The "Home Paper" is the fondest visitor to every city dweller thrown by circumstances among tall buildings and smoky stacks; thrown among new and untried friends. It is the warmest visitor a man can have who has gone out in the world.
As Thanksgiving approaches, you cannot give a more welcome gift to that boy or girl who is far away; that father and mother who have retired to distant parts; that friendly old neighbor who has gone to the city or to any other state, than a year's subscription to the "old home" paper. It will mean an hour's joy, an hour's return of fond recollections to him or her every week of the year—and every-week remembrance of you!
If you think your boy or girl or friend would rather subscribe himself, mark this piece and mail the paper to him. Or send us the name on the following coupon and we will do it for you:

Here It Is!—The New

International Manure Spreader

Run Your Eyes Over These Best-yet Features:

1. Roller Bearings. Roller bearings at seven points—the only spreader so equipped.
2. Double Ratchet Drive. Walking beam transmission from main axle eccentric and extra large ratchet wheel give easy, strong, steady feed. No pounding or jerking, due to extra-long movement of pawls on ratchet wheel—only two power impulses on ratchet for every revolution of 46-inch drive wheels. Box tapered to eliminate friction on both sides. Six feed speeds.
3. Oscillating Front Axle. Auto-type, permitting short turn. No pole whipping. No strain on frame.
4. Power: Both Wheels. Power is transmitted direct from main axle to beaters, wide-spread spiral and manure conveyor—not through beaters to conveyor or vice versa.
5. Wheels Track. Rear wheels track with the front wheels, lightning draft.
6. Tight Bottom. There is no clogging, jamming or apron, because the spreader has a tight bottom. Spreads anything. Retains all liquid manure.
7. Two Beaters. Two all-steel beaters with chisel-pointed square teeth work from both top and bottom of the load. Allow extra-high load.
8. Wide-Spread. The spiral behind the beaters gives the manure a third beating, and spreads it finely and uniformly beyond the wheels.
9. All-Steel Main Frame. Does not check, rot or warp. Wood box sides hold only the load. Frame holds operating mechanism independently of box; keeps alignment perfect.

The New International—made in two sizes—is unquestionably the best spreader value on the market today, and when you consider it in connection with its price, it is so far ahead of all others that there is really no comparison.

We have a sample spreader set up for your inspection. Come in and look it over.

Woodsmen's Pay No Longer High

Reaction in Maine From War Boom Sends Lumber Prices Down Toward Normal.

TWO MEN FOR EVERY JOB

Home Builders Will Rejoice, but Pulp Mills Garner Most of the Output—Employers Now Can Get Their Pick of Men.

Bangor.—The day of fabulous wages for woodsmen is past, and instead of job hunting men—men of any kind at almost any price—the finding is now done by the men, for there are at least two of them to see job. Every day now, the sawmills of lower Maine and Washington states are thronged with woodsmen, waiting for something to turn up, and the employment agents are having their pick of the men at prices not more than half those paid a year ago.

In older times the best of native woodsmen were glad when November came around and a long winter forced them, to get $16 to $20 a month to go into the woods, waiting most of the 50 to 100 miles from Bangor to the scene of operations with their axes on their backs, and satisfied with a bunk in a log house and a diet composed chiefly of pork and beans. They went to work at the first streak of dawn and kept at it as long as they could see a tree.

Wages Were Low.

In that day the price of spruce stampee (the right to cut) was $1.25 to $2 per thousand feet and a very liberal scale at that. The men who were the logs down the boom got $1.75 to $2.50 a day, and they were experts, every one. The rafters at Bangor, the overhaulers, the sawmill men and everybody else who touched the log or the lumber worked long hours at low wages—the sawmill men from dawn to dusk for $30 a month and board. Vessels carried the lumber from Bangor to Boston for as little as $1.25 per thousand feet, seldom more than $1.75; to Long Island ports for 50 cents more and in New York for $2.25 to $2.75.

On this basis of cost of production estimating the price of the logs in boom at $1 to $2 per thousand feet for hemlock and $10 to $13 for spruce, lumber was so cheap that almost anyone could afford to build a house and machine in Bangor and the towns along the river improved the opportunity of cheap lumber and cheap land to get homes for themselves.

Today everything is very different. There had been a gradual increase before the war of stumpage rates, wages and other costs, and lumber was costly enough when the war came on, largely through the advent of the pulp mills, which from small beginnings in the twenties increased their field and scope of operations until in 1915 they owned most of the desirable timber lands and were cutting up rather more than half of the 800,000,000 feet of spruce cut in the state.

Then the war set things faster than ever. Wages were first to go skyward, owing to the difficulty of getting help. Men who could not speak a word of English and were almost too lazy to move got $2 a day and board for cutting four-foot pulp wood, or $2.75 to $3 a cord when working by the piece and paying their own board, at the rate of 75 cents to $1 a day. Some of these pieceworkers made as much as $180 to $200 a month, a few even more. Most of this was spent

Bottom Fell Out.

Then, in the early fall of 1920, the bottom began to fall out. Pooled pulp wood fell from $31 a cord to $21 and rough from $25 to $13, while, with an overstock on hand everywhere, cutting operations were curtailed one-half. Woods wages went down with a bang but the bottom was not reached. This summer the decline has continued and woods wages are down to $1.75 a day, in some sections as low as $1.50, with board, while pulpwood sawyers working by the cord are getting instead of $2.75 to $3.50 a cord, $1.75 and occasionally $2, and paying their own board at the rate of 75 cents to $1 a day. Even at those prices there are thousands idle.

Spruce lumber, which at one time in 1919 reached $63 and $65 per 1,000 feet, is now quoted at $45 to $49 for dimensions and $30 to $43 for randoms, and the only thing that prevents a further slump is the demand of the pulp mills, which now

U. S. Tells How to Save on Fuel

Ignorance of Care of Furnace Responsible for Much Waste, Says Bulletin.

SEALING CRACKS SAVES HEAT

Average House Owner Burns Too Much Coal, Principally Because He Does Not Know How to Regulate His Heater.

Washington.—The average house owner burns too much coal, principally because he does not know how to regulate his heater, say engineers of the United States Department of Agriculture in Farmers' Bulletin 1194, "Operating a Home Heating Plant," published by the department. Many rural homes are now provided with furnaces, and the publication was prepared as a guide to their efficient operation, particularly in getting the most heat out of the fuel and in making the home as healthful as possible.

The satisfactory and efficient heating of homes according to the bulletin, requires: That the chimney be of proper size and in the proper place; that the proper heating equipment be installed correctly; that the plant be understood thoroughly and operated so that it gives the most heat from the fuel consumed; that the house be con-

GIANTS WIN SIXTH GAME OF SERIES

Barnes Comes to Toney's Rescue in First Inning.

THREE HOME RUNS ARE MADE

McGraw's Crew Gets Two and Ruth's Substitute the Other—Harper of Yanks Was Knocked Out in the Second Inning.

New York, Oct. 12.—Home runs were plenty in the early innings of the sixth world series game between the Yankees and Giants.

Final score: Giants, 8; Yankees, 5. The Giants started the circuit drives, getting two of them in the second inning, in which they tied a three-run lead secured by the Yankees in the first inning.

Meusel and Snyder Get Homers. They were made by Irish Meusel, with Kelly on first base, the ball going into the right-field stand. Snyder brought in the tying run for the National leaguers when he drove the ball into the left-field bleachers. Barnes and Burns made hits in the same inning, but Shawkey, who relieved Harry Harper, checked off the Giants.

Fewster Gets Third Homer. Barnes stopped the Yankees, but in the second inning, in which the third home run of the game was made, the Yankees resumed the lead, 5 to 3. Shawkey after Schang had struck out, singled sharply to left field and jogged around the bases when Fewster lined a fast ball for a home run into left field stand.

The Yankees did not miss Babe Ruth in these innings, as Fewster, who replaced him in the contest, drew a base on balls and made a home run in two trips to the plate.

The Giants gained a 7 to 5 lead in the fourth inning by scoring four runs on singles by Snyder, Barnes, Bancroft and Kelly, a stolen base and McNally's wild throw on Burns' sacrifice hit.

CORN PEST IS TARGET

U. S. GOVERNMENT TO WAR ON THE BORER.

Dozens States Ask Washington to Check the Ravages of the European Insect.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Proposals that the entire northeastern portion of the country stretching from the western Indiana border to the Atlantic coast, and from the Ohio and Potomac rivers to the Canadian line be placed under quarantine to check ravages of the European corn borer, a new insect pest, are up for hearing before the federal horticultural board.

The hearing brought to Washington representatives of the agricultural departments of more than a dozen states, both within and without the proposed quarantine area, and agents of boards of trade, chambers of commerce, agricultural organizations and of grain dealers' associations from the middle west, south and northeast. The proposal gave all the appearance of being one of the most hard-fought issues which have come before the horticultural board, states within the proposed area seeking to prevent the quarantine and those without, but adjacent to it, seeking imposition of restrictive measures.

The proposal of the board had its inception in the discovery of the corn borer in Ohio and neighboring states, particularly in the lake area. Portions of the states of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York and Pennsylvania already are under quarantine, and the extension, if ordered, would prevent shipments without permit from the quarantine area of corn, brown corn, colored green beans in the pod, beets with tops and various other vegetables and several flowers.

PERSHING IN BRITAIN SOON

Britain Regrets Delay in Arrangements to Honor Unknown Soldier.

London, Oct. 12.—General Pershing, chief of staff of the American army, will come to London before October 20 to lay the medal honor voted by the United States congress on the tomb of the unknown British soldier in Westminster abbey, the British foreign office announces.

A British foreign office official took occasion to assure a member of the American embassy, who called relative to another matter, that the delay in arranging for General Pershing's visit was deeply deplored. Regret was all the more profound, he explained, because the faux pas had occurred so shortly before the opening of the Washington conference.

U. S. SEEKS MRS. E. PARKER

Federal Subpoena Issued for Wife of Co-Operative Society of America Head.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—A federal subpoena for summoning Mrs. Edith Parker, wife of Harrison Parker, trustee for the Co-operative Society of America, to testify in the receivership proceedings against the society, was issued at the request of Master in Bankruptcy Frank L. Wean. He seeks to question her regarding millions of dollars in bonds that he wishes to locate.

Mrs. Parker left New York for Chicago on the Twentieth Century Limited, it is said, but left the train before it reached Englewood station.

Jade Jewelry.

Jade beads are always lovely, either strung solidly or else with a gold chain. When one says jade one usually means green jade. But sometimes the green jade beads are most effectively strung with the white ones. The contrast is lovely. Pendants of jade are even lovelier than jade beads—at least just now, when pendants are so much used. Carved pendants, sometimes in the form of bunches of grapes, are hung on silken corals as nearly invisible as possible, sometimes of black, sometimes of flesh color, sometimes of the color of the frock.

FIND BIG CINNABAR MINE

Deposit of Ore in Vast Quantities That Will Produce Quick Silver.

Monterey, Mexico.—An enormous deposit of cinnabar ore, from which quicksilver is obtained, has been discovered near San Miguel, state of Zacoatecas, by Emilio M. Gaya, according to information received here.

It is stated that the outcroppings of the ore are extensive and that it is rich in quicksilver, in addition to the native mercury that is found in the underground crevasses of the ore. Preliminary investigations lead to the belief that the deposit may be as large as the famous quicksilver mines of New Alamosa of California. In the same locality of the new discovery are situated the Maravillas an Asencion cinnabar mines which for many years have been the principal source of Mexico's quicksilver production. It is stated.

Gaya plans to develop the new property. In the Terlingua district of the upper border region of Texas several cinnabar mines have been in operation for more than twenty years. These mines are situated close to the Rio Grande and outcroppings of cinnabar ore have been found on the Mexican side of the river just opposite the mines in Texas, but as yet no steps have been taken toward their development.

The low coast regions of Africa are almost everywhere unhealthy.

For Coughs, Colds and Catarrh
Mr. E. W. Marshall, Brampton, Michigan, suffering from Systemic Catarrh involving Head, Nose, Throat and Stomach, claims a complete cure. His letter is convincing.
"For the past two years I have been troubled with systemic catarrh. I tried several boxes of Pe-ru-na tablets and they have effected a complete cure. I do not hesitate to recommend Pe-ru-na for all similar conditions."
Mr. Marshall is just one of many thousands who have been benefited by Dr. Hartman's famous medicine in the past fifty years.
It is by stimulating the digestion, enriching the blood and opening up the pores that Pe-ru-na is able to exert such a soothing, healing influence upon the mucous membranes which line the body. It is a wonderfully effective remedy to restore strength after a protracted sickness, the grip of Spanish influenza.

SUNSHADES FOR LUCKY DOGS
Lifeboat Made of Basket-Work. A basket-work lifeboat seems very frail and delicate for the hard work of getting through rough seas to a ship in distress, yet a boat of this type has just been invented, and it is claimed that it gives greater safety than the usual kind.
The wooden framework of the boat is covered with a cork lining, and over that is laid an outer cover of woven cane. It is said that the new boat floats better than the boats now in use, and that it is impossible for it to sink.
The basket lifeboat is so light and springy that it is less likely to be crushed by swinging against the side of a ship or by the buffeting of the waves.
Sewing Wood. There has appeared in this country recently a special plywood material for aircraft construction.
This new material must not be confused with ordinary plywood, which is glued together. It is claimed to be a super-plywood, and is actually sewn together!
First, the layers are cemented together with waterproof material, and then stitched through in parallel rows about one and a quarter inches apart. This gives a rigidity and resilience not to be attained by any other method.
Weight for weight, it is the strongest material yet invented. It is made in sheets of any size or shape up to eight feet wide by 60 feet long, and from one-eighth of an inch to five-eighths of an inch thick, thus doing away with waste in the conversion.—London Tit-Bits.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. Walker

OUR WASTEFUL HABITS

It is frequently remarked by those observing Englishmen who visit America, that our people are characteristically wasteful, and that they waste money without any apparent thought of the proverbial rainy day.

Whether these alien commentators have penetrated deeply into the subject is not definitely known, but judging from their oft-repeated remarks, assuming at times a form of caustic criticism, there is doubtless more truth in the matter than we suspect.

It is not without a pang of regret—a railing of our pride, perhaps—that we Americans, who are disposed to analyze conditions with unbiased minds, reluctantly admit that our English cousins are right.

We recognize that we have many spendthrifts, constantly setting a bad example to the young, that are extravagant and decidedly foolish.

Money is poured out like water, as though, like Topsy, "it just grew."

There is consolation, however, in the thought that these prodigals come mostly from the ranks of the newly rich and thoughtless inheritors.

They have no idea of the stern realities of life, nor the long dragging years of incessant labor and self-denial that are necessary for a working or professional man to accumulate even a moderate competency for old age.

These people congregate where the music flows, where the tables are heaped with delicacies. They smile and talk, puff themselves up like frogs and spend recklessly. They fall naturally into a state which is common to their kind.

If we could follow them through their improvident course to the end, we would find them in pitiable plight, repentant and likely as not homeless.

The necessity of conserving time and money ought now be impressed upon all of us with considerable more stress than it has been in the recent past, and particularly upon the inconsiderate young men and women.

Let high thinking, hard work and

Christians form the important part of our spiritual bill of fare, so that in the end we may be robust of body and soul, sound of purse, untraded of handiwork and in position in old age to accept all the vagaries of life with supreme confidence and complacency.

How to Make Good

DO YOU want to make a success of your business life, or do you put that second to having a good time? Don't complain if you can't have both. The girl who runs around from party to party is not going to get to her work in the best state for doing it well. Her mind is not clear, her body is not alert. She is tired.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LURIE
Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"SPOONFULS," ETC.

IN CONSIDERING the proper form of the plurals of such words as "spoonful," "cupful," "armful," etc., it must be borne in mind that the unit considered is not the spoon, the arm, the cup, etc.; but the material that fills the spoon, etc. Thus, the unit is the spoonful, not the spoon, and as "spoonful" is the name of a thing in itself, the proper form of the plural is found by adding an "s" to the word "spoonful," and not to the part of the word "spoon."

Of course, there are times when the unit is the spoon itself; that is, when two or more spoons are filled. When, for example, you have before you two spoons filled with sugar, you should say "two spoons full," and not "two spoonfuls." But when you take a spoon, fill it with sugar and empty it into your coffee cup, and repeat the process, you have taken two "spoonfuls" of sugar, and not two "spoons full."

WHY NOT TELL HER SO?

OF COURSE you love her just the same. As when at first you wed, Perhaps with not so hot a flame, But still the coils are red. The new-made blaze is bright with heat And ruddy with desire; But time shall give you something sweet— Peace, and the quiet fire.

Of course you love her as of old, Your love she ought to know, New loves burn hot, new loves turn cold. With all the winds that blow, But time shall bring the steady blaze, The flame that never died; Yea, time shall bring contented days, The quiet ingleside.

Of course you love her as of yore— The years that you have shared Have made you love her even more Than ever you have cared. Of course you love her just the same, Your love she ought to know, For time has brought the steady flame— But why not tell her so? (Copyright.)

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"GUILLOTINE"

ACCORDING to history as it is popularly accepted, the instrument by which criminals are automatically beheaded was invented by Joseph Ignace Guillotine, who was also the first victim of the machine. Outside of the fact that Doctor Guillotine neither invented the apparatus nor perished by it, the general impression of the matter is fairly correct.

The original model for the guillotine was constructed by a German piano-maker named Schmitt, under the direction of Doctor Louis, a French surgeon, who in turn obtained his idea from the manija, a somewhat similar instrument which had been used in the Latin countries for centuries. At first, the invention was known as the "Louisson," but, owing to the fact that Doctor Guillotine waged ceaseless warfare upon the barbarities of the rack and the wheel and continually urged the adoption of this more humane method of inflicting death penalties, his name was indelibly associated with it. On March 25, 1792, the national assembly passed the resolution recommending the use of the machine in all French prisons and it was publicly used a month later in the beheading of a prisoner named Pelissier.

Far from perishing by the invention, which, despite his protests, was called by his name, Doctor Guillotine died in his bed in 1841—having achieved a vicarious fame which he did not desire and to which he was not entitled.

one-third of a cupful of vinegar. Pour into greased pans and pull when cool enough. Cut with a pair of shears into lengths, wrap in a waxed paper.

Chocolate Caramel.
Put two tablespoonfuls of butter into a saucepan, add one-half cupful each of milk and sugar and one cupful of molasses. When boiling hot add four squares of chocolate and cook until brittle, when a bit is dropped in cold water. Remove from the heat, beat three minutes, add one cupful of walnut meats and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Turn into buttered pan and mark in squares when cool enough. Wrap each in paraffin paper.

Black and White Walnut.
In spite of the wide variety of other color combinations the effective contrast of black and white maintains its place in the forefront of the blouses, both of the tuck-in and straight-hanging variety. One tuck-in number of white crepe de chine emphasizes this maple effect by hemstitching in black, and narrow bands stitching down the front and bordering the cuffs on the long sleeves. To a georgette model the blouse proper is white, the lower section finished with a wide band of black georgette. This band treatment is repeated on the three-quarter sleeves. The bands are headed by white wool braid and the blouse, which is of the straight-hanging variety, is grided with a self-belt.

STYLES IN WINTER COATS AND HATS FOR AUTUMN

THE ever-varying panorama of the modes brings to us our winter styles, and these range all the way from severely plain, finely tailored, mannish affairs, to ornate garments lavishly decorated. All of them are quite equal to discharging their mission of keeping us warm; they are ample, soft, and often luxurious with fur trimmings and accessories. Besides this bodily comfort their becomingness warms the heart; for there is a coat for every type of woman and for any sort of occasion.

In answer to a demand for serviceable coats, in chic models with a distinct style of their own, great mens tailoring houses have come into the manufacture of coats for women, using the same fabrics as are used in men's coats, sticking to mannish lines and ignoring ornament. These coats have made a success, especially with people who like simple designs and are appreciative of fine lines and workmanship or of the intangible element of good style.

Fabric fur, which is the name given to those plushes that imitate natural fur, has come in for much attention on the part of famous designers, and they have used it in very handsome coats and in suits also. Natural or felt fur furnishes the collar or collar and cuffs on many of these rich wraps. The majority of coats are those made of fashionable coatings like those shown in the picture above, and designers use both natural and fabric furs in accessories and finishing as may be gathered from the illustra-

LATEST IN WINTER COATS.

Furthermore purchasers are getting more for their money than for many seasons, prices having declined since last year, in fact seem somewhat lower than they should be, considering the amount of hand work that is lavished on this year's millinery.

Hats for street wear are medium in size, those for afternoon and evening larger, and still growing. The all-day frock or suit calls for an all-day hat, and four out of five of the models shown here will come under this class, the exception being the wide-brimmed pattern of latter's plush with veil of lace falling from its under brim. This mid-winter night's dream is all in tion. In the coat of brown bolivia cloth at the left a fur fabric that looks just like lambskin furnishes the long shawl collar extended in a facing to the hem, and the wide straight cuffs.

The dressy coat at the right in dark blue normandie cloth is cut in goreds, and each gore ornamented with a design cut from beige silk and embroidered. The scarf-collar and deep cuffs are of natural squirrel.

This season is outdoing all its forerunners in the inexhaustible variety of hats with which attempts are made to suit every face and every pocketbook. Hats represent the best effort of everybody concerned in their making, from the frame manufacturer to the most talented of designers and trimmers, and they are admirably becoming and interesting.

Nosegays the Vogue.
Nosegays of carnations or roses, worn at the waist, are once more the vogue.

CARRIED SECRET TO GRAVE

Canadian Prospector Refused to Divulge Location Where Gold Cropped Out.

A man who kept his secret to the end was the Canadian hunter Gilbertson. Sixty years ago, when he was making a canoe trip up the Wapsie river, the New York Evening Post states, he struck camp for the night near what later discoveries indicate must have been a large body of gold-bearing ore. Without knowing what this ornamental stone was, he took home a big piece to use for a door weight. A while after this a geologist who was visiting Gilbertson identified the ore, and a rush to stake claims along the Wapsie ensued. But the unwitting prospector would never tell where he made his great find. In later years he became insane and died, still refusing to reveal the location. This season a systematic search of that country is being made in hope of rediscovering "the Gilbertson lode."

GREW WHISKERS TO GET JOB

And Secretary of State Hughes Has Worn the Required Facial Adornments Ever Since.

Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, gave little indication to his teachers and classmates at Brown university that he was to become a leader in the nation, though it is true that he had his bachelor degree before he was twenty-one. He planned to make teaching his life work, and he did devote some years to that occupation. His first application for a job was as a teacher of Greek in a small Eastern college. The head of the department received him kindly, but evidently regarded his youthful appearance as making him an impossibility in that line.

"Why," said he, "you have no more hair on your face than an egg."
"If a beard is necessary I can raise one," said Hughes, who knew his own ability in that line, and soon was able to qualify for the job and got it. And, by the way, he has the same whiskers yet. He has never worn a clean-shaven face since.—Columbus Dispatch.

Do You Look Forward To a Good Night's Rest?

Do you regularly anticipate a refreshing sleep? Or do you dread going to bed, only to stare, sleepless, at the walls? The difference between sleeping and staring is simply a matter of nerves.

When your nervous system is in a sound condition, you are certain to sleep well. But when your nerves are worn out and beyond your control, your rest is broken and your awakening leaves you languid and irritable.

Doctors know that much of the nerve disorders result from tea and coffee drinking. The drugs in these drinks over-stimulate, often causing the serious ills which result from disturbing the regular bodily functions. It is for your health's sake that many doctors now say you should quit tea and coffee. Drink Postum, the delicious meal-time beverage instead! In flavor it is much like coffee.

Postum is fundamentally a nerve strengthener because it lets you get sound, restful sleep. Postum is a skillfully-made cereal beverage, and the secret of its popularity is its protection to health and its delicious flavor.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for 10 days and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

BALLYHOONG FOR OUR OWN CAUSE

RAVELINGS
By Ickey, the Statesman Devil

BALLYHOONG FOR OUR OWN CAUSE

Did you ever stop to think how much difference there is between being "disappointed," and being "discouraged?"

A disappointment is, according to Brother Webster, the defeat of an expectation or a hope. As an illustration; some reader of the STATESMAN puts on a short advertising campaign. He may be a merchant, a farmer, a planter, a laborer, or a professional man, but he has something to sell, and advertises it.

If the results of this advertising campaign do not come up to expectations, the man is disappointed. But if the man gets discouraged, especially after but one try, he'll never head the list or come any where near the top of the list as a man of fame.

Mr. Webster says the man who is discouraged is a man from whom the courage has been wrested or extinguished. In other words, the man who is discouraged is like a diseased pair of tonsils. He's no good for himself or for anyone else.

And the right kind of a man sometimes comes out of the lake of discouragement by bumping up against an occasional honest to Pete disappointment.

The STATESMAN is here, day after day, year after year, trying in its own way to assist those who are discouraged, and always in shape to help a man or woman who has been disappointed. We'll admit that it is easier to help the latter, but as we are not picking out an easy path, we are here to do our mite in every case.

No matter what you have to sell. No matter how much money you care to use in giving the article or articles publicity, we can give value received, and the results will be proportionate with the amount of space used.

We help you prepare your ad whether it be a farm sale, a fruit clearance, or a regular or special merchandise sale. Call us up, phone.

THREE GREAT EVENTS

The principal events in a man's or woman's life are but three—and in some cases only two! The first is birth, the second is marriage and the third is death. These are the great adventures of life.

These events are all chronicled in the home town paper—in the birth notices, the marriage notices and the death notices.

In between these notices, are the thousand little items of everyday life of the people you know—your own people and friends.

Not the happenings of persons so-called "famous," but our own people—the news items of the home town paper.

No place else can these news items be obtained and every town and city dweller should have the home town paper.

The Democrats say "I told you so," and the Republicans say "We knew we could do it" and the Statesman says lets all get together—not to spend our money too well, but spend it wisely, with the man who advertises.

If ridding the country of criminals will make the world better—and all of the newspaper reports concerning the death of said criminals at the hands of the law are to be relied upon—then we cheerfully agree with the minister who says the world is getting better every day.

Hoot Weatherly refuses to be convinced that there is as much money in the country now as there was two years ago. But Hoot always did want things his own way.

Sid Hopkins says he likes the way the women dress with that extremely low cut back. He can tell at first glance whether they are coming or going.

It isn't the material used in a garment that makes a basis for a selling price. The manufacturers all know that certain kinds of garments can be worn by those whose nerves have never been in any way shattered—and the price is based on the nerve of the customer

There has never anything been originated along the line of cooperation in which all peoples would be benefitted by said cooperation, and no one injured by it, but the STATESMAN has been for it.

We believe most of our readers affected the same way, and for that reason we are going to "spill" some inside dope on a campaign which is going to run from November 7 to November 12, this year. The campaign is going to be known as "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper week," and during that week we want to add several hundred new subscribers to our list, and we are going to ask our old and time tried subscribers to assist us in making this addition.

Here is the plan: If you are visiting with neighbors, or they are visiting with you, bring the conversation around, in some way, to the KEWASKUM STATESMAN. Tell them that this is a national campaign, and that the publishers of the STATESMAN have asked you to cooperate with the force in getting the list up to 100 per cent perfect, and the money which is saved in this plan of campaign will be used in making the paper a larger and better one.

Tell your friend that if he or she wants a sample copy or two of the paper that you will make it a point to see that they get it. You won't get rich in this world's goods by making an effort to help us increase our list, but you will be cooperating with us in making this best paper in the county, and after all is said and done, we are all of us anxious to do something for a fellowman with only the thought in mind that we are working cooperatively.

But remember, the campaign will continue just that one week—November 7 to 12, and if it is possible for our present family of readers to increase the list of the KEWASKUM STATESMAN about 20 per cent, we will be pleased, and you will be amply repaid in the matter of getting a better paper, as well as in the thought that you have done some real cooperative work.

THE OLD HOME PAPER
Poem by Uncle John

How fondly I dream of the old country weekly, that came every Friday when boyhood was mine; my Dad read aloud, and we all listened meekly, and stayed up till midnight, to hear every line.

But now how I choke on the big city daily,—I've mental dyspepsia, and ringworm and gout,—the slush in its mazes bewilders me really, till I am submerged in a quagmire of doubt.

And so, I hark back to the old Country Weekly, the gem of my youth; I gaze at the riff-raff, and shake my head meekly, and long for the Weekly that peddled the truth,—the old Country Weekly, the bald-headed Weekly that peddled the truth.
