RURAL CARRIER ARRESTED

Otto J. Mattes Charged With Stealing a Letter, Placed Under $500 Bond.

Otto J. Mattes, rural carrier on route 4, out of Kewaskum, was arrested here by Postoffice Inspector Ralph Bird last Tuesday and turned over to the custody of U. S. Marshal Weil at Milwaukee. Mattes is charged with stealing three checks which were mailed by Henry Knoeck of the town of Barton to a Chicago firm. Mr. Mattes had one of the checks cashed by Charles Bath and the other two by Joseph Uelmen of St. Michaels. The checks were issued to Mr. Knoeck by the Grell & Wollenack creamery of this village. Mr. Knoeck failed to use the customary rule of making the checks payable to order of the firm but simply endorsed them which made it easy for Mattes to get them cashed.

Mattes has been in the mail service here for about two years, and previous to that time he had served in the marine corps of the U. S. Army. Mattes is married, his wife and child are left here in destitute circumstances.

Mattes was arraigned before Commissioner Francis Bloodgood at Milwaukee Wednesday morning, waived preliminary examination, and was placed under $500 bond, for his apprehension at the trial which will take place some time in September. The required bail was not furnished.

Mattes admitted, according to Postal Inspector Ralph Bird, that he had taken the money from the envelope, but said that he had simply borrowed it. He said that he was hard pressed for money, but that a few days later he put $31.05 in an envelope and sent it away in place of the money he had taken from the farmer's envelope.

Child Found in River.

A newly born child was found floating in the river in the city of West Bend last week Friday. It was found by boys who were catching fish there. The body was wrapped in a blue apron. The opinion of the physicians are that the child was alive at birth. Just how old the child was or how long it had been in the river could not be stated positively.

Close Call in Auto Tipover.

Arthur Wiskirchen had a close call from being killed last Wednesday, tipping with his brother Edward's Moline automobile while returning from the small Cedar Lake. Just how he happened to tip, we have not learned. The accident occurred on the "hog's back" hill just this side of the Lake. Arthur was pinned under the steering gear, but managed to wiggle out from under the wreckage, and outside of a few minor bruises was not injured much. The machine was damaged considerably, mostly on the top and the glass front. The engine was not damaged. The auto was towed to this city soon after the tipover.—West Bend Pilot.

YOUNG LADY COMMITS SUICIDE

Former New Fane Lady Hangs Herself in Her Brother's Home Near Newburg.

Miss Margaret Pesch formerly of New Fane committed suicide by hanging herself at the home of her brother, Peter Pesch, at Newburg last week Friday, August 12. The body was found suspended in one of the rooms. She was about 28 years of age.

Mystery surrounds the cause of the lady's rash act, but it is thought that she was demented, as she had been committed to the Northern Hospital at Oshkosh several years ago, but was discharged as cured. Since her return from there, she had been keeping house for her brother. The remains were taken to New Fane Tuesday for burial.

Obituary.

MRS. CARL UTKE

Mrs. Carl Utke, nee Carolina Hoff, died last Sunday, Aug. 14, 1910, at the home of her son Gustave at Campbellsport, aged 83 years. Mrs. Utke had been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Rauch, in Auburn and had just come to her sons home in Campbellsport on Tuesday of last week, when she was stricken with paralysis and from which she died the following Sunday.

Mrs. Utke was born in Drumburg, Pomerania in 1830. She married Carl Utke in 1852 and came to America with her husband 2 years later locating in town Theresa, later moved to Auburn and in 1891 they came to Kewaskum, where they resided up to the time of her husband's death 2 years ago, after that has been making her home with her children. She is survived by 5 children, namely: Hannah, Mrs. Carl Hoff, of Schleisingerville; Augusta, Mrs. Aug. Krueger of New Fane; Bertha, Mrs. Elvira Rauch of Auburn; Julius of Clintonville; and Gustave of Campbellsport. There are also 26 grand children and 11 great grand children.

The funeral was held last Wednesday from the home of her son Gustave at Campbellsport with interment at Kewaskum. Rev. Greve officiating. The bereaved relatives have our heartfelt sympathy.

OPAL JEWSON

Death again visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Jewson of Fond du Lac last week Friday and took from them their daughter Opal Liona, at the age of four years and five months. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the residence, Rev. Miller officiating after which the remains were taken to Campbellsport via the Chicago and North Western, where a second service was held at the Baptist church. Rev. Miller again officiated and interment was held at Union cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother, one brother, Chester and two sisters, Ella and Goldie.

Mr. Jewson is well known in this vicinity, having formerly lived at New Prospect.

DEFEAT ROOSEVELT

IS DENIED HONOR OF PRESIDING OVER REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

'OLD GUARD' REJECT COLONEL

Vice-President Sherman Is Chosen by Vote of 20 to 15 to Be Temporary Chairman at Saratoga on September 27.

New York.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt's name was presented for the office of temporary chairman of the Republican state convention at the meeting of the Republican state committee Tuesday, but his selection for that honor was lost by a vote of 20 to 15.

Vice-President Sherman was chosen unanimously to act as temporary presiding officer.

Let by State Chairman Woodruff and William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, the "Old Guard" encompassed the defeat of Colonel Roosevelt, whom several of the state leaders charged with attempting to dictate the fortunes of the party in the state.

After the meeting had been called to order and the time and place of the state convention had been decided, William Barnes, Jr., offered a resolution presenting the name of Vice-President Sherman for temporary chairman of the convention. Lloyd C. Griscom moved to substitute the name of Colonel Roosevelt and moved also that the vote be postponed.

After much debate the motion to postpone was defeated by a vote of 12 to 23. The resolution to make Colonel Roosevelt temporary chairman then was lost by 20 to 15, following which Vice-President Sherman was unanimously chosen for temporary presiding officer. Mr. Griscom and Henry Mack of New York not voting.

The state committee adjourned to meet September 26 at Saratoga.

Commenting upon the action of the committee in rejecting the name of Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Griscom said:

"I presented the name of the former president after consulting him. The place of the temporary chairman was obviously his, not only by virtue of his having been president of the United States, but because of the signal services rendered by him to the Republican party in New York state. Mr. Roosevelt was anxious to engage in the political campaign in this state, and his name at the head of the convention would have lent extraordinary prestige to the meeting and would have been of incalculable value to the party throughout the state.

"The action foreshadows many primary contests, as it is obvious that those voting to deny him the office of temporary chairman will have to account to the enrolled Republicans of their respective districts for their action.

"There was no question of indorsing or not indorsing the administration. If an effort is made to show that the choice of Vice-President Sherman is an indorsement, whereas the choice of Colonel Roosevelt would not have been, it must of necessity fail, as Mr. Roosevelt's views regarding the conduct of public affairs by his successor are well known."

TROOPS TO COMBAT FLAMES

Soldiers Are Rushed to National Forests in Northwest to Fight Destructive Fires.

Washington.—Forest fires in the northwest, threatening destruction to human life and to millions of dollars' worth of property, have alarmed officials of the interior department and forest service.

In response to appeals from the fire zones additional United States soldiers were Saturday rushed to assist in combating the flames.

The soldiers have been dispatched to the Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Lewis and Clark, Mont., Wallows, Mont., and Colville, Wash., national forests; the Flathead Indian reservation, Montana, and the Glacier National park, Montana. The troops have been spread over the entire fire belt and Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, has informed the interior department and forest service officials that the assistance of the army will be given in meeting the emergency to the limit of the number of soldiers available, if necessary.

Spokane, Wash.—At Wallace, Idaho, hundreds of pounds of dynamite, hung to the limbs of trees on high points surrounding the city and exploded in the hope that the effect might produce rain to check the devastation wrought by forest fires, is said to have had a result, for rain began falling Sunday for the first time in two months. The fall has been heavy.

A dispatch from Stiles, Idaho, says the situation in the Elk City district is the worst in the history of that region. Under the high winds in the mountains for the last two days and nights the forest fires are burning with fury. The whole country in the vicinity of Elk City is ablaze.

FIVE INJURED IN CAR RIOTS

COLUMBUS TRACTION COMPANY SUSPEND ALL TRAFFIC.

Mayor Declares He Will Not Call for Troops—Conductor Fires Into Crowd.

Columbus, O.—Rioting was resumed in this city Sunday night and one man was fatally shot and five others injured. So fierce was the violence of the crowds that all street car traffic was abandoned during the night.

Mayor Marshall again declared that he would not call for troops. He said police would continue to ride the cars. Rioting started at Shiller park, where a band concert was being held. A mob gathering in Mohawk avenue blockaded the car tracks and stopped the cars. Jeering mobs gathered about the crews and a fight started. Motorman L. S. Duvall was struck in the head with a brick, and fell unconscious in the street. Conductor W. P. Miller and Motorman L. P. Evans of another car, were also attacked and severely bruised by sticks and rocks.

When two automobile loads of police arrived the crowd numbered about 5,000 people. Three rioters were arrested.

When John J. Gallagher, a conductor, was called "scab" by a crowd near Saint Clair avenue, he turned to a woman sitting behind him. She handed him a huge revolver which she took from a valise at her side. He then began firing into the crowd. The woman, tall and handsome, stood up and cried "Give it to them, Jack."

Just then an automobile load of police drove up. Gallagher and the woman were placed under arrest. In the woman's valise were found two more revolvers and ammunition. She said her name was Anna Gallagher, the motorman's wife.

At the police station Gallagher and his wife were released on bond, furnished by the railroad company.

Emmet Hoover was shot through the leg by a motorman, whom the crowd tried to drag off and beat.

BELGIAN EXPOSITION BURNS

100,000 People in Panic—Two Persons Are Killed and Forty Injured, Some Fatally.

Brussels.—One hundred thousand visitors were thrown into a panic by a fire that wiped out the entire Belgian exposition. Two persons are known to be dead and 40 injured, some fatally.

The flames started in the French section and had gained considerable headway before they were discovered. The instant the alarm was given, the 100,000 persons at the exposition became panic-stricken and a wild rush was made for the exits.

The people fought and struggled in a maddened attempt to get out of the place. Many of those hurt received their injuries by falling to the floor and being trampled upon by the crowd.

Brussels.—As a result of the partial destruction of the Belgian exposition by fire Sunday night, the executive committee at a meeting held Monday decided to close the fair until the ruins of the burned sections could be cleared away, when the exposition will again be opened.

It is impossible to estimate the damage caused by the fire that wiped out the fairy-like structures and caused two deaths and thirty injuries.

The losses, however, will not be so great as was at first believed, when during the excitement of the conflagration they were estimated roughly at $100,000,000.

The entire Belgian and British sections; the whole Kermesse of Brussels; the Coney Island of the exposition, with water chutes, toboggan slides and other special entertainments, and everything west of the Avenue des Nations, were destroyed, but by heroic work of the firemen and troops and the use of dynamite in blowing up buildings in the path of the flames, the fire was checked.

Practically everything in the American, Danish, Russian, Norwegian, Austrian, Japanese, Turkish and Swiss sections was saved. Only the facades and about one-third of the entire French section were burned. The British loss is heavy.

Fortunately the most valuable art treasures, which had been loaned to the exposition or acquired by it, were removed beyond the reach of the flames and the pillaging criminals who attempted to take advantage of the disaster.

34 DEAD IN WRECK

EXCURSION AND FREIGHT TRAINS CRASH AT SAUJON FRANCE.

108 PERSONS ARE INJURED

Lives of 1,200 Persons Are Jeopardized by Open Switch—Most of Killed Were School Girls Returning From Vacation.

Paris.—An excursion train was wrecked at Saujon Sunday and 34 persons, many of them school girls, were killed and 80 others were injured, several of them fatally.

The accident came without warning and in the wild panic that followed the crash many of the passengers were trampled upon and probably fatally injured. Speeding at 60 miles an hour, the excursion train with 1,200 passengers on board, struck an open switch and before the engineer realized the peril, smashed into a sidetracked freight train.

A relief train, with all the available doctors, was rushed to the scene. The uninjured passengers aided in dragging out the dead and injured. An emergency hospital was established at the side of the track and everything possible was done to aid the victims.

Most of those on board were school girls returning from their vacations. Their frenzied efforts to aid their injured comrades only served to increase the excitement and hampered the doctors considerably in the work of rescue.

The engineer and fireman tried to jump as the crash came, but were pinned in the wreckage. The boiler exploded and many were scalded by the boiling water.

An investigation is being made to place responsibility for the wreck. It is claimed that there was no signal to warn the engineer that the switch was open.

So many were the victims that at first only those who had been seriously hurt received medical attention. As fast as they were attended they were put aboard the relief train and rushed to Bordeaux, where they were placed in hospitals.

SEEK FOR GALLAGHER'S AID

New York Police Hope Theory Assailant of Mayor Gaynor Had an Accomplice.

New York.—New York police are engaging themselves with the theory that James J. Gallagher, the would-be assassin of Mayor Gaynor, had an accomplice. Gallagher denies this.

Mayor Gaynor will be taken to the Adirondacks as soon as his condition permits, but whether he will undergo an operation to remove the bullet before his trip to the mountain has not been determined.

Secretary Robert Adamson said Monday the mayor seemed stronger. Now that the patient is taking more nourishment and his sleep is better his attendants feel that he will recuit his strength rapidly. His appetite is good.

PAUPERISM IS INDIAN PERIL

SALES OF LANDS WOULD MEAN RED MEN'S RUIN.

Cecil Lyon Tells Gore Inquiry Committee His Connection With McMurray Contracts.

Sulphur, Okla.—Witnesses testified before the Gore congressional Indian land investigating committee that if the Indian lands in Oklahoma were sold and the $30,000,000 proceeds were turned over to the Indians in cash, the state within ten years would be flooded with paupers.

It was asserted that many of the Indians who signed the McMurray contracts, allowing a ten per cent. "attorney fee" to J. F. McMurray and his associates, were financially irresponsible. They would soon squander the cash, it was declared, and within a few years the country would be confronted with the problem of how to take care of them.

Except for the appearance on the stand of Cecil A. Lyon, Republican national committeeman of Texas, the witnesses were all Indians. Mr. Lyon told of his financial interest in the old tribal McMurray contracts, which provided for a ten per cent. fee, but which were disapproved by President Roosevelt in 1908.

Asked if he had been invited by McMurray to join in the deal because of his political influence and his acquaintance with Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Lyon said he supposed he was, but he also attributed the invitation to his business ability.

Many Chickasaws testified they were willing to give McMurray as high as 25 per cent. attorney's fees if he would sell the land within a year.

BROWNE TRIAL IS HALTED

Judge Kersten Orders Investigation Into Charges of Jury Tampering in Bribery Case.

Chicago.—Denouncing efforts of interested persons to influence jurymen in the Lee O'Neill Browne trial as a travesty on justice, Judge Kersten Tuesday excused an entire panel of veniremen until an investigation could be made.

His action was taken after almost two-thirds of the last panel had admitted that there had been attempts made to influence them toward a decision favorable to Browne.

Judge Kersten called each of the veniremen by name and asked if he had been approached. Nearly every one said "Yes," and Judge Kersten then dismissed the entire panel.

STEAMERS CRASH; 39 PERISH

Thirty-Two Passengers and Seven Seamen Drown When Vessels Collide in Fog.

Gibraltar.—Thirty-two of the passengers and seven of the crew of the Spanish steamship Martos were drowned in the sinking of the ship off Tarifa point at the entrance to the Straits of Gibraltar, Tuesday.

The Martos was in collision with the German steamer Elsa in a dense fog. She foundered a few minutes after being struck. The survivors were landed here.

A dense fog prevailed at the time of the collision.

Nine of the victims on the Martos were first-cabin passengers. The other 23 passengers who perished were in the steerage.

Killed in Motorcycle Crash. Columbus, O.—Ralph E. Stitts, twenty-one years old, Tuesday collided with an Ohio electric car while riding a tandem motorcycle. He died of his injuries within a few hours. His companion was badly hurt.

Stock Soars to $10,000,000. Jefferson City, Mo.—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Terminal Railroad company of St. Louis Tuesday filed with the secretary of state a certificate of increase in the capital stock from $100,000 to $10,000,000.

TUBERCULOSIS IN THE PRISON

Per Cent. of Suffering is Enormous and There Seems but One Remedy.

From several investigations that have been made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis it is estimated that on an average about 15 per cent of the prison population of the country is afflicted with tuberculosis. On this basis, out of the 80,000 prisoners housed in the penal institutions of the United States at any given time, no less than 12,000 are infected with the disease. If the Philippine Islands and other insular possessions were taken into consideration the number would be much larger. Some of the prisons of Pennsylvania, Kansas and Ohio show such shocking conditions with reference to tuberculosis that many wardens admit that these places of detention are death traps. Similar conditions could be found in almost every state, and in the majority of cases the only sure remedy is the destruction of the old buildings and the erection of new ones.

LEG A MASS OF HUMOR

"About seven years ago a small abrasion appeared on my right leg just above my ankle. It irritated me so that I began to scratch it, and it began to spread until my leg from my ankle to the knee was one solid scale like a scab. The irritation was always worse at night and would not allow me to sleep, or my wife either, and it was completely undermining our health. I lost fifty pounds in weight and was almost out of my mind with pain and chagrin as no matter where the irritation came, at work, on the street or in the presence of company, I would have to scratch it until I had the blood running down into my shoe. I simply cannot describe my suffering during those seven years. The pain, mortification, loss of sleep, both to myself and wife is simply indescribable on paper and one has to experience it to know what it is.

"I tried all kinds of doctors and remedies but I might as well have thrown my money down a sewer. They would dry up for a little while and fill me with hope only to break out again just as bad if not worse. I had given up hope of ever being cured when I was induced by my wife to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial. After taking the Cuticura Remedies for a little while I began to see a change, and after taking a dozen bottles of Cuticura Resolvent in conjunction with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, the trouble had entirely disappeared and my leg was as fine as the day I was born. Now after a lapse of six months with no signs of a recurrence I feel perfectly safe in extending to you my heartfelt thanks for the good the Cuticura Remedies have done for me. I shall always recommend them to my friends. W. H. White, 312 E. Cabot St., Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 4 and Apr. 13, 1909."

Good intentions are always hot stuff; that is why they are used for paving material in a certain locality.

THIS ad. is directed at the man who has all the business in his line in this community.

Mr. Merchant—You say you've got it all. You're selling them all they'll buy, anyhow. But at the same time you would like more business.

Make this community buy more.

Advertise strongly, consistently, judiciously.

Suppose you can buy a lot of washtubs cheap; advertise a big washtub sale in this paper. Put in an inviting picture of a washtub where people can see it the minute they look at your ad. Talk strong on washtubs. And you'll find every woman in this vicinity who has been getting along with a rickety washtub for years and years will buy a new one from you.

That's creative business power.

RARE CANVAS GONE

Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa," Missing From Louvre Gallery.

Celebrated Painting Has Been a Mystery for Four Centuries—Savants Puzzled Over Beautiful Model's Smile.

Paris.—The "Mona Lisa" of Leonardo da Vinci, the world famous painting for which an offer of $5,000,000 is said to have been refused and which is reported to have been stolen from the Louvre in Paris, for 400 years has been as much a riddle as the Sphinx itself. But one man—Solomon Reinach, brother of the Reinach of notoriety in the Dreyfus affair—ever has been so brazen as to proclaim the solution of the smile that wreathes the face of the woman in the picture. His answer was laughed to scorn by art critics. Others have commented on the painting, but Reinach alone authoritatively announced that the mystery was ended.

The "Mona Lisa" for four centuries has stood a monument to French art. For four years—1501 to 1504—Da Vinci, friend of Francesco del Giocondo of Florence, spent his spare moments at work on the painting. The model was Mona Lisa Gherardini, third wife of Giocondo. According to Reinach, the lovelike expression on the face of the model is far from indicating love.

Reinach asserts that Da Vinci painted the portrait gratis for his friend, when she was in deep grief, to divert her mind. He surrounded her with musicians, singers and buffoons to keep her in gentle gaiety. He worked at the painting only when a certain expression appeared on his model's face, brought about by a peculiar strain of music. He bore no love for her, nor she for him.

Reinach even went so far as to explain the deep melancholy of Mona Lisa. He declared that she was married in 1495 and until 1499 had no children. Then came a daughter. A death record of Florence, by which it appears that Fanciulla, little daughter of Francesco del Giocondo and his wife, Mona Lisa, was buried from the Church of Santa Maria Novella on June 1, 1501 is cited by him.

Whether Reinach's explanation is true or not, it was not received readily by the French. It was known that Da Vinci had sold the painting to his patron, Francis I. of France, for 4,000 gold ecus shortly after its completion. The king kept it locked jealously in his gilded room at Fontainebleau, and upon the death of Francis I. Louis XIV. had it hung in his bed chamber at Versailles. Following his demise it was transferred to the Salon Carré, where it since had attracted world-wide attention.

"What is she smiling at?" ever has been the unsolved riddle. To artists Mona Lisa's smile became in turn obviously saucy, sportive, flirtatious and even naughty, while plain people called her the "Jocund one."

Taine discovered in the smile that Mona Lisa had been at least flirting with Leonardo da Vinci, flattering him and railing against her husband. Michelet, the historian, said that he used to go to the portrait "in spite of himself, as the bird goes to the snake." Theophile Gautier discovered that the subject of the painting was flirting with the whole world, "this strange creature whose look promises unknown joys and whose expression is divinely ironic." "She smiles with mocking voluptuousness on the thousands who admire her," was the comment of Arsene Houssaye, manager of the Theater Francais, who saw "shining from that smile only the soul of Leonardo in love."

Walter Pater revealed to the world that it was an encyclopedia. "In this beauty," he said, "the soul appears with all its affections. All the thoughts and experiences of the world have left their traces on it—the animalism of Greece, the lubricity of Rome, the revery of the middle ages, the return of paganism, the sins of the Borgias!"

And supplementing this, the illustrious Italian Carotti declared: "She is the emanation of the intellectual, sentimental and poetic power of her time, with all the mystery of the human soul and all its destiny."

In Europe the painting also is called "La Gioconda" and "Gioconda" and in art circles it is considered to rank second in value only to the Statine Madonna by Raphael. Both are priceless.

IS ALMOST 400 YEARS OLD

This Fiddle an Interesting and Valuable Example of the Medieval Violin Maker's Art.

St. Louis, Mo.—Almost four hundred years ago, to be precise in 1523, Gasparo Duiffo Prugcar, of Brescia, a noted maker of sacred mosaics and violins, built a fiddle. Because he did it as a sacred labor he imparted to it a tone and an ornamentation which today makes it probably one of the most interesting and valuable examples of the medieval violin maker's art in the country.

"The Old Man."

The instrument is the property of Frederick L. Neddermeyer. The owner calls it affectionately "the old man," and plays it when he has a concerto or an aria that demands peculiar largeness of tone.

The modern name of the violin has been gained from a finely carved head of St. Paul, which ornaments the end of the "handle," and which probably served as an inspiration to the original owner, undoubtedly a monk.

Around the sides of the body of the instrument in large letters is carved this legend: "Nicolo de Roberti delia Domini ariese del Brescia." On the back are two mosaics, one the head of a monk, probably the man who played it when it was new, the other a picture of the monastery and city of Brescia.

Mr. Neddermeyer secured the instrument some years ago through Mrs. Franz Kunze, wife of Dr. Kunze, and while he was studying in Leipzig under the famous violin master, Hanz Sitt. The violin has a most beautiful tone, and some of its notes are almost 'cello like.

BUILDING WITH A HISTORY

Stands in Rensselaer, New York, and is Supposed to be the Oldest in the United States.

Albany, N. Y.—In the town of Rensselaer, N. Y., which lies directly across the Hudson from Albany, there stands an old weather-beaten building to which is attached a great deal of historic interest and import. It is unoccupied and is surrounded by tall weeds that the hand of neglect has fostered and raised in abundance. It is built of brick, is two stories high and the marks of many years stand prominent upon its battered front.

A large tablet on its wall stands out boldly to the public gaze and proclaims that the structure is supposed to be the oldest building in the United States. The date of its erection, according to the tablet, is 1642. The building was built as a manor house and place of defense and was known as Fort Craio. While marching to attack Fort Ticonderoga, in 1753, General Abercrombie made his headquarters there. The tablet finally declares that Army Surgeon R. Shuckburg composed the popular national song, "Yan-kee Doodle," while upon the grounds near the old building.

Gun holes may be seen in the front of the historic old structure, and the old flag pole, standing on its roof, is still prominent to view. Doubtless, there are many stories of bravery and courage which have never stolen into the pages of history connected with this manor house of the seventeenth century.

The building is substantial even yet. It will see many years of standing before the hand of decay can tumble it into ruin. The house is one of the remaining relics of the days when our nation's spirit was tested and tried.

Whale Had Big Jawbones.

New York.—The jawbones of the largest whale ever caught by Japanese whalers have arrived here, consigned to the Museum of Natural History. The bones weigh fifty-five tons—110,000 pounds. They are forty feet long and were transported from the steamship pier on a large truck drawn by twelve horses.

The whale was caught off Moji, Japan, and was more than 200 feet over all. The tail was thirty feet long.

WISCONSIN HAPPENINGS

Marinette.—John Murphy, five-year-old son of J. B. Murphy of Channing, Mich., was killed by Dyras Sceele, aged thirteen. Sceele is under arrest, charged with murder and it is said that he confessed. The motive was the fact that Murphy's parents had forbidden him to play with Sceele. The story is that young Sceele found a shotgun on a woodpile on a neighbor's premises and then asked another little fellow with him to shoot Murphy. When he refused Sceele took the gun and as the Murphy lad was trying to escape shot him in the back of the head. Death was instantaneous. After killing him he secreted the body in the bushes, where it was found by a searching party. Two other youngsters witnessed the crime and told their parents.

La Crosse.—The Sixteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, which opened here has brought to this city a large number of the state's leading financiers. President E. M. Wing, who is cashier of the Batavia National bank of La Crosse, introduced J. M. Holley, head of the local bankers' club, who welcomed the visitors, response being made by E. A. Daw, president of the State bank of Plymouth. Mr. Wing then delivered his address, and various officers and committees reported. In the way of entertainment there will be a reception and dance tonight, a moonlight boat ride tomorrow evening, and automobiles for the ladies.

Omro.—"Why Should My Liberty Be Decided by Another Man's Conscience?" After Rev. Daniel Woodward, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church here, preached a sermon with this text, his congregation met later and upheld his defense of his action in taking the stump for F. E. McGovern, Milwaukee. Mr. Woodward said in his sermon that Rev. S. H. Anderson, district superintendent, had made a direct thrust at his personal liberty. Resolutions commending Mr. Woodward and condemning Mr. Anderson were adopted by a vote of 300 to 9.

Waupaca.—Chief of Police E. J. Newhall captured Elmer Mynard, whom he believes is foremost in writing "black hand" letters which have been received by several persons lately. With him at the time of the capture were two other men. Last week E. L. Devine received a notice threatening his life unless $500 was left at a certain spot.

Malden Rock.—Owing to low water the steamer Red Wing, plying between St. Paul and Wabasha, made its last trip for the season. This is more than two months earlier than usual. The Red Wing was the only boat left running on the upper Mississippi, and it has been some time since it has been able to land at either of its usual landing places at Malden Rock.

Grand Rapids.—Raymond Conway, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Conway of Biron, was instantly killed in the yards of the Biron paper mill. The unfortunate lad was flying a kite with several playmates who were running up and down the great pile of pulp wood with which the yards are filled. The motion started the wood to rolling, one of the logs striking the boy in the head.

La Crosse.—Ten years in America and never a bath in all that time. This is the acknowledgment of Charles Schmidt, who will probably remember La Crosse for having become acquainted with water here. Schmidt was arrested in the river bottoms in the factory district by Detectives McGrath and Wendling. On his clothing he had a jimmy made of a large file.

Green Bay.—Two men were given state prison sentences by Judge N. J. Monahan in municipal court. One of them, John Warpinski, was sentenced to three years, after pleading guilty to larceny, and the other, Floyd Hoagland, was given six months for failure to support his wife and family of ten minor children.

Rhineland.—Joseph Taylor, who seven years ago, it is said, broke out of the Lincoln county jail at Merrill, was arrested by the police here. Taylor, the officers say, was being held for trial on a robbery charge when he escaped.

Richland Center.—The explosion of the 22-caliber rifle which he was carrying caused the instant death of John Henry, a fourteen-year-old boy. The lad, it is said, was hunting. The bullet passed through his throat.

Barron.—A steady general rain is falling which will insure a good crop of corn and help late potatoes and pastures. This is the first good rain here in four weeks.

Eau Claire.—To protect the city water supply of Eau Claire the Dells Paper and Pulp company has closed down its plant until the Chipewa river gets higher.

Manitowoc.—A fierce marsh fire is raging south of Quarry. One hundred residents of Quarry and Collins and farmers in the vicinity have been working to check the flames. The ground has been torn up for a mile, but the fire is spreading and is said to be gaining.

Sheboygan.—This city, the home of cheese, children and chairs, is looking also for the Wisconsin record for freaks. The latest is the birth here of a kitten with a head, two tails and eight legs, which was so horrible a monstrosity that the mother disowned the creature.

THE ELEPHANT FLEET.

How It Is Used by the British Government in India.

Its elephant fleet is one of the strangest and most deadly departments maintained by the British government in India. It is a large fleet of coasting steamers specially built for the transport of elephants. India's population is one-fifth that of the entire globe. All these people use elephants. They use them for draft work and for tiger hunting, and in the arenas of the native states they even pit them against one another and against wild beasts. The elephant fleet transfers the animals from Dacca, the trapping and training headquarters, to the various districts whence comes the demand.

To get an elephant aboard ship is a difficult and dangerous task. The animal must wade through the surf to a stout raft, and this unknown surf, so white and tumultuous, often terrifies and maddens him. If in his fury he slaughters a mahout or two he cannot be greatly blamed. Once on the raft, his legs are tied to pegs, and the slow sail to the ship is uneventful. But now a great band must be arranged under the elephant's belly, and a crane must hoist him up some twenty or thirty feet to the deck. Here again the elephant cannot be set down as intractable if, losing his head in that unprecedented aerial journey, he murders some more mahouts. Very prosperous, albeit stained a little with mahouts' blood, the elephant fleet for many years has plied up and down the Indian coast, embarking and disembarking its heavy, unmanageable freight.—New York Press.

The Appreciation of Music.

If we would appreciate music aright, we must remember that its beauty depends not upon the composer alone, but upon ourselves also. Deep calls unto deep, and the harmony of sound, though appealing primarily to the outward ear, must be answered by a harmony from within ourselves. The more culture we bring to the hearing of music, the wider our sympathy, the more exquisite will be the echoes which it awakens in the soul. If we would understand the composer's message we must co-operate with him. We must reach out to him with all our faculties. If we do that, the revelation of music will ceaselessly renew its beauty, ever turning unimagined aspects to gladden us.—Redfern Mason in Atlantic.

An Ugly Looking Lizard.

Among the lizards of Australia the "thorny devil" (Moloch horridus) is unrivaled in its ugliness. From the tip of its nose to the end of its tail this lizard is covered with tubercles and spines, but in spite of its dangerous appearance it is quite harmless. It measures about seven inches in length. It has a flat body, a small head and a cylindrical tail. It frequents sandy places, feeds largely on ants and is more or less diurnal in habits. Its powerful limbs are furnished with strong claws, which it uses in digging the sand, in which it often lies wholly or partially buried.

Bird Elocution.

The blue jay is a great elocutionist and gives utterance to many unlooked for remarks, but the one most often heard in the woods relates to the possession of a "chee-tidley-enk." Just exactly what sort of creature or thing this is no one can tell, but whenever I am in the woods I hear the jays exclaim "Chee-tidley-enk—got him," to which the meadow lark in the pasture clearing replies, "Oh-so-cheap," with a most sarcastic drawl on the "so" and an intonation on the "cheap." As a rule, the meadow lark says his say while perched on a fence post, and he talks with his mouth wide open. There are a lot of little people in the thickets who are always in such a hurry and talk so fast that it is difficult to tell what they say. There is that gayly colored little fellow the red start, crying, "T-wet wee-who-who-whisset," and the dainty summer yellow bird, who has something to say in the same line and much in the same manner. What he wants is wheat, and, although he never eats it, his constant cry is, "Wheat, wheat, 't-wreat wheat, wheat, wheat."—Dan Beard in Recreation.

The Harvest.

The Man—May, dear, I hope you may never have to reap as you sew.—Harper's Weekly.

England's Generals. There has not been an English general since Marlborough. Wellington was born at Dangan castle, Meath, of an old Irish family called Wesley and christened in Dublin. Wolfe was born at Ferneux abbey, Kildare, and christened at Westerham—nearly in the same case as the Brontes (Bronty). His grandfather defended Limerick against William III.

Sir John Moore and the Napiers were Scotchmen, and so was Abercrombie (Egypt); so were Napier of Magdala, Crawford and Clyde. Wolseley, Roberts and Kitchener are Irish; so was Gough. The generals and statesmen who saved India to Great Britain were Neil, Nicholson, the two Lawrences (Irish), Edwards (Welsh) and Rose (Scotch).

IS AVIATION HERO

MOISSANT, CARRYING PASSENGER, FLIES CHANNEL IN STRONG WIND.

AMAZING FLIGHT IS MADE

Heretofore Unknown Chicagoan Eclipses Feats of de Lesseps and Rolls.—Suffered from Cold and Was Benumbed When He Landed.

Deal, England.—It has been reserved for an American citizen to perform one of the most daring feats in the history of aviation. John B. Moissant of Chicago flew across the English channel from Calais to Tilmanstone with a passenger, and by this achievement far surpassed the feats of Bleriot, de Lesseps and the unfortunate English aviator Rolls. Moissant resumed his flight to London at 4:55 a. m.

The two-man flight from France to England was the more astonishing, for it was only a month ago that Moissant learned to fly and made so few flights and was so little known among aviators that even his nationality was not disclosed. He was reputed to be a Spaniard, and it was only when he landed in England that it was revealed that he is a young Chicago architect.

To make the feat still more surprising, Moissant was totally ignorant of the geography of his course. He was obliged to rely entirely on the compass.

The channel flight was an incident in the aerial voyage from Paris to London. Moissant left Issy with Hubert Latham and reached Amiens in two hours. Latham's aeroplane was wrecked and Moissant, leaving Amiens, headed for Calais. His mechanic, Albert Pileux, who had accompanied him across the country, took his place in the machine when the motor was set in motion for the dash across the channel. Thousands who had gathered to watch the daring aviator were amazed, and urged him not to make the attempt in the face of the half gale that was blowing.

Moissant cared nothing for the warnings of the people, and even the fact that there was no torpedo boat to follow in his wake, but only a slow moving tug, did not deter him. He made the trip in thirty-seven minutes. When he descended his eyes were bloodshot and greatly inflamed, as a result of the heavy rainstorm into which they drove on approaching the English coast. The high wind beat the rain into the faces of the men like hail, and almost blinded them.

An average height of between 300 and 400 feet was maintained over the water. The aviator expected to land at Dover, but he was forced by the wind a few miles south, and made the coast near Deal. The cold was intense, and both Moissant and his mechanic were benumbed. When he revived sufficiently he laughed and said to an interviewer: "This is my first visit to England."

Describing his experiences, he said: "This is only my sixth flight in an aeroplane. I did not know the way from Paris to Calais when I started, and I did not know the way to London. I shall have to rely on the compass. I would like to land at the Hyde park if I can find it." "My mechanic, who weighs 182 pounds, had never been in an aeroplane before and did not know where I was taking him to when we left Paris. The people tried to dissuade me from making the flight from Calais in the gusty wind, but in spite of the pitching during the crossing of the channel, the greatest difficulty encountered in the trip was landing, the sea and land winds causing dangerous cross currents."

NO MONEY FOR TEACHERS

No Provisions Made for Those Who Attend Institute as Prescribed by the Law.

Janesville.—County treasurer Church is anxious to know who is to pay or authorize the payment of $469.50 to the Green county treasurer on a bill rendered for tuition for the Rock county teachers who attended the institute as prescribed by law. There is no provision in the county for such an institute or for payment for those attending other schools, while the state law requires teachers to attend a county institute for a certificate to teach.

Heavy Rain Saves Crops.

Chippewa Falls.—This section was visited by a heavy rain which continued all night and day. It is the first rain of twelve hours' duration this summer and is the salvation of the tobacco and sugar beet crops and will help to mature the Hungarian and millet grasses and buckwheat. The rain came too late to save the corn crop, which has not filled properly, having been withered by drought.

Wisconsin War Nurse is Dead.

Beloit.—Mrs. Mary Bradley, 80 years old, an army nurse in the civil war, dear to the hearts of the veterans of Wisconsin, is dead. She was a Roscoe, Ill., girl, and early in the war went south and for four years served as a nurse. Two years of this time she served in the field without pay. She was granted a small pension because of her services. Mrs. Bradley was a personal acquaintance of Clara Barton and met many of the distinguished soldiers of the war.

SEEKS BIG ESTATE

INDIANA MAN ENDEAVORING TO ESTABLISH HIS CLAIM.

Believes He is Heir to $75,000 in the South—Father, He Claims, Insisted on Posing as His Uncle.

Oakland City, Ind.—Ed H. Baker, owner of a flour mill in this city, is busy unraveling a mystery of his life which may make him the richer by $25,000.

Mr. Baker's parents were residents of Natchez, Miss., but he was born in Vincennes, Ind., while his mother was visiting relatives there. At the age of three months he was taken back to Natchez, but his mother died on the boat during the trip. Soon after her death he was brought back to Vincennes and cared for by an aunt without knowing the whereabouts of his father. None of his relatives knew where his father was and the child lost trace of him.

In 1901 Capt. H. L. Baker, a business man of Natchez, Miss., came to Vincennes on a hunt for Ed H. Baker. He failed to find him, and after a short stay at Vincennes returned to his southern home. A short time afterward he learned that Ed H. Baker lived here, and he sent him an invitation to visit Natchez, representing that he was Mr. Baker's uncle. The visit was made and the "uncle" treated him with every consideration, giving him photographs of his mother and imparting much information concerning her. He persistently adhered, however, to his statement that he was only an uncle.

In 1905 Capt. Baker visited Ed H. Baker in this city, and took every care to ascertain as much of his history as possible, and it was then that Mr. Baker began to suspect that the "uncle" was in reality his father. Capt. Baker died at Natchez last month, leaving an estate valued at $75,000.

Ed H. Baker has returned from a visit to Natchez, and while there found much to establish the identity of his parents, among other things the grave of his mother. The tombstone was missing from the grave, but the old sexton in charge said it was buried in the grave. This was taken up, and on it was found his mother's name. The old man said that the late Capt. H. L. Baker had given him orders to care for the grave as long as he lived, saying that his wife was buried there. Other old residents of Natchez remember a little boy who was sent back north, and other incidents that tend to establish Mr. Baker's claim make the case so strong that he thinks there will be little difficulty proving that he is the son.

Two sisters of Mr. Baker were found by him, one living at Natchez and the other in New Orleans. Suit has been filed in the chancery court at Natchez for a division of the estate and recognition of Ed H. Baker as the son of Capt. H. L. Baker.

URNS HOSE ON THE TRAMPS

South Dakota Town's Unique Way of Getting Rid of Its Surplus Hoboes.

Custer, S. D.—The town of Edgemont has a unique way of handling its surplus of tramps, commonly known as "hobos." Edgemont is a small railroad town, the entrance to the Burlington to the Black Hills and the northwest country. Lately it has been infested with an unusual number of the hobo variety, who have been a general nuisance to the townfolk, numerous thefts by the visitors being reported.

Finally Edtor Harry Goddard hit upon a plan. He rang the fire bell and soon had the volunteer department on the scene. The hobos were rounded up and jalled and a stream of muddy water applied through the fire hoses upon them as they stood in their cells. The following morning the bell was rung again, and while the firemen held the hose ready the hobos were given the alternative by the marshal of taking another bath or quitting town, and their decision was quickly made for a "hike."

HEROIC SURGERY ON CHILD

Father Cuts Out Piece of Flesh, Sucks Out Poison, While Wife Runs for Doctor.

Johnson, Neb.—While playing in the field where her father, J. L. Bright, was working, Vera, his three-year-old daughter, was bitten by a rattlesnake and ran, screaming to her father, telling him a "long mouse" had bitten her on the leg.

The father, knowing the bite was that of a rattlesnake, at once stripped off the child's stocking and with his pocket knife cut out a circular piece of flesh an inch in diameter and more than a half-inch deep. He then sucked the wound, drawing out the poison, while the mother, who had been attracted by the cries of the child, ran for a doctor.

The little girl is doing nicely and will recover. The snake, measuring more than three feet, was killed.

For Sleep-With-Baby Law.

Des Moines, Ia.—Coroner Iver G. Newlen will draw a bill for passage in the next Iowa legislature making it a crime for parents to sleep with an infant child. During the past year 90 babies in Des Moines alone have been found dead in bed, and the coroner attributes their death to smothering.

IS VICTIM OF BEES

BOER WAR HERO ENDS LIFE AFTER BEING ATTACKED.

Capt. Brady Stung by His Pets, Driven Temporarily Insane—Leaves Note Saying "So Long" to Friend.

London.—After being severely stung by bees, Capt. Hugo Frank Henry, who served bravely with the New Zealand contingent in the Boer war, has committed suicide near his home at Bath. Bee-keeping was Capt. Henry's hobby, and he rented a garden for his bees. As a result of stings inflicted, his head and face became much swollen, and his housekeeper found him dead in a summer house with part of his head blown away and a revolver by his side.

"Despite the fact that the poisonous action of a bee's sting has been extensively studied," writes a medical correspondent, "our knowledge of the true physiological effect is practically nil. Undoubtedly a strong irritant poison is formed in the tissues at the point of the sting, and, like other poisons which have beneficial effect in moderate doses, this poison might induce serious temporary brain derangement in excessive cases."

"Animals have been known to go mad when attacked by bees or wasps. It is generally believed that this madness is not entirely due to the pain caused by the skin punctures. It is not, therefore, impossible that in this case the combination of extreme pain, terror and the irritant poison resulting from the stings may have been enough to bring about acute suicidal mania."

Capt. Henry left two notes. One provided for the leaving of his estate and the other ran: "This Mauser should make a fair shot. So long."

HAS BEARD 45 YEARS OLD

Old Confederate Sympathizer Puts Up a Fight When Surgeons Try to Shave Him.

Lexington, Ky.—Refusing to part with his long flowing whiskers, untouched by shears since Lee surrendered at Appomattox, Robert Dedman, eighty-six years old, stood off a corps of surgeons at a local hospital who desired to remove the beard in order to perform an operation upon Mr. Dedman's eye.

Mr. Dedman, who is a wealthy resident of Lawrenceburg, Ky., was brought to the local hospital for treatment. Explaining to the surgeons his reasons for refusing to be shaved, he said:

"When the war broke out I was an ardent sympathizer with the southern cause. I came in contact with a bunch of Yankees, and, as young men sometimes do, I talked too much, with the result that they chased me ten miles, and in addition to shaving me, gave me a sound thrashing."

"I swore right then that a razor should never touch my face again until the south had won her cause. "There doesn't seem to be much chance of this coming true, so I reckon you will have to get along without shaving me this time."

The surgeons gave in and the operation was performed, leaving the venerable old man's beard intact.

TROUSER GIRLS OUT OF JOBS

Milking Machine Now That Displaces Western Fair Ones Who Wore Men's Togs.

Seattle, Wash.—One of the model dairies in this state, located near North Yakima, has received a shipment of modern milking machines. As a result of this move toward increasing the efficiencies of the pure milk tests, more than 50 pretty white-trousered girls are thrown out of employment.

The girls have been doing the milking at this model farm for several years, having displaced Japanese, who were found to be unhygienic. Each girl wore a light-fitting pair of trousers and a short-sleeved jacket to match, which garments were boiled and starched each day by the farm laundress.

The milking girls have donned skirts and are employed in packing peaches and pears in the irrigated orchards near.

FROG IN A WOMAN'S STOMACH

It is Removed Successfully by a Surgeon in Toledo and She Recovers.

Toledo, O.—After suffering for many months with stomach trouble, which baffled her physicians, Mrs. Guy Weaver, of this city, is recovering from her illness, which proved to have been caused by the presence of a frog in her stomach. It was removed by a local doctor.

The intruder was a brownish yellow in color, and was about two inches long. It was a lively specimen, and straightway demonstrated its kinship with its brothers and sisters of ponds and puddles by a series of lively leaps. It is thought that Mrs. Weaver swallowed a frog egg while drinking at a spring on the farm of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smalley, in Freedom, and that it hatched and developed to nearly normal size in her stomach. Hundreds have seen the frog which is now on exhibition in the Weaver home in South Chestnut street.

FORCE HENS TO MOULT EARLY

No Question as to Advisability of Proceeding If Fowls Are Kept for Egg Production.

Forcing hens to moult early has been very popular for several years. It is very easily done and in some cases may be of great value.

The first step is to give the birds all of the green that they will eat and no grain whatever. If you have an alfalfa patch in which you can turn them loose, so much the better. In other words, put them on a starvation diet, giving them only the green and a mash composed of 95 per cent. bran and five per cent. bone meal. Give only about one-fourth of what you consider a natural feeding, that is, what they are accustomed to.

Continue this diet for about two weeks unless the birds show signs of going out of condition, in which case shorten the time somewhat. By this time all of the hens should have quit laying. At the end of two weeks reverse the process and begin feeding very heavily on the following mash, which is very rich in bone meal and cornmeal, both of which aid greatly in feather growing:

Bran: 50 pounds; cornmeal 30 pounds; fine ground bone, 15 pounds; linseed meal, 5 pounds. In place of the five pounds of linseed meal you may use 15 pounds of oil cake meal. Any other mash rich in bone meal and cornmeal may be substituted if preferred.

The cornmeal is valuable for the purpose of throwing off the old feathers, and the bone meal for the growing of the new ones.

Give the above mash once a day, grain once and green between. Of each give the birds all that they will take. They should begin to moult in ten days of time that the heavy feeding begins. As the moult proceeds gradually resume your favorite laying ration, and the hens should soon be in fine feather and ready for the winter's work.

There is a question in the mind of many poultrymen as to the advisability of forcing hens that are kept for market egg production to moult, but if you have fine birds that you are desirous of exhibiting there is no question as to the desirability of having them in good feather for the early shows.

The process is very simple, and if you watch the birds carefully and do not continue the starving too long, there seems to be no damage done, although the system must be somewhat depleted for a few weeks.

PLOW OUT EARLY POTATOES

Excellent Method of Harvesting Tubers and How to Care for Them During Winter.

Plow out the early potatoes as soon as the vines turn yellow. When the skin of the tubers does not rub off they are ripe. The early crop brings a better price at this time of the year. Growers market the crop direct from the field. The small potatoes may be sold to the bakers for 30 cents per bushel. They are largely used in the making of yeast. If you have poultry, boil the small potatoes, mix with wheat bran and a little flaxseed meal and feed in the winter time to the laying hens. If the potatoes are to be stored, gather when dry and store in shed or well-aired dark cellar. They should not be piled too deep, as they will heat and rot in hot, sultry weather.

The second and late planting of potatoes should be kept for winter and spring eating. As a rule, the late crop have more solidity and are less liable to rot, and are dry when cooked. As soon as the crop is plowed out harrow the field both ways and sow to turnips. Bone flour and bone phosphate are the favorite turnip fertilizers. Animal manure, unless well rotted, should not be used, as the manure causes a rank growth of top and a bulb of coarse flesh. Bone flour or bone phosphate, on the other hand, produce bulbs of fine grain, sweet and smooth skin. These are the kind wanted by the market, and are also best for family eating. Sow 400 pounds of bone flour, one pound of new-crop turnip seed to the acre. Market gardeners mix two pounds of kale seed, seed, two ounces of black Spanish radish and two ounces of brown Dutch lettuce seed with the turnip seed. All these seeds are well mixed in one peck of wood ashes or the same quantity of coarse sand and sown to the acre. Sow on newly plowed ground or after a rain, when ground is moist. Cover the seed with brush harrow. Sow broadcast. The red or purple flat top turnip is a popular variety; it is a rapid grower, flesh fine grained, sweet and mild. The early white flat variety differs from red top only in color. Improved yellow globe and yellow Aberdeen have yellow flesh, solid, fleshy sweet, and keep well. These varieties are largely grown for shipping, also for stock and family use. The Swedes or rutabagas require a cool, moist climate and a deep, rich soil. Our climate is too hot and dry for their profitable culture.

Substitute for Ensilage.

Fodder corn is the staple roughage for the man who milks cows, and when properly cured is a good substitute for ensilage. The silo, however, saves all the feed and the cows relish the ensilage better because it is more succulent.

BIRDS AND FRUIT INDUSTRY.

Feathered Denizens Destroy Great Numbers of Harmful Insects and Noxious Seeds.

The United States Department of Agriculture, having concluded its investigations as to the harmful or beneficial effect of California birds upon the fruit industry of that state, has issued the second and final part of its report in Bulletin No. 34 of the Biological Survey. Seventy species of the feathered denizens, among them some of the most important birds of the state from the farmers' and fruit growers' standpoint, were systematically investigated. It is true that many of them have not been charged with the destruction or injury of fruit or any other farm product, but as almost all destroy great numbers of harmful insects, or devour seeds of noxious weeds, they are important as a factor in farm economics, and the aim has been to collect all data possible on the food of the several species, so that a just verdict might be rendered as to the birds' economic relations.

Few birds are always and everywhere so destructive that their extermination can be urged on sound economic principles; some, like the swallows, swifts, wrens, and chickadees, are so strictly insectivorous that they are exceedingly beneficial, while others may injure crops at certain times of the year, but the loss is exceedingly small, and if by its insectivorous habits the bird prevents much greater destruction than it inflicts, the farmer should be willing to bear the lesser loss.

A reasonable way of viewing the relation of birds to the farmer is to consider them as servants, employed to destroy weeds and insects, for whom sufficient food and needed protection is generously provided. In the long run, no part of the capital invested in the farm or orchard is more certain to pay big interest than the small sum collected as toll by the birds that harbor near the premises. Deductions from the extensive investigations undertaken in response to numerous complaints concerning depredations by birds in orchards and vineyards on the Pacific coast, show that the food habits of the seventy species, whose stomach contents were under examination, indicate that but four species common in California can be regarded as of doubtful utility. These are the linnet, California jay, stellar jay, and red-breasted sapsucker. Therefore, when all the known methods of protecting fruit have been exhausted, or can not be profitably employed, a reasonable reduction of the numbers of these offending birds is permissible; but the more the food habits of birds are studied, the more evident is the fact that with a normal distribution of species and a fair supply of natural food, the damage to agricultural products by birds is small as compared with the benefit.

CARING FOR MILK PROPERLY

Crusade Against House Fly One of Best Moves in Recent Years in Sanitary Matters.

P. M. Harwood, of the dairy bureau, United States department of agriculture, pointed out that the producer and dealer are well informed about the rules of cleanliness and are compelled by law to conform to them in the handling of milk, but the consumer has much to learn in this respect. He said that the crusade against the house fly is one of the best moves of recent years in sanitary matters because the fly is dirty and contaminates the milk unless there is proper care, and as a general rule the housekeeper is not aware of the danger from flies. Nine rules for the care of milk were suggested, as follows:

1. Take in milk and cream as soon as possible after being left at your door and place in the refrigerator.
2. Keep milk and cream cold until ready for use. The bottom of the refrigerator is colder than the ice container.
3. If ice cannot be had, wrap the bottle in a wet cloth and stand it in a dish of water by an open window, out of the sun; evaporation of the water will cool the milk.
4. Keep milk or cream covered until wanted, and in the bottle in which it is delivered; in open bowls or pitchers they will absorb odors from food and collect flies and dust.
5. Pour from the bottle only what milk or cream is needed for immediate use.
6. Milk or cream that has become warm should never be poured back into the bottle of cold milk.
7. Utensils used for milk should be cleansed with cold water and then with boiling water, thoroughly drained and allowed to become cold before being filled with milk.
8. Wash and return all milk or cream bottles daily.
9. Have a separate quart of milk for the baby; what he does not use others may have.

The Hardy Goat.

The goat, because of its hardy nature, is less liable to tuberculosis than the cow. It utilizes food better, and gives more milk, considering its bodily weight. Goats prefer hilly ground, and do not do well on low, swampy ground. They need protection against cold rains and should be well housed.

Winter Cuttings.

It is too early to make cuttings of flowers for winter blooming in the window garden.

First Woman—A smart woman can fool a man all his life. Second Woman—And a smart man can only fool a woman until she finds it out. In the Desert. Here is a glimpse of the horrors of a western desert taken from the Goldfield (Nev.) News: "Another desert victim is reported, and Archie Campbell, manager of the Last Chance mining property, near Death valley, came to Goldfield yesterday to endeavor to establish the identity of the unfortunate. "Mr. Campbell encountered the unknown man on the desert in a frightful condition. He was in the last stages of desert exhaustion, devoid of clothing, sunburned, blistered and crazed, with his tongue swollen enormously, a pitiable object, and unable to speak. "He was tenderly conveyed to camp but kind aid came too late, for an hour after he had absorbed the first cup of water he expired. Quaint Table Manners. Jerome S. McWade, the Duluth millionaire, talked at a dinner about the delights of a backwoods vacation. "I go to a quaint backwoods village every summer," he said, "and numberless are the quaint people I meet there. "Old Boucher, for instance, the janitor of the village church, is most amusing with his quaint ways. I had old Boucher to lunch one day, and the cold lobster was served with a mayonnaise sauce. When my servant offered this sauce to Boucher, the old man stuck his knife in it, took up a little on the blade, tasted it, then shook his head and said: "Don't choose none."

And They Wondered!

Judge Nicholas Longworth, who used to sit on Ohio's supreme bench, looked unnaturally grave, and a neighbor, in recognition of his facial depression, named a pet owl "Judge Longworth." It was the very next day that an excited maid broke up his wife's garden party. "Oh, madam," said she. "Madam! Judge Longworth has laid an egg."

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled with falling and inflammation, and the doctors said I could not get well unless I had an operation. I knew I could not stand the strain of one, so I wrote to you sometime ago about my health and you told me what to do. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am to-day a well woman."—Mrs. WILLIAM ARRENS, 988 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Doll House Library.

A search for a child's short story, "The Griffin and the Minor Canon," in a volume all by itself revealed to a persistent city shopper the thought and money that are expended on the furnishing of dolls' houses. Book stores had not the story in a single volume, but in a department store one young woman interviewed had recently been transferred from the toy department and was able to contribute a helpful hint.

"I think," she said, "you can find it in one of the dolls' houses downstairs." Curiosity had by that time become a sauce to literature, so the shopper hurried downstairs to inspect the doll houses. Three of the most expensive houses contained libraries consisting of a score of diminutive books and each book contained a child's story complete. One of them was "The Griffin and the Minor Canon."

Another Tradition Exploded.

Two Englishmen were resting at the "Red Horse Inn" at Stratford-on-Avon. One of them discovered a print picturing a low tumbling building underneath which was printed: "The House in Which Shakespeare Was Born." Turning to his friend in mild surprise he pointed to the print. His friend exhibited equal surprise, and called a waiter, who assured them of the accuracy of the inscription.

"Pon my word," said the observing Englishman, shaking his head dubiously, "I thought he was born in a manger!"—Success Magazine.

One Side Enough.

Senator William Alden Smith tells of an Irish justice of the peace out in Michigan. In a trial the evidence was all in and the plaintiff's attorney had made a long and very eloquent argument, when the lawyer acting for the defense arose.

"What are you doing?" asked the justice, as the lawyer began.

"Going to present our side of the case."

"I don't want to hear both sides argued. It has a tendency to confuse the court."—Washingtonian.

"The Memory Lingers"

POSTUM CEREAL CO., Ltd.
Battle Creek, Mich.

And then the fire chief came in with a grievance, and the head of the department of water, gas and electricity and other officials. So the whole day passed, and so does the whole year pass for the mayor of Skyscraper City.

"A strange sort of place indeed, this city," you will say. "Where is it?" Skyscraper City, to enlighten you, is a ubiquitous community located in every part of the United States where land has become so valuable that, instead of capitalists building over a large area, and straight toward the clouds. In plain words, it is none other than the great modern skyscraper, with its population as great, in many cases, as that of a third class municipality.

"But the mayor," you will say. "Who ever heard of a mayor of a building?" Yes, the mayor. You have heard of a superintendent of a building, and if the superintendent of a skyscraper housing from five to twelve thousand people has not as much right to the title of mayor as the chief executive of a community of, say one thousand, spread along a couple of streets, where the city limits are marked out by fence rails and stone walls, then the United States is not a democratic country.

Building operations can't go on with the spirit of emulation that now holds between contractors without the Skyscraper City of a few years hence being in sore need of a real municipal administration, with a mayor, aldermen and all the other public servants that make annual elections necessary. It has them all now under different names.

There are, for instance, the members of the health department, which sanitary body consists of a corps of able bodied women, equipped with mops and pails and compelling voices. That corps of women alone is sufficient to suggest an analogy between Skyscraper City and a representative American municipality, and should give the former a lasting right to the name of a thriving city.

Policemen on Patrol.

Then there are the members of the police department, whose main duty in the suppression of criminality is to see that no one walks off with any part of the building or its contents. These are the watchmen, who patrol continuously night and day, and the main differences between them and the police of your recognized city are that they are paid less and are, perhaps, not subject to periodical charges of graft. Nor do they have to parade for composed of the electricians and as who stand out in the sun, doffing their hats and smiling approvingly, the while patting each other on the back in appreciation of the department they have developed.

What more heroic and picturesque body is there than the fire department, with its red shirted or blue-shirted, or any other color shirted, men, ready and eager to grapple with flames or anything else, under any conditions and at every moment? In Skyscraper City the fire department consists of an efficient band of men as well trained as the firemen of a large municipality and equipped with all the latest devices for combating flames.

And there is the department of water, gas and electricity, the latter composed of the electricians and assistants in the engine room. These large buildings do not depend upon outside sources for their electricity. They have thoroughly equipped plants for manufacturing their own. As far as the water department is concerned, one New York skyscraper has a pumping station that is capable of supplying sufficient water to furnish a city of 350,000 people.

Now here is where the similarity between the skyscraper and the recognized city is made strongly apparent. Skyscraper City often has within its boundaries establishments which can supply every need of a hungry, thirsty, dirty, naked citizen.

No need to die of starvation were you to be confined for life in Skyscraper City while its restaurants are able to get a dinner together. Its cafe would banish all fear of longing for something to render the throat and stomach more comfortable without hope of receiving it. Its haberdashery and tailor could clothe you in the latest fashion; its shoe store would attend to the task of keeping your feet well shod. Its baths would be ever ready to open their arms to you. Your every want for things procurable only in a confectioner's shop would be filled, while you would merely have to go downstairs should you feel that your happiness might be enhanced by a fragrant cigar. The fruit stand is on the main floor, left.

Suddenly in the course of a busy afternoon the confectionery which you might have bought at Skyscraper City's progressive shop might cause some restlessness on the part of your teeth. You merely have to go to 12th street, which is Skyscraper City's twelfth floor, and have the trouble remedied by the dentist. Or perhaps some fruit from the stand below might result in a little disturbance in your interior mechanism; you will find a doctor on 8th street. An occasion might arise where you might require the services of a lawyer—a bad account or any of the many little things that simply will crop up in everyday life. Skyscraper City just swarms with these eminent practitioners. The law will always be sure of interpreters so long as Skyscraper City rears upward.

Population Over 10,000.

All the stores in this "city" are located in Main street—nothing unusual for municipalities of its size. In one particular case this street is more than three hundred feet in length, and is traversed daily by thousands of people. More than twelve hundred residences are located in this "city," each being labelled on the front door with the name of the inhabitant and his business. These residences are specifically termed offices, and each one is visited a number of times during the day by the postman. Of course, it would take one postman a good many hours to cover the entire route of the "city." Consequently the streets are divided into territories, so Skyscraper City may be said to have its own postoffice department. In this particular "city" one street is inhabited by more than seven hundred people. This "city" has forty-one streets, the entire population being more than ten thousand.

There is one thing in this same city of which the inhabitants may well be proud. It is the transportation system. It consists of twenty-three elevators, the combined capacity being about ten thousand people an hour. Transportation in these cases is both quick and safe. There is no mortality in connection with this transit system. An elevator in one of the latest of New York's skyscraper municipalities travels 548 feet into the air, all the way up to the fortieth street, and this without the inconvenience of changing cars, which is more than can be said of New York City's car lines at times. These elevators can carry twenty-five hundred pounds at a speed of six hundred feet a minute, which means rising with some rapidity.

Again, in the method of summoning the fire department or the police department the similitude between a municipality and Skyscraper City is maintained. In the big cities, when a policeman is desirous of bringing about a meeting between some recreant citizens and the judge at the court he summons an appropriate conveyance by ringing up headquarters from a little box on the corner. The fire department may be required, and it is similarly called. In one Skyscraper City in Chicago there is a system of signals, possible of operation from any part of the premises, which permits of an official getting in touch with his subordinates at any instant. And so far as the postal department is concerned, there is the letter chute, running to every floor, which might be said to correspond to the letter boxes installed at various points throughout American cities.

So the immense building operations of the times are surrounding residents of real cities with these twentieth century municipalities, with all the officers and laws, in different form, of a regularly chartered city. There is nothing missing, not even the facilities for traveling home from work, without leaving the confines of the buildings, for some of these skyscrapers have private entrances to subway and elevated lines. And all must not necessarily be work here any more than in any other city. If the inhabitants of this modern institution wish to take recreation some Skyscraper cities afford an opportunity by having palm gardens laid out on the roof.

A Bernhardt Trick.

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, who is supposed to be something of an artist as well as an actress, was recently called upon in one of her marvelous creations to enact the role of a sculptor, and to model a certain bust in view of the audience. This fairly electrified the critics, but when going into rhapsodies over the technical skill in handling the clay which Mme. Bernhardt exhibited they showed that they knew little of the artistic tricks of actors and actresses; as a matter of fact, she does nothing of the kind. The bust is modeled and baked, and over it is placed damp clay of the same color. This the talented actress merely pulls off, exposing the beautifully modeled head underneath.

Woman's Power Over Man

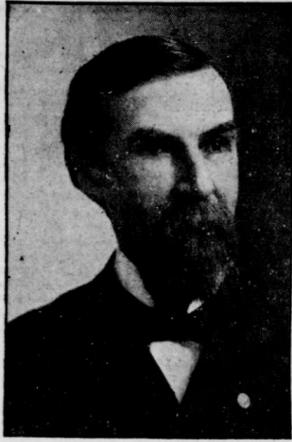

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

SAMUEL A. COOK
For United States Senator.

It is doubtful if any one has done more to advance the dairy interests of Wisconsin than Samuel A. Cook. Mr. Cook is the father of the Filled Cheese Law, which has meant millions to the dairy interests of Wisconsin. He is the originator of the pure seed bill, the influence of which brought a reform in the methods of certain seedsmen. As assemblyman and as member of congress he was constant in his work for the farmer and dairyman, and since leaving congress his efforts have continued unabated. He has been a strong helper in the work for better agriculture and has done much to aid the agricultural department of the federal government and the agricultural college of the state. Many a young man striving to make a record as a butter-maker remembers the handsome chairs offered by Mr. Cook as premiums at the contests of the Buttermakers association.

It is within the power of the farmers and dairymen of Wisconsin to select the next United States Senator from this state. It is to their interests to select a man who has proved his friendliness and his ability to do things for them as well as for all the state. Mr. Cook is such a man. Vote for him at the primaries, September 6, and see that your neighbors do the same.

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Well Known Fond du Lac Attorney a Candidate for Congress. Has a Splendid Record.

Mr. Reilly was born in the town of Empire and secured his earlier education at the district school. He was graduated from the Oshkosh Normal, class of '89; the University of Wisconsin, college of letters, class of '94, and from the law department of the university, class of '95.

He made a splendid record as a student, and won exceptional laurels as an orator, being class orator at the Normal; one of the commencement orators at the university.

Mr. Reilly was district attorney for Fond du Lac county, two years; City Attorney, five years; delegate to the Democratic National convention at Denver, Col., in 1908 and is serving his sixth year as chairman of the Democratic city committee. He has practiced law in Fond du Lac for the past thirteen years, being senior member of the law firm of Reilly, Fellenz and Reilly. Both as a prosecutor and as counsel for the defense, as well as in civil actions, and in fact all branches of legal practice, Mr. Reilly has been signally successful, being especially effective in the summing up of evidence and in jury pleas.

Mr. Reilly's democracy is of the "dyed in the wool variety" and he will make the run for congress on no other platform than the plain tenets of that party. While still a student at the State university he took the stump in the campaigns of '90, '92 and '94, and in every campaign thereafter, has been active both as an orator and an organizer always fighting in the van guard without intent or expectation of material reward.

Both in private and public life, Mr. Reilly's career has been without a blemish. He is known as a lawyer of high standing; a citizen ready to do his duty as he saw it without fear or favor, and a man with both the ability and energy to carry out whatever he may undertake.—Daily Reporter, Fond du Lac, Wis., June 4, 1910.

WISCONSIN VOTERS

County Option is not a political question.

YOU CAN STAND OPPOSED TO THIS UN-AMERICAN ISSUE AND STILL BE A GOOD REPUBLICAN OR A GOOD DEMOCRAT.

Liberal-minded men, regardless of politics, are standing together against County Option, on the ground that it is a law that deprives citizens of their natural right of personal liberty—and robs them of the privilege of self-government.

TWO THINGS ARE SURE TO RESULT UNDER COUNTY OPTION—COUNTY PROHIBITION AND COUNTY RULE FOR TOWNS, VILLAGES AND CITIES.

Self-government is the only satisfactory system that gives the governed the regulation they individually want.

County Option takes the power of individual control away from those it would regulate.

RIGHT TO "THE SPOT"

If you want a beverage that strikes it every time; one that will pleasantly satisfy that still, small voice called "thirst," then drink

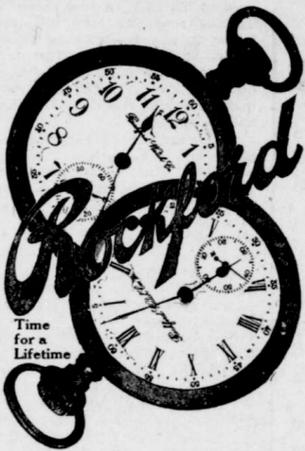

LITHIA BEER.

It not only quenches the thirst, but it puts color into the cheek, brightens the eye and revitalizes the blood; all of which means health and physical charm.

It's because Lithia beer contains nutrition, and tonic and digestive properties.

Brewed strictly in compliance with the national pure food law.
