To the Voters of the Sixth Congressional District.

Issues are as much the creation of the candidate as they are of the political platforms, and of the two perhaps the former is standard by which to julge the fit-ness of the candidate for public office. This is especially true at the present time, when mere party de-clarations are not sufficient. In In the present crisis, when the votaries of Special Privilege are making a desperate effort to retain their power, it is essential that the ocrs should know somethi personal convictions of those whom they are asked to vote. This is a time when none but the tried and true should be entrusted with the stewardship.

In the Sixth Congressional District there is little chance for a mis-take on the part of the voters. Both candidates for Congress have political records that are known to the voters, and these records reate the issue upon which the campaign must be foug out. The Democrats have nominated Mayor M. E. Burke of Beaver Dam, a pronounced progressive, whose progressive tendencies are not fashioned to the varying hour, but are deep rooted and of long standing and have characterized his public acts and public utterances for the twenty years that he has been a leader of Democratic thought in Dodge county. Mayor Burke needs no introduction to progressiv he is a pioneer in the moveme It is usually safe to judge a man by the company he keeps, and in politics this rule may be said to be infallible, and using this standard as a test there is nothing in the political record of the Republican candidate that gives a guar-antee of faithful service to the people in the event of his election to Congress. Mr. Froehlich has al-ways affiliated with the Stalwart wing of his party in this state and while of ins party in this state and while his views upon public quest-ions are unkown, it is fair, judging from his political association in the past, to class him as a stand-patter. Nearly four weeks have e-lapsed since the primary, yet Mr. Frochlich has not seen fit to take the public into his confidence by the public into his confidence by defining his position upon the tar-iff and other issues in which the public is deeply interested. Contrast his attitule of silen contempt for the voters with the candid, fearless attitude of Mayor Burke, who, weeks before the polmary, published throught the district a platform defining his position upon the leading public questions of the day. The public mind is thoroughly aroused at the present time and the voters have a right to know the position of their candidates. Mr. Voter, which candidate do you prefer? The one who takes you into his confidence, tells you what he stands for and what proposes to do, if elected; or the one who conceals his position heneath the cover of indifferent lence? It is for you to decide. And in making your decision you will not be able to advance the argiment of ignorance as to fitness. The candidates themselves, their past records, their political assoc-iations, public acts and utterances are all the evidence you need. CHANCE TAKERS.

A practical railway man, F. P. Roesch by name, and master mechanic of a southwestern railroad by occupation, advances a new reason for the many accidents on American railways. Mr. Roesch says it is summed up in two words-"chance takers." In a speech before the Railway Surgeons' association this western master mechanic declared that the only way to do away with railroad accidents is to eliminate the "chance takers," says Indianapolis Star. His position is well taken, and his terse description of a vital reason why railroads of this country kill so many people is rather startling. When one comes down to the only phase of railroad operation that so far has been beyond absolute control, Mr. Roesch says the element of human fallibility stands out as the billion-bushel crop by nearly 100,000,primary cause in 99 out of every 100 cases. SUPREME TRIBUNAL ENTERS UP-ON IMPORTANT TERM.

Tobacco Trust, Standard Oil Corporation Tax, and Other Cases of Great Significance.

Washington. - Owing to the illness and deaths of the members of the United States supreme court during the past two years that august body, when it reassembled Monday, iound the docket piled high with important cases which presaged a busy and important session.

Although the tobacco trust, Standard Oil, railroad and the corporation tax cases are regarded as the most important ones now before the Supreme bench, there are a number of other cases of considerable national significance. One of the latter is the original act of the state of Virginia against its next-door neighbor. West Virginia, in which several million dollars are involved as a result of the division of Virginia in its original state. The suit consists of an attempt to compel West Virginia to shoulder part of the debt that existed in Virginia at the time of the division. There are two peonage cases appealed by the state of Florida; the appeal of a number of railroads in the western territory in the suit brought by them against the railroad commission of Missouri; three criminal cases brought by the United States on account of alleged violations of the pure foods and drug act; the appeal of the United States from the United States circuit court for eastern Missouri in its suit against the Western Terminal association of St. Louis, which is known as the Eads bridge monopoly case; and the libel suit of the United States against the Press Publishing company of New York which grew out of articles printed in the New York World about Theodore Roosevvelt who was then president; William Nel- SEVEN TOWNS OFF THE MAP son Cromwell and others in connection with the sale of the Panama

The tobacco trust and Standard Oil cases are to be reargued and the clerk of the court has placed them on the docket for November without any definite date. In each of these cases the government has assumed the role of "trust buster," because of its attempt to dissolve what is deems a trust operating in violation of the

Moreover, it is possible that additional testimony will be heard.

This will depend in part upon whether Representative Robert E. Wilson, now in hiding, is found by the deputy United States marshals, who have been hunting for him to serve him with a subpoena.

Chairman Burrows made plain that he was regarded as a highly desirable witness, whose absence at this time suggested special reasons for securing his presence and testimony.

Speaker Edward D. Shurtleff was slated one of the last witnesses heard. Mr. Shurtleff denied paying or receiving money "or other valuable thing" in consideration of voting for Lorimer. Most of his testimony was devoted to apportioning the house legislators into factional groups.

Up to the last moment there was uncertainty as to whether Senator Lorimer would be a witness, but he

WHY NEW ORLEANS

CITY IS LOGICAL POINT FOR WORLD'S PANAMA EXPOSITION.

Its Geographical Position and Many Other Considerations Mark It as Most Suitable Spot for Dedication of Great Work.

Public sentiment has decided that the completion of the Panama Canal in 1915 shall be celebrated with a great International Exposition in which all the nations of the world may participate; and the question of where this Exposition is to be held will be settled by Congress at its approaching session.

New Orleans and San Francisco are contesting for the honor of holding this Exposition, and both cities have guaranteed immense sums of money as an evidence of their ability to finance so great an enterprise.

An Exposition worthy of the term 'World's Fair," such as New Orleans proposes to build, will be a great, edncational movement. Its success as such, however, will depend entirely upon the percentage of our population who can secure its educational advantages, this in turn, depends upon its location, as the time in traveling to and from the Exposition, and the cost in railroad and Pullman fares, are the most important factors.

Considering these matters, New Orleans' claims to being the "Logical 'Point" for this Panama Exposition, seem to be fully substantiated by the following facts:-

New Orleans is 500 miles from the center of population in the United States. San Francisco is 2,500 miles distant therefrom.

Within a radius of 500 miles from New Orleans there are 17,500,000 people. Within the same radius from San Francisco there are only 2,000,000. Within a radius of 1,000 miles from New Orleans, there are 65,000,000. Within the same radius from San Francisco there are only 6,000,000.

At an average of 900 miles from New Orleans, there are 70 of our principal cities with a combined population of 20,000,000. Averaging 900 miles from San Francisco there are only 8 large cities, with a combined population of just 1,000,000. The average distance of all these cities to New Orleans is 792 miles,to San Francisco 2,407 miles.

Over 75 per cent. of the people of the United States could go to an Exposition there at an average expense for railroad fare of $12.50. as against an average of $37.50 to the Pacific Coast; and for several millions of our people, the Pullman fare and Dining Car expenses alone, for a trip to San Francisco, would amount to more than all their transportation expenses for a trip to New Orleans.

This is an important public question to be settled by Congress at the session which convenes in December. Many of our readers will wish to visit this World's Panama Exposition, and if held in New Orleans a great many more could spare the time and money for the trip than could go to San Francisco. Therefore, we urge our readers to write to the two senators from this State and the congressman from this district. requesting them to support New Orleans in the contest.

Simple Expedient.

SYNOPSIS.

Lawrence Blakeley, lawyer, goes to Pittsburg with the forged notes in the Bronson case to get the deposition of John Gilmore, millionaire. In the latter's house he is attracted by the picture of a girl whom Gilmore explains is his granddaughter, Alison West. He says her father is a rascal and a friend of the forger. A lady requests Blakeley to buy her a Pullman ticket. He gives her lower eleven and retains lower ten. He finds a man in a drunken stupor in lower ten and goes to bed in lower nine. He awakens in lower seven and finds that his bag and clothes are missing. The man in lower ten is found murdered. His name, it develops, is Simon Harrington. The man who disappeared with Blake-ley's clothes is suspected. Blakeley be-comes interested in a girl in blue. Circumstantial evidence places Blakeley un-der suspicion of murder. The train is wrecked. Blakeley is rescued from the burning car by the girl in blue. His arm is broken. Together they go to the Car-ter farm for breakfast. The girl proves to be Allson West, his partner's sweet-heart. Alison's peculiar actions mystify the lawyer. She drops her gold bag and Blakeley, unpotied nuis it in his packet Blakeley, unnoticed, puts it in his pocket. Me returns home and learns from his sandlady of strange kappenings.

"Is she talking still? or again?" he Asked, just before the door closed. There was a second's indecision with the knob, then, judging discretion the better part, Mrs. Klopton went away.

"Now, then," McKnight said, settling himself in a chair beside the bed, "spit it out. Not the wreck-I know all I want about that. But the theft. I can tell you beforehand that it was a woman.'

I had crawled painfully out of bed, and was in the act of pouring the eggnog down the pipe of the washstand. I paused, with the glass in the air.

"A woman!" I repeated, startled. "What makes you think that?"

"You don't know the first principles of a good detective yarn," he said scornfully. "Of course, it was the woman in the empty house next door. You said it was brass pipes, you will remember. Well-on with the dance; let joy be unconfined."

So-I told the story; I had told it so many times that day that I did it automatically. And I told about the girl with the bronze hair, and my suspicions. But I did not mention Alison West. McKnight listened to the end without interruption. When I had finished he drew a long breath.

"Well!" he said. "That's something of a mess, isn't it? If you can only prove your mild and childlike disposition, they couldn't hold you for the murder-which is a regular ten-twentthirt crime, anyhow. But the notesthat's different. "Of course," said McKnight confidently. "Unless you did it in your sleep. Look at the stains on his pillow, and the dirk stuck into it. And didn't he have the man Harrington's pocket-book?"

"But why did he go off without the money?" I persisted. "And where does the bronze-haired girl come in?" "Search me," McKnight retorted flippantly. "Inflammation of the imagination on your part."

"Then there is the piece of telegram. It said lower ten, car seven. It's extremely likely that she had it. That telegram was about me. Richey." putting out his cigarette against the sole of his shoe. CORPORATION NOT NEW IDEA

Long Known, Though Their Formation Was Not Popular Until About Fifty Years Ago.

The corporation in business is no modern institution. The Romans formed ecclesiastical corporations, and the idea was carried to England. where the instrument which created the corporation was originally granted by the king. Later it was granted by acts of parliament, a separate charter act for each charter.

In America the state constitutions require that in all possible cases the legislative body pass general acts whereby, by simply filing a prescribed instrument, persons may form a corporation without applying to the legislature for permission. The state creates the corporation, which possesses powers only such as the state permits.

The Dutch East India company, or ganized in 1602, was the first great joint stock company whose shares were bought and sold. The first record of a corporation in America was in the colonial times, when the colony of Connecticut in 1731 chartered the London Society for Trade and Commerce. In 1795 the Connecticut Land company was organized and dissolved in 1809.

The formation of corporations was not popular until the middle of the nineteenth century; in fact, but few were organized until fifty years ago. The modern corporation having stock and stockholders came into general prominence since the days of Blackstone and Kent and can only be governed by modern laws. Today the corporation is an absolutely necessary form of business organization, and its use is constantly increasing and extending. There are but two forms of business combinations available for the ease the food market, which is alconduct of a commercial enterprise. namely, partnership and a corporation. The one is easily entered into and as easily dissolved; the other is formal and permanent. - National Magazine.

She Bored Him.

The opening day of the exposition brought many street beggars to the city. At the corner of the Federal building sat an old man blind and minus one leg. While the parade was passing a sympathetic lady stopped and gazed at him in pity.

Finally she approached him and began usking him questions. She asked him if he were married, how many children he had, where he had worked last, how he had met with the accident that had incapacitated him for work, and a thousand other questtions.

Finally the unfortunate one became peevish. "Madam," he exclaimed, harshly, "you may think this is an information bureau. It is not: it is a collecting agency."-Cincinnati Com. mercial Tribune.

Government to Rush Food Supplies to Famishing Paris Down River and Requisitions Boats. Americans are Victims.

Paris-The strike of the railroad men, which threatens to spread throughout France, was denounced by Premier Briand as "an insurrection built upon criminal foundations."

The premier said the strike was called while negotiations were going on through himself and the minister of public works for an adjustment of grievances, and he promised that the instigators of the strike would be criminally prosecuted.

The Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean and Orleans railroad men voted to strike, as also did the employes of the Paris subway, who deem this a good opportunity to obtain satisfaction on a number of demands for which they have been agitating for some time past.

The River Seine, which in January threatened to destroy Paris, now looms up in the role of savior. The government has made arrange ments to rush food supplies to Paris by the sea, requisitioning all tugs, boats and barges to meet the crisis brought about by the stoppage of the railway service and ready hard hit.

The employes of the Eastern and the Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean railroads have not yet responded to the call to strike, and the government's weapon of mobilization has induced some of those employed by the Northern road to return to their posts. Nevertheless the Northern and Western railroads are prostrated. The call to the colors has been ignored by the large majority, and at massmeetings held the strikers reiterated their determination not to respond to the call. Much destruction has been wrought on the Western system, where the strikers and their supporters have held up and derailed rains, blocked tracks, destroyed signals, ripped up rails and cut telephone and telegraph wires. The government has ordered the arrest of a score of the strike leaders and instructions have been issued to the troops to use severe measures wherver occasion requires.

Thousands of persons living in the suburbs, but who are employed in Paris, massed around the depots. These they found closed and silent, with soldiers' camps in front. Then, with true Parisian gayety. they laughingly set out to walk home, perhaps a distance of five or ten miles, or stormed the tramways, cabs, automobiles and other convey-

"Or to us." I put in.

We said nothing for a few minutes. McKnight smoked a cigarette and stared at a photograph of Candida over the mantel. Candida is the best pony for a heavy mount in seven states.

"I didn't go to Richmond," he observed finally. The remark followed my own thoughts so closely that I started. "Miss West is not home yet from Seal Harbor."

Receiving no response, he lapsed again into thoughtful silence. Mrs. Klopton came in just as the clock struck one, and made preparation for the night by putting a large gaudy comfortable into an arm chair in the dressing room, with a smaller, stiff-

We fell silent again, while Mc-Knight traced a rough outline of the berths on the white tablecover, and puzzled it out slowly. It was something like this:

RICH GOLD STRIKE MADE

New Field at Iditarod District to Produce $600,000 This Season Is the Prediction.

Seattle .- Writing to a friend here, M. L. Sullivan, who went from Fairbanks to the Iditarod district last spring, tells of rich finds in the new gold fields which have eclipsed even the Tanana strikes.

One Fairbanks operator, at the time the letter was written, had washed out $72,000 within a period of two weeks, and another was taking out $15,000 a week.

"The camp will produce $600,000 this season," the letter continues, 'and many expect to reap $5,000,-000 next spring."

Greek Cabinet Resigns.

Athens .--- The Greek cabinet, of which M. Dragoumis is premier, has resigned. The ministry was formed on Jan. 31.

The resignation was due both to the complications with Turkey and to internal dissensions. It is possible that M. Gryparis, Greek minister at Constantinople, will succeed Dragoumis.

Premier Dragoumis has been attacked bitterly, on the ground that he had failed to support the dignity of the country against Turkish aggression.

Chief Justice Steele Dead.

Denver .--- Chief Justice Robert W. Steele of the Colorado supreme court died as a result of a stroke of apoplexy suffered three weeks ago.

He was born fifty-three years ago in Lebanon, O., and had been on the supreme bench for ten years. His death creates considerable confusion in the political situation, as he was renominated for justice of the supreme court by the Democrats a few days before he was stricken, and was considered a tower of strength to the ticket.

The Question Argued by Messrs Jackson and Corrigan for State Committe and by Olin for the Claimant.

Madison .- A case, the determination of which by the supreme court of Wisconsin will undoubtedly establish a rule of law for this country, that of Bancroft, plaintiff, against Frear, secretary of state, was argued in that court. It arises out of the situation following the death and subsequent selection of Frank T. Tucker at the recent primary election as Republican candidate for attorney general, and the contest of Levi H. Bancroft who seeks to have his name placed on the ballot as the nominee of the party.

There were three candidates before the primary election seeking the nomination, Levi H. Bancroft, Frank Tucker and H. A. Gunderson. Tucker died before the election, but when the votes were counted it was found that he had received more votes than either of the others, the vote being as follows: Tucker, 63,-482; Bancroft, 58,196; Gunderson, 47.187.

It was held by the Republican state central committee when it came to consider the matter that there was a vacancy, arising out of the death of Tucker, that event having occurred after the ballots were printed but prior to the election, and at the platform convention it was voted that the name of C. H. Crownhart of Superice be placed upon the ballot as the party candidate for that office in place of that of Tucker, and at a meeting of the state central committee it was so determined upon the theory that that committee had the power to fill the vacancy.

Judge Bancroft thus brought the present action, on a mandamus proceeding, in the supreme court to compel Secretary of State Frear to certify his name as such candidate and place it upon the ballot.

The arguments in the case have been heard, John M. Olin representing Bancroft, and Deputy Attorney General Russell Jackson and W. D. Corrigan of Milwaukee representing the state.

It is said that there is not a parallel case in the books, and therefore the judicial determination of the case is awaited with especial in-

The dormitory rooms will be capable of accommodating 100 persons. In addition to these, there will be the usual rooms for laundry and kitchen, parlors and living rooms for the resident professor and matron, a large lobby, a recreation room, reception room, reading and writing rooms, an assembly hall capable of seating 300 persons, a dining room with a seating capacity of 150 persons and a cafeteria attached capable of seating that many more. There will also be the rooms set aside for the Y. M. C. A., and other religious activities, this building to be made the headquarters for religious and social activities of the college. The structure will be of stone construction, three stories high, exclusive of basement and spacious attic, which also will be utilized, and is being erected on the extreme west-ern boundary of the Lawrence campus overlooking the remaining college buildings and campus. It will fill a long-felt want at Lawrence college and will add very materially to the institution's equipment.

Station House at Middle Inlet Demolished and Railway Track

LOGGING TRAIN WRECKED

Torn Up.

Wausaukee .--- One man was killed and several others were badly injured when a stake on a logging train broke, wrecking the train and damaging the depot at Middle Inlet. The dead man is William Schmelling, who with his brother was on his way to spend Sunday with his parents at Peshtigo Point. Conductor John Graham of Menominee had his arm broken and Brakeman J. A. Kehoe of Peshtigo suffered a fractured jaw.

The train was passing the station when the breaking of the stake permitted a heavy log to fall so that one end struck the station and the other crashed into the caboose like a battering ram, striking Schmelling and mashing his head to a jelly. The station was demolished.

The train was running about sixty miles an hour and the logs as they fell off and dragged along smashed box cars and plowed up the ground for a half-mile.

CEDAR FALLS DAM

AFTER NOV. 15 WILL SUPPLY POWER TO MENOMONEE AND CHIPPEWA VALLEY.

TOTAL COST ABOUT $500.000

Will Develop About 15,000 Horsepower and Will Back Red Cedar River Into Lake Fourteen

Miles Long.

Menomonie .- The big dam in the Red Cedar river at Cedar Falls, this county, begun March 1, will be completed in a short time.

This dam is one of the finest concrete dams in northwestern Wisconsin and consists of two immense buttresses, connected by decking and apron, giving absolute control of the quantity of water passing over the dam, and a strength of construction adequate to the requirements.

At the point where the dam spans the Red Cedar river, it is 550 feet wide, both shores being high and one side a solid wall of rock. On the other side it will be necessary to strengthen the bank by the use of masonry, a work which is now in progress. The dam will carry a fifty-foot head of water, and will develop about 15,000-horse power, which will be used in generating electric power. Bridges above Cedar Falls are being raised, to place them above the new water level, soon to be established. The basin to be flooded extends back a distance of fourteen miles, to the village of Colfax, and will form a large lake. Incidentally, it will effect the obliteration of Lamb's Creek Falls, one of the most picturesque of Dunn county's many scenic spots, and the favorite resort of Menomonie picnic parties. The cost of the dam alone will amount to upwards of $200,000; and the whole enterprise, including dam, embankment, power house, machinerv and other details, will represent an outlay of half a million dollars.

Purpose of the New University of Wisconsin Institute of Municipal Service.

Madison .- Helping the masses to lift themselves into the classes, is the novel work being undertaken by the University of Wisconsin through the new institute of municipal and social service, which begins its work the latter part of October.

The congested, unsanitary areas of Milwaukee and other large cities of the state, with their thousands of ignorant and vicious inhabitants, the reformatories and the charitable institutions will furnish the field for endeavor. The objects of the institute are to lift the multitudes of incompetents to a higher level, to enable them to earn their own living and thus relieve the state of part of its burden. The means by which these objects are hoped to be accomplished is through the training of competent, enthusiastic men and women, who will take charge of the social settlement work, reformatories, and charitable institutions, and apply the principles of scientific philanthropy to the conduct of these affairs.

The institute will have two general courses, both to be given in Waukee, by experts in city planning and city government, and experienced directors of charitable institutions. The work will consist of lectures, conferences, observation visits to the homes of the unfit, and field work under the personal direction of Mrs. Anna Gerlin Spencer of the University of Wisconsin, and of the New York School of Philanthropy.

PASTOR A FOOTBALL COACH

The Rev. E. A. Foley, Formerly of Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., to Aid Menomonee Falls Team.

Menomonee Falls .--- The Methodist church of this city has a versatile pastor who believes in athletics. He has made an offer, which has been accepted, to act as coach for the village high school football team this fall. The pastor is the Rev. E. A. Folley, who was a former star in the Brown university team and for fifteen years a coach at Hammond university. When he entered the ministry he did not think it necessary to make his exit from the football field.

It is Mr. Folley's theory that he can do more good to the football players by going among them and aiding in the uplift of the sport than he can preaching sermons to them from his pulpit that they might not come to listen to.

Mr Folley was connected with the Milwaukee Young Men's Christian association for the year ending Sept. 1, 1910, as religious work sec retary.

TWO CONTRACTS AWARDED

Well to Remember That She is Ever a Model of Behavior to the Children.

It is hard for a young mother, who has not yet overcome the wayward tendencies of her own youthful nature. to realize the influence she exerts over her little one. She is constantly surrounded by critical imitators who copy her morals and manners.

As the mother is, so are her sons and daughters. If a family of children are blessed with an intelligent mother, who is dainty and refined in her manner, and does not consider it neo essary to be one woman in the draw ing room and an entirely different person in her everyday life, but who is s true mother and always a tender charming woman, she will invariably see her habits of speech and perfect manners repeated in her children. Great, rough men and noisy, busy boys will always tone down their voices and step quietly and try to be more mannerly when she stops to give them a kind word and a pleasant smile. For a true woman will never fail to say and do all the kind, pleasant things she can that will in any way help to lift up and cheer those whose lives are shaded with care and toil. The mother of today rules the world of tomorrow.

An Ohio man aged 70 married a girl aged 20, and deeded her 500 acres of land. Then she had plenty of grounds for divorce.

Managing a Husband.

Men are like children; they want managing, although you must never let them dream that you think so. No child likes to be ordered about, no man will endure coercion. But managing! It is an art so subtle, so elusive, that few women understand even the rudiments of it. Sisters mine, let us reason together, says Woman's Life. In every human being there is a spark of the divine; it is yours to fan that spark into a flame-that is managing a man-it is to get the very best out of him there is to have, and not two women in ten can do it.

Do not think that there is anything unworthy in managing a man-to bring out the best is a high vocation. Only let us see to it that we are worthy of it. There are women who have made angels of men, but at the cost of their own divinity. There is room for more than one unselfish person in a family.

no limit to the number of acres that may be purchased. The result is that big lumber corporations and real estate promoters have been almost the only buyers, because the average would-be settler cannot afford to pay cash. Upon his return from a trip through the state late in the summer, Mr. Dahl voiced his disgust with the present method of selling, and said he would seek to have a new law presed, copied somewhat after the Minnesota law. He further said he believed it would be better to limit the amount to be sold to any one purchaser.

The find, considered unusually important by scientific men, was made by Charles E. Brown, curator of the museum, connected with the state historical library, and Prof. A. B. Stout of the University of Wisconsin.

The two men have been excavat ing among Indian mounds in this vicinity for some time with success, but this is considered their greatest achievement. The skeletons were wrapped together and are well preserved. They are larger than those of Indians and differ in other particulars.

Beloit .- Mrs. Edward Bashford, who lives on a farm north of the city, killed a fine specimen of the silver fcx on her premises. The animal had been driven to her yard by her fox hound and it had jumped into a tree in its last effort to escape from the dog, when Mrs. Bashford got a shot gun and killed it. For several days it was known that the hounds in the neighborhood would tear along the road, and when Mrs. Bashford saw her fine bred dog on the chase she watched it. She found it at the base of a tree baying terrifically. Some Bright Remarks Worth Preserving, That Have Fallen From Childish Lips.

A little girl, after listening to the hymn, "In heaven there stands an ever open door," remarked that there must be two heavens, "'cause grandma'd never had any open door where she is." And a dear little country laddie, visiting a city Sunday school and hearing about the "many mansions" of the better land, later explained that they had been "studying all about 'Paradise Flats.'"

Ecclesiastical modes and matters frequently are puzzling to the little ones. A small Chicago citizen was taken to a fine church, where the music, windows, furnishings, and all accessories were as impressive as the buildling. The minister, living up to his enviable reputation as an orator, indulged in a brilliant rhetorical flight.

"I know," he declared, "who gilds the sun and silvers the stars and paints the flowers and tints the sky and lends to the rivers their beauty, to the ocean its glory, to the skies · their perfect light," and so on through long and effective periods. Finally came the interrogatory climax: "Who is it, my friends, who performs all these wonders? Who is it? Who?" From the front pew where the baby listener had been all eager attention came a shrill, disappointed pipe:

"You said you knew!"

ALL FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

Mother Tells Children's Plight .-Father States That He Surrendered Only at the Pleading of His Wife.

Hayward .- The defender of Cameron Dam and his family have at last surrendered and are in jail here. John F. Dietz, his wife and son Leslie are accused of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Oscar Harp. Warrants were issued following the recommendation of the coroner's jury to that effect.

After having viewed the Dietz premises and the body of Harp, the jury met with Coroner W. H. Noyes at the town hall here and rendered the verdict given above.

The evidence given by deputies tended to show that the fatal shot could not have been fired at Harp from any other point than the roof of the Dietz barn.

Dietz himself has stated that he ran to the barn during the battle, in them. the hope of drawing the fire from the cabin in which his family were huddled. He and his wife have stated that Leslie did not fire a shot during the battle, and Dietz said his wife did not handle a gun.

The news of the capture spread like like wildfire. Crowds gathered on every corner and the one topic of discussion was "Dietz."

Sheriff Madden gave his version of the affair as follows:

"Friday evening after Attorney General Gilbert and Mr. Munson, secretary to the governor, had argued and pleaded in vain with Dietz for hours to give up for the sake of his family, if not for himself, offering him all manner of inducements, in vain, Gilbert said to me. We have endeavored to induce Dietz to give up, but have been unsuccessful. He will not surrender to anything. The matter is in your hands;

do your duty. 'I then called the deputies together, twenty-seven Winter residents and three from Radisson, every one citizens of Sawyer county, many of them farmers living in the neighbor-hood of the Dietz home. We closed in on the house Friday evening late, assisted by the darkness, some of our men being within six rods of the cabin and outbuildings, behind some of Dietz' barricades. In fact, they were scattered thickly around the property. "At about 10 o'clock Leslie started off down the field toward the pasture where the cows were kept. On top of the hill two men were stationed, in a protection erected by Dietz, in the shape of a triangle built up out of rocks. They called out to Leslie:

'Throw up your hands! "He refused, and started running

She was closely guarded but not handcuffed, Sheriff Madden having ordered the manacles removed as soon as he noticed that his deputies had put the steel bracelets on her erms.

The wife of the Cameron dam defender told this version of the battle:

"We were not expecting an attack this morning," she began. "We had no idea that the deputies had crept so near us. It was without a thought of what was about to come upon us that I sent little Johnnie and Helen out after the cows, which had strayed over beyond the lumber pile They tripped out of the cabin without the slightest fear and I watched them cross the plank over the Thornapple dam below the house "When the children stayed too long I sent Leslie out after them. He went around the other way, over the hill, near the lumber pile. My God, he walked right into the trap which the deputies had set.

"I was in the yard and heard the shots come whizzing over the roof. I saw Leslie turn and start back toward the house. There was more shooting and he turned in among the lumber piles.

"I ran to the house and got inside where my husband was with his loaded guns. 'It has come, John,' cried. "They have come to kill us." "Get Leslie into the house,' was all he said. His teeth set down hard and I knew he was going to fight

"I was mightily afraid, but I went out on the porch and yelled to Leslie to come in, that they would kill him if he stayed where he was. "He got up from the lumber pile where he was hiding and walked to the house. They shot at him again and again, but my brave boy wouldn't run. It was a miracle that they all missed him.

"Then the little ones came into the clearing. I expected to see them shot down by the bloodthirsty crew that surrounded us. I thank God that the deputies had the heart to spare the little innocents.

"Then they began that awful shooting." Mrs. Dietz put her hand over her eyes for a moment as if to shut out the thought of the battle. When she looked up she asked with quivering lips

"What do you think of men, who spend all day shooting into a home where there is a defenseless woman and her children who have never harmed anyone?"

There was no answer and she went on with the story.

"Bullets seemed to come from every direction. They ripped through the windows and found beds in the walls and furniture. The thud of them as they struck the logs of the outer wall was like the patter of rain. "We all gathered in the living room, keeping carefully out of range of the windows. We pulled out the organ and a heavy bureau, the drawers of which were filled with sheets. We crouched behind this barr!cade most of the day. "Johnny trembled like a leaf and

Mrs. Briggs' Speech.

If brevity is the soul of wit, one of the wittiest speeches on record was made by a woman. Mrs. Briggs lived in the northern part of Indiana, a long distance from any village. Hearing that the Rev. Mr. Goodwin was to preach in a township some twenty miles distant, she resolved to be present, and as no other way offered, she walked the twenty miles.

The pastor heard of this and was so pleased at the appreciation which it showed that at the close of the sermon he mentioned the fact to the congregation, and called upon Mrs. Briggs to tell them how she came.

"But some of them," he added, "are a little too primitive. "I remember a story about the primitive town of Rockford. Rockford had a rough bathing establishment, with a shower bath. You stood in your bathhouse and pulled a rope and a deluge of cool water descended from the ceiling.

"Well, a lady visitor stood one day in her bathhouse, ready for the shower. She pulled the rope and braced herself, but no shower followed. She gave the rope another tug, when the gruff voice of the sailor proprietor of the establishment sounded from aloft. 'Stand a p'int more to the nor-east,

DAME NATURE HINTS When the Food is Not Suited.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food. The old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried various kinds of breakfast food, but they were all soft, starchy messes which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating.

"A friend persuaded me to quit the old coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice. I began using them three months ago.

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. "Grape-Nuts make a delicious as cell as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

WASTED A FORTUNE ON SKIN TROUBLE

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limbs, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there. I used all the medicines that I could see but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get really frightened. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost

"I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times, but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedies and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. Temporary Heat Quickly

Did you ever stop to think of the many ways in which a perfect oil heater is of value? If you want to sleep with your window open in winter, you can get sufficient heat from an oil heater while you undress at night, and then turn it off. Apply a match in the morning, when you get out of bed, and you have heat while you dress.

Those who have to eat an early breakfast before the stove is radiating heat can get immediate warmth from an oil heater, and then turn it off.

The girl who practices on the piano in a cold room in the morning can have warmth from an oil heater while she plays, and then turn it off.

The member of the family who has to walk the floor on a cold winter's night with a restless baby can get temporary heat with an oil heater, and then turn it off. The

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. Apply a match and it is im-mediately at work. It will burn for nine hours without refilling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. It has a damper top and a cool handle. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be quickly unscrewed for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, wellmade, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.
