OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

TO GROW BETTER POTATOES

The recent trip of the potato special train, together with the trips made last year, practically covers the great potato growing sections of the state, and the manner in which the growers took hold of the proposal to grow only the best of potatoes leaves little doubt that the state of Wisconsin is well on the road to a national reputation for quality production.

Prof. Milward, the secretary, is the man of the hour, and it is evident that the association made no mistake in electing J. W. Hicks as president. This association is doing the work that should have been started many years ago, and they appear to have bent upon making up at least some of the lost time.

In the future Wisconsin potatoes will have a reputation that will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to the growers—probably millions—each year. With the soil and climate that give the highest yield and quality and a reputation that commands the highest price, potato growing in Wisconsin will be doubly profitable.

HOW MUCH ALFA

ALFA THIS YEAR

The next few weeks will determine the question of how much alfalfa will be sown this year in Wisconsin. It is well that those who are interested in the welfare of agriculture in this state have persistently urged the matter of alfalfa extension during the past year, and it will be especially well if they do so still more persistently during the weeks intervening between now and the first of July.

However small the area planted to alfalfa, it should be started upon thousands of farms this spring—and it should be started right. A plot of a few square rods, properly started, will give the farmer the idea of how to handle the crop and supply the inoculated soil for the extension of the acreage. Perhaps a quarter of an acre for those who are in doubt of the conditions necessary to success will be about the right amount.

But something should be done with alfalfa, if not more than a square rod or two.

WHICH WILL BE THE BIGGEST CREAMERY?

The northern counties that for several years held the record of having the largest country creamery in the world are not pleased with having lost the record to West Salem last year. They are bent upon regaining the record.

Whatever the result it is apparent that the creamery that captures the record will give the farmer a proximate a thousand dollars per day—a handsome amount to be distributed to the farmers of the community. But what would the amount be if the farmers had but the best of cows and had the land planted to alfalfa which would enable them to materially increase the number of cows on the same acreage. Some think that this would double the incomes of the communities—a thousand dollars per day to single communities!

EXTENSION OF THE CANNING INDUSTRY

That the canning industry in Wisconsin will soon be greatly extended is evident. Heretofore this industry has principally been in the canning of peas. Now reports come from the northern counties that handsome returns are coming to the farmers from the bean crop when used for canning purposes. It has been determined that northern grown sweet corn is superior to that grown farther south and there are indications that the canning of corn will become much more common than in the past. Then there are other vegetables that attain their highest perfection in the northern Wisconsin counties and yield maximum returns. There is no good reason why the canning industry there should not spread to a wide variety of products.

WISCONSIN SUPREME IN SILOS

A recent publication by the United States department of agriculture shows that Wisconsin has the most silos of any state by a wide margin. It shows also that this state is building more silos than any other state.

The nearest competitors are Illinois and Iowa, and they are far in the rear. With the most silos and the greatest increase in alfalfa extension, the most cows and the best cows, there is no danger of competition in the dairy line.

SEED GRAIN FOR EXPOSITION

Milwaukee, Wis., April 25 Wisconsin pedigreed seed grains will be shown at the Panama exposition at San Francisco next year. The demand for Wisconsin seed grains is increasing steadily and sales now amount to several millions of dollars a year. Orders are renewed about every three or four months.

FOUND OLD SPANISH COIN

While excavating under the rear of the Beaumont Hotel, John Beucler dug up a silver coin which when cleaned proved to be a Spanish coin of the date of 1789. It was somewhat larger than a dollar. The face bears a bust of some ruler and the words "CAROLUS III—DEI GRATIA". The reverse has an elaborate coat of arms surrounded by the words "HISPAN ET IND. REX. M. 8. R. F. M." The Beaumont is on the site of the first tavern ever built in Waupun by Seymour Wilcox. The city's founder, near the old Indian trail from Green Bay to Milwaukee. It may be that the coin has lain there since it was dropped by some wayfarer of bygone generations.—Waupun Democrat.

UNDERWEAR POOR EXCUSE

Although he arrived in the city at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, having been subpoenaed as a witness in the case of the state vs. Olie O'Brien, charged with larceny, John Bastian, West Bend, did not appear in court when his name was called and as a result is now serving a 30 day jail sentence for contempt of court. Bastian claimed that his absence was due to the fact that he had accidentally thrown his underwear out of a window of a hotel and said that he could not appear in court without it. The sheriff was unable to find trace of the missing garments.—Pond du Lac Correspondent in Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

TRY IT AND SEE

How many persons do you know? A Chicago professor has declared that 600 is the largest number a man can know personally, carrying the names in his head. If you think the professor is wrong, just write down at your desk or table and write down the names of all the people you know, and who know you, in say five hours. Those who have the patience to try out their popularity with their own memories will find that the names will come to their mind thick and fast for the first hundred or so, but after that, if they think out one a minute they will be "going some."—Ex.

After the run is completed on beets they will be converted into refineries and operate on cane shipped into the state. Refining has been done in an experimental way long enough to assure success.—Record Herald.

HAPPENINGS OF 19 YEARS AGO

November 16, 1895

The express shipment of poultry from here this week amounted to over 24,000 pounds.

Three wagon loads of lumber from Myra, Wis., were manufactured into flooring and interior house finishings this week by Math Remmel.

Valentine Bingenheimer has added a new branch to his saddlery business. He is turning out some fine fur mittens, and everybody having furs of any kind can have a good pair of mittens made by him.

Johann Hirschbeck, a cousin of Sebastian Hirschbeck of West Bend, left his parents' home at 545 Seventh street in Milwaukee last Monday afternoon; and as he had not returned Tuesday morning, search was made and his body found in the morgue, whither it had been taken from Lake Michigan. He was employed at Schoenecker's shoe factory in the latter city and leaves a father and mother, three sisters and two brothers.

The 2,000 candle power arc light exhibited here last Monday has been approved by the Village Board. The board found it in that it will burn 200 hours without change of carbon; it is generally termed the "Manhattan arc light" and Keely & Smith of Milwaukee are sole agents for it.

The coroner's jury found that he fell off the front end of his wagon when in front of F. Backhaus' yard, 1 1/2 miles north of here, and that death resulted from his skull being crushed by one of the wheels of the wagon driven by him. The deceased was in a similar accident on the 24th of last May, which was caused by the breaking of a neckyoke while his horses were descending a hill; and he was so seriously injured that he died recently.

Last Tuesday, while some members of the family were on the way to Kewaskum to meet relatives, the back seat of their wagon fell to the ground with its occupants; and as a result, Mrs. taken Mrs. Ella Bruzewitz, had her left arm broken. Truly it seems that "misfortunes never come singly."

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Reformed church, Rev. C. Ruppert officiating. Interment was made in Union cemetery.—West Bend Pilot.

PRAYER OF THE KNOCKER

"Lord, please don't let the town grow. I've lived here for many years and during that time I've fought every improvement; I have knocked everything and everybody; no firm or individual has established a business here without my doing all I could to put them out of business. I've used every underhanded method known to the knocking fraternity to injure their business; I've lied about them and would have stolen from them if I had had the courage; I have done all I could to keep the town from growing; never spoken a good word for it, but instead I've knocked hard and often."

"It pains me, O Lord, to see that in spite of my knocking that this town is beginning to grow. Some day I fear I will be called to put down sidewalks in front of my property, and who knows but what I may have to help keep up the street that runs by my property. This, Lord would be more than I could bear. It would cost me money, and I could not afford to put out my money."

"Then, too, more people might come if the town begins to grow, which would cause me to lose some of my pull. I ask, the secret, to keep this town at a standstill, that I may be the chief knocker."—Exchange.

DOG SAVES MASTER

A shepherd dog saved the life of William Lloyd, a farmer residing five miles south of Eden, when the man was attacked by an enraged bull, which had escaped from an enclosure, knocked him down and trampled upon him. The dog went to his master's aid and succeeded in driving the bull back into the enclosure. Mr. Lloyd was badly cut and bruised.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

Although he was run over by an engine and seven cars, Otto Linton, aged 27 years, residing at Eden, and employed as a brakeman on the North Western road, escaped with a few bruises. Linton had been ordered by Conductor Lloyd Doolan of Fond du Lac to uncouple several cars in the yards at Janesville Sunday morning. Just as Linton uncoupled the cars he slipped and fell under the train. After the accident he was removed to the Janesville hospital and is suffering from the shock.

The Menomonee Falls man who went to Milwaukee with $20 in his pocket with which to purchase a suit of clothes, but instead fell into bad company in a saloon was drugged and robbed, furnishes another conclusive argument in favor of the "trade at home" idea. The man wound up in district court before Judge Page, who, in suspending sentence, advised him to "buy your goods at home town." Sound doctrine in all times and under all conditions.—Menomonee Falls News.

Emil Greenwald, son of Charles Greenwald, who lives about three miles north of Campbellsport, is believed to be in Vera Cruz. When his parents received their last letter from him he was stationed with the United States troops on the Mexican border, but as he has not written home for some time they are now convinced that he is in Mexico. He joined the United States army twenty-two years ago, enlisting at Fort Sheridan, Ill. He served in the Philippines and also in the Spanish-American war.

The big barn on the Jerry Riordan farm in the town of Herman was destroyed last Friday evening in a peculiar manner. The barn, taken from its foundation before it was demolished, thereby saving 100 head of cattle lodged in the basement.—Hartford Press.

The rural mail carriers throughout the country are rejoicing over their increase in salary which will go into effect July 1, 1914. After that date their compensation will be $1,200 a year. This salary may not be as attractive as one might imagine, for the reason that it is not all clear gain. The carrier has to support at least two horses and keep his vehicles in repair.—Port Washington Pilot.

The Wisconsin House owned by Jos. Herz, has been rented to the Jung Brewing Co., of Milwaukee to take effect July 1 for a period of three years. The Jung Brewing Co. will pay a rent of $1,000 a year to Mr. Herz for the hotel which includes the bowling alleys. Charles Rilling of Grafton will conduct the hotel for the Jung Brewing Co.—Cedarburg News.

The government is issuing a new series of stamps, which although intended principally for parcels post can be used on all mail matter. They are in denominations of seven, nine, twelve, twenty and twenty cents. John Drew of Pewaukee, last Tuesday received a setting of eggs by parcel post from Germany. Examination showed that the journey of over 4,000 miles by land and sea failed to jar them. The eggs are of the German Barred Rock variety, the first brought to this country.—Hartford Times.

About $100,000 will be expended on the public highways of Dodge county this year. The newly elected county board of supervisors met April 30 and it is very likely that an assistant was named for Mr. Klug, the highway commissioner.

PREVENTING OLD AGE

"A man is as old as he feels; a woman as old as she looks." Degenerative diseases are on the increase. Nowadays, children are living to be older but adults don't live so long. Hearts, kidneys, and arteries are degenerating. Why? Physicians know that syphilis, alcohol, tobacco and excessive eating are causes of hardened arteries. It is doubtful if (with the exception perhaps of tobacco) the above causes of old age are more common now than they were a century ago. Indeed, it would seem that appetites are better controlled nowadays. It is possible that infants are being reared whose normal life span is but 50 years instead of the biblical allotment of three score and ten. If babies are being saved to live 50 years, who were formerly doomed to die in infancy, a great gain has still been made. The American man of affairs is a strenuous animal. He works with an energy which has excited the wonder of the world. He plays as hard. He eats fast. When he drinks, he's apt to be after a quick drug effect. He has more nerves than muscle fibre. He worries. He is too busy to get much exercise. A hot fire eats up the coal and burns out the grate. What can be done about it? One after another commentator has advised us to let up in the fast pace that has been set. There is the rub. If we would let up, there would be no occasion for concern. Like the man abed of the bear's tail, we need somebody to help us let go. The remedy I have to offer is more wholesome play. I said in one of the early articles of this series that exercise which isn't fun doesn't as a rule do any good. A man who enjoys golf, tennis, baseball, etc., will do more good with less strain if he will take a half hour's play before he begins work. His mind will act more quickly. His decisions will be more positive, and more nearly correct. He will reduce the amount of time wasted in gazing at the ceiling for answers which ought to be ready to pop out of his head. Taking this prescription will require nerve. The serious minded who are growing old so fast think they are superior. They will make you feel a twinge of shame because you feel well. They will almost convince you that signs of an approaching breakdown were honorable scars which prove unswerving and conscientious devotion to work. If they bluff you you'll be as commonplace as they are. If they don't you can attend their funerals with pride and self satisfaction.

DAINTY DISHES FOR CHRISTMAS.

Chestnuts may be used in different ways to grace the Christmas table. As stuffing for the fowl or as a sweet-meat, or dessert.

Chestnut Custard Pie.—Line a pie plate with a good rich crust. Boil a sufficient quantity of chestnuts to make a cupful of pulp when mashed. Add a pint of milk, the yolks of two eggs, a half cupful of sugar and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Turn this into the lined plate and spread a meringue over the top after it has baked 20 minutes. Make the meringue by beating the two whites, adding two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Brown the meringue in a moderate oven.

Steamed Cider Pudding.—Cream a tablespoonful and a half of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of sugar and one egg. Beat all together until very light. Now pour in half a cupful each of raisins and currants mixed with a quarter of a cup of flour. Add half a teaspoonful of cinnamon, a quarter of a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, a pinch of cloves and a cupful of flour. Sift this all together into the batter, adding a quarter of a teaspoonful of soda. Pour into a well greased mold and steam one and a half hours. Turn out carefully, as the texture is delicate. Serve hot with a sauce flavored with the juice of an orange.

Chestnut Cup.—Have ready vanilla ice cream and chestnuts cooked in lemon or orange sirup and then cut in slices. Dispose the chestnuts with a little sirup in the bottom of the sherbet cups, add a spoonful of vanilla and then pour over a little of the sirup, and top it with a spoonful of sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

Christmas Fruit Cookies.—Beat half a cup of butter to a cream, add half a cup of sugar, half a cup of raisins chopped fine, three tablespoonfuls of milk. Sift together two cupfuls of flour, one-fourth teaspoon of soda, cloves and nutmeg and a half teaspoonful of cinnamon. Roll and cut. Bake one, and if it spreads add more flour.

Dutch Sauce.
Blend together two ounces of butter and a small teaspoonful of flour, put it into a stewpan with equal quantities of water and tarragon vinegar (two tablespoonfuls of each), stir for a minute and add the beaten yolks of two eggs, keeping up the stirring until the mixture thickens. It must not boil, and when ready to serve pour into it half the juice of a lemon. Make the sauce in a double boiler.

Cream Soups.
A housekeeper famous for her cream soups gives this as a general proportion for them:
One quart of liquid, one pint of vegetable pulp, two tablespoonfuls each of flour and butter. And she says the secret of making them successfully is to mix the liquid and vegetable matter together so carefully that no lumps are formed.

New Sweet for Children.
Make a syrup of a pound of sugar and one pint of water, and add a little lemon juice. Place a pound of prunes (known as "twenties") in this syrup and let stand a night and a day, until fully swelled. Remove from juice and pit. Fill cavities with a small marsh-mallow, while prune is damp, to absorb juices. Roll in granulated sugar and keep in tin.

New Sweet for Children.
Make a syrup of a pound of sugar and one pint of water, and add a little lemon juice. Place a pound of prunes (known as "twenties") in this syrup and let stand a night and a day, until fully swelled. Remove from juice and pit. Fill cavities with a small marsh-mallow, while prune is damp, to absorb juices. Roll in granulated sugar and keep in tin.

NO FAILURES WITHOUT EFFORT

Every One Is a Step to Success.

INSTINCT AND EXPERIENCE.

Sometimes a Noble Failure Serves the World as Faithfully as a Distinguished Success—Lack of Capital and Patronage—Farmers Frequently Fail. He Who Makes No Effort Exempt.

(Copyrighted, 1914, by Thomas J. Sullivan.) He only is exempt from failure who makes no effort.

In the lexicon of youth, which fate reserves for a bright manhood, there is no such word as fail—it comes later in life.

There are so many reasons which can logically and truthfully be advanced as causes contributing to the numerous failures that I will endeavor to analyze only the principal ones—the business failures.

Every failure is a step to success; every detection of what is false directs us to what is true; every trial exhausts some tempting form of error. Not only so, but scarcely any attempt is entirely a failure; scarcely any theory, the result of steady thought, is altogether false. No tempting form of error is without some latent charm derived from truth.

Failure is, in a sense, the highway to accomplishment, inasmuch as every discovery of what is false leads us to seek earnestly after what is true, and every fresh experience points out some form of error which we shall afterward carefully avoid.

In this article we have not the space to treat of individual cases or their many causes, but will deal altogether with the commercial side of the question—the business failures.

Perhaps the most general and common cause is lack of capital. Many men venture into business with just enough money to "swing" the enterprise for a month, at the end of which time they expect the new business to be self supporting. It seldom is, and as the concern becomes a financial cripple the inevitable is sure to happen—failure.

Business Instinct Required.

It may be said in passing that combined with the first form of failure there are two others, lack of business instinct and business experience. And these three are frequently augmented by another equally dangerous in business, and that is engaging in a business of which you have no knowledge or experience in. No man can hope to succeed in any line of business where his principal qualifications are assets and ignorance.

But without question the most pronounced cause of business failure in any line or in any community is that of lack of patronage. No business concern, professional man, church or school can long endure without patronage. Heaven's eternal wisdom has decreed that man should ever stand in need of man.

The beautiful must ever rest in the arms of the sublime. The gentle need the strong to sustain them, as much as rock flowers need rocks to grow on or the ivy the rugged wall which it embraces. Patronage is the sustenance of business, and without it failure follows just as surely as death follows the rock flower and the ivy when their support is withdrawn.

Farmers Frequently Fail.

Listed among the business men who frequently fail is the farmer, the greatest producer of us all. He fails for the same reason as do some of our other business men—because of ignorance. Many of these men have been born and reared as farmers and imagine that is all the qualification necessary to follow that vocation. It is not. Technical education, constant study of conditions elsewhere and a full realization of the necessity of fertilization of his farm constitute the first principles of the successful farmer.

Few farmers have not been obliged to avail themselves of the local merchant's willingness to extend credit, and now that the local merchant is facing a graver calamity and a greater pest than ever a farmer was obliged to meet in the retail catalogue houses' methods of doing business would it not be right and fair for the farmer and every resident of the community to rally to the aid of the man who rallied to their aid in days gone by with a willingness only equaled by his confidence in his customer and his loyalty to his community?

When a farmer fails the whole community suffers, and the man who must bear the brunt of the burden is the local merchant. His capital is invested and his hope of return rests with the farmer's ability to produce. If a blight, a drought, a cyclone or pest bugs destroy the crops the merchant must make the best of it and "carry" the farmer for another season or until he has a good crop.

Loyalty is the greatest virtue that man is endowed with, and the practice of it now by residents of small cities and towns in favor of the local merchant whose business is endangered by the retail catalogue trusts would be a display of generosity manifested only by men and communities where the practice of the Golden Rule obtains.

Builders of Wisconsin Farms

Because he has followed in the path of the dairy cow,—success and prosperity is the lot of the Wisconsin farmer. Because the dairy herd is the central feature upon Wisconsin farms,—the state is today the Greatest Dairy State in the Union, and one of the richest agriculturally.

The Dairy Cow Wins a Great Victory in Wisconsin

The dairy cow has won a great victory in Wisconsin. Back in the 70's there were many sections in the state where the farms were so "run down" and unproductive that they were actually abandoned. The once virgin soils no longer yielded abundant crops; their strength and fertility exhausted by continuous years of wheat raising. Farming was all but ruined. It was under these conditions that the dairy cow was introduced into Wisconsin agriculture and from that day on she has steadily restored the lost fertility to the "worn out" soils, regained the agricultural prestige of the state, and enriched her owners.

Every progressive farmer is a subscriber to farm papers. Every progressive farmer in Wisconsin should be a subscriber to a dairy farm paper,—and that paper should be—

Hoard's Dairyman

Right here in your own state, almost at your door, is published the leading dairy journal of the world,—the undisputed authority of the dairy industry. Hoard's Dairyman is a wise counselor and a safe guide for the man keeping cows. It is a handbook of timely and helpful suggestions and advice. Intimately familiar with local conditions, it meets the same problems every Wisconsin farmer meets, and assists him in solving them.

HOARD'S DAIRYMAN is the only agricultural paper in Wisconsin owning a farm that is kept constantly under the direct management of its editors.

Make 1914 Your Best Year

For the coming year Hoard's Dairyman will contain many features of special interest and value to Wisconsin farmers. It will help you to make this year your best year. Personal experiences of some of Wisconsin's most successful dairymen will be published. A series of articles on dairy farm management will be contributed by the eminent authority, Prof. D. H. Otis, and the reports and discussions upon the

Big Farm Management Contest

In which nearly 300 of Wisconsin's best managed dairy farms are entered, will form topics of absorbing interest. Soil fertility, rotation of crops, feeding and breeding problems, the raising of alfalfa, sanitation, farm buildings, dairy breeds, and scores of other vital subjects are discussed every week in Hoard's Dairyman with a fullness and directness that meets the needs of the beginner as well as the experienced dairyman.

SPECIAL SUBSCRIPTION OFFER We are pleased to announce that by special arrangement with the publishers, we are enabled to offer a year's subscription to Hoard's Dairyman in combination with this publication at a most attractive subscription price. We offer—

THE TARIFF AND SUGAR BEETS

Reports come from several of the sugar companies in Wisconsin that they are having no trouble in securing sufficient acreage in beets to make a full run—this notwithstanding the reduction in the sugar tariff. What the result will be when a greater reduction comes into effect is not stated, but it is apparent that the people of this country will not permit the beet sugar industry to be interfered with.

Wisconsin is one of the best states in the union for the production of sugar beets from the farmers' standpoint, and with favorable freight and labor conditions, will outstrip those in the west, where both freight and labor conditions are a heavy handicap.

QUALITY (NOT MERE CHEAPNESS) IS OUR MOTTO

This motto of OURS should be a money saver TO YOU. WHY? you may ask. Simply this, when you buy an article from OUR store it means that it is made by old reliable factories, and WE stand back of their guarantee. In other words, the article is just exactly what we say it is.

The prices on our goods are no grate (quality considered) and our One Price System assures you that you are not paying more than our other patrons—therefore our moderate prices.

Now this does not mean that we sell high priced goods only, for we have lower priced goods that will wear well—if the amount of your purse is limited, but of course we can't guarantee it. They are made by good manufacturers.
