BETWEEN THE TWO STRAWS

Small Boy Who Should Have Acted as a Cider Relay Station-Obtains His Own Supply.

"As a boy near Cape Cod I lived near an old cider mill," says a writer in the Metropolitan. "The hard old Yankee who owned this mill told theboys that if we would pick three barrels of seedling apples he would giveus all the cider we could suck through a straw.

"I have had ambitions in my day, but I do not recall any more hopeful than that 40-year-old one of putting a rye straw as middleman between my mouth and a cider tank, though I would not today permit cider on my farm.

"We picked the apples and delivered them, but the old Yankee droveus out of the mill and told us we must suck from the outside. We found a knothole in a board near the tank, and down in Uncle Daniel's grain field. was a rye straw of great length.

"We ran this through the knot hole, ook a long breath-and out came the old Yankee and caught us at it. He took three old rails and some boards and built a fence around that knot hole.

"I do not know so much about the modern boy, but down Cape Cod way 40 years ago we had to do things. The smallest boy crawled like a woodchuck inside that fence. He ran our long straw through the knot hole until the end dipped in the cider tank and he put the other end in one side of his mouth.

"Then he put another straw in the other side of his mouth and ran that out between the fence boards. It was a case of pull on the straw conected with the cider and push through the other with the rest of us on the outside struggling for a place at the straw.

"There was my first experience with a middleman, and I have lived to know that they are all alike. That boy's first ambition was to obtain this own supply of cider. He then lost interest in the job and forgot to send any along.

Male Fashions in 1850.

Male fashions of 60 years ago had ther discomforts besides long hair. frousers were tight and buttoned under the foot with broad straps. Every man who aspired to be well dressed wore his coat so high in the collar that the back of the hat rested on it. The fashion was so prevalent that, according to Sir Algernon West, "every hat had a crescent of cloth on the back of the brim to prevent the rubbing of the beaver, or imitation beaver, of which the hat was made, for silk hats were not then invented." And from the same authority we learn that "opera hats were unknown, and in the evening a folding chapeau bras was always carried under the arm. Nobody but an apothecary or a solicitor would have dreamed of leaving his hat in the hall of the house where he was calling for dinner."

Stark Corley, aged eleven years, of Elkins, W. Va., caught a big carp with a hook and line near Tyre Ford, not far from Elkins.

The boy baited the hook with corn grains and succeeded in enticing the BLAST IN MINE KILLS FIVE carp to take a bite, after which he worried it until it became exhausted and was landed without difficulty. The fish

TAFT REPLIES TO PINCHOT

President Gives Ex-Forester Permission to File Briefs in Connection With Alaska Claims.

Washington .- President Taft, responding to the request of Gifford Pinchos, former forester of the United States, and his brother, Amos Pinchot, for permission to submit a brief on the question of issuing patents in the Cunningham Alaskan coal land claims, has informed Mr. Pinchot that he may submit such a brief and advised him to send it to the executive office before December 1.

Mr. Pinchot is thus informed in a letter authorized by President Taft and written by the secretary to the president, Charles D. Norton, which was made public Tuesday. The letter is in reply to a recent communication to the president from Mr. Pinchot and his brother, expressing fear that the interio: department will recommend the patenting of the Cunningham claims.

MEAT PACKERS SCORE POINT

New Jersey Appeilate Court Rules Concerns Need Not Submit Book to Grand Jury.

Trenton, N. J .- The Chicago meat packers won an important point Monday in their defense against the prosecution now in progress in this state. The state court of errors and an.

peals reversed the decision of Supreme Court Justice Swayze directing the National Packing company and the other big packing concerns to produce their books before the Hudson county grand jury.

The evidence expected from these books, it is believed, was one of the main reliances of Prosecutor Garvin in making out a case against the beef men on the charge of conspiracy to control prices.

Another case against the packing concerns for the dissolution of the National Packing Company is now in the state supreme court.

Ways of Using Stale Cake. When the cake is in a loaf it is easy matter to steam it and make a good pudding sauce of eggs and sugar with a little milk and flavoring or a cooked sauce of half a cup of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of flour and the same of butter, half a cup of boiling water and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Cook until smooth and flavor with grated nutmeg.

All bits of cake may be worked over into the steamed brown bread, so that nothing need be wasted.

Sweet Fritters.

Take one and a half cupfuls of stale cake crumbs. Beat together one egg. one tablespoonful of sugar, one cup of flour sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder; add enough milk to make a thin batter and stir in the crumbs. Bake on a hot griddle as pancakes and serve with sirup.

Another nice dessert with cake may be prepared by laying slices of cake in a serving dish, pour over fruit juice of any desired flavor and fill the dish with a custard. Serve cold.

Economical Pudding.

Beat three eggs, add a cup of sugar and three cups of milk and flavoring. Add two cups of cake crumbs and bake in a slow oven one hour. A little breakfast cereal left over or a little cooked rice may be added to this pudding, and a few raisins, though these are not necessary.

A Few Hints.

When buying a box of laundry soap, which is a good way to do, take it from the box and pile it in a dry place where the air can circulate through it. Dry soap spends much better than green.

Turn the scrub brush bristles down when drying and the moisture will drain out rather than soak into the wood.

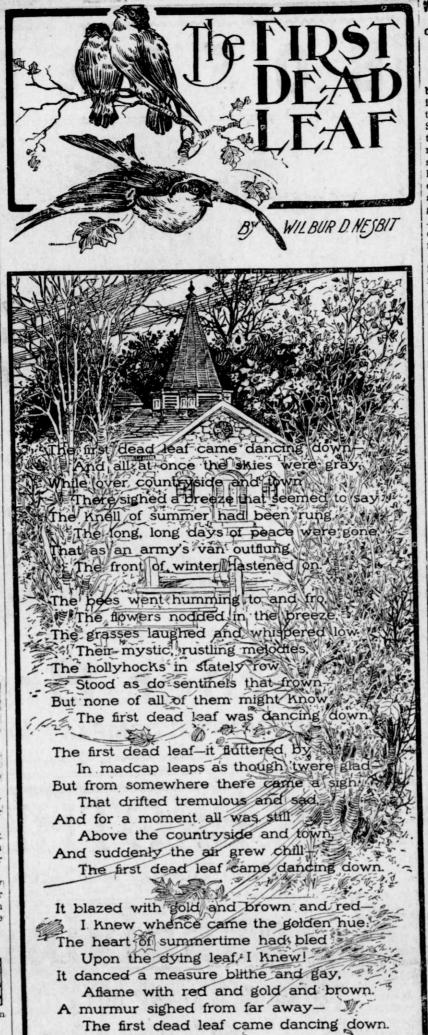

Velvet ribbons may be freshened by steaming over a wet cloth placed over a hot iron.

Hem the dishcloths to save the lint. which ragged edges make, and such cloths will be respected and better used.

A nice umbrella should be carefully dried before putting away, and never left rolled in its case for any length of time, as it is apt to crack in the folds.

Good Example of Scottish Humor in Remark Made by Railroad Porter.

Scottish humor is dry rather than boisterous, and I always think there is exquisite drollery in the story of the Stonehaven railway porter and the Salvation Army "captain." To catch the hang of a little yarn readers must remember that Stonehaven lies to the south of Aberdeen. The London train had drawn up at Stonehaven on account of a slight mishap a mile or two ahead, and Andra, the old porter, had got into conversation with a Salvation Army officer who had popped his head out of the compartment to ask the reason for the delay.

"Aye, aye," mused Andra, after giving the desired information, "ye'll be for Alberdeen, I'm thinkin'?"

"Yes, my man," was the reply; "I'm bound for Aberdeen—a very wicked place, I'm told!"

"What micht ye be goin' to dae there, sir, if it's as bad as a' that?" asked Andra, rather amused at the visitor's words.

"Ah," was the plous answer, "I'm cause the birthdays of his sister Adegoing to drive the devil out of Aberlaide and his baby brother were going

Looking After the Eggs. Lady Betty, who is 4 years old and never misses a trick, was taken the other evening to a restaurant for her supper, and with all the importance and sprightly dignity of her years calmly ordered poached eggs on toast. While the little family group was awaiting its service the "kiddie" amused herself by looking out of the window, pressing against a screen to get a closer view of something below. She was warned by her mother that the pereen might give way and let her fall >> the sidewalk, perhaps injuring her terribly. She drew away, thought a minute, and then said naively: "Would I fall if the screen went out? 'You certainly would," was her mother's reply. "And would I get awful hurted?" "Very likely." "Then what would the man do with the eggs?"

The Chafing Dish.

To the woman with many servants the chafing dish is a pleasant amusement, to the woman who has none it is a pleasant and practical change from the every day serving of things. Sunday night suppers are a delight, prepared from the chafing dish.

To make a success of the meal all the preparations should be carefully made before hand. The butter measured in a tablespoon and made into balls is then ready to use without measuring. The stock or milk may be measured and put into little pitchers. Have the salt, pepper and flour all in a group easy to find. If meat or fish is to be used let it be diced as it is to be served.

See that the lamp is filled and the utensils at hand before inviting out the guests. There are any number of dishes easy to serve from a chafing dish such as creamed eggs, poached, scrambled and omelets. Creamed sweetbreads, creamed mushrooms, oysters in a variety of ways, small birds, fish and chicken.

Good alcohol is expensive, but it does not burn away as fast as the wood alcohol and does not leave the burner covered with the sticky depos-X that the wood alcohol does.

A nice way is to serve a cocktail of fruit or a salad while the guests are waiting as you prepare the main dishes. Give each one something to do to help make the time an enjoyable one. Many like to prepare the dishes in the kitchen and simply keep them hot in the chafing dish while serving, but this takes away the pleasure of seeing the dishes made before the eyes, which is enjoyed by everybody.

A chafing dish may be an elaborate and expensive affair or one very simple and and just as useful.

Shoveling Snow

The time of the year is approaching ing and shoveling, the walks will be when the average man begins telling how he used to shovel paths through eight feet of snow at four o'clock on mornings when the thermometer registered so far below zero that the behind the horseblock, dear!" mercury rattled around in the bulb

That is the sort of man who will go out the first heavy snow and show his family how to clean the walks. He will have a nice new dollar snow shovel sent up from the store, and will begin operations by slipping and falling down the front steps. During his slide several bushels of snow will surreptitiously become inserted between his shirt and his undershirt. How in the name of time it gets there is a mystery as deep as the cause of the aurora borealls or the production of radium, but the fact remains that it gets there. The man will overlook it for the moment, however, and begin tossing great shovelfuls of snow to right and left, and he will be working like a steam plow when the old man who lives up street and who has a bad temper and rheumatism will happen along and get forty pounds of snow in the lace. After the ensuing argument the werage man will resume operations. By and by his back will begin to ache, his neck to be stiff and sore and his baby will be pounding the window pane with its sticky fingers and goo gooing gleefully.

At last, after years and years of liftcleaned, and the man will straighten up painfully and start to the back door when his wife will open the front door and cry: "You left a little bit of snow

Ah, yes, the old home stands today just as it did of yore, and oftentimes his thoughts will stray back to the big front door, and he will muse upon the times when he hailed it as home, ere he sojourned in foreign climes of beat across the foam.

With weary head upon his hands he'll dream about the lane, about the climbing rose whose strands tapped on the window pane; about the rambling little street that idled through the town where often have his boyis! feet in gladness hurried down.

He'll not go home this year, al though the old folks still are there, arms to feel numb as though they although the songs of long ago still had been paralyzed since he was ten echo free and fair; he'll eat Thanks years of age. #### A Touch of Family Life.

When the country youth proposed to the city girl, he received the conventional assurance that she would be his sister. It happened that this youth had sisters at home and knew exactly his privileges. So he kissed her. At this juncture she availed herself of the sisterly right to call out to father that brother was teasing her. Father responded in good, muscular earnest. Then the new brother-and-sister relation was dissolved by mutual consent. -Judge.

MORE THAN EVER Increased Capacity for Mental Labor Since Leaving Off Coffee.

Many former coffee drinkers who have mental work to perform, day after day, have found a better capacity and greater endurance by using Postum instead of ordinary coffee. An Illinois woman writes:

"I had drank coffee for about twenty years, and finally had what the doctor called 'coffee heart.' I was nervous and extremely despondent; had little mental or physical strength eft, h.d kidney trouble and constipation.

"The first noticeable benefit derived from the change from coffee to Postum was the natural action of the kidneys and bowels. In two weeks my heart action was greatly improved and my nerves steady.

"Then I became less despondent, and the desire to be active again showed proof of renewed physical and mental strength.

"I am steadily gaining in physical strength and brain power. I formerly did mental work and had to give it up on account of coffee, but since using Postum I am doing hard mental labor with less fatigue than ever before."

Quality-Service

These two words tell the whole story of our success. We've made this the leading store of its kind—a place where men can obtain clothes exactly to their liking. They like them when making their selection—like the way we wait upon them and like the clothes until they are threadbare. That means quality-intrinsic value in every purchase and lasting satisfaction. We never give a man an opportunity to even feel that he wants to trade elsewhere. The reason? Friend Made Clothes Make Friends.

SYNOPSIS.

SYNOPSIS. Lawrence Blakeley, lawyer, goes to Bronson case to get the deposition of John Gilmore, millionaire. In the latter's home he is attracted by a picture of a young girl, whom the millionaire explains is his granddaughter. A lady requests Blakeley to buy her a Pullman ticket. He fives her lower eleven and retains lower ten and retires in lower nine. He awa-kans in lower seven and finds his clothes and bag missing. The man in lower ten is found murdered. Circumstantial evi-dence points to both Blakeley and the unknown man who had exchanged clothes with him. Blakeley becomes interested in a girl in blue. The train is wrecked. Blakeley is rescued from the burning car by the girl in blue. His arm is broken. They go to the Carter place for break-his partner's sweetheart. Her peculiar actions mystify the lawyer. She drops pictures of the train surveillance. Moving pictures of the train taken just before the streak reveal to Blakeley a man leaping pictures of the train with his stolen give blakeley learns that a man named Sul-land sparaned from the train near M-mer at the Carter place.

CHAPTER XVII-Continued.

"Was the name Blakeley?" I asked. "It might have been-I can't say. But the man wasn't there, and there was a lot of noise. I couldn't hear well. Then in half an hour down came the other twin to say the gentleman was taking on awful and didn't want the message sent."

"He's gone, of course?"

"Yes. Limped down here in about three days and took the noon train for the city."

It seemed a certainty now that our man, having hurt himself somewhat in his jump, had stayed quietly in the farm house until he was able to travel. But, to be positive, we decided to visit the Carter place.

I gave the station agent a five-dollar bill, which he rolled up with a couple of others and stuck in his pocket. I turned as we got to a bend in the road, and he was looking curiously after us.

It was not until we had climbed the hill and turned onto the road to the Carter place that I realized where we were going. Although we approached it from another direction, I knew the farm house at once. It was the one where Alison West and I had breakfasted nine days before. With a new robe. restraint between us, I did not tell McKnight. I wondered afterward if he had suspected it. then, gradually, the meaning of some thing on it penetrated my mind. Still in its papers, evidently just opened, was a hat box, and protruding over the edge of the box was a streamer of vivid green ribbon.

On the plea that I wished to ask Mrs. Carter a few more questions, I let the others go on. I watched them down the flagstone walk; saw Mc-Knight stop and examine the gate posts and saw, too, the quick glance he threw back at the house. Then I turned to Mrs. Carter.

"I would like to speak to the young lady upstairs," I said. She threw up her hands with a quick gesture of surrender. "I've done all I could," she exclaimed. "She won't like it very well, but-she's in the room over the parlor."

I went eagerly up the ladder-like stairs, to the rag-carpeted hall. Two doors were open, showing interiors of four poster beds and high bureaus. The door of the room over the parlor was almost closed. I hesitated in the hallway; after all, what right had I to intrude on her? But she settled my difficulty by throwing open the door and facing me.

"I---I beg your pardon, Miss West,' I stammered. "It has just occurred to me that I am unpardonably rude. I saw the hat downstairs and I-I guessed-

"The hat!" she said. "I might have known. Does Richey know I am here?'

"I don't think so." I turned to go down the stairs again. Then I halted. "The fact is," I said, in an attempt at justification. "I'm in rather a mess these days, and I'm apt to do irresponsible things. It is not impossible that I shall be arrested, in a day or so, for the murder of Simon Harring-

She drew her breath in sharply. "Murder!" she echoed. "Then they have found you after all!"

"I don't regard it as anything more than-er-inconvenient," I lied. "They can't convict me, you know. Almost all the witnesses are dead.'

AMMONIA, SODA AND TURPEN. TINE GOOD CLEANING AGENTS.

Pour Hot Water and Ammonia Down a Greasy Sink-Bathing in Soda Will Reduce Temperature-Numerous Other Hints.

Ammonia, turpentine, soda and a couple of clean cloths do not sound much, but they are the thrifty housewife's good, reliable friends. If one washes cut glass and discolored silver with clean hot water and a little ammonia the change is wonderful. Pour hot water and ammonia down a greasy sink and at night cover the drain with either baking or washing soda. Throw washing soda in the basin of the toilet occasionally, whether you think it needs it or not.

Use ammonia lavishly in the scrub water, especially during house cleaning times, for paint, bed slats or stained windows; it makes them shine beautifully with little labor. Sweep carpets and matting thoroughly, then go over them with a soft cloth and a weak solution of ammonia water, and they will be much improved. Change the water frequently.

BABY WASTED TO SKELETON

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come out on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk.

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. I can sincerely say that only for Cuticura my child would have died. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment.

"In the front room. Walk in," quoted McKnight, and did so.

In the stuffy farm parlor two people were sitting. One, a pleasantfaced woman with a checked apron, rose, somewhat embarrassed, to meet us. She did not know me, and I was thankful. But our attention was riveted on a little man who was sitting before a table, writing busily. It was Hotchkiss!

He got up when he saw us, and had the grace to look uncomfortable.

"Such an interesting case," he said nervously, "I took the liberty-"

"Look here," said McKnight suddenly, "did you make any inquiries at the station?"

"A few," he confessed. "I went to the theater last night-I felt the need of a little relaxation-and the sight of a picture there, a cinematograph affair, started a new line of thought. Probably the same clew brought you gentlemen. I learned a good bit from the station agent."

The son-of-a-gun," said McKnight. "And you paid him, I suppose?" "I gave him five dollars," was the apologetic answer. Mrs. Carter, hearing sounds of strife in the yard, went out, and Hotchkiss folded up his papers.

"I think the identity of the man is established," he said. "What number this astute little man was going to mosquito netting, nailed on. The misof hat do you wear, Mr. Blakeley?"

"Seven and a quarter," I replied.

"Well, it's only piling up evidence," he said cheerfully. "On the night of the murder you wore gray silk underclothing, with the second button of the shirt missing. Your hat had 'L. B.' in gilt letters inside, and there was black sock."

"Hush," McKnight protested. "If Blakeley was wrecked, or robbed, or the crime."

"The numerous cases of kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected.

Stop loading your system with medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines-plain, common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

To cure Rheumatism you must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions you can do no better than take the following prescription: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often.

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

STRUCTURE RECENTLY OPENED OFFERS MANY UNUSUAL ADVANTAGES.

EARTH OR WOODEN FLOOR

Suitable for All "Outdoor Athletics" Under Cover-Two Large Wings Will Be Annexed Early in the Spring.

Ripon .- Work on the central structure of the new $90,000 Ripon college gymnasium is finished and students now are making use of the building. The two large wings, each a full equipped gymnasium in itself, will be built early in the spring.

Director of Athletics E. O. Stiehm has been making use of the dirt floor of the main structure for the last month, working the football squad there when the weather prohibited the use of Ingalls field.

The Ripon gymnasium is one of the most advanced in gymnasium architecture, and entirely different from any other such structure in the country. The central structure, equipped with a running track, built along modern speed lines, has Mother Earth for the floor. A removable wooden floor is being constructed which can be installed for basketball games when visiting teams protest against playing on dirt. This main section has shower baths and gallery, and can be used as an auditorium for college events.

It is in the wings that the most novel part of the structure will appear. The first floor of the men's section, on the north end, will be equipped for college club rooms, with lounging room and reception room. The director's office will be on this floor. On the second floor a full equipped gymnasium will be installed. The woman's section on the south end will be somewhat similar, having club rooms for the women and upper floor gymnasium.

Each of the wings will be 90 by 50 feet. The central building is 129 feet by 85 feet, making the structure complete 229 feet long. The indoor in-field can be used for baseball, basketball, tennis, track or any of the indoor or outdoor sports.

The gymnasium was formally opened by a college party, in which the men were entertained by the co-eds. The ernment. gymnasium was decorated with pen nants and lined with booths. The next meruing the track men were at work man rs using running shoes of the outdoor type, with long spikes; the tennis players had a net up in the center and were playing tennis, and in the afternoon several of the baseball squads were doing light batting practice and catching. MADE HIS APOLOGY AMPLE Irish Legislator Even Withdrew the Words That He Was About to Utter.

There is in congress a western representative of Celtic origin who has more than once "stirred up the animals" by his propensity to bait the opposition. On one occasion he rose to denounce the statements made in a speech that had been delivered by a member of the other party. His impetuosity led him to phrase his remarks rather strongly.

"Order, order!" sexclaimed the speaker, pounding with his gavel. Again, in a minute or two, did the son of Erin return to his charge of wilful misstatement. Again was he called to "order."

It was a critical moment. His colleagues, for motives of policy, did not wish him to be put out of the debate, so they hinted so by tugging vigorously at his coat tails.

Now, it's a very dangerous matter to trifle with the tails of an Irishman's coat, save in the cause of friendship. Nevertheless, the indignant yet goodnatured member recognized the command of his party and sat down after delivering this Parthian dart:

"I obey the ruling of the House, and beg to retract what I was about to observe!"

That one touch of Irish oratory took the whole House by storm .-- Lippincott's.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.-" Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."-Mrs. Ella E. Aikey, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my ills, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird. Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.
