LOCAL HIGH LOSES TO SLINGER HIGH

The local high school team journeyed to Schlesinger last Friday evening when they met with defeat of the season by a score of 30 to 17. Due to the inclement weather for several days previous, the team did not expect to be able to make the trip across country so the followers of the team could not plan to accompany them. At the last moment the team learned it could go with cars but too late for the much needed and wished for companions to follow. In spite of the fact that the crowd was naturally back of the Schlesinger team, the Kewaskum team entered the game with a smile and a determination to do its best; the opponents were likewise on the job. After a few minutes of play Schlesinger caged the first field goal; Kewaskum secured the ball a little later and with almost perfect team work worked the ball to their goal and tied the score. Kewaskum again secured the ball and added two more points. During the remainder of the first half the score was either a tie or Kewaskum had a small lead. Each team worked hard and displayed very good ball. The passing, team work and close guarding by Kewaskum were the noticeable features of the teams. The opponents were guarded so closely that their several attempts at work the ball into their goal still found them on the short end of a 10 to 12 count at the end of the first half. The overhated ball took some of the life and pep out of the Kewaskum team toward the end of the first half; it was expected however that the ten minute rest period would overcome this and that the Kewaskum players would come back strong and slowly gain a larger lead. This was not the case however and it seemed over confidence and over reliance on power overcame the team instead. The second half began but the Kewaskum machinery couldn't get started. The opponents soon tied the score and took a nice lead. Kewaskum took the lead with almost perfect teamwork; later the lineup was shifted but all without the desired results. The pep and the fighting spirit of the first half were gone. The opponents continued to gain until the final whistle ended the game with a 30 to 17 victory for Schlesinger. The game was clean throughout, the Kewaskum team received excellent treatment, and both teams proved themselves clean, true sportsmen. An excellent game is expected when the Schlesinger team comes here for the return game on Dec. 23. To-night (Friday) the local team clashes with the fast Mayville team at the Opera House. A hard battle is certain. The boys are determined to fight to the finish and break their losing streak if possible. Come out and help cheer the boys on to victory. Next Friday, Dec. 17 the local boys journey to Lomira to play them their return game.

TELEPHONE MERGER CLOSED THIS WEEK

A deal which has been under consideration for some time between Telephone and Theresa Union Telephone companies for the past year and a half came to a close this week, when the Theresa Union purchased the East Valley Line. Possession will be given the new owners on Jan. 1st, 1921. The Theresa Union now has a list of 800 subscribers, while the East Valley's subscription list totals over 400, which will mean a total of over 1200 for one line after January 1st. The purchase of the East Valley Line, was the result of a meeting held by the officers of the Theresa Union, who realized that the company was greatly handicapped in giving its subscribers the service it intended to give them, because the subscription list was not large enough to warrant the purchase of necessary equipment to render the best of service available. With this new addition the company will be in a position to give the best service possible. The lines will be remodeled and other repairs and additions will be made. The company has just completed the erection of an ideal one story brick building on Main street, known as the Dave Casey homestead which will be used exclusively for central office. One of the important changes which will be made is that the company will give 24 hour service, where heretofore it was from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m., unless for special calls. After the consolidation is perfected the new rates will also go into effect, which will be made in such a way that the change from the old rate as far as the village people are concerned. Further particulars of the changes that will take place will be published in a later issue of the Statesman.

WOLVES KILLED IN COLUMBIA COUNTY

Wolf hunting parties are becoming one of the favorite pastimes in Otsego and Hampden and the members of the hunting parties are not coming home empty handed either.
Just now Butler Berkvam, who is 72 years "young" is the boss shot of the community for he brought down a full grown male wolf, as big as a good sized Scotch collie. In the hunting party were his son, Jens Berkvam, his nephew, Arnold Berkvam, Winfield Hall, A. C. Ellickson and Henry Glidden. There were four wolves of the timber variety seen in the pack and when this big fellow undertook to pass the guard line in front of Mr. Berkvam's rifle he came to grief for Mr. Berkvam is known as a dead "shot" notwithstanding his age.
The scalp was taken to Portage and County Clerk H. R. Tongen and Register of Deeds, A. W. English. Mr. Berkvam received $100 bounty. He will also receive $10.00 from the state besides having a real wolf rug that will be worth considerable.
Wolves have been doing considerable damage in Otsego and Hampden and sheep have been killed on the farms of Arno, Louis Larson and W. Hall having recently lost sheep by night attacks of wolves. Three weeks ago O. D. Johnson shot a large wolf near his home in Hampden and the state paid him $20.00 bounty.—Hartford Press.

CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING

On Thursday, November 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Engelbert Pfeifer, of 6427 Evans Avenue, Chicago, celebrated their 25th anniversary. A dinner was given in their honor by their daughter, Mrs. Ethel Pfeifer, and who during the course of same had presented to her mother a pair of diamond earrings and to her father a beautiful gold watch. The couple were not only surprised, but very pleased with the tokens. Mrs. Pfeifer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Meixensperger of Theresa, and Mr. Engelbert Pfeifer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pfeifer of Allenton, Wis. The couple were taken by surprise by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Meixensperger of Milwaukee, Mrs. Josephine Dreher and Mrs. Clara MacDonald of Milwaukee, Mrs. Sophia Lehnard and son Edward of Marshfield, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Haas, Mrs. Mary Long, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Greenock, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Smith, Miss Marie Curry, Mr. and Mrs. B. Steffens and Mr. and Mrs. John Schuler all of Chicago. A most enjoyable day was spent by all present and will long be remembered. All left wishing Mr. and Mrs. Pfeifer all their good wishes and the hope that they would all return to celebrate their golden wedding.

Chamberlain's Tablets.
These tablets are intended especially for indigestion and constipation. They tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They act gently on the liver and bowels, thereby restoring the stomach and bowels to a healthy condition. When you feel dull, stupid and constipated give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with their effect.

DODGE COUNTY ASKS KEWASKUM'S TAX RATE HIGHER

From present indications there is still hope for Dodge, Washington and Fond du Lac counties to come to a satisfactory agreement in the selection of a site on the tri-county Sanatorium proposition, as the members of the tri-county sanatorium of Dodge county have asked chairman S. M. Pedrick for a conference of all members of the committee in the matter of the selection of a site for the institution. The following letter was written to Mr. Pedrick by the Dodge county members:
"We wish you to understand that the members of the Dodge county committee are unanimous in favor of a sanatorium, and if possible, a tri-county sanatorium, and we are asking for another meeting of the tri-county committee, if our committee of Fond du Lac and Washington feel so disposed, with the hope that something definite and more satisfactory may be determined upon for us to report to our county board at the January session, so that there will not be even one dissenting vote from our board."
"We have been informed that an article has appeared in a Hartford paper, stating that Fond du Lac and Washington counties intend to build a sanatorium of their own. If this be true, all well and good, then Dodge county will be in a position to go ahead with such course as it deems best."
A similar invitation has been forwarded to W. S. Melcher of Hartford, who is the chairman of the Washington county delegation. It seems that the resolution as passed by the Fond du Lac county board has been misinterpreted to mean that the tri-county project has been abandoned and a wrong impression had been obtained of the action taken.

NOW IS THE TIME

Don't put off that job of painting or paper hanging until next spring, but have it done now while the rush is not so great. Delay may mean disappointment later on. An excellent job of carriage and auto painting is our specialty.—Greiten & Beisler Kewaskum, Wis. 12 11 4t.

RESIGNS HIS POSITION

Theodore R. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Schmidt, who was employed in the office of the Peter Senz home store as bookkeeper for the past year has resigned his position to take effect January 1st, 1921. Mr. Schmidt has purchased a real interest in the Jos. O'Meara real estate and insurance business at West Bend. Mr. O'Meara has been very successful in his business, building same up to that point where it was impossible for him to attend to it in a proper manner alone. By taking in partnership Mr. Schmidt, the new firm will without doubt be far more successful in the future as Theodore is well posted in the insurance business, having assisted his father in the Kewaskum Limiter Insurance Co.'s office for a number of years. He is a graduate of the local high school and of the Department of Economics of Marquette University. The many friends of Theodore regret very much to see him leave, but wish him an abundance of success in his new undertaking.

RIPON MAN REFUSES OFFER OF $10,000 FOR VIOLIN

Efrem Zimbalist, noted Russian violinist, has made a standing offer to Anton Klein, well-known orchestra director of this city, of $10,000 for a rare old violin. Mr. Klein flatly refused the offer, contending that it is now impossible to replace the instrument at any price, and also that a personal sentiment prompts him to hold the violin in high regard.
The offer came at a dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Klein tendered to Zimbalist at the close of his concert here. An elaborate luncheon had been prepared, and at its close the conversation naturally drifted toward music. Mr. Klein then produced his cherished violin, and the noted player immediately upon examination of the instrument, made the almost fabulous offer as above related.—Ripon Press.

CIRCUIT COURT DOINGS

The continued fall term of circuit court at West Bend was adjourned last Saturday afternoon, without finishing its business. The case of Bentz vs. Mueller, the plaintiff allowed $20. In the case of August Westphal and Mary Westphal vs. Peter Kreutz was decided in favor of the defendant. The case of the State Road and Bridge Committee of Washington County to acquire a piece of land belonging to Adolph Roll of the town of Jackson was decided in favor of the latter. The jury allowed Mr. Roll $1100 for three-fifths of an acre of land on which there is a good gravel pit.

KEWASKUM'S TAX RATE HIGHER

The rate of taxation for the village of Kewaskum this year will be $17.69 on a $1000. This is 37 cents higher than it was last year when the rate was $17.23. The increase in county and school district tax: The county tax last year was $2,263.03, this year it is raised to $6,889.17. The district school tax last year was $4,861.63, this year is $1,000 lower than it was last year. The total amount to be raised by the village this year is $22,813.29, including Income and Occupational Tax. The tax budget as fixed by the finance committee of the village board on Monday is as follows:
Current expenses $3000.00
Library 1000.00
Highway tax 300.00
State Tax 2293.69
Portion of state special charges upon County 95.99
Salary and expenses of Co. Supt. school 97.60
Soldiers relief 87.51
All other County tax 6889.17
District school tax 6514.76
County 710.90
Total $20,981.95

PASSING OF THE PIONEERS

News was received here announcing the death of John Beisler, a well known and estimable citizen of the town of Wayne, who passed away at death at his home, on Thursday evening, Dec. 9, 1920 at 7 o'clock after a lingering illness with bright's disease. His condition however was not of a serious nature until two weeks prior to his death, when he suffered a paralytic stroke which is attributed as the cause of his death. Mr. Beisler was born on April 11, 1861 in the town of Wayne where he spent the greater part of his life. The funeral will be held on Monday morning, Dec. 13, at 10 o'clock with services at the St. Kilian church. Rev. J. Reichel will officiate. Interment will be made in the congregation's cemetery. A complete obituary will appear in our next issue.

BEE KEEPERS' MEETING AT WEST BEND

The State Department of Agriculture through the co-operation of the County Agent and bee-keepers' associations is holding a series of meetings in various sections of the state for the promotion of the bee-keeping industry. Arrangements have been made by Mr. Button, our county agent to have H. L. Murry, extension agriculturist meet with the bee-keepers of this county on Saturday, Dec. 18th. The meeting will be held at 10 A. M. and 1:30 P. M. at the Commercial Club room at West Bend. Mr. McMeury will give special attention to the interesting conditions being in cellar and out of doors; also to spring management and food brood. Every bee-keeper, no matter how large or how small, will find it worth while to hear Mr. McMeury, who is an expert bee-keeper himself. Plan to be present.

FIRST MEETING A SUCCESS

The first meeting of the Recreation Group organized by the local branch of the Red Cross, held at the library hall on Wednesday evening proved to be a success in every respect. The new organization promises good things for the girls and women of the village. There were twenty women and girls present, and all were much interested and most enthusiastic about the work. The next meeting will be held at the M. W. A. hall on Wednesday, December 15, at 7:30 P. M. Every girl and woman interested is very cordially invited to attend.

ANOTHER APPEAL FOR GERMAN AID

Although a large number of Washington county's citizens responded promptly and willingly to the appeal for help for the starving children of Germany, the total amount of the contributions received by Treasurer Leins of West Bend and Treasurer Lieven of Hartford is still far from what is expected of Washington county. Up to Monday this week Mr. Leins had received $2,500 while Mr. Lieven's receipts were $1,050. This makes a total of less than fifty per cent of what Washington county's committee had hoped to realize as its share of what Wisconsin will give to save the lives of Germany's starving children. No doubt a goodly number of people who received appeals to make small cash contributions had intentions of responding, but deferred doing so and later forgot all about the appeal. It is not too late even now to send in contributions, and the county committee appeals again to those who have until now made no contribution to open their hearts to the people less fortunate than they so that the lives of the starving children may be saved. There isn't a family in the county who can not afford to give a dollar, and if those who have not yet given something will make some kind of a contribution, Washington county will go "over the top" as it has done repeatedly when asked to help worthy causes.
Send in your dollar or two or five today, proving to you a willing to make just a little sacrifice to save a starving child.
Make remittance either to Chas. F. Leins, West Bend, Wis., or to John G. Lieven, Hartford, Wis.

RURAL SCHOOLS SELL MANY SEALS

"We simply can't get along without the seals that we won in last year's seal sale and we don't mean to let any other school in the county win them away from us if we can help it. These seals are an additional lot of seals by return mail. We sold first lot the first day we had them."
This is typical of letters which are coming into the Milwaukee Headquarters of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association every day from all parts of the state. The large number of requests for additional seals indicates that Wisconsin's rural school seal sale will be a record breaker. The sale has the endorsement of State Supt. C. P. Cary, President, B. G. McCormick of the State Teachers' Association, and many other prominent educators of the state.
Last year the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association offered one platform scale in each county to the one room ungraded rural school making the highest per capita sale of seals. The scales must be won three years in succession to become the permanent property of the school. Schools now holding them are determined to keep them and in every county of the state the other schools are equally determined to win them away from the trophy holders.
Seal Sale enthusiasm is not confined to the schools which hope to win prize scales, however. One teacher writes: "I have only six pupils in my school but we have sold the 600 seal sale and would like 900 more."
Another writes: "I took the seals you sent me over to a lumber camp and sold them all so that I have none left for the school children. Please send me some more."
The rural school sale has made it possible for the anti-tuberculosis campaign and the message of health to be carried to the most remote parts of the state and in this work the rural school children and teachers have rendered the state a tremendous service," declares President H. H. Jacobs of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association. "This year's enthusiasm shows that the country people appreciate the value of the nutrition work and the other preventive measures which have been introduced in the rural schools largely through the influence of the seal sale."
"The biggest purpose of the seal sale in the schools is not the raising of money for the organization against tuberculosis, important as that is, but to great thing is to enlist the active interest of the child. It isn't enough to teach boys and girls that tuberculosis is a menace. We must teach them what to do and the seal sale work is helping to do it. The seal sale does this."

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

In Washington County there are numerous small orchards that now amount to little or nothing that could be made a source of profit to the owners. Mr. Schwartz will tell us how he made his orchard pay.
Mr. Schwartz had an orchard on his farm at Waukesha, yet he always purchased his apples for winter use. Last year he was so high that he determined to try raising his own apples. This year he realized a profit of $1000 from the same orchard. The story of how he changed his unproductive orchard to a productive orchard is well told by Mr. Schwartz. Your county agent heard this talk some time ago, and he immediately made plans for Mr. Schwartz to give this talk in various sections of the county.
Mr. Schwartz as owner and manager of Kornfalla farms has made good on the farm on every thing he has tried. He is an extremely interesting talker and every farmer should hear him. Meetings are scheduled as follows: Monday, Dec. 27, afternoon—South Germantown; evening, Jackson. Tuesday, Dec. 28, afternoon—Waynes Center; evening—Allenton. Wednesday, Dec. 29, afternoon—Kewaskum; evening—Bentonville, Thursday, Dec. 30, afternoon—Thompson; evening—Schlesinger. Friday, Dec. 31, afternoon—West Bend.

CITY TEAM WINS THIRD GAME

Before a packed house of enthusiastic fans, the Kewaskum A. C. basketball team defeated the strong A. G. P. Specials of Milwaukee, by a score of 14 to 18, at the Opera House last Saturday evening. The game was close from start to finish, marked by splendid team work, heady and tricky playing on both sides. It was a contest in which every player figured to outwit his opponent in order to make a safe pass to either his fellow team mate or to the basket. It was also an exhibition of speed and cleanliness and at no time was there any danger of players getting hurt. The defensive on both sides was very strong. It was the first game ever staged on the local floor, where two teams entered in contest playing twelve minutes from the start with the score a tie 1 to 1, during which time neither team had the slightest chance to make a field goal. Spatz Miller broke the tie by getting a field goal, the visitors, however, came right back and like a flash caged a basket, making the score 2 to 3. Kewaskum then scored a free throw, from which time on both teams fought hard to break through the defense line, but to no avail until the very last minute of play when the locals found an opening, scoring two field goals in rapid succession, ending the first half 3 to 8 with Kewaskum in the lead. In the second half the visitors came back strong, making use of every trick of the game available and were successful in scoring 7 points to the locals 3 making the score 11 to 10 in the first few minutes of play. Things at this stage of the game commenced to look dark and gloomy for the local quintette, and the interest and excitement among the fans became greater and more intense, cheering and applauding for both teams whenever a sensational play was made. The Kewaskum team however, kept up courage and fought gamely as did also the visitors. Again the home team found an opening, scoring three field goals and a free throw against their opponents two field goals, ending the second half by a score of 14 to 18. The game was one of that kind in which cleanliness took the place of rousing play, between two teams of undenied class. There was not a really weak spot on either side, both teams played equally brilliant on the defense and offense. The visitors however, were handicapped to a certain extent in not being used to a small hall and in order to decide which team is the stronger it will be necessary to play three games. Both teams showed a remarkably fine type of basket ball, giving the finest kind of an illustration of the scientific possibilities of this game. Every present speaks in the highest terms of the brand of ball to which they were treated, and hope to see the day when these two teams will meet for another game. The A. G. P. Specials are composed of a fine type of men, both in character, sportsmanship, as basket ball artists. They were well satisfied with the treatment accorded them while in our midst and spoke very highly of Mr. Dupee as referee. The game was honorably won and lost. It is with regret that an error was made by the local officials in advertising the game as the Marquette University team, as no college team can play any outside team under the college name. It was not done intentionally, but purely a misunderstanding on the part of the local officials. The advertisement should have read the "Alpha Gamma Phi" team, which consists of students of Marquette University, but not the regular Marquette University team. Next week Saturday, Dec. 18, the home team will play the Hartford State Guards on the local floor. Hartford this year is represented by a strong team and a good game is assured. On Sunday, Dec. 19 the locals journey to Cedarburg to play the strong team of that place. A large number of fans are planning to accompany the team.

GRAIN GRADING AND MARKETING

Columbia University Added to Number of Colleges Giving Course of Instruction.

OTHER INSTITUTIONS AIDING

United States Department of Agriculture Is Preparing Sets of Trays Illustrating Various Grading Factors.

Columbia university has recently been added to the number of colleges giving instruction in grain grading and marketing. The United States Department of Agriculture, charged with the administration of the grain standards act, is keenly interested in having such instruction made a part of college curricula, particularly of agricultural colleges, and today there are 20 colleges where students study grain handling. Columbia University Helping. At New York city the local federal grain supervision office is giving active assistance to Columbia university in outlining and presenting the grain grading course to be given, and similar help is being accorded other colleges by federal grain supervision officials located in 33 districts throughout the United States. The department is also preparing sets of eight type trays illustrating the various grading factors of shelled corn, wheat, and oats, to be lent to colleges teaching grain grading under federal standards.

Last fall a conference of teachers of farm crops in a number of agricultural colleges with federal grain supervision officials was held at Chicago, where the entire grain situation was discussed with a view of equipping the instructors with information that would enable them to formulate courses of study in grain grading and marketing. Every phase of the grain trade was covered and a report of the conference prepared for distribution among the various colleges interested.

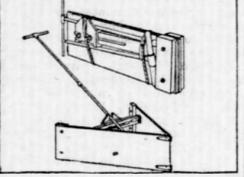

Grading Demonstrations.

Grain grading demonstrations covering a period of from one to twelve days have been given by United States Department of Agriculture experts before students of agricultural colleges in 17 states. The department is prepared to assist colleges in every possible way in furnishing them with authoritative information regarding the objects of the grain standards act and the practical application of its provisions.

SNOWPLOW IS COLLAPSIBLE

Simple and Inexpensive Contraption May Be Folded Up and Carried From Place to Place.

The Scientific American, in illustrating and describing a snowplow, the invention of V. W. Mason of Bridgeport, Conn., says: The object of the invention is to provide a simple, inexpensive and collapsible plow, which when folded may be easily carried from place to place.

The Device Folded, and Open for Use.

A further object is to provide a plow of the manual type, so constructed and counterbalanced that its pushing and pulling steering handle, relatively full-curved, exerts a varying downward pressure according to the depth and resistance of the snow. The plow can be adjusted to clear a path from 28 to 36 inches in width.

AUSTRALIAN WHEAT IS GOOD

Larger Yield Obtained on Pacific Coast Than Some of Native Commercial Varieties.

Tests made by the United States Department of Agriculture with 130 lots of Australian wheats recently introduced into this country have brought out three varieties adapted for growing on the Pacific coast, where they have produced larger yields than some of the native commercial varieties. They are known as Federation, Hard Federation and White Federation. The Australian varieties in general are susceptible to most cereal diseases, but many of these are not destructive in the Pacific coast region.

ERADICATION OF COCKLEBUR

Plant is Double-Barreled Gun Affair, Carrying Two Seeds—Circular Tells How to Kill It.

In eradicating the cocklebur, remember that it carries a double-barreled gun. Every bur carries two seeds, only one of which sprouts the first year. Even when the product of that seed has been killed the other will be in shape to make trouble the next season. The United States Department of Agriculture has a circular on the cocklebur—how to get rid of it.

MONEY IN MUSKRAT FARMING

Formerly Worthless Maryland Marsh. Land Increased in Value to $30 and $40 an Acre.

Muskrat farming has given formerly worthless Maryland marsh land a value of $30 to $40 an acre, the United States Department of Agriculture finds. States Department of Agriculture finds. In addition to the hides the carcasses are sold at 25 to 30 cents apiece for meat. They are considered a delicacy in some hotels.

WOOD CUTTING GOOD JOB DURING WINTER

Work Does Not Interfere With Regular Field Crops.

Logs Cut in Cold Weather Season Are Not Subject to Rapid Drying—Farmers May Profitably Turn to Some Sawmilling.

Farmers, as a rule, have too much to do at certain times of the year and not enough at others. Many farms are unprofitable because their owners have little or nothing planned for winter. Wood-cutting can be done at any time, but cold weather favors the rate of production, and in the winter the work does not conflict with that on regular field crops. If cut in winter logs are not subject to rapid drying.

Cutting Wood for Fuel by Use of Gasoline Engine.

nor to checking at the ends of the logs, which often occurs in summer-cut logs and apparently reduces their sale value. Because of injury resulting from the southern pine bark beetle in the hot season, it is practically necessary to cut pine in the fall and winter months. Damage and loss in summer often come from wood-rotting fungi, including the "bluing" and other staining of wood. For these reasons a good many farmers turn profitably to logging and sawmilling for a few fall or winter months each year. Nearly every kind of wood product can be satisfactorily handled in winter, according to the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

MALE BIRD MARKINGS

1. He should possess the characteristics and markings of the breed and variety of which he is a member.
2. Strong vitality.
3. Active movement.
4. Good health as indicated by ruddy combs and wattles.
- (It is not advisable to use a bird for breeding which has ever had a disease even if there are no indications of it at present.)
5. No marks of effeminacy. Crew should be strong and clear.
6. Remember the foundation of success in the breeding of poultry is the correct matings of the breeding pens.—B. W. Fairbanks of the Colorado Agricultural College.

FERTILITY IN TON OF STRAW

It Has Ability to Increase Crop Just as Much as Manure, Although It Is Slower to Act.

A ton of straw contains as much fertility as a ton of manure, and although the fertility does not become available quite so quickly, it nevertheless has the ability in the long run to increase crops just as much as manure. Of course the ideal way to use straw is to use it as bedding for animals and then spread it on the land mixed with manure. Where this is impractical the straw should be all means be spread on the land at the rate of around one and a half tons per acre and plowed under.

CHICKENS NEED GREEN FEED

Fowls Must Be Provided With Something to Take Place of Grass Obtained in Summer.

To take the place of green grass obtained by the fowls in summer the flock must be provided with green food in some form. Mangels and sprouted oats are very good. Alfalfa and clover meal are high in protein content and make good additions to an egg-producing ration. Cabbage and carrots are also good green foods.—E. J. Peterson, North Dakota Agricultural College.

MOTOR TRUCK IS PROFITABLE

Farmers in Eastern States Believe Use of Trucks Would Show Profit to Owners.

Out of 753 farmers owning motor trucks in 11 eastern states who answered a recent query of the United States Department of Agriculture 95 per cent said they believed the use of trucks would show a profit. Preference leaned toward a one-ton truck. Bad roads were the principal drawback mentioned.

WILD ANIMALS SEEK SAFETY

Find Protection in Game Sanctuaries at the Beginning of Every Open Hunting Season.

Wild animals know where they can find protection, says a United States Department of Agriculture circular on the fur industry. In places where there are game sanctuaries, wild creatures hasten to them at the beginning of every open hunting season.

AN INVITATION TO THE DANCE

ONE of the many lovely dance frocks made of taffeta silk is pictured here, and if ever there was a more alluring invitation to the dance than it succeeds in expressing, we will have to look to music to make it. For party dresses, for dancing, nothing seems to have quite the charm of taffeta silk, and it may be rightly described as a joyous fabric in its light colors. In black and dark colors it makes afternoon and dinner frocks unpretentious, but surprisingly charming. The youthful and pretty model shown in the picture employs apricot colored taffeta with a frivolous short oversize of chiffon in the same color. This is made of overlapping flounces having scalloped edges bound with bias folds of the taffeta. The underskirt is moderately wide and ankle length, the simple bodice draped in a "V" shaped neck opening at the back and front, and filled in with a chemise of the lace. The sleeves are merely two flounces of the scalloped chiffon.

Many pretty rivals of this dress brighten the display room of the shop that presents it. There is one in pink taffeta having a plain "baby" waist with straps of taffeta over the shoulders and a full round skirt. About the bottom of the bodice there is a narrow trim formed by gathering the skirt to the bodice in this way, and nestling in this trim, across the front, there are small, half-blown garden roses set in a row. Over them and over the bodice there is a veiling of malines scantily draped. It is hardly noticeable, but adds a beautiful touch like a rose mist over silk and flowers. It is like the taffeta in color. Imagine, in the company of these two frocks, a third of apple green taffeta, with a low bodice and full skirt gathered on a small wire at the hips to make it stand out from the figure. It has a pretty fichu of malines to match, and there are motifs made of light green glass beads scattered about on the skirt.

Between-Seasons Blouses

IN THE race for preference, georgette crepe has maintained the lead as a favorite material for blouses, but fine batiste is gaining and may at least catch up with it. When the matter of new blouses comes up for consideration and turns one's thoughts toward spring, it will be wise to consider both these materials for new inspirations reveal the batiste blouse with fine lace and tucks furnishing its embellishment, represented in many elegant and beautiful models. An unending variety of blouses, starting with strictly tailored styles and ending with handsome befrilled designs, all rivaling georgette in daintiness, promise to blossom out with the springtime. They will soon be on display in the shops, and clever needlewomen will busy themselves copying them.

In the meantime georgette, embroidered in silk or beads, fills in the interim between seasons. In such satisfactory models as those shown in the picture, at the left of the two shown bordered with a design worked out in French knots or simulated French knots in several colors. In the embroidery, as in the georgette, the choice of colors is governed by individual taste, making opportunity for much variety and unusual becomingness. A full peplum is gathered on at the waist line in this blouse with embroidered motifs at the corners made by the slashes. One sleeve is also decorated in this manner. A narrow belt of velvet ribbon repeats the dominant color in the embroidery.

Another slip-over model, at the right, is made of georgette in a dark color. It also boasts a peplum, short and split at the sides and using the same ornamentation as the body of the blouse in bands that extend from shoulder to hem. Both silk and bands are used in the making of these bands. Three-quarter length sleeves are lengthened by means of a ruffle set on with a satin piping which extends the sleeve nearly to the wrist. Blouses of this character do service for tailored and other costumes.

Most Accidents Preventable. Industrial accidents killed 3,400 persons and seriously injured 50,000 in the state of Pennsylvania in 1918, according to reports reaching the United States Public Health Service. Most of such accidents are preventable; many the result of carelessness. Safety first. Buckle Straps on Underwear. Some of the new underwear is shown with a buckle strap arrangement which permits the shoulder straps to be easily adjusted to any length. Handkerchief linen and triple voile, which is a silken fabric, vie in popularity as lingerie materials. Many colors are shown in the voile, some of them are mustard, pale blue, mauve and rose. Piping, often in contrasting colors, hand embroidery and lace are the trimmings in vogue. Brims Wider at Sides. Rather large formal hats have brims slightly wider at the sides than elsewhere.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

OF MARY GRAHAM BONNER CHRISTMAS TREES.

"Why are you trembling?" asked one evergreen tree of another evergreen tree. "I'm trembling for joy, and I see that you are trembling, too. Why are you trembling?" "I'm trembling for joy, too," said the other tree. And a number of other trees in the forests said: "And we're trembling for joy: The news has gone all over the woods. We're all waiting to see if we'll be chosen, and if not, we'll still give shade in the great woods, and we'll have a very good time." "But we are hoping that many of us, so many of us, will be taken." And the trees blew about in the cold wind, and they made cracking noises as they laughed, for they said that they were so happy. "We may be chosen as Christmas trees," some of them whispered. "And we may be chosen, too," others whispered. "And we may have popcorn strung upon us." "And cranberries," another said. "And candles," said still another. "And presents," one of the others whispered. "And candy canes and candy animals and candy baskets," said another. So they talked among themselves, first one tree and then another, and if you had been in the woods you would have heard them. They talk like that when the Christmas season is approaching, and they talk like that after Christmas, for the tree brothers and the old North Wind come and tell them what happened in the world of children. They are told how finely their brothers and their sisters looked, all decorated up for Christmas, and they hear of all the presents that were upon them, and how beautifully they stood and how greatly they were admired. And they feel a family pride and joy that they are the trees chosen for such a great occasion. They felt sorry, they said, for the trees which weren't green all the year.

"We May Be Chosen." and which only wore leafy dresses from the spring until the autumn. But then they knew that such trees liked their leafy dresses better and were happier that way. Some of the branches were waving about and talking, too. "And we may be used as decorations, and some of us may be used back of pictures and over doorways and over windows." And some of the other greens said: "And we may be used for wreaths, and they may tie the ribbon about us and put us in the windows, so we can see the happy faces of people as they go by during the glorious Christmas season." But the trees were still trembling, and there was a great deal of noise in the woods, and they were saying: "Oh, suppose it will be me!" And another said: "Oh, suppose it will be I!" For in their excitement they hardly knew which was right! And on they talked and rustled and waved and blew and trembled and cracked, and sometimes they groaned a little, for they were so impatient. "Oh, for the time to come," they said. "Oh, for the time to come when we'll all know if we're to be Christmas trees and if we're to see Santa Claus, and have him say to us as he has to our sisters and brothers and mothers and fathers and grandmothers and grandfathers and great-grandfathers: "What beautiful trees I've seen this Christmas. I've seldom seen such handsome trees." "Oh," said another tree, "I am too big to be taken. I am taller than any house or any building, and I couldn't stand up in a room, for my head would be so much higher than any ceiling. But I will be here and will hear what happened, when Christmas is over, and, oh, I'll feel so proud that I belong to the great family which helps with the decorations for the finest day in the whole year!"

A Surprise in Store.
Little Joan's canary, "Wilfies," had died, and the poor youngster seemed heartbroken. To console her somewhat her father gave her a cigar box in which to deposit the remains, and with much ceremony he assisted in burying the box in the garden.
"Dad," whispered Joan, when the funeral was over, "will Wilfies go to heaven?"
"I expect so," replied her father. "Why?"
"I was only thinking," murmured Joan, "how cross St. Peter will be when he opens the box and finds it isn't cigars after all!"

PERFECTION OF MODERN ART
Small Wonder Young Lady Artist Exhibited as She Gazed on Her Completed Painting.

The young lady looked before her with entranced gaze. She looked longingly on the purple sun as it arose in the west.
Her eyes lingered appreciatively on the bright green sky, with patches of red and orange stretched across its spacious breadth.
Clasping her hands with joy, she gazed at the filmy, odd-looking clouds of yellow, splashed across the heavens. Several fishes were flying in the sky, while birds could be seen in the waters below, swimming and drinking.
Then her eyes turned toward where a few ocean liners sped across the horizon, with sails unfurled; a fisherman's castle, and the lowly fisher outside cleaning some fish, seated on a one-legged stool in a patch of red grass.
"Wonderful!" cried the young lady. "This is really the prettiest picture I have ever painted."—London Answers.

DISCOVERY CAME TOO LATE
Detective Forced to Admit He Was Slow in Ferreting Out Gross Case of Fraud.

While they waited for the train two passengers got into conversation. Presently one disclosed the fact that he was a detective, and the other was naturally greatly interested.
"I suppose you have an exciting time," he exclaimed.
"Yes, I must say I have had my share of it," owned the sleuth.
"Discovered a great many gigantic frauds, I suppose?" invited the other, hoping for strange yarns to while away the time.
"I should say so," the detective replied. "Between you and me, the most complete case of fraud I ever saw was a woman, young and pretty. I would have been ready to swear she was an angel. But she has a temper like a whirlwind, and is as cunning as a serpent."
"How did you discover her true character?"
"I married her!"
"Thought it was a 'Chaser'?"
"This railway claims to have the smoothest roadbed in the country."
"What's that to me?" asked the grouchy traveler.
"Stand a glass of water on the window sill and not a drop will spill out."
"Umph! I tried that and an inquisitive stranger watched me for half an hour to see if I was going to violate the prohibition law."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Beloit—With the announcement that Beloit milk producers will receive $2.50 per 100 pounds of milk came the statement from the dairymen of the city that milk will be sold for 1 cent a quart cheaper. Quarts will be 13 cents, pints 7 cents.

Stevens Point—Uncle Sam has frowned upon the request of local people to return to the use of flags in disseminating United States weather forecasts here. Government officials endorse the post card system, explaining that it is difficult to say with flags what the forecast means.

Hurley—A Milwaukee specialist will examine all crippled children of the county and make recommendations for their care. The Iron county board made an appropriation to arrange for the examinations.

Madison—Only a few killings of does and fawns were reported to the conservation commission during the present deer hunting season, the commission says. The one buck law has been generally observed. The confiscated does will be sold in Milwaukee.

Suring—Dr. J. S. Dougherty has a perfect oval pearl which jewelers valued at $150, but which he refuses to sell. He ordered an oyster stevedore in a Green Bay restaurant, bit on something hard and found the pearl.

Oshkosh—Four claims for damages aggregating $5,600.85, arising out of automobile collisions with the concrete "silent policeman" at a prominent street corner have been brought against the city. Two suits are based on the injuries recently sustained by Fred Bangs and the wrecking of his auto, when the machine hit the heavy post. S. J. Reigh and A. H. Davis seek small sums for damages to autos that hit the post.

Madison—State disbursements during November exceeded the receipts, according to a statement by Henry Johnson, state treasurer. Receipts of all funds for the month amounted to $2,199,470.83, while the disbursements were $3,162,758.80. The balance for all funds Nov. 1 was $8,709,049.19, while the balance for Dec. 1 was $7,745,761.24. The general fund on Dec. 1 had a balance of $4,867,482.87.

Green Bay—In the last ten days of November 1,300,000 pounds of herring was caught in Green Bay and sold to the fish houses here for freezing storage. The run of herring was extra heavy this fall. The fishermen got a late start because of the warm weather holding out so late. But when they started some record catches were made.

Sturgeon Bay—What is considered a record near here was made on the August Moeller farm, when 23 acres were plowed in one day. This amount represents the work of three tractors, and the feat was witnessed by quite a few people. Plowing in the month of December is something exceptional but is in progress throughout the entire section of the county.

Janesville—The price of coal here is to be investigated following a petition to the city council from the Central Labor council. Anthracite is selling at $20 a ton while in Milwaukee it is $17, and at Beloit $15. The petition was referred to Ald. W. W. Menzies, a coal dealer, who declared he welcomes an investigation in the belief that it will clear unfavorable comment.

Madison—Four Wisconsin men were killed in hunting accidents during the deer season, Nov. 20 to Dec. 1. Ten others were killed between Oct. 3 and the opening of the deer season, the majority of these losing their lives while duck hunting. Walter Broom, Watertown; Charles Stever, Oshkosh; John Smeester, Amberg, and Harry Dean, Draper, were mistaken for deer and shot dead.

ALL AROUND WISCONSIN

Madison—Senator I. L. Lenroot, who goes to Washington this month to resume his duties, is the sixteenth United States senator to represent this state during a period of seventy-two years. Ten have been republicans, five democrats and one a free soiler. Most of the United States senators representing Wisconsin have come from the southern part of the state. Senator Lenroot is a striking exception. During the period that these sixteen men have served as United States senators twenty-three men have served as governor.

Antigo—Establishment of a sanctuary for wild life in Langlade county is being considered by the Antigo Game and Gun club, which just held its annual meeting. It is proposed to purchase not less than 1,000 acres, which would include the headwaters of some trout streams. There would be created an "incubator" for trout fry to develop them to the fingerling stage, when they would be distributed to various trout streams. Advertising of Langlade county's trout streams is also to be undertaken.

Madison—Wisconsin has 109,196 farms in 1920, as compared with 177,127 in 1910, and 169,795 in 1900, according to the farm census of the state. Dane county leads with 6,217, followed by Marathon county with 6,058, and Dodge third with 4,633. A farm is considered by the census to be all the land directly farmed by one person. Where there are tenants, renters, or managers, the land farmed is considered a farm.

Oconto—Farmers in the town of Spruce, this county, have formed a company with capital of $25,000, to be known as the Spruce Co-operative company. It will handle merchandise and machinery, which will be sold to members at cost at prices as low as direct buying from manufacturers will allow. The company also plans to have a large part in development of the cattle raising industry in the town.

Green Bay—The paper makers of Green Bay may demand the same scale of wages next spring when the present contract runs out, it was declared by George Schneider of Appleton, organizer in the Fox River Valley. At a mass meeting of workers a protest was made against the laying off of men here, and it was suggested that each employe should be given five days' work a week.

Oshkosh—Mrs. Arabella Locke, who resides near Oshkosh, thirteen miles from here, celebrated her one hundred and second birthday Saturday, Dec. 4. She was born at Westfield, Conn., in 1818 and came to Wisconsin in 1851. She has lived on the old homestead 51 years. She voted in the recent election. She gets about her home and reads much by means of a reading glass.

Minocqua—This city, with a population of 900, is represented at Marquette university, Milwaukee, by 1 per cent of its total population. The nine students from Minocqua are in the dental, economics, medical, law, journalism and engineering departments. A Minocqua club is to be formed at Marquette.

Lake Mills—Albert C. Wollin brought home a moose from Minnesota which weighed 700 pounds dressed and with antlers measuring about 50 inches from tip to tip. Edwin Wollin and Harvey Ziebell also returned from Cable, Wis., with a deer weighing about 160 pounds.

Madison—The state railroad commission set Jan. 6 for a hearing on a petition by Madison boat owners that the Milwaukee and the Northwestern railroads be required to raise their bridges over Lake Monona. The water is so high that launches can not pass under the bridges. The proposed work would cost probably $1,000,000.

Marinette—The Rev. G. A. Alf, a Polish Baptist minister of Pounds, has been granted a six months' leave of absence during which he will visit Russia on authorization from the Polish Baptist church of America. His official mission is to carry the gospel and do relief work.

Beloit—With the announcement that Beloit milk producers will receive $2.50 per 100 pounds of milk came the statement from the dairymen of the city that milk will be sold for 1 cent a quart cheaper. Quarts will be 13 cents, pints 7 cents.

Sheboygan—Mrs. Sarah Redmond, aged 101, the oldest person in this city, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. St. Clair McQuilkin. Mrs. Redmond was born in Ireland.

Stevens Point—Uncle Sam has frowned upon the request of local people to return to the use of flags in disseminating United States weather forecasts here. Government officials endorse the post card system, explaining that it is difficult to say with flags what the forecast means.

Hurley—A Milwaukee specialist will examine all crippled children of the county and make recommendations for their care. The Iron county board made an appropriation to arrange for the examinations.

Madison—Only a few killings of does and fawns were reported to the conservation commission during the present deer hunting season, the commission says. The one buck law has been generally observed. The confiscated does will be sold in Milwaukee.

Suring—Dr. J. S. Dougherty has a perfect oval pearl which jewelers valued at $150, but which he refuses to sell. He ordered an oyster stevedore in a Green Bay restaurant, bit on something hard and found the pearl.

Oshkosh—Four claims for damages aggregating $5,600.85, arising out of automobile collisions with the concrete "silent policeman" at a prominent street corner have been brought against the city. Two suits are based on the injuries recently sustained by Fred Bangs and the wrecking of his auto, when the machine hit the heavy post. S. J. Reigh and A. H. Davis seek small sums for damages to autos that hit the post.

Madison—State disbursements during November exceeded the receipts, according to a statement by Henry Johnson, state treasurer. Receipts of all funds for the month amounted to $2,199,470.83, while the disbursements were $3,162,758.80. The balance for all funds Nov. 1 was $8,709,049.19, while the balance for Dec. 1 was $7,745,761.24. The general fund on Dec. 1 had a balance of $4,867,482.87.

Green Bay—In the last ten days of November 1,300,000 pounds of herring was caught in Green Bay and sold to the fish houses here for freezing storage. The run of herring was extra heavy this fall. The fishermen got a late start because of the warm weather holding out so late. But when they started some record catches were made.

MAY PROBE LACK OF EMPLOYMENT

Resolution in Congress Asks Quiz of Conditions.

MASON URGES INVESTIGATION

Illinois Representative Declares There Are About 2,000,000 Men Out of Work in the United States Now.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Congressional investigations of the "increasing unemployment" to determine what action, if any, to relieve the situation can be taken by the federal government was proposed in a joint resolution introduced in the house by Representative Mason (Rep.) of Illinois.

A general conference of governors of states and representatives of the federal government for the purpose of determining the facts concerning unemployment also was proposed. Mr. Mason estimated the number of unemployed at approximately 2,000,000.

The resolution proposed separate and immediate investigations by the labor, interstate commerce, public buildings, post office and military and naval committees, which would be required to report to the house by December 20.

Limit Alien Debate.
The house rules committee reported a special rule limiting to four hours debate on the Johnson bill to prohibit immigration for a two-year period. Two days for preparation of a minority report were allowed and Chairman Campbell (Rep.) of Kansas announced he would call the rule up for action on Thursday.

Under the rule at the conclusion of the four hours of general debate, the five-minute limitation on members speaking thereafter would apply.

Representative Siegel of New York was granted the time to file a minority report. Representative Sabath of Illinois is standing with Mr. Siegel against certain provisions of the committee measure.

Mr. Siegel in asking for time said that although the immigration problem was serious, legislation should not be enacted "without due consideration for the after effects."

Secretary Baker was asked by the house military committee to appear before it Friday to explain why the War department has recruited an army of more than 180,000 men.

Charges Broken Faith.
Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee said some committee members felt that the war department had broken faith with the committee, explaining that the army appropriation for the year was based on a maximum of 180,000 men, with the understanding that such a force would be sufficient.

Reports to the committee, Mr. Kahn continued, indicate that the army now approximately 210,000 men and that efforts were being made to reach the 280,000 maximum allowed under the army reorganization act. If this were done, he added, a deficit of at least $160,000,000 would be incurred.

An announcement by the War department placed the total strength of the regular army on November 30 at 221,825 officers and men, the commissioned personnel totaling 13,461.

Industry Gets Attention.
Means of stimulating commerce and industry appear to be uppermost in the minds of congressional leaders as the third and final session of the Sixty-sixth congress got under way.

Although house leaders were convinced that few measures of consequence other than appropriation bills would be acted upon, there was manifested a sentiment that a program of stabilization for commerce and industry should take precedence in committee consideration.

In the gist of bills in the first two days there were a score or more of measures having to do directly with business. Some proposed protection of an extreme nature for American industries, others were designed to foster development of industries already established, but momentarily having hard sledding, while still others were designed to establish machinery to determine causes for the present commercial depression. All were aimed at the same end—restoration of normal business conditions.

Cabinet Member Hints at Plan for Mediation in Armenia Through Lenin.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The first hint that the United States entertains a thought of recognizing the Lenin government came after a meeting of the cabinet, when one member said it will be necessary to work officially through the soviets to carry out President Wilson's plan for relief and mediation in Armenia. The Russian government is Christian and the United States prefers, the cabinet member stated, to acknowledge its jurisdiction in Armenia rather than deal with the Turks.

Britain Watches Reds.
London, Dec. 8.—Careful watch is being kept upon activities of extraneous to affect the army's loyalty, it was declared by Sir Archibald Williamson in the house of commons.

What God Requires.
What God requires is an undivided will—a yielding will, desiring only what he desires, rejecting only what he rejects, and both unreservedly. Where such a mind is, everything turns to good, and its very amusements become good works. Happy indeed is such a one.—Fenelon.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine
Beware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions.
Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago, and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetateester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.
So Did We.
"Marry in haste and repent at leisure."
"At leisure? I thought Reno got the divorce business."
Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."
According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

Should Be Quarantined.

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rides himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

SONORA

What is in a name? Here is what is in the Sonora name: A knowledge on your part that when you buy a Sonora you buy the phonograph that has proven superiority, because the only jury which heard and tested all of the phonographs at the Panama-Pacific Exposition recommended that the Sonora be given a marking for tone quality higher than that given to any other machine, because of this proof you should choose a Sonora. Hear it at our store.

The Sonora plays All Makes of disc records perfectly without extra attachments.

The Sonora is the instrument of matchless beauty and is not beyond your means, in fact it costs little more than machines of unknown make of which you know nothing about.

The Sonora, the phonograph sold without offering easy payments as the leading attraction. Do not be misled by the growing installment evil. Sonora is sold on a quality basis and you get full value, the terms being secondary consideration. Hear the Sonora and you will choose it.

A Sonora will make an Ideal Xmas Gift, let us sell you one.

Since his ordination, last July, he has been in charge of the St. Kilian parish at St. Kilian, Wis., in which congregation he served faithfully and was beloved by all. His place at St. Kilian will be filled by Rev. J. Reichel of Madison, Wis. Rev. Stoffel will enter upon his new duties tomorrow (Sunday). The Statesman and Father Stoffel's many friends extend congratulations and best wishes for a continued life of health and prosperity to him in his new field of Christian endeavor.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL SERVICE

The only method of judging the value of a policy of service is by results.

Our policy of serving each individual according to his particular needs has shown results in two ways.

First: It has enabled us to contribute greatly to the success and prosperity of our customers by giving them assistance and advice when most needed.

Second: It has promoted a healthy growth of our own institution.

May we have the opportunity of showing you the many advantages of being one of our customers.

CONGRESS HEARS WILSON MESSAGE

President Urges That Our Democracy Prove Its Purity and Power to Prevail.

WORLD'S HOPE RESTS IN US

America Must Make and Enforce Laws That Are Unquestionably Just, and Stand for Right and Justice as Toward Individual Nations.

Washington, Dec. 7.—President Wilson's message to congress was read in both houses by the clerks. Mr. Wilson having decided not to deliver it in person. The message in full follows: Gentlemen of the congress:

When I addressed myself to performing the duty laid upon the President by the Constitution to present to you an annual report of the state of the Union, I found my thought dominated by an immortal sentence of Abraham Lincoln's: "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it," a sentence immortal because it embodies in a form of utter simplicity and purity the essential faith of the nation, the faith in which it was conceived, and the faith in which it has grown to glory and power.

With that faith and the birth of a nation founded upon it came the hope into the world that a new order would prevail throughout the affairs of mankind, an order in which reason and right would take precedence of covetousness and force, and I believe that I express the wish and purpose of every thoughtful American when I say that this sentence marks for us in the plainest manner the part we should play alike in the arrangement of our domestic affairs and in our exercise of influence upon the affairs of the world. By this faith, and by this faith alone, can the world be lifted out of its present confusion and despair. It was this faith which prevailed over the wicked forces of Germany. You will remember that the beginning of the end of the war came when the German people found themselves face to face with the conscience of the world, and realized that right was everywhere arrayed against the wrong that their government was attempting to perpetrate. I think, therefore, that it is true to say that this was the faith which won the war. Certainly this is the faith with which our gallant men went into the field and out upon the seas to make sure of victory.

This is the mission upon which democracy came into the world. Democracy is an assertion of the right of the individual to live and to be treated justly as against any attempt on the part of any combination of individuals to make laws which will overburden him or which will destroy his equality among his fellows in the matter of right or privilege, and I think we all realize that the day has come when democracy is being put upon its final test. The old world is just now suffering from a wanton rejection of the principle of democracy and a substitution of the principle of autocracy as asserted in the name but without the authority and sanction of the multitude. This is the time of all others when democracy should prove its purity and its spiritual power to prevail. It is surely the manifest destiny of the United States to lead in the attempt to make this spirit prevail.

Two Things for Us to Do. There are two ways in which the United States can assist to accomplish this great object. First, by offering the example within her own borders of the will power of democracy to make and enforce laws which are unquestionably just and which are equal in their administration to laws which secure its full right to labor and set at the same time safeguard the integrity of property, and particularly of that property which is devoted to the development of industry and the increase of the necessary wealth of the world. Second, by standing for right and justice as towards individual nations. The law of democracy is for the protection of the weak and the influence of every democracy in the world should be for the protection of the weak nation, the nation which is struggling toward its right and toward its proper recognition and privilege in the family of nations.

The United States cannot refuse this role of champion without putting the stigma of rejection upon the great and devoted men who brought its government into existence and established it. In the face of almost universal opposition and intrigue, even in face of wanton force, as, for example, against the order in council of Great Britain and the arbitrary Napoleonic decrees which involved us in what we know as the war of 1812.

Sample Democracy of World. I urge you to consider that the display of an immediate disposition on the part of congress to remedy any injustices or evils that may have shown themselves in our national life will afford the most effectual offset to the forces of chaos and tyranny which are playing so disastrous a part in the fortunes of the free peoples of more than one part of the world. The United States is of necessity the sample democracy of the world, and the triumph of democracy depends upon its success.

Recovery from the disturbing and

UNITED STATES MOUNTAINS.

Many persons believe that Mount Washington, in New Hampshire, is the highest mountain in the eastern part of the United States. Mount Washington stands 6,233 feet above the sea level, according to the United States geological survey, department of the interior, but many peaks in the southern Appalachian are several hundred feet higher than New Hampshire's famous mountain. The highest mountain in the Appalachian system—sometimes disastrous effects of the late war has been exceedingly slow on the other side of the water, and has given promise, I venture to say, of early completion only in our own fortunate country; but even with us the recovery halts and is impeded at times, and there are immediate serviceable acts of legislation which, it seems to me, we ought to attempt to assist that recovery and prove the indestructible recuperative force of a great government of the people. One of these is to keep hope as successfully and in as business-like a fashion as any other government. It seems to me that the first step toward proving this is to step up ourselves with a method of handling our estimates and expenditures, and bringing them to the point where they will not be an unnecessary strain upon our income or necessitate unreasonable taxation; in other words, a workable budget system, and I suggest that two elements are essential to such a system—namely, not only that the proposal of appropriations should be in the hands of a single body, such as a single appropriations committee in each house of the congress, but also that this body should be brought into such co-operation with the departments of the government and with the treasury of the United States as would enable it to act upon a complete knowledge of the needs of the government and the resources from which it must draw its income.

The budget system, as presented by the last session of the congress because of a constitutional objection, was rejected by the president, and subsequently modified in order to meet this objection. In the revised form I believe that the bill, coupled with action already taken by the congress to revise its rules and procedure, furnishes the foundations for an effective current budget system. I earnestly hope, therefore, that one of the first steps taken by the present session of the congress will be to pass the budget bill.

Marked Gain in Finances. The nation's finances have shown marked improvement during the past year. The total ordinary receipts of $6,694,000,000 for the fiscal year 1920 exceeded those for 1919 by $1,542,000,000, while the total net ordinary expenditures decreased from $18,514,000,000 to $16,483,000,000. The gross public debt, which reached its highest point on Aug. 31, 1919, when it was $28,596,000,000, had dropped on Nov. 30, 1920, to $24,118,000,000. There also has been a marked decrease in holdings of government war securities by the banking institutions of the country, as well as the amount of bills held by the federal reserve banks secured by government war obligations.

One of the most gratifying results has relieved the banks and left them freer to finance the needs of agriculture, industry and commerce. It has been due in large part to the reduction of the floating debt, especially of the floating debt, but more particularly to the improved condition of government securities among permanent investors. The cessation of the government's borrowings to provide for the floating debt, and of indebtedness has been a matter of great consequence to the people of the country at large, as well as to the holders of government securities, public notes, and has had an important bearing on the matter of effective credit.

The year has been characterized by the progressive withdrawal of the treasury from the domestic credit market and from its dominant influence in that market. The future course will necessarily depend upon the extent to which economic activity is revived, and the burdens placed upon the treasury, as well as upon industrial development and the maintenance of tax receipts at a sufficiently high level.

Big Bond Issue to Mature. The fundamental fact which at present dominates the government's financial situation is that $2,500,000,000 of its war indebtedness matures within the next two and a half years. Of this amount $2,000,000,000 is represented by the 4 per cent victory notes and war savings certificates. The fiscal program of the government must be determined with reference to the amount of the floating debt, and the government expenditures be reduced to the lowest amount which will permit the various services to operate under the most favorable conditions from taxes and salvage be maintained sufficiently high to provide for current needs, and a surplus of current receipts over current expenditures can be realized and should be applied to the floating debt. All branches of the government should cooperate to see that this program is realized.

I cannot overemphasize the necessity of economy in government appropriations and the avoidance by the congress of practices which take money from the treasury by indefinite or revolving fund appropriations. The estimates for the present year show that over a billion dollars of expenditures were authorized by the last congress in addition to the amount shown in the usual compiled statement of appropriations.

Specific Appropriations Urged. This strikingly illustrates the importance of making direct and specific appropriations. The relation between the current receipts and current expenditures of the government during the present fiscal year, as well as during the last half of the last fiscal year, has been disturbed by the extraordinary burdens thrown upon it in connection with the transportation of the mails by the railroads to private control. Over $60,000,000 has already been paid to the railroads, and it is estimated that during the present fiscal year—and it is estimated that further payments aggregating possibly $60,000,000 must be made to the railroads during the current year. It is obvious that these large payments have already seriously limited the government's ability to meet its obligations.

Closely connected with this, it seems to me, is the necessity for an immediate consideration of the revision of our tax laws. Simplification of the income and profits taxes has become an immediate necessity. These taxes performed an invaluable service during the war. The need for their simplification, however, is very great in order to save the taxpayer inconvenience and expense and in order to make the liability more certain and definite. Other and more detailed recommendations with regard to taxes will no doubt be laid before you by the secretary of the treasury and the commissioner of internal revenue.

Would Aid War Heroes. It is my privilege to draw to the attention of congress for every sympathetic consideration the problem of providing adequate medical care for the care and treatment of former members of the military and naval forces who are sick or disabled as the result of their participation in the war. These heroic men can never be paid in money for the service they patriotically rendered the nation. Their reward will lie rather in realization of the fact that they vindicated the rights of their country and aided in producing civilization. The nation's gratitude must be effectively revealed to them by the most ample provision for their medical care and treatment as well as for their vocational training and placement.

The time has come when a more complete program can be formulated and more satisfactorily administered for their treatment and training, and I earnestly urge that the congress give the matter its early consideration, attention, and that the secretary of the treasury and the board for vocational education will outline in their annual reports proposals covering medical care and rehabilitation which will ensure will engage your earnest study and command your most generous support. Permit me to emphasize once more the need of action upon matters which I dwell at some length in my message to the second session of the sixth congress, and in the legislation, for example, of encouraging the manufacture of dehydrated and related chemicals; the importance of doing everything possible to promote agriculture; the necessity, for economic lines, to improve agricultural marketing and to make rural life more attractive and healthful; the need for a law regulating the time during which goods may be kept in storage, prescribing the methods of disposing of them if kept beyond the permitted period, and requiring goods released from storage in all cases to bear the date of their receipt.

Would Mark Storage Goods. It would also be most desirable if from cold storage for interstate shipment should have plainly marked upon each package the date of their receipt, and which they went into storage, in order that the purchaser might be able to learn what profits stood between him and the producer or the people in general. Indeed, it would be very serviceable to the public if all goods destined for interstate commerce were plainly marked on every package case whose form made it possible a plain statement of the price at which they left the hands of the producer. I respectfully suggest that you also, to the recommendations of the message referred to with regard to a federal license for all corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

In brief the immediate legislative need of the time is the removal of all obstacles to the realization of the best ambitions of the people in the several classes of employment and the strengthening of all instrumentalities by which difficult and costly work is removed and justice dealt out, whether by law or by some form of mediation and conciliation. I do not feel it to be my privilege at present to suggest the detailed and particular methods by which these objects may be attained. I have faith that the inquiries of your several committees will discover the way and the method.

Asks for Loan to Armenia. In response to what I believe to be the impulse of sympathy and opinion throughout the United States, I earnestly suggest that the congress authorize the treasury of the United States to make to the struggling government of Armenia a loan of $10,000,000. I would also suggest that it would be desirable to provide for the loan of the money thus loaned should be under the supervision of a committee of the senate and the house of representatives, and that the loan be repaid by the loan further extending opportunity.

HARDING ASKS AID OF SENATE

President-Elect in Farewell Address to Colleagues Asks Co-Operation.

EYES ARE DIM WITH TEARS

First Instance in History Where Nation's Chief Executive Has Sat as Member of the Legislative Branch.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Standing at his desk where he served for six years, President-elect Warren G. Harding bade farewell to the United States senate and in a brief speech, choked with emotion, expressed the hope that he might have the co-operation of his colleagues in the four years beginning March 4 next.

Senator Harding's presence in the senate marks the first time in history that a President-elect has attended sessions of that body as a member.

The galleries were choked with people and hundreds stood outside unable to gain admittance. Senator Harding's voice was low and husky as he began his farewell. His eyes were dim with tears.

"I am pleased at this greeting, my fellow members of the senate," he said. "There is still greater satisfaction in having this opportunity to say to you informally some of the things in my heart which I could utter in no other way. I recognize that I am here today under somewhat unusual circumstances, and there is a delicacy about it that one in my position cannot escape through some form of self-possessed which does not seem quite possible."

"No member of this body could be more reluctant to leave it. I say to the senate that I came here with a very high respect for this body, and I am leaving it with greater respect than I had when I came. If one could always direct his own political fortunes to his liking, I should have preferred my membership here to any office a citizen may hold in this republic or elsewhere in the world.

"I like the freedom, the associates, the patriotic sense of responsibility which abides here. I am conscious of the great place which congress holds under our Constitution, and particularly sensitive to the obligations of the senate.

"When my responsibilities begin in the executive capacity I shall be as mindful of the senate's responsibilities as I have been zealous of them as a member, but I mean, at the same time, to be just as insistent about the responsibilities of the executive.

"Our governmental good fortune does not lie in any surrender at either end of the avenue, but in the co-operation and co-operation which becomes the two in a great and truly representative popular government.

"This brings me to the thought particularly in mind. Something has been said about the 'senatorial oligarchy.' Of course everyone here knows that to be a bit of highly imaginative and harmless fiction. But I do recognize how essential is the helpfulness of the senate in the making of a successful administration.

"I want to express today the wish of a colleague for the confidence and the co-operation of the members of this body in the four years which begin next March 4. I do not limit this sincere request to this side of the aisle. One cannot promise agreement in all things with an opposite party which is sometimes insistently wrong, but we may find common ground in the spirit of service, and hope for that agreeable and courteous and oftentimes helpful relationship with the opposite which has added to the delights of fellow service during the last six years.

"We are facing no easy task. We have our full part in the readjustment of human affairs, after the world tumult. We have our tasks at home, we have our part in the inevitable work of the civilized world.

"I am sure that the necessity of wise solution will inspire us to work together; to take common counsel, to be tolerant of one another and give the best which is in all of us to attain the ends which become our republic at home and will maintain its high place among the nations of the earth.

"With propriety I cannot venture upon any suggestions now, even though I am speaking as a member of this body. Three months of the present administration remain, and I would like making them fruitful rather than wasted months. Let me express the hope to one and all that, though there comes a change in official relationship, it will not interrupt our co-operation."

ARGENTINA OUT OF LEAGUE

Swiss Delegate Would Permit Vorarlberg to Join Switzerland—Blockade Plan is Adopted—Try to Speed Up Work.

Geneva, Switzerland, Dec. 6.—An amendment to the covenant to the League of Nations eliminating article 10, the most important section of the pact, was introduced in the assembly of the league by Charles J. Doherty, Canadian minister of justice. The amendment will probably be referred to the committee on amendments.

Honario Priyredon, head of the Argentine delegation, handed Paul Hyman, president of the league assembly, a letter announcing that the Argentine delegation had ceased its participation in the assembly.

Presentation and adoption of a resolution eliminating article 10 from the covenant of the League of Nations before the end of the present session of the assembly would occasion no surprise here, it was declared in some quarters.

The interpretation of article 10 was provoked by the proposal of Giuseppe Motta of the Swiss delegation, who asked that if the present status of Austria was changed, Vorarlberg be permitted to join Switzerland. The text of the interpretation follows: "We cannot recommend the adoption of the proposal forwarded by M. Motta. We are in favor of the opinion that the entry of Austria into the league will in no way prejudice or affect the question so raised. We cannot help adding that the suggestion that admission to the league should have any such effect appears to arise from a misconception of article 10.

"It cannot be too emphatically stated that article 10 does not guarantee the territorial integrity of any member of the league. All it does is to condemn external aggression on territorial integrity and the political independence of any member of the league and to call upon the council to consider what can be done to resist such aggression."

A definite plan for use of the economic blockade against members of the league breaking the covenant was unanimously adopted by the subcommittee on blockade.

The members of the commission expressed the belief that the plan would give the league a very effective weapon against offending members and do much to prevent international disputes from developing into actual wars.

The general committee of the League of Nations assembly met to formulate plans to speed up the work of the assembly with a view to its completion by December 10 or 11. Sir Eric Drummond, the general secretary, said he thought it impossible to complete the unfinished business before December 18 or 20.

Austria was unanimously voted a member of the League of Nations by the commission for the admission of the assembly of the league will ratify this action.

A letter to President Wilson, accepting his offer to act as mediator in Armenia, was drafted by the council of the league here. Mr. Wilson's note, which was received here, was read to members of the council, and was received with marks of liveliest satisfaction.

INTERN SINN FEINERS

Irish Captives Are Placed in Camp at Ballykinler.

WILL BE GIVEN TREATMENT SIMILAR TO THAT ACCORDED PRISONERS OF WAR.

London, Dec. 6.—The first group of Sinn Fein prisoners to be interned under the government's recently announced plan left Dublin for Ballykinler, County Down. Their number was not made public.

The Ballykinler camp is on the shore of Dundrum bay and contains old hutments which were used during the war by men in training for the Ulster division.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, announced in the house of commons November 30, that the government intended to intern Sinn Feiners in whose cases there was reason to believe they were connected with the Irish republican army. He added that interned prisoners would be given treatment similar to that accorded prisoners of war, but said this would not involve recognition of the persons interned as prisoners of war, nor would it grant them that status.

Three civilians are reported to have been shot dead near Bander, County Cork, following the ambushing of a party of police. The police escaped without casualties, he adds.

HOLIDAYS AID TO BUSINESS

Signs of Betterment More Distinct in Certain Quarters—Buyers Buying Spring Goods. New York, Dec. 7.—Dun's Review of business for week ending December 3 says: Signs of betterment in business and sentiment, if slow to appear, are rather more distinct in certain quarters. The retail movement, although lacking the desired breadth, is accelerated as the holidays draw near, and some primary markets are revealing a little from their lethargy. Yielding prices invariably place a temporary check on operations, but there is usually a point at which buyers' interest will be reawakened, and this basis is apparently being approached in some leading lines.

The further increase in failures revealed in the November statistics, is neither unnatural nor surprising, as a business readjustment such as is now in progress may be expected to bring with it a higher commercial mortality.

The news from some divisions of the dry goods markets last week was rather more encouraging. With a fair construction of spring cloths at 7 1/2 cents, the interest of some buyers was rekindled.

KILLARNEY SHOPS SACKED

Uniformed Men Smash Windows in Irish City—Sinn Fein Arrested by Police in Scotland. London, Dec. 4.—Uniformed men visited Killarney, Ireland, and smashed nearly all the windows in the business section of the city. Damage estimated at several thousand pounds was done with small hammers and stones, says a Cork dispatch to the Evening News, Glasgow, Dec. 4.—The police arrested six persons of Irish nationality here, three of them women, on charges of treasonable conspiracy. With a certain galligait, gunpowder, guncock, detonators, hand grenades, revolvers and cartridges, as well as Sinn Fein literature, were found in their houses.

BREAD PRICE CUT AGAIN

Cleveland, O., Dec. 8.—The second cut in the price of bread in two weeks was announced here. Pound loaves retailed at 12 cents, while 10 cents was asked for one and one-half pound loaves, a reduction of 1 cent.

DEATH TO ALL TRAITORS

Belfast, Dec. 7.—The Sinn Fein had circulated a proclamation throughout the west and south of Ireland declaring that those guilty of "treasonable conspiracy" will be executed as traitors to the Irish republic.

THE BLUE MOON A TALE OF THE FLATWOODS BY DAVID ANDERSON

THE LYNCHERS.

Synopsis—Never having known his father, and living with his mother on a houseboat on the Washash river, Pearlhunter...

hundred hands still itching to get at him. They beat his face; his body—wherever a fist or a club could reach him. A stick of stove wood in the hands of a lanky woodchopper laid open an ugly gash across his head.

The sheriff dismounted, picked up the silt and trampled blouse, threw it about the shoulders of his prisoner and untied the several ropes and still knotted about his neck.

"Who is This Man?" Yelled the Sheriff.

ing loose. He stood studying it. The legs! He darted behind the stove, lifted it, and wrenched out loose, hid it under his rumpled blouse; and went to the east window to watch the sheriff's house.

"That you, Pearlhunter?" "Yes." The man on the outside raised himself even with the window. The Pearlhunter would have recognized him in half the light.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

Everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign run away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroad needs to do. Why don't you place a "Look Out for the Cars" sign at your store?

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world. The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

The "U. S." Walrus

Warm—watertight— cleaned in a minute

The three big points which make the "U. S." Walrus so popular

HERE is the overshoe that combines all the qualities you've always wanted! Look it over—it's the U. S. Walrus.

It's an all-rubber overshoe that's absolutely waterproof. It has a warm, snug-fitting fleece lining. It's convenient because you slip it right over your leather shoe—and push it off with your toe when you're through.

Best of all, the U. S. Walrus can be instantly cleaned. You can work for hours in barnyard mire—then a pail of water or a rinse at the pump washes the U. S. Walrus clean—removes every trace of mud from its smooth rubber surface.

Experts have designed it—have made it an overshoe that will stand the roughest wear. At every single point where the wear is hardest, the U. S. Walrus is heavily reinforced. Ask your dealer to show you a pair!

Other types of "U. S." Footwear—built for rough service

U. S. Boots have all the wear and comfort which our 74 years of experience can give them.

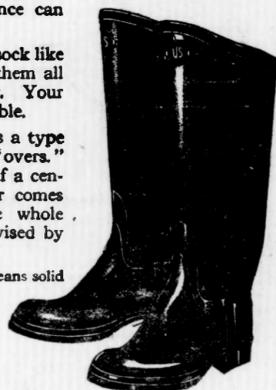

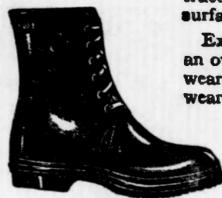

U. S. Bootees lace on over the sock like a leather shoe. You can wear them all day long in the wettest weather. Your feet will stay dry and comfortable.

The U. S. line of footwear has a type for every need—arctics, rubbers, "overs." Every one is backed by over half a century of experience. The rubber comes from our own plantations—the whole process of manufacture is supervised by experts.

Always look for the U. S. Seal—it means solid wear and long service for your money
