TREASURY FIGURES SHOW AD-VANCE OVER BANNER YEAR.

In First Twelve Months Act Produces $75,000,000 More Than in 1907.

Washington.—The Payne-Aldrich tariff law has produced in its first year a revenue larger by $75,000,000 than the sum collected in any twelve months in the country's history, except the banner year 1907, according to treasury department figures issued Monday.

During the first full year, ended last Saturday night, the total ordinary receipts, including customs, ordinary internal revenue, corporation tax and miscellaneous, aggregating $678,850,-816, exceeded disbursements by $20,-214,029. These ordinary receipts were larger by $15,000,000, approximately. than during 1907, and the 1907 receipts exceeded those of any other year of record by almost $60,000.000. Although there was a deficit of $58,-734,955 in the ordinary operations of the government in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1909, there was a surplus of more than $20,000,000 in the year which ended last Saturday, according to the department.

The corporation-tax revenue was $27,090,934, which is only $207,000 less than the amount assessed.

THE BEST OF ITS KIND

Is always advertised, in fact it only pays to advertise good things. When you see an article advertised in this paper year after year you can be absolutely certain that there is merit to it because the continued sale of any article depends upon merit and to keep on advertising one must keep on selling. All good things have imitators, but imitations are not ad-vertised. They have no reputation to sustain, they never expect to have any per-manent sale and your dealer would never sell them if he studied your interests. sell them if he studied your interests. Sixteen years ago Allen's Foot-Ease, the-antiseptic Powder for the feet, was first sold, and through newspaper advertising and through people telling each other what a good thing it was for tired and aching feet it has now a permanent sale, and nearly 200 so-called foot powdershave been put on the market with thehope of profiting by the reputation which has been built up for Allen's Foot-Ease. When you ask for an article advertised in these papers see that you get it. Avoid substitutes.

A COOL PROPOSITION

And a Sure One.

The Body Does Not Feel Heat Unpleasantly if it has Proper Food-

Grape=Nuts

People can live in a temperature which feels from ten to twenty degrees cooler than their neighbors enjoy, by regulating the diet.

The plan is to avoid meat entirely for breakfast; use a goodly allowance of fruit, either fresh or cooked. Then follow with a saucer containing about four heaping teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, treated with a little rich cream. Add to this about two slices of crisp toast with a meager amount of butter, and one cup of well-made Postum.

By this selection of food the bodily energy is preserved, while the hot, carbonaceous foods have been left out. The result is a very marked difference in the temperature of the body, and to this comfortable condition is added the certainty of ease and perfect digestion, for the food being partially predigested is quickly assimilated by the digestive machinery. Experience and experiment in food, and its application to the human body has brought out these facts. They can be made use of and add materially to the comfort of the user. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

WEST BEND MARBLE DAN WEBSTER VASE GAYNOR MAY

Public Library.

Valuable Relic Is Made of Pure Coin Silver and Weighs at Least Thirty Pounds.

Boston.-The Daniel Webster vase, now the property of the city of Boston, has been placed among the list of rare exhibits in the fine arts department of the public library. It is made of pure coin silver, weighs at least thirty pounds, and is worth intrinsically a tidy fortune.

The vase was presented to Mr. Webster on October 12, 1835, at the Odeon, which was the name by which the old Federal street theater was then known, and a crowded house of interested spectators were treated to a responsive hour-and-a-half speech, in acknowledgment of the gift, by the foremost political orator of his time.

The current newspapers records of the event say that the money to defray the cost of the vase was raised by small subscriptions. No one subscriber was permitted to contribute a sum in excess of one dollar. The result of such a restriction was a large list of contributors and no attempt seems to have been made to preserve the names. Neither was there any reference made to the aggregate of the sum which was raised.

"We shall say nothing descriptive of this massive piece of plate," said Editor Buckingham of the Courier of October 13, "until we can obtain a more exact account than we are now prepared to give."

The Courier also said that 3,000 persons witnessed the ceremony of presentation, a large estimate for the capacity of Boston's first theater, and listened to the speeches. Francis C. Gray spoke for the subscribers and referred in many complimentary phrases to the services of Senator Webster in his debate with Robert Y. Hayne of South Carolina in 1832.

Mr. Webster, in closing his address, said: "Now I want you to go on, right on, straightforward in maintaining in your utmost zeal and with all your power the true principles of the best, the happiest, the most glorious constitution of a free government with the earth."

In 1865, or nearly thirteen years after the death of Mr. Webster, cer-Webster estate, and in a formal letter to Mayor F. W. Lincoln conveyed the "massive piece of plate" to the city of Boston. Among the list of subscribers to this enterprise, which was headed by George W. Lyman, were H. W. Paine, E. D. Jordan, Peter Butler, H. D. Parker, J. P. Healey, Leverett Saltonstall and Peter Harvey.

STOPS HIS BOUNTY ON PLIES

Middlesborough (England) Alderman Is Swamped With Insect Disease Spreaders.

London.-"Please have mercy on me and withdarw my offer to buy dead flies and bluebottles," writes Ald. Mattison of Middlesborough to a local newspaper. A few days ago Mr. Mat- the vessel, into an automobile and tison, aware of the baleful influences of houseflies and bluebottles on the of Hoboken. public health, proposed through the sanitary department to pay a penny (two cents) for every 50 flies and a penny for every 12 bluebottles delivered, impaled on pins, to the corporation offices. His offer stirred the wags Mattison:

"Will you quote me a price on daddy Another wrote:

"What is your quotation today on gnats and fleas?"

This was the funny side of Mr. Mattison's adventure into practical philanthropy, but it also had its serious side for him.

Flies and bluebottles arrived at the corporation offices by the thousands. Every small boy in Middleborough was busy and even men and women other children were at the Gaynor joined in the crusade. One boy delivered 1,200 dead flies in a single lot and the clerks had to leave their ordinary work to receive, count and pay for flies. The corporation office reeked with the odor of the disease breeders. Children besieged filth heaps in looking for flies and their mothers are after Mr. Mattison's scalp. Hence the alderman's frantic lice commission were submitted to hunt. He is out £15 ($75) in cash. "I don't mind that," he writes, "but I have 200,000 dead flies on my hands and have lost my reputation. I wanted to promote the public health, but I am afraid that I am going to give every boy in town some infectious dis-

Among Rare Exhibits in Boston's DOCTORS THINK MAYOR CAN SURVIVE UNLESS BLOOD POISON SETS IN.

HIS CONDITION IS GRAVE

No Attempt Yet Made to Remove Bullet Lodged in Brain. Wouldbe Assassin Remorselessly Tells

New York.-Unless blood poison develops, physicians at St. Mary's hospital, Hoboken, are hopeful of the recovery of Mayor William J. Gaynor, who was shot in the head and serious-of His Awful Crime.

The bullet struck the mayor behing the right ear and ranged downward, inflicting a dangerous, though not necessarily fatal, wound. At his age, 59 years, such a wound is essentially grave.

The mayor is surrounded by specialists, while members of his family are gathered near, awaiting the outcome with anxiety. On Tuesday, six around him to bring a pair of hand-X-ray negatives of the wound were taken to facilitate an operation for the removal of the bullet.

The attempted assassination took place while the mayor stood on the promenade deck of the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. The bullets were fired by James J. Gallagher, a discharged and disgruntled city employe. Gallagher was almost instantly overpowered and arrested. The shot was fired at 9:45 o'clock in the morning, fifteen minutes before the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was due to leave her pier at Hoboken, N. J., and the mayor was receiving godspeed from a group of friends preparatory to a vacation trip to Europe.

The big liner was gay with flags and ringing with shouted good-bys when the tragedy occurred. Most of those who had been aboard the ship to say farewell to friends or relatives had gone ashore, but a little group remained to talk with the mayor. They were standing on the port side of the vessel, near the promenade deck forward, and were in the act of posing for a group photograph when Gallagher, unnoticed, pushed his way almost to the mayor's side and fired point blank at his head.

He used a .38 caliber revolver and an examination later disclosed that the first cartridge had missed fire. This probably saved the mayor's life, for Gallagher, when he first pulled the trigger, was less than two feet away. Backing away slightly in his excitement, he pulled the trigger a second time and sent a bullet crashing into the mayor's neck below the

William H. Edwards, commissioner of street cleaning and former Princeton football star, lunged forward with his 300 pounds just as which it has pleased providence in Robert Adamson, the mayor's secreany age to bless any of the nations of tary, struck Gallagher's arm. As he did so a second shot pierced Edward's sleeve, inflicting a slight flesh wound on the commissioner's right arm, which remained undiscovered for tain public-spirited citizens of Boston hours because of the excitement. Unpurchased the vase of the heirs of the mindful of his wound, Edwards hit the man a crashing blow in the face and they crashed to the deck together, Gallagher struggling with the strength of desperation and pulling viciously at the trigger in an attempt to fire another shot.

But Edwards was too much for such prominent names as Henry J. him. He rained blow after blow on Gardner, F. O. Prince, G. S. Hillard, Gallagher's now bleeding face, while Adamson and Archibald R. Watson, corporation counsel for the city, flung themselves on the struggling two in an attempt to grasp the weapon. When Mr. Watson had obtained possession of it, Edwards and Gallagher continued a bitter struggle about the deck, Edwards crying and shouting in his anger and excitement and Gallagher panting as exhaustion began to grip his limbs

When completely subdued in the former football star's viselike grip, a pair of steel nippers were slipped on the ship and he was rushed through a hooting and threatening crowd off arraigned before Recorder McGovern

In the struggle with the man who attempted to take his life, Mayor Gaynor, though badly wounded and bleeding from mouth and nose, did not once lose consciousness. The impact of the bullet did not even throw in Middlesborough. One wrote to Mr. hands to his ears and, with his face contorted with pain, staggered in a daze and leaned limply across the longlegs? I can deliver a choice lot." ship's rail until Adamson came to his assistance.

Then some one drew a steamer chair to his side and into this the mayor sank with relief. A few minutes later he was removed to a stateroom, where the ship's surgeon temporarily bandaged the wound, preparatory to his removal to St. Mary's hospital.

Rufus Gaynor, a son, was the only member of the mayor's family present when he was shot. His wife and law of Mr. and Mrs. Feldner. country place at St. James, L. I. When Mrs. Gaynor was notified by telephone of the tragedy she made a spectacular run by automobile, accompanied by her son Norman, crossed the Queensborough bridge to Manhattan, sped across the island to the Hudson river and was taken to Hoboken in a police patrol boat. She was almost overcome when she reached St. Mary's hospital and was permitted to see her husband for but a moment. She was joined there shortly by

Mrs. Ethel Vingut, a daughter, re-cently married, and they began their vigil near the bedside.

Gallagher, judging by appearances and actions, is not a lunatic. His mind is apparently as sound as any man's of 50 odd years, but he has nourished in his heart a hatred ever since he was discharged as a night watchman in the department of docks and ferries in July last. Since then he has repeatedly written to the mayor, anonymously and otherwise, harping on an obsession that he had been persecuted and demanding redress.

He has even written to the governor, and he went on board the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse on Tuesday with the expressed purpose of murdering the man whom he charged with having robbed him of his bread and butter

"You took the bread and butter out of my mouth," he shouted as he approached the mayor. Then he leveled the revolver and fired. The struggle about the deck ensued almost instantly. As he grappled with the man, Commissioner Edwards was heard shouting: "I've got him. I've got him," and as he pinned Gallagher to the floor he beseeched those "He's my prisoner," he almost sobbed.

Many tried to belabor the prostrate Gallagher, and the excitement was intense, but the ship's officers used severe measures of discipline and effectually shielded the mayor in his stateroom.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

Be not deceived!

County option HAS BEEN TRIED for 25 years, and has proved a PRACTICAL success. No state which has adopted county option has ever repealed the law. Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri, are some of our neighboring states which have adopted county option.

County option has proved to be the BEST MEANS OF REGULATING and reforming DISORDERLY saloons.

County option is BETTER THAN LOCAL OPTION because it has proved to be the FAIREST way to handle the saloon license—fairest to ALL the people.

While county option is not acceptable to prohibitionists, who FIGHT IT AS BITTERLY AS DO THE BREWERS, it is the GREAT MIDDLE GROUND on which all the people can decide on license by County option is the only plan for decent control that DOES NOT RESTRICT PERSONAL LIBERTY, and that can be enforced by a MAJORITY in a county.

Under a county option LAW, IF APPLIED in any county of the state, no man will be promibited from manufacturing or drinking all the liquor he wants.

Victory for county option is victory for the Progressive Republicans of Wisconsin-a victory for the people over the LAST INTRENCHED SPECIAL INTEREST.

Any result of the approaching election that leaves the BREWERS IN CONTROL, is DEFEAT FOR THE PEOPLE. The brewers know it. Their fight is directed against those pledged to a County Option

If we are to FIGHT special privilege, we must STRIKE at the interests which ARE INTRENCHED.

Any other plan of campaign for Wisconsin's Progressives, is proof of INCONSISTENCY, at least.

And inconsistency on such a plain issue as this, surely, suggests either INSINCERITY or INCOMPETENCE.

It has been the very essence of the Wisconsin idea that we have been able to DEFINITELY LOCATE THE EVILS that are to be

THERE IS ONLY ONE GREAT SPECIAL INTEREST NOW INTRENCHED IN WISCONSIN, AND THAT IS THE BREWERY INTEREST. TO DISLODGE THE BREWERY INTEREST IS THE WORK OF PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS.

An overwhelming DECLARATION FOR a county option LAW, and for the passage of that law, in compliance with the demand, is the ONLY THING AT THIS TIME, that will remove the brewery interests from the domination of the state's politics and legislature.

There is no means of a more DEFINITE attack on the interests than county option. The PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN METHOD has been to attack some DEFINITE wrong and wipe it out. Progressive success never came from glittering generalities or the attack strikes just below the armored belt upon a distant or foreign enemy.

A VOTE FOR LEWIS IS A VOTE FOR THE PASSAGE OF A LAW UNDER WHICH YOU CAN EXPRESS BY DIRECT VOTE YOUR JUDGMENT ON LICENSE IN YOUR COUNTY, and a vote for Progressive Republicanism.

JAPANESE CADETS.

School Exercises Include Hang to Hand Conflicts.

In the Japanese military school, where I saw a Spartan system of education, the exercises of the cadets with pikes, rifles and broadswords were not approached by anything of the kind that I had witnessed in Europe. It was fighting of the fiercest character.

At the end of the struggle there was a hand to hand combat, which lasted until the victors stood triumphant over the bodies of the vanquished and tore off their masks. In these exercises, which were very severe, the cadets struck one another flercely and with wild cries, but the moment a prearranged signal was given or the fight came to an end the combatants drew themselves up in a line, and their faces assumed an expression of wooden composure.

In all the public schools prominence was given to military exercises, and the scholars took part in them with enthusiasm. Even in their walks they practiced running, flanking and sud den, unexpected attacks.

The history of Japan was everywhere made a means of strengthening the pupils' patriotism and their belief in Japan's invincibility. Particular stress was laid upon the country's suc cessful wars, the heroes of them were extolled, and the children were taught that none of Japan's military enterprises had failed .- McClure's Maga-

A WARSHIP'S RAM.

The Huge Steel Beak Is Capable of In flicting Terrible Injury. A modern ram is nothing more than a huge steel beak, or sput, which is fitted to the prow of the battleship for the purpose of destroying an enemy's ship in time of war by the force of collision. Indeed, should a vessel succeed in driving her ram against another warship the blow, if delivered at full speed, would be sufficient to crush in the ship's side and sink her

A battleship's ram weighs about forty tons and is cast all in one piece. It is of solid steel and capable of striking a tremendous blow. Shell proof a man-of-war may be made, but the skill of the naval architect is unequal to the task of designing a ship that can resist the ram. Great care must be exercised in fixing such a heavy piece of steel. The method generally adopted is as follows: The ram is suspended from a strong derrick, the bottom end of which is attached to the extreme end of the vessel's keel plates. The gap between the ram and the uncompleted part, or hull, is walled tight compartwhere resistance is weakest, while it is so shaped that the ramming vesse can by reversing her engines easily disentangle herself from the ship she has struck.-Philadelphia Record.

The Word "Person."

General Benjamin F. Butler, it is said, once asserted that a woman was not a "person," and a London suffragette insists that the word "person" in its legal sense includes woman. The word has had an interesting history. Signifying by etymology something to make a sound through, the Latin "persona" began by meaning an actor's mask with its mouthpiece. Then it meant the character represented by the player-"dramatis personae." Then it came to mean the part or character one sustains in real life, and so the "persona ecclesiae," the man who represented the church, became known as a "person" in a special sense and was eventually spelled as "parson." On the other hand, "person" faded away to mean just anybody. And so, though a woman naturally resents being referred to as a "person" in ordinary talk, many women no less naturally desire to count as "persons" in the eye of the franchise law.-Chicago

Bishop Butler's Generosity.

So many examples of episcopal cupidity have been cited of late that the average reader may be excused for believing the bishop of a century or so ago to have been an incarnation of greed. But against the Luxmores, the Watsons and the Porteouses may be set the saintly Butler, whose "Analogy" is still used as a text book for clerical examinations. Butler kept open house at Durham, where he dispensed hospitality with a lavish hand. On one occasion a man called at the palace soliciting a subscription for some charitable object. "How much money is there in the house?" asked Butler of his secretary. The secretary after investigation replied that there was £500. "Give it to him, then," replied the philosopher bishop, "for it is a shame that a bishop should have so much."-London Chronicle.

His Occupation. A big, brawny fellow in answer to a question in a justice's court as to what he did for a living said: "Well, sir, in the spring I ketches an' sells young mockin' birds, in the summer I mostly sells rattlesnake buttons fer rattles fer the babies, but in lers here last Friday. the winter I sometimes has to chop wood."-Atlanta Constitution.

Enlarging the Limit.

"You are very foolish, Alfred. That is your third cigar, and you know the doctor limited you to one a day." "Yes, dear, but I've consulted two other doctors, and each has allowed me one cigar a day; total, three!" Every person has two educationsone which he receives from others and himself.-Gibbon.

Miss Wells gasped out a "never!" and added that she would perish first, but when the young man started to slide the scuttle and signal to Miss Jean, things changed. She gave her solemn word and was pulled up to keep it. She started her off on pretense of sickness at home, and as the girl was ready to depart she whispered in her ear:

"If you never, never, never say any thing about this I'll always say that if I ever marry any man it will be a determined young man who knows what he wants!"

State Crops Far Below Average.

Farm crops in Wisconsin have been so badly damaged by the lack of rain that their condition ranges from 52 to 78 per cent. of the average for this time of the year, ac cording to the monthly report issued by Secretary John M. True of the state board of agriculture.

Unless a general rain comes soon the crop situation will become much more serious, Secretary True believes on returns received.

The Tenderfoot Farmer It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well cat shave ings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervous

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance m cine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine set stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

HUNTERS AND FISHERS TO ORGANIZE

Hunters and fishers in Wisconsin are uniting to organize the Wisconsin Hunters' and Fishers Asso-

This organization, which will be state wide in scope, will stand for a revision of the present game and fish laws. The revision will be made with a view to giving the actual hunters and fishers of the state a voice in framing the laws governing the shooting of game and the catching of fish.

"A square deal for square hunters and fishers" will be the slogan. No measure will be advocated that will endanger the game and fish supply of the state, but such revision will be asked as will give Wisconsin hunters and fishers the same advantages as are held by those in neighboring states and at the same time protect game and game fish.

It is felt that with a united front and an organization perfected the hunters and fishers of the state can secure such revision as is both eminently fair and for the best interests of all concerned. With that object in view, the first steps have been taken toward forming the state organization.

This will be done through organizing county associations first and later uniting them into a state body. Winnebago, Dane, Dodge, Milwaukee, Waukesha and other counties have already started in on the work of organizing, with James Ward and son James and Winnebago, accordingt o latest re-John Flasch and wife of St. Kilian ports to Secretary E. B. Rebholz, > Dues in the state organziation will be but 25 cents per member. County dues may be placed at such figure as local conditions warrant. Milwaukee county placed dues at 50 cents per year and then voted to turn the entire amount in to the state association.

It is planned to call a state meeting, with delegates present from every Wisconsin county organization, for a date not later than Aug. 20. This means prompt work in every couty that wishes to be One hundred and fifteen tickets represented. Even if you do not raise barley, Mr. Farmer, and would not be directly effected by the loss of the Brewery market for 21,000,000 bushels of this Wisconsin grain annually, valued at $14,500,000, do you realize that the present growers of barley would then have to raise other grains and would then become market competitors of yours?

The brewing industry annually buys $3,364,000 worth of other farm products in Wisconsin.

Perhaps you are not employed in a brewery, Mr. Workman, but there are 14,680 Wisconsin men who are and who would have to swarm the other trades if County Option should prevail. Also 27,800 men now in the retail trade would become candidates for your workbench or lathe.

The brewing industry pays over $10,000,000 each year to labor.

Mr. Taxpayer, the brewers now pay annual local taxes and license fees totaling more than $3,500,000, which you would have to supply under a County Option system. County Option will bring this competition and burden. BE SURE TO SUPPORT LEGISLATIVE CAN-DIDATES WHO OPPOSE COUNTY OPTION.
