learned the trade of a draper, but was not content with the prospects afforded him at home. So he crossed the sea to Canada, started in the cloth manufacturing business and grew rich. He was elected the governor of the Bank of Montreal. He was part of the beginnings of the great Canadian Pacific Railway, and it was largely to his genius that was due the successfu carrying out of the project. He was the first president of the railroad, and in 1886 Queen Victoria created him a Baronet of the United Kingdom in order to show the appreciation the government felt for the building of the great imperial highway across the continent. In late years Baron Mount Stephen has made his home in England.

> REV. DR. JAMES A. KELSO. whom the board of directors of the Western Theological Seminary at Allegheny recently honored by electing president of the institution for life, was born in Rawal Pindi, India, June 6, 1873. He was graduated from Washington and Jefferson college in 1892 and from the Western Theological Seminary in 1896. Later he pursued his studies at the University of Berlin and the Uni-versity of Leipzig. From 1897 to 1900 he was professor of Hebrew and Old Testament literature at the Western Theological Seminary, and in 1900 he became the acting president of the seminary, which position he continued to hold until his election to the presidency.

> HON. GEORGE H. MURRAY, one of the leading public men of Nova Sco tia and for a number of years premier of that province, was born at Grand Narrows, Cape Breton, June 7, 1861. After receiving his preparatory education in his native place he studied law at Boston university and in 1883 was called to the bar. Six years later he was called to the legislative council of Nova Scotia. Several times he contested unsuccessfully for a seat in the Dominion House of Commons. In 1891 he was appointed a member of the government of Nova Scotia, led by Hon. W. S. Fielding. On the resignation of Mr. Fielding in 1896 Mr. Murray was called on by the lieutenant governor to form a nev administration, which he succeeded in doing, taking the portfolio of provincial secretary. At several subsequent elec-tions the government of Mr. Murray was sustained by large majorities.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker. flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R.V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N.Y.

entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat—no smell—no smoke.

Why? Because The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much wick-it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat -no smoke. The burner is simple. One wipe with a cloth cleans it -conscquently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is wonderful for year-round use, but especially in summer. Its heat operates upward to pan, pot, or kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room.

It has a Cabinet Tep with shelf for keeping plates and food hot. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

ALASKA WANTS MORE SETTLERS

Miners, Farmers and Laborers Needed In the Northwest.

COPPER CAMPS OPEN IN JULY

Amazing Alaska has just reappeared in the limelight, showing another new phase. While folks here at home are howling that the riches of the northern territory should be kept for the people, Alaska is crying that the people do not want the riches badly enough to go there after them and that as a result the territory is beginning its summer exceedingly short handed. There are literally not even enough people to do the work in hand; let alone to develop the new opportunities.

The first complaint came from Fairbanks a few weeks ago. Press dispatches said that a large percentage of the miners in the camp had deserted to join the stampede to the new Iditarod and Innoko gold diggings and more were going as soon as the ice went out of the rivers. A labor famine was threatened, and it still seems likely that the estimated $9,000,000 of gold from the spring clean-up will be heavily cut next spring for lack of men to take it out. Other established camps report the same difficulty in getting labor, and the agencies of the Pacific coast are being appealed to.

Ore Shipments Soon.

From the railroads also there is a big demand for men. The Copper River and Northwestern especially is trying to increase its force, as it is rushing construction so as to reach the mouth of the Chitina river by July 1. This is the gateway to the copper country, and a few weeks thereafter the rails will be in the heart of this undeveloped and little prospected re-

By October the road is expected to reach the Bonanza mine, and a large force will be at work on the property friends here and vicinity. all summer so that ore shipments can begin as soon as the rails reach the bins. In the meantime several of the thirty or forty properties along the line of the railroad are going to begin large development. All this takes skilled men, and apparently they are not to be had. Thus a new problem takes the place of the old. Heretofore development has been impossible because of the tremendous cost of getting supplies into a wilderness without roads of any sort. Experts agree that this is one of the most promising copper regions in the world, and it is unique in that from being almost inaccessible it will suddenly this summer have complete rail connections with tidewater and the

Farmers Badly Needed.

What Alaska asks for, therefore, even more than miners and laborers, are prospectors who will cover her new ground and give reasons for further development

This year, too, Alaska is crying for farmers. All along the line of the railroad up the Chitina valley there is farming land which the agricultural department has reported favorably on, and in view of the large number of miners to be fed there promises to be a good local market for everything that can be raised. It is a pioneering country, of course, and new setiers will have to face pioneer conditions, but the success of farming and the bonanza rewards to be won in it when there are local markets has been well proved in the great Tanana valley of the interior and other sections. The Alaska-Yukon Magazine, published at Seattle, the gateway to Alaska, is authority for the statement that within the next five years Alaska's population and the value of Alaska's products will be doubled. The completion of the Copper River and Northwestern railroad this year and the shipping of ore from the Kotsina-Chitina copper belt, together with the development of the Bering river coal fields, will create an industrial activity in this part of Alaska that will require greater

WHERE COFFEE COMES FROM.

Wonderful Estates That Occupy Whole Province and Give Employment to Thousands.

Few of the millions of coffee drinkers in this country have anything but a hazy idea as to the real source of coffee. In a general, vague way the words "Mocha" and "Java" are mixed into the coffee information at hand, principally because these are found upon the battered tin canisters in the nearest grocery store.

Actually not 10 per cent of the coffee consumed in this country ever saw Arabia, where Mocha coffee comes from, or Java. By far the greater number of persons never tasted either. The bulk of coffee comes from the state of Sao Paulo, in Brazil, and the imports from that source alone supply nearly nine-tenths of the 1,900,000,000 pounds that we drink each year. Soa Paulo is little, but one vast coffee garden throughout its 174,588 square miles of territory, and, while there are many other industries, coffee growing is the chief and the true source of the wealth of the people. Nearly all the billion and a half pounds of coffee grown in Brazil is shipped from the seacoast city of Santos, where are great docks at which lie the vessels of the world. Other countries grow coffee, to be sure, but not one in such vast quantities as does Brazil. So greatly has the Brazilian coffee grown in favor that the plant is now being taken abroad and cultivated. Now the department of agriculture is beginning to pay attention to the manner in which substitutes for good Brazilian coffee are being foisted on the American people under the false names of Mocha and Java.
