THE COUNTY EDUCATIONAL LISTENING POST

(By County Superintendent)

The Educational Listening Post did not appear the past few weeks because our allotment of space was used to advertise teachers' meetings and the school board convention.

Inspector Geo. H. Drewry of the state superintendent's office visited the state graded schools the early part of October. He expressed himself as being perfectly satisfied with the teachers in those schools.

The school board convention had to compete with the Ives murder trial during its session on Nov. 22. That the speakers of the convention had their own with the lawyers in the case was indicated by a full house both at the morning and afternoon sessions.

On Thursday, Nov. 27, Ashford was the scene of a rare and unusual event, when Mr. and Mrs. Barthol Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zehren and Mr. and Mrs. John Zehren celebrated their silver wedding at their respective homes. A large number of relatives and friends were entertained at each celebration during the afternoon. The homes were decorated with silver crepe paper. At six o'clock the silver tables were treated to a delicious Thanksgiving supper. The tables were decorated with white cut flowers and ferns. At 12 o'clock a supper was served at the hall, covers were laid for three hundred people. The three couples were married at St. Martin's church at Ashford twenty-five years ago by Rev. Bernard Nuttman. They have since then resided on their farms in the town of Ashford, where they were members of the St. Martin's congregation.

With about sixty relatives and friends present, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Thelen of the town of Ashford celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary at their home last Monday evening. The evening was spent in dancing and card playing. At twelve o'clock refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Frank Thelen, Mrs. Mich. Fleischmann and Mrs. L. Raffenstein. LOCALS KEEP UP WINNING STREAK

Last Saturday evening the Kewaskum A. C. Basketball team added another victory to their list, when they overwhelmingly defeated the strong Port Washington team by a score of 65 to 10, at the Opera House. The visitors put up a good game during the first fifteen minutes of play, and it looked as though the locals would be given a tight rub. But under the fast article of basket ball the locals are putting up this year, their opponents commenced to weaken, and during the last half the Kewaskum team had things all their own way, scoring and passing the ball at will. There was no doubt in the minds of the large number of fans who had braved the snow storm to witness the game, as to who would be the winners, to them it was only a matter of how large a score the local boys would roll up before the final whistle would blow. Last Saturday night's game has convinced every one of us that our boys have met their best and interesting games, it will be up to the management to arrange games with stronger and faster teams than have so far played with our crack team. Although, every one of the teams who have met defeat at the hands of our boys, were first class teams, and would have given our last year's quintette a mighty close run. The management this week issued challenges to the best teams in the state, including Janesville, Two Rivers, New London, Sheboygan Falls, Sheboygan, Plymouth and Moore's Specials. Our boys went to North Fond du Lac last evening, to play the Laf-a-Lots a return game.

Last Friday evening the high school team journeyed to Rosendale, where they met defeat from the strong high school team of that place by a score of 32 to 12. Our boys put up a good game, but were out weighed and out pointed in team work. Last night the local team played the Random Lake five at the Opera House.

Schultz are the happy parents of a baby girl, born to them on Thanksgiving day. Congratulations. BAZAAR NETS LARGE AMOUNT An unusual large sum of money was realized from a bazaar given by the ladies of St. Matthew's church, at Campbellsport, last week Thursday evening at Bauer's hall. The proceeds amounted to $1,221.81 which will be used in furnishing a new Catholic school house which will be erected next summer.

With prospects looking as bright as they do for the bazaar to be given by the Woman's Club of this village next week Thursday afternoon and evening, they will probably reach half that amount, which will help considerably to swell the sinking fund of the school.

STAGE ALL SET FOR BIG BAZAAR

The ladies of the Kewaskum Woman's club have nearly completed arrangements for the Big Bazaar to be held at the library on Thursday afternoon and evening, December 11th. The proceeds of which will be donated to the sinking fund of the high school. With the rapid progress that has been made the past week, encouraged by many members of the Joint School District of the Town and Village of Kewaskum, who have volunteered to do their bit, the event promises to be the largest and best bazaar ever held in this village. There will be a great variety of valuable and useful articles for sale there, and no one, whether interested in the affairs of the school or not, can afford to miss it. Prospects are now very favorable, providing weather conditions will permit, that at least $300 to $400 will be realized from the big event of the season. All those who have articles to donate must have them at the library before five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 10th. The bazaar will commence at three o'clock Thursday afternoon. A warm cup of coffee and sandwiches and cakes will be served. Remember the day and place. And last, but not least, remember it is given for the benefit of the sinking fund of the school, a fund created by the members of the school district to help lower your taxes when the new school house is being built.

SILVER METAL WORTH MORE THAN COIN Silver now is worth nearly five cents an ounce more as metal than it is as coin. Silver for San Francisco delivery was quoted on Tuesday at $1.43 an ounce, as compared with $1.29 an ounce, which is the basis on which silver in coin is valued. Silver for local delivery was quoted at $1.32 1/2 an ounce. Buying for Chinese delivery is believed to be responsible for the advance.

SILVER METAL WORTH MORE THAN COIN Silver now is worth nearly five cents an ounce more as metal than it is as coin. Silver for San Francisco delivery was quoted on Tuesday at $1.43 an ounce, as compared with $1.29 an ounce, which is the basis on which silver in coin is valued. Silver for local delivery was quoted at $1.32 1/2 an ounce. Buying for Chinese delivery is believed to be responsible for the advance.

Forgot He Did It.

It was quite a common story in the police court; a neighborly argument had become a brawl, and now the applicant wanted a summons for assault against her neighbor.

"Are you married?" asked the magistrate.

"Yes, sir," replied the applicant.

"Where is your husband?"

"Away, sir."

"Away!" exclaimed the magistrate.

"My good woman, what do you mean by away?"

"Please sir," said the woman hurriedly "you put him away yourself last week."—London Answers.

Prominent Women Testify

Hillsdale, Mich.—"I am giving this testimony regarding the merits of Dr. Pierce's medicines from the actual use of them and the good they have done me. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for feminine trouble and it cured me in a very short time. I have also taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The doctor once burnt my tonsils with caustic and they would not heal up; they would bleed, and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me when nothing else seemed to do any good. I have also used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Pierce's medicines; they are all good."—MRS. SARAH CULVER, 73 St. Joseph St.

MEXICO SAYS NO TO U.S. DEMANDS

Refuses to Free Consul William O. Jenkins, Says Press Dispatch.

NO OFFICIAL ANSWER YET

Undersecretary of Foreign Relations Declares There Is "No Legal Foundation Nor Principle of International Law" for Such Action.

Mexico City, Nov. 28.—Declaring there is "no legal foundation nor principle of international law" upon which the United States bases its demand for the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent at Puebla, the Mexican government, through Hilario Medina, undersecretary of foreign relations, stated it was impossible to accede to the request of the American state department.

It is asserted that the executive department cannot under Mexican law intervene at this moment in an affair which is strictly in the hands of state courts.

It is declared the imprisonment of Mr. Jenkins was neither unjustified nor arbitrary and that Mr. Jenkins is preventing his own freedom by refusing to give bail, for which reason, it is said, "he cannot be considered a victim of molestation."

Washington, Nov. 27.—The state department's demand upon the Mexican government was for the "immediate release" of Consular Agent Jenkins, who is still held in the penitentiary, charged with complicity in his own kidnapping.

The American demand, though calling for Jenkins' release "immediately," had not brought a reply to Washington, though sent to Mexico City over a week ago.

Some officials expressed belief that the Mexican government's delay in replying to the American note was part of a deliberate plan to still further antagonize the United States.

Secretary Lansing issued this statement:

"The state department has not received the answer of the Mexican government. A dispatch from Mexico City says the Mexican senate at an executive session November 24 decided to ask President Carranza for full information on the Jenkins case. The Mexico City press quotes the secretary of foreign affairs as saying that the reply to the American note was expected to be handed to the American embassy of Mexico City November 25."

Reports are being received daily through official channels regarding efforts to discredit Jenkins. Today's advice tell of the refusal of the court at Puebla to hear witnesses who volunteered appearance to refute the report that Jenkins had been seen conferring with members of the rebel bands, on which, it is said, was based the charge that he was in collusion with them.

Additional information regarding the pressure brought to bear on peons to secure testimony against Jenkins is contained in an article in El Universal, a Mexico City newspaper, a copy of which has just reached the state department.

The paper tells of the arrest by the secret police of Jose de Jesus Largo, Florentino Anayan, and Julio Gomez, peons on Jenkins' hacienda, when they appeared for their pay checks, and of the "capture" on the following day of five more peons, all of whom were lodged in jail until they gave their testimony.

The correspondent of El Universal reports that he interviewed every one of these peons, and that all of them except Anayan were later freed. They all stated, according to the correspondent, that the judge, as well as the police inspector at Puebla, exercised pressure on Ignacio Justo, Juan Salazar and Rosendo Evangelista to make statements against Jenkins.

HOLDS DRY ACT VOID

COURT DECISION OPENS SALOONS IN NEW ORLEANS.

U. S. Judge Issues Injunction Forbidding Interference With Sale of Bonded Liquor.

New Orleans, Nov. 27.—Holding the war-time prohibition act unconstitutional, Federal District Judge Foster granted an injunction restraining government officials from interfering with the sale by the Henry Leise Liquor company of bonded liquor held in warehouses here.

An hour after the injunction was granted, many saloons in New Orleans resumed the sale of liquor and did a land-office business. The federal district attorney announced that, if the United States Supreme court held the war-time law valid, those now selling liquor would be prosecuted.

Judge Foster, in granting the injunction, said:

"The act of November 21, known as the war-time prohibition act, is certainly without effect now, as the provisions it required have been fulfilled. The emergency which it provided for has ceased to exist, and the president declared the army and navy demobilized in his veto of the Volstead war-time enforcement bill, which he sent to the house of representatives October 28, 1919. The war was formally at an end when congress adjourned without rejecting the peace treaty."

White Underthings Play Leading Role

January is the month in which most women consider their own and their family's need in undergarments, and this exciting clientele sets the pace in the development of new ideas—and in extravagance. This year, he it known, all-white underwear appears to be the leading role, and it will therefore play the leading role, as in times long past, in the dainty drama of under-mustins.

But all-white underthings will not hold the center of the stage all the time. Negligees have grown more picturesque and colorful, more varied in style than ever, and the newest fad entails for hose, slippers, cap and underwear to match them; the matching involves usually two colors, so there is no monotony. A house party, assembled for the morning coffee, is quite likely to rival the evening party. In gay and pretty dressing, and to prove more interesting, since one can venture a little way toward the bizarre in the morning and at home.

I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my trade as an auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently, so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe cold which through neglect on my part settled on my lungs. When almost too late, a business associate but, without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me, so I cannot praise it too highly."

U. S. SENATOR IS UNDER INDICTMENT

Newberry of Michigan and 133 Others Are Accused.

VAST FRAUD IS CHARGED

Names of Fourteen of Most Prominent Are Made Public—Federal Grand Jury Ends Investigation of Alleged Crooked Work.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 1.—Truman H. Newberry, United States senator from Michigan, 13 of his campaign lieutenants, and 120 lesser political lights of the state were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of election fraud, corruption, conspiracy, and misuse of the mails.

Two blanket indictments were returned dealing with the primary and election campaigns of 1918 in which Henry Ford was Senator Newberry's chief opponent.

Charge State-Wide Plot.
Government officials asserted that the testimony presented to the grand jury had revealed a political scandal that in many respects was without parallel in American annals. They said it extended from the most populous wards of Detroit to the Indian reservations on the shores of Lake Superior, where aborigines were voted according to the behest of the Newberry campaign organization.

It was alleged that voters were bribed, election boards corrupted, editors subsidized, and moving picture theaters bought up in the endeavor to defeat Henry Ford, first in the primaries of both parties, and later, when he had won the Democratic nomination, in the election itself.

Judge Clarence W. Sessions of the federal district, to whose court the grand jury reported, indicated that the evidence disclosed the fraudulent expenditure of between $500,000 and $1,000,000 in connection with the election.

The men whose names were announced will be arraigned on Monday, December 8. The extreme peculiarity which may be imposed under the indictments is a fine of $10,000 and two years' imprisonment.

First Fourteen Named.
The identity of only the chief figures in the case was revealed in court. On instructions from Judge Sessions the names of the others were impounded to be made public only when their owners have been served with warrants. The 14 names made public were:

Truman H. Newberry, United States senator and secretary of the navy in the Roosevelt administration.
John S. Newberry, Detroit, brother of the senator, who contributed $50,000 to the campaign.
Paul H. King, Detroit, general manager of the Newberry campaign.
Allen A. Templeton, president of Detroit chamber of commerce and chairman of the Newberry campaign.
Harry O. Turner, Detroit, broker and son of James Turner, former auditor general of Michigan. He was assistant secretary of the Newberry campaign.

Mark T. McKee, Detroit, law partner of King. He was prominent in the Red Cross organization in Michigan and in fraternal circles. Government investigators charge his activities were mostly camouflage for politics.
Harry A. Hopkins, Detroit, publicity manager of campaign and former president of the State Publishers' association, legislative clerk of the United States senate.
Charles A. Floyd, Detroit, who was in charge of the country organizations for the Newberry campaign. Formerly head of the Michigan state fair.

Frederick C. Smith, Detroit, manager of the Newberry estate in Detroit.
Milton Oakman, former Wayne county sheriff and for ten years Republican "boss" in Detroit.
Judd Yelland, probate judge at Escanaba.
Frank McKay, assignment clerk in the Detroit courts.
James B. Bradley, physician at Eaton Rapids, once candidate in Republican primaries for governor.
Gladstone V. Beattie, former sheriff of Van Buren county and county manager for Newberry.

CARRIES WEALTH IN MOUTH
Bowhead Whale Worth Much Money If Only That Part of Its Anatomy Were Usable.

A full-grown bowhead whale is worth $15,000 merely for the whalebone it carries in its mouth. This is the species that furnishes the bulk of the commercial supply of whalebone, which is now worth $7.50 a pound. It is a denizen of Arctic seas.

The bowhead, like other whalebone whales, has no teeth. Instead its jaws are furnished with a series of long, tapering slabs of a horny substance fringed with hair. Of these slabs, which are the whalebone of commerce, there are as many as 900.

The biggest of them are 10 to 12 feet long and they are inserted in the gum of the upper jaw, from which they hang. They serve as a sieve to strain out the whale's food. Swimming along, it takes a huge mouthful of squid and other pelagic snail fry. Then the huge trap is closed and the slabs entering and fitting into grooves in the lower jaw, the water is expelled.

Churchman's Good Advice.
Let the brothers take care not to appear long-faced, gloomy or overpious; but let them be joyous about their faith in God, laughing and good mixers.—St. Francis of Assisi.

Tank for Flowers.
A circular tank to be placed on the rims of flower pots has been invented, from which a tube extends to convey water to plant roots slowly and evenly.

From Music's Imitation to Music's RE-CREATION

In 1877 Thomas A. Edison presented the world with a machine that imitated music. It was the original phonograph—still imitated by other manufacturers. In an Edison "Official Test" Leola Lucey, the musical comedy star, stood beside the New Edison and sang. Suddenly she stopped and the New Edison sang the song alone. There was no difference between her voice and its RE-CREATION. The recording was passed as an "Official" Edison RE-CREATION.

U. S. TELLS MEXICO TO FREE JENKINS

Lansing Sends Stinging Note to the Carranza Government.

SAYS CEASE FLIMSY EXCUSES

Declares Outlaws Who Endangered Consul's Life and Took Away a Large Part of His Fortune Now Enjoy Their Freedom.

New Note to Mexico.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Renewing its request for the immediate release of Consul Agent Jenkins, imprisoned at Puebla, the latest American note to Mexico, made public here, arraigns the Mexican government's conduct in severe terms and characterizes it as a sordid attempt to ensnare the American consul agent in the intricacies of legal proceedings.

No ultimatum was served and no indication was given of what the American government's course would be if Jenkins is not immediately released. This government does not admit, the note says, that it is necessary to keep Jenkins in jail while his case is being investigated, and this government "fails to discern" that the "intricacies of the Mexican penal law" have been applied with impartial effect to Jenkins.

Up to Mexico to Show Cause. The United States is not to be driven by "such subtle arguments," says the note, "into a defense of its request for the release of Mr. Jenkins. It is for Mexico to show cause for his detention; not for the United States to show cause for his liberation."

"It appears," says the note, "to have been the purpose of the Mexican government to assume a willful indifference to the feelings of the American people that have been aroused to the point of indignation by the exposure, hardships and physical suffering by Jenkins during his abduction and its consequent treatment at the hands of the Mexican authorities.

Text of American Note. The text of the note as transmitted by the American charge at Mexico City, follows:

I have not failed to transmit to my government the note of the Mexican government dated November 26, 1919, with reference to the case of William O. Jenkins, American consul agent at Puebla, and I am now in receipt of a reply from the government of the United States, which I am instructed immediately to transmit to you.

The government of the United States declines to be drawn into a judicial discussion of irrelevant matters of unimportant incidents brought forward in connection with this case. The Mexican government cannot be misled, as it intimates, by the citation by the United States of "no principle or precedent of international law and not even a reason" for Jenkins' release, for obviously no such citation is necessary for the enlightenment of a government of the present day.

Based on Justice Alone.

The Mexican government believes, and rightly so, that the American request for Jenkins' release is not based on solely the strength of the country which makes it; for it knows the request is founded on the justice of the right of an American citizen and United States consul agent to fair treatment while residing and discharging his duties within Mexican jurisdiction, with the approval and knowledge of the Mexican government.

The Mexican government may contend that the imprisonment of the victim is necessary for the investigation by a judge under the "constant vigilance of public opinion" of the truth regarding his abduction and that a right to release on bail is a palliative for such wrongful imprisonment, but the United States is constrained to the opinion that such arguments are mere excuses.

Hints at Persecution.

My government will not and is not placed that Mr. Jenkins will not be given any obstacle in the way of a complete and full examination of himself or his witnesses, or of the events leading up to and connected with his abduction. The Mexican government prefers to attribute the American note to an imperfect knowledge of the Mexican penal laws and proceeds to explain with refinement the intricacies of Mexican penal proceedings.

But the government of the United States fails to discern in their application to this case at the hands of Mexican authorities any approximation to impartial treatment of Jenkins and the Mexican government knows the absence of such treatment is the reason for the American request.

The United States is not to be driven by such subtle arguments into a defense of its request for the release of Mr. Jenkins. It is for Mexico to show cause for his detention, not for the United States to plead for his liberation.

Stripped of extraneous matter, with which the Mexican note of Dec. 26 endeavors to clothe it, the naked case of Jenkins stands forth: Jenkins, a United States consul agent, accredited to the government of Mexico, is imprisoned for "rendering false judicial testimony," in connection with the abduction of which he was the victim. This is the substance of the Mexican note.

My government is pleased to learn that the imprisonment of Jenkins stands on this single and well-defined ground, and that the reported statements that Mexican authorities had caused the imprisonment of Jenkins because of collusion with his abductors and rebellion against the state are not seriously regarded by your government.

Victim, Not Outlaw, Prosecuted.

In whose interest, then, is the charge of false swearing brought against Jenkins? His abductors? He is in equity the complainant in the case of his abduction, not the defendant, as the Mexican government now makes him out to be.

The Mexican government is prosecuting the victim instead of the perpetrators of the crime. While the outlaws who endangered his life and took away a large part of his fortune, enjoy their freedom, the Mexican authorities now deprive Jenkins of his liberty.

The Mexican government can not expect the United States to accept in the grave circumstances of this case such a bare, unsupported statement as a valid excuse for the imprisonment of an American consul officer.

In view of the considerations which have been set forth and in view particularly of the belief of my government that the charge against Jenkins of deliberate false swearing is unfounded, the government of the United States must renew its request for the immediate release of Consul Agent Jenkins from further imprisonment.

(Signed) LANSING.

Believed to Be Final Warning.

State department officials declined to discuss the note, but in other quarters the belief was expressed that it emphatically states the views of this government and indicates it will be the last on the subject as Secretary Lansing already has stated officials here have no inclination to go into a long diplomatic discussion of technicalities.

RULING DISAPPOINTS TOILERS

Federal Judge Aischuler Grants 7 1/2 Per Cent Raise to Packing House Employees—120,000 Affected.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Forty thousand packinghouse workers in Chicago were disappointed when Federal Judge Samuel Aischuler granted only a 7 1/2 per cent increase in wages instead of the 20 to 50 per cent they demanded; denied the demand for a 44-hour week; denied their demand for double rate for overtime, and denied the demand for an eight-hour day for policemen and watchmen. His decision makes the wage increase retroactive from September 1 instead of July 1, as asked by the workers.

Other increases granted were 12 1/2 per cent to the mechanical trades and 5 per cent to helpers; employees under twenty-one years of age receiving 40 cents an hour or less are raised to 43 and 45 cents an hour. Besides the 40,000 workers in Chicago, 80,000 workers in Omaha, St. Paul, Kansas City, Denver and Milwaukee are affected.

STRIKE CONFERENCE BREAKS UP IN ROW

Government's Offer of 14 Per Cent Increase Is Rejected.

U. S. FAILS TO END TIEUP

Coal Men's Parley Adjourns Sine Die—Operators Agree to Accept Garfield's Proposal, While Lewis Claims Injustice to Miners.

Washington, Nov. 28.—The government's offer of a 14 per cent increase of wages was flatly rejected by the coal miners.

As a result the conference between the miners and operators adjourned sine die with the settlement of the wage controversy still "in the air." No provision was made for the resumption of the conference, the miners declaring "that they were going home and sit tight."

The miners' rejection came after the operators had accepted the government's proposal as a basis for a settlement although they declared that the increase without raising the price of coal to the public would mean the loss of profits to a large number of mines and would seriously interfere with production.

After the rejection the operators tendered a compromise offering to submit the entire dispute to a board of arbitration. This also was refused by the miners and the conference took an adjournment.

Statement by Lewis.

The following statement was dictated by Acting President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers:

"The miners and operators' joint conference adjourned sine die. The mine workers' representatives declined to recommend to the miners any acceptance of the 14 per cent increase offered.

"The operators pretended to be willing to grant this 14 per cent increase, but in the same breath stated that they would be unable to operate a large number of their mines unless they had an increase in the selling price of coal. It would be foolish for us to attempt to make any agreement with the operators unless their mines were to be operated.

"The position of the mine workers is unchanged. We hold that the United States government cannot break its word. The pledge given by Secretary of Labor Wilson to grant a 31.6 per cent increase in wages must be redeemed.

"In my judgment Doctor Garfield and the cabinet have committed the most colossal blunder in the industrial history of our nation. They are blind to the justice to the mine workers or the effects of such theory upon the people of the country.

Says Justice Is Denied.

"The responsibility for the crisis now confronting the nation must lie upon those statesmen who are using the powers of the government to oppress and deny justice to the great element of citizenship directly concerned in the mining industry.

"I cannot believe that the people of our country will endorse a policy of oppression and repression which means continued industrial chaos, and intense suffering on the part of the mine workers and our entire citizenship."

The letter sent to Doctor Garfield by the operators of the central competitive coal field, accepting the government's offer, reads:

"Recognizing the seriousness of the present crisis and the urgent need of the country for coal, we wish to advise you that, subject to your approval and conditioned upon the mines resuming operations immediately, the operators' scale committee of the central competitive coal field accept, as a basis for the settlement of the present wage controversy and termination of the strike, the figures submitted by you to the joint meeting of operators and miners held yesterday evening, namely, an average increase of 14 per cent to be granted to all classes of mine labor, such increase to be apportioned in accordance with the wage bases that are acceptable to the employees and employers, thus preserving present differentials. Otherwise than as above, modified in complete accordance with your proposal, the present contract in all its terms and conditions to be continued in full force and effect until March 31, 1922.

"We have already notified the miners to this effect.

Says Profits Eliminated.

"At the same time we wish to call your attention to the fact that the acceptance of this increase in wages without any increase in selling prices entirely eliminates the profits of a large number of mines. Such a large number, in fact, we fear that the production of coal will be seriously affected. We understand that operating statistics for 1919 are not now in your possession, and we shall rely upon the government, when such statistics are properly assembled and presented, to make such adjustments in selling prices as will permit these mines to make such fair and reasonable profits as they are entitled to under the Lever law."

William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, said:

"Secretary of Labor Wilson states that the mine workers are entitled to an increase in wages amounting to 31.6 per cent. Mr. Garfield says 14 per cent. Obviously these two conclusions conflict with each other and, to say the least, are confusing. The mine workers know the figures of Secretary of Labor Wilson are approximately correct and the figures of Doctor Garfield are erroneous. The mine workers challenge the figures of Doctor Garfield and cannot and will not accept them. We will accept the figures of a responsible cabinet officer, Secretary Wilson.

"Doctor Garfield, because of the responsible position which he occupies, has done a great injustice to a million miners in America. His statement and decision has served to inject into the settlement of the miners' wage controversy an almost insurmountable obstacle. In that respect his action approaches the commission of a moral crime against the public.

"Mine workers cannot mine coal at the figures fixed by Doctor Garfield. The acceptance of his conclusion would mean untold suffering, and deprivation on the part of the miners and their families. The problem of decent wages and a decent American standard of living, together with an adequate production of coal cannot be solved as a college professor would work out a problem in geometry, algebra or theoretical philosophy.

"The practical way to solve the present problem of coal production is to grant the miners an increase in wages sufficient to meet the increase in the cost of living and to guarantee them an American standard of living. They will then risk their lives in the mines, accept all the hazards of the industry and mine a steady stream of coal sufficient to meet every requirement."

Garfield's Ruling.

Acting under instructions from the cabinet, United States Fuel Administrator Garfield told the coal miners and the operators that the wage increase for the miners should be 14 per cent and that the price of coal to the public should not be raised.

This declaration, coming from the government as a basis for settling the wage controversy, was received with great dissatisfaction by both the miners and the operators.

Some of the miners' representatives declared that the offer of a 14 per cent increase, in the face of the fact that Secretary of Labor Wilson had offered them 31.6 per cent, was an insult. They declared that the miners would starve idle rather than go back to the mines at this wage increase.

The operators, who have been expecting that the government would see them through on any wage increase, declared that their margins would not permit them to give the miners the 14 per cent out of their own pockets. They said that it would break many of the weaker mines and that it meant ruin and sacrifice of years of earnings and savings.

The operators for the most part bore their disappointment in silence, but from the miners came denunciation after denunciation of the government's solution. Without reservation, and without mincing words, the miners questioned Doctor Garfield and, through him, grilled the government for more than two hours.

Doctor Garfield stood adamant in the face of the questions and the criticism hurled at him from the miners' side of the hall. He answered all questions without betraying personal excitement and firmly but kindly told the miners that what he had laid before them was purely a series of facts.

Doctor Garfield said his statement was made on the facts and the figures in the case as he had investigated it. He said that it was as if one looked up at the clock and there read the time. "The clock tells you the hour, and that is what I have done. I tell you that per cent of increase which should be applied to the miners' wages, on the average to equalize wages with the rise in the cost of living is 14 per cent," said Doctor Garfield.

Shot From Other Barrel.

Dr. Garfield was equally insistent on his finding that the price of coal should not be raised at this time. This was a shot fired from the other barrel of his double-barreled statement to the conference. He made it clear that the facts, as he found them, meant that if the miners' wages were increased 14 per cent, as he said should be done, that the burden should be borne entirely by the operators and not by the public.

Dr. Garfield also made a third statement, which almost ranks in importance with his two main propositions. This was that government control of price will be maintained at present. This means that the government does not intend to relax its grip on the coal situation through holding prices within a maximum limit.

"It seems to me that the reasonable way to deal with this situation," Garfield said, "is to give the industry as a whole an average increase commensurate with the increase in the cost of living and then let that amount of increase be apportioned in accordance with the wage basis that is acceptable to the employers and the employees.

"The present negotiation stands by itself, but it is far from disposing of the fundamental controversy between operators and mine workers. That controversy is bound to be a continuing one as matters now stand. Therefore, to aid in applying the principles which have governed us and which should govern in reaching conclusions in the future, it is urged that congress make provisions for collecting definite and trustworthy information concerning the coal and coke industry and for the tabulation of the same to quarterly reports."

U. S. TO FORCE MINE OPERATION

Troops Will Protect Workers if Needed, Is the Official Edict.

BAKER TO FURNISH SOLDIERS

Department Commanders to Use Regulars to Preserve Order and Provide Protection for Those Desiring to Work.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The government served blunt notice on soft coal miners and operators that interference with coal production would not be tolerated.

Warning that legal prosecution would be employed to thwart conspiracies by either side and troops sent wherever necessary to protect miners willing to work came from the department of justice after members of the cabinet had considered every phase of the fuel situation, admittedly critical, in view of the abrupt breaking off of negotiations.

It is not the intention of the government to let the mines remain idle with half of the country in the grip of cold weather and the coal supplies rapidly diminishing.

Seizure of mines where the owners do not show a disposition to cooperate in increasing production has been decided upon, it was stated officially.

The administration, it was thought, had fully expected the miners to reject the 14 per cent wage increase offered by Fuel Administrator Garfield. Anticipating this, plans had been considered for augmenting the present output of bituminous mines, officially figured at better than 40 per cent of normal.

A statement by Assistant Attorney General Ames gave assurance to all miners that they would be afforded ample protection if they returned to work, even if troops had to be called out. This was the only definite statement of policy from the government. In official circles it was said that the federal authorities were determined to force resumption of operations on the terms laid down by the fuel administrator.

Secretary Baker, Mr. Ames said, already has authorized department commanders when requested by state authorities to use troops to preserve order. That policy provides protection for those desiring to work, he said.

Discussing department of justice plans, Mr. Ames said: "All United States attorneys in the bituminous fields have been officially advised of the result of the negotiations at Washington and have been given instructions relative to the situation.

"It is, of course, obvious that the time has come when ample protection will be furnished all persons desiring to work in mines. All persons, whether miners or operators, making an agreement or arrangement with each other to restrict the supply of coal will be proceeded against as the law provides, and it should be understood that any person who aids or abets in restricting the supply of coal is likewise guilty by the terms of the Lever act.

"Instructions heretofore issued by the war department are still in force and, under these instructions, department commanders will act in proper cases when requested to do so by the state authorities."

Operators set out to resume production, as far as possible under the muddled conditions, by telegraphing notice for posting at mines everywhere offering an increase of 14 per cent for all men willing to work.

There were few expressions as to how this information might be received, but representatives of the miners still here said it would be no incentive and that it would be ignored, especially in the central competitive fields, embracing Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and western Pennsylvania.

TAX EVADERS FACE PENALTY

Warning Given by Commissioner Roper to Those Who Have Failed to Return.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Warning was given tax evaders by Revenue Commissioner Roper that those who have falsified or made incorrect returns may expect to be called upon any day for an accounting. "No leniency will be shown corporations or individuals who have attempted to defraud the government," the commissioner said.

The government's drive on tax evaders thus far has netted approximately $20,000,000 more than the amount called for by the returns filed early in the year.

YANKEE WOMAN WINS

LADY ASTOR ELECTED TO COMMONS IN ENGLAND.

Has Clear Majority Over Her Opponents—Formerly Was Miss Nannie Langhorne.

Plymouth, Nov. 29.—Lady Astor, American-born wife of Viscount Astor, was elected to parliament from the Sutton division of Plymouth in the balloting of November 15.

The result was announced after a count of the ballots here this afternoon.

The vote stood: Lady Astor, unionist, 14,494. W. T. Gay, labor, 9,292. Isaac Foot, liberal, 4,139.

The ceremony attending the counting of the ballots began in the historic Plymouth guildhall at 9:30 o'clock.

Lady Astor's philanthropic endeavors here during the last ten years brought her considerable support, as well as her espousal of antilabor legislation, which won her a large vote among the women. She drove about the constituency on a speechmaking tour every afternoon and evening.

The campaign attracted wide attention, due in large measure to Lady Astor's American nativity, her unconventional electioneering methods and her barbed and witty replies to questioners. Mrs. Lloyd George and other prominent political personages spoke in her behalf.

Lady Astor became a candidate after the death of Viscount Astor of Hever hall had left her husband heir to the title and necessitated his retirement from the lower house of parliament.

Lady Astor, who was formerly Miss Nannie Langhorne of Virginia, is the mother of six children, a fact of which she boasted on one occasion during her canvass.

$4,000,000 FOR VANDERBILT

University at Nashville, Tenn., Receives Gift From the General Education Board.

New York, Nov. 29.—Vanderbilt university at Nashville, Tenn., has been given $4,000,000 by the general education board to effect an entire reorganization of its medical school. It was announced here.

The gift, the largest yet made by the board, comes from its general funds, the announcement says, and not out of John D. Rockefeller's recent donation of $20,000,000.

Detailed plans have not yet been developed, but they will involve completion of the present Galloway Memorial hospital, with enlarged facilities for public patients, creation of an additional hospital unit, organization of a modern laboratory building and the appointment of an increased number of professors.

WILSON'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS CITES CURES FOR UNREST

Would Give Labor Fair Play, but Uphold the Law.

NATION'S HOUR OF TRIAL

Declares No One Class Can Rule—People Must Give Earnest Thought to Solution of Grave Problems—Revise Tariff, Reduce Taxes.

Washington, Dec. 3.—General recommendations on legislation to combat the cost of living, labor unrest, radicalism and a readjustment of the nation to peace-time basis were the features of President Wilson's annual message to congress.

The peace treaty, the president told congress, will be discussed in a separate message later, as will the railroad question.

For the second time only, since the president established the practice of addressing congress in person, his message was read by the clerks.

The president's principal recommendations were: Establishment of a budget system for the national finances. Reorganization of the taxation system with simplification of the income and excess profits taxes.

Readjust Tariff System. Readjustment of the tariff system, if necessary, to meet changed world conditions and make the system conform with the fact that the United States is "the greatest capitalist in the world."

Recognition and relief for veteran soldiers of the world war particularly in the way of government farms as proposed by Secretary Lane.

Proper measures to foster the dye-stuffs industry built up during the war to keep the United States independent of foreign supply.

An enlarged program for rural development, in recognition of the farmers' part in the war.

Measures which "will remove the causes" of "political restlessness in our body politic."

At this point the president made his most extensive reference to the peace treaty by saying the causes for the unrest "are superficial rather than deep seated" and that they "arise from or are connected with the failure on the part of our government to arrive speedily at a just and permanent peace, permitting return to normal conditions, from the transfusion of radical theories from seething European centers pending such delay, from heartless profiteering resulting from the increase of the cost of living, and lastly from the machinations of passionate and malevolent agitators. With the return to normal conditions this unrest will rapidly disappear."

The president renewed his recommendations for legislation to deal effectively with "those persons who by violent methods would abrogate our time-tested institutions."

To Cut Cost of Living.

Several recommendations, some renewals of previous ones, were made by the president to bring down the cost of living. Among them were extension of the food control law to peace times for the emergency; regulations for transportation of foods in interstate commerce; a cold storage law modeled after the law in New Jersey.

A long portion of the message was devoted to a discussion of the condition and rights of labor.

"A definite program to bring about an improvement in the conditions of labor" and bring about a "genuine democratization of industry" was recommended.

"The only way to keep men from agitating against grievances is to remove the grievances," said the president's message. At another point it declared "the seed of revolution is repression."

"The establishment of the principles regarding labor, laid down in the covenant of the League of Nations," said the message "offers us the way to industrial peace and conciliation. No other road lies open to us. . . . Governments must recognize the right of men to bargain collectively for humane objects. . . . Labor no longer must be treated as a commodity. "The right of individuals to strike is inviolate," continued the message, "and ought not to be interfered with by any process of government, but there is a predominant right, and that is the right of the government to protect all of its people and to assert its power and majesty against the challenge of any class."

Warm as an Arctic— washes off like a Boot

The new "U. S." Walrus, which is fast becoming popular among farmers everywhere

FOR years farmers have needed a high rubber overshoe—easy to put on and take off—warm and comfortable—one that could be easily cleaned of the dirt of the barnyard.

There's an overshoe like that for you this winter. With an all-rubber brace—

"U.S." Arctic—Made of snow-tight cashmerette, warm and comfortable. Reinforced where the wear is hardest. In one, two, four and six buckles, all weights and sizes.

snow-tight and water-tight—lined with thick, soft fleece—the new U. S. Walrus is just the thing you've been looking for.

It slips right on over your leather shoe. You can trudge through mud and wet all day, and then at your doorstep—swish!—a pail of water washes the U. S. Walrus as clean as before you started. A moment to unbuckle them and leave them at the door, and you enter the house as clean and dry shod as you left it.

Think of having an overshoe that keeps your feet warm as an arctic does—dry as a boot will—in the coldest, wettest weather! In every way, the new U. S. Walrus is the farmers' ideal overshoe.

At exactly the places where overshoes usually wear out first, the U. S. Walrus has been made strongest. Its sole consists of heavy layers of the finest rubber. Every point of strain is specially reinforced.

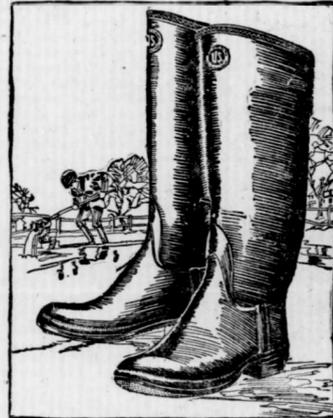

Ask your dealer to-day to show you a pair of the new U. S. Walrus.

Other "U.S." models—all built for the hardest wear

Whether you prefer a boot or a bootee for the wet season, a "rubber" for general use, or a cloth-top arctic—you can find in U. S. rubber footwear exactly what you need. Tough, heavy soles—special reinforcements at toe and heel—and always the highest quality rubber—these points are winning U. S. rubber footwear thousands of new friends every year.

Look for the U. S. seal—it means solid wear and long service for your money.

"U.S." boots are made in all sizes and styles: Short, Storm King, Sporting and Hip. In red, black, and white.
