

DISEASES OF CALF

Most Common Trouble of Young Animals Is Diarrhea.

CONDITION HINDERS GROWTH

Ailment is Result of Disturbance of Digestive Apparatus—Number of Preparations Are Used for Its Treatment.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Diarrhea, or scours, is probably the most common disease of calves. Great care must be taken at all times to prevent this condition, as it always hinders the growth and development of the animal and in addition is often hard to cure.

White Scours, or infectious dysentery of the calf, generally affects a number of calves in a lot, and first appears shortly after birth as a diarrhea with light-colored, offensive droppings.

While scours, or infectious dysentery of the calf, generally affects a number of calves in a lot, and first appears shortly after birth as a diarrhea with light-colored, offensive droppings.

Prevention consists in the use of sanitary precautions, such as clean, dry, and disinfected pens for calving, and careful disinfection of the cord of the calf at birth, painting the cord with tincture of iodine, and tying it with silk thread.

ous war against insects, including several of the most destructive pests. It feeds freely on potato beetles, chinch bugs, cucumber beetles, wire worms, bill bugs, cloverleaf weevils, bollweevils, army worms and cutworms.

RANKING OF GRAIN STRAWS

Oats Comes First, With Barley, Wheat and Rye Following—Alsike and Leads Clover Straws.

Of the grain straws, oats comes first, barley second, wheat third, rye fourth. It is doubtful if the latter should be used for anything but bedding.

SELECT WINTER LAYERS

Recent poultry selection demonstrations in Lawrence county, Pennsylvania, have developed interesting results. In one case a two-week record kept by one farmer shows that 41 good hens laid 241 eggs as compared with four eggs laid by 41 poor hens;

Practice poultry selection and increase your returns. The good winter layer has bright eyes, legs set well apart, pale beak and shanks in late fall and early winter. She also has a strong, broad back, a deep and full abdomen, a deep rounded chest and is vigorous and active.

STANCHIONS HANDY FOR CALF

Simple and Convenient Means for Preventing Larger Animals From Eating Too Much.

Simple stanchions for calves are a convenient means of preventing the larger calves from eating the small one's share of the feed, also for feeding many calves quickly and without confusion.

In the calf lot. In such cases the calves come to the stanchions at feeding time, and may be safely fed by a child, since there is no occasion for entering the calf lot.

BALANCED RATIORS FOR HEN

Fowls Cannot Produce Eggs Unless They Have Lime to Make Shells—Grit Also Needed.

Hens fed an unbalanced ration produce only one-third to one-half as many eggs as hens fed a balanced ration during the same time.

Hens cannot make eggs unless they have lime to make the shells. Feed and water usually contain only enough lime to shell one egg for each ten eggs the feed would produce.

PROPER ATTENTION TO EWES

Little Attention Given at Weaning Time Will Be Well Repaid—Should Be Dried Off Carefully.

At weaning time the ability of a ewe to produce a good lamb often is ruined because the necessary care is not taken to see that she is dried off properly.

Save your poultry manure for the garden patch. Sprinkle it with land plaster (gypsum) or coal ashes. This makes an excellent compound for fertilizer. This manure is very valuable, and will make a big improvement in your garden soil.

FEED FOR MILK PRODUCTION

First Use of Food Is for Maintaining Functions of Body—Rest Goes for Milk and Fat.

The first use to which the animal puts its food, whether producing milk or not, is to maintain the functions of the body. The feed in excess of this amount is used for producing milk for fat, or for the growth of the foetus.

What Can We Do?

In instructing schoolchildren in knitting, they must begin with the simplest things first and advanced to those that are more difficult, as in anything else.

Wristlets may be knitted on No. 2 needles, using one pair. They require 1/4 hank of yarn (3/4 pound). Cast on 48 stitches, knit 2 and purl 2 for 12 inches, and sew up, leaving 2 inches open space for the thumb, 2 inches below the edge.

Knitting needles, No. 1—135-1,000 inch in diameter. Knitting needles, No. 2—175-1,000 inch in diameter. Knitting needles, No. 3—200-1,000 inch in diameter.
